THEY STOLE BRASS.

Band of Young Negro Thieves Who Are Charged With Stealing Brass.

IN JUSTICE M'GOWAN'S COURT

Procured Front Door Key of Junk Dealer's Place and Went Into Business on the Wholesale—Held for the Higher Court.

Arthur Taylor, Dan Washington, Andrew Bell and Charles Hawkins, negro boys who have composed a band of young thieves in Wilmington, were tried before Justice James M. McGowan yesterday and bound over to the Superior Court. In default of bond they were committed to jail.

These boys have been the source of much annoyance in Wilmington for the past year or two and they have been arrested on similar charges on former occasions and have served at the work house, but nothing seems to turn their hands from appropriating what belongs to others.

These young negroes are implicated in several cases of stealing recently and the officers have been on a sharp lookout for them. Their own anxiety to accumulate a little Christmas money got them into trouble. From testimony given in before Squire McGowan yesterday it seems that they have been stealing brass, lead and other metal from a man named L. Abrelwitz, who runs a place on Chesnut street, between Walnut and Front, and selling same to Mr. A. W. Watson, who is now doing business on Water street, between Princess and Chesnut.

About ten days ago one of the boys stole the front door key from Abrelwitz's place and since that time the gang has had free access to the shop, taking many pounds of metal. Constable Sheehan got on their tracks and Christmas morning found two of the boys at Mr. Watson's shop with lead to sell. By arresting one of them, he succeeded in finding the others.

Two of these boys on Christmas eve night went into the store of Mr. G. C. Simmons, keeper of weights for the county of New Hanover, and stole two 25 pound brass weights, which Mr. Simmons has identified. The boys claim that they sold them to Mr. Watson, but he denies emphatically any knowledge of having bought them. At any rate the weights were found behind Mr. Peeschan's store on Water street. Mr. Watson assisted in making the search for them.

Zinc with "Western Union" stamped on it was found on the third floor of Mr. Watson's building. This property was stolen from the telegraph company, but who did it is unknown. The capture of the four young thieves means the riddance of a great nuisance to the community, for a time at least.

Much petty thieving has been going on in Wilmington for some time, and the officers of the law are diligently searching for the guilty parties.

MARRIED IN VIRGINIA.

Dr. Peter John, of Laurinburg, and Miss Watkins, of Smithville, Va., married.

Dr. Peter John, of Laurinburg, N. C., was married to Miss Nannie S. Watkins in the Presbyterian church in Smithville, Virginia, at 9 o'clock A. M., Tuesday, December 24th. He was attended by Mr. Jas. C. McEachin of this city, as best man. The father of the bride gave her away, and her sister, Miss Janie Watkins, was maid of honor. Dr. A. J. McKelway, of the Presbyterian Standard, assisted by the home pastor, officiated.

Dr. John is a University boy, a graduate of the University of Maryland Medical College, and was a student at Guilford College, so that his acquaintances are very numerous throughout the State, and to many this will be news. He is a brother of Rev. E. B. John, P. E., of Wilmington. The bride is a first cousin of Dr. McKelway.

"The Evolution of a Girl."
Dr. William Edwin Hall, the distinguished platform entertainer, of New York, will lecture in the annex of the First Baptist church Tuesday night, January 14th, on the "Evolution of a Girl." Hundreds who heard Dr. Hall last March on the "Fool Killer" and "How to Get Married and Stay So," will greet this announcement with pleasure. He thrilled the hundreds at the Y. M. C. A. and at the church, on the "Mistakes of Ingersoll" and "Yesterday, To-day and Forever." Dr. Hall is easily the most popular entertainer Wilmington has heard. He comes again under the management of the ladies of the First Baptist church.

The Register of Deeds announces that all liquor dealers are required by law, during the first ten days in January, to give in and pay tax on their purchases of liquor during the six months immediately preceding January 1st, 1902.

At the same time dealers in merchandise are required to give in and pay tax on the gross amount of their sales (including cigars and tobacco) during the year 1901.

MR. JAMES O'NEILL.

In Leiber and Company's Spectacular Production of Monte Cristo Thursday Night—One of Best Attractions.

Mr. James O'Neill and a supporting company of great strength will appear at the Opera House next Thursday in Leiber & Co.'s great scenic production of "Monte Cristo," which was one of the greatest successes of the season last year in New York and Chicago. Leiber & Co. made the production with special attention to scenic display, rich costuming and elaborate electrical effects. They did not, however, let the company suffer on this account, as will be seen by a glance at the cast. It includes that great character actor, Mr. Frederic De Belleville; Miss Selene Johnson, a leading woman of great talent; James O'Neill, Jr.; Warren Conlan, W. J. Dixon, Claude Gilbert, Joseph Slaytor, Mark Ellsworth, Edward Lally, Edgar Forrest, Kate Fletcher, Virginia Keating and Rebecca Hook. A subsidiary company of fifty people is employed. Seat sale begins this morning at Gerken's.

TRAPPED HIM NICELY.

Constable Sheehan Spring a Big Surprise in Judge McGowan's Court Yesterday.

A young negro was arrested yesterday by Officer William Sheehan on the charge of stealing a fifty pound tub of butter and three dressed turkeys from The Orton on December 21st. The negro was completely trapped. Officer Sheehan summoned him to appear as a witness in the case against the four negro boys charged with stealing brass, lead, zinc, etc., and while in Squire McGowan's court room walked up to the negro and put the "nippers" on him. He protested strongly against wearing the "steel bracelets," and when Mr. Sheehan told him what he was arrested for there was a general "scattering" of the large number of colored spectators at the trial. This "cunning way" of Mr. Bill Sheehan, as one of the number expressed it, seemed to be too much for a few of them.

SOLDIER'S BODY FOUND.

Body of Corporal LaClair, Who Was Drowned, Recovered Yesterday. Used Dynamite.

The body of Corporal Willie LaClair, who was drowned near Fort Caswell Tuesday while returning from Southport with three companions in a small boat, was recovered about noon yesterday near the spot where the young man met his tragic death.

A detail of ten men was sent out again yesterday, and, after discharging several rounds of dynamite in the water, the corpse floated to the surface of the water. The body was removed to the fort.

Dr. C. H. LaClair, of Uniontown, Pa., a brother of Corporal LaClair, who came down to join in the search, returned to the city yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for returning North with the remains.

WEEKS CONCERT COMPANY.

Will Give New Year's Reception at the Y. M. C. A.—High Class Attraction.

Mr. Edwin R. Weeks, an unique impersonator, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Weeks, contralto, and mandolinist, and Miss Janet Ostrander, soprano and banjoist, compose a company of fine stars that will entertain a large audience Wednesday evening, January 1st, 1902, at the Y. M. C. A.

The box sheet opened yesterday and the indications are that a large audience will greet the Weeks Concert Company Wednesday evening.

Mr. Weeks is most original in his impersonations and every reader of "David Harum" should hear his "Hoss Trade." The Weeks Concert will give a greater variety of entertainment than any other concert of the season, as it will include humorous recitations and impersonations, duets and solos, both vocal and instrumental.

Doors open at 8:00 P. M. Admission, members of the Association Course, 25 cents; non-members, 50 cents. Ten cents extra for reserved seats.

Cotton Chopper and Cultivator.

Mr. J. B. Farrar, of this city, has invented a compound cotton chopper and cultivator which he claims to be a great labor saving machine. This no doubt will be a benefit to cotton planters generally, and we hope that he will meet with success in the sale of it.

Removal of Memphis Office.

The Seaboard Air Line has issued the following circular:
"The office of John W. Turner, Commercial Agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway at Memphis, Tenn., has been removed from Room No. 109, Porter Building, to No. 10, Madison street."
"CHAS. R. CAPPS, "General Freight Agent."

ELKS' SOCIAL SESSION

Wilmington Lodge No. 532 Fittingly Celebrated Its Second Anniversary Last Night.

Regular Exercises Preceded Observance of an Informal But Altogether Enjoyable Nature—Distinguished Members Spoke of Its Progress.

The stag smoker given last night by the Wilmington Lodge of Elks in celebration of its second anniversary was one altogether enjoyable and very appropriate to the occasion. The handsome Temple of the lodge on Front street was the scene of the festivities, and there was fun and merry-making until an early hour this morning.

After regular lodge exercises, during which Chief of Police Furlong was made one of "the best people on earth," the members present repaired to the second floor where the social session was instituted. It was called to order by William J. Bellamy, Esq., who acted as chairman, and there was one continued round of pleasure after another until the session was declared ended.

Mr. Bellamy in calling the session to order explained its purpose and elaborated upon the social features of Elkdom. The social session, he said, was one of the most important of Elk customs; it cemented the affection of members for one another and has had much to do with the success of the order in the world.

About seventy-five members of Wilmington lodge and visiting brethren were in attendance, among the distinguished guests being Fred Harper, Esq., of Lynchburg, Va., and Mr. Wynn, of Dallas, Texas. Mr. Harper made a pleasing talk which was greatly enjoyed by those present. An informal programme of songs, recitations, etc., was observed and after adjournment of the social session, the assembly gathered in the front parlors where a delightful musicale was given under the direction of Mr. Adolf Goodman.

The entire celebration reflected nothing but the greatest credit upon the general committee of arrangements, composed of Messrs. L. Stein (chairman) Ike Solomon and E. E. David.

PRETTY CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

Fifth Street Sunday School Enjoyed Holiday Celebration at the City Hall.

Fifth Street Sunday school enjoyed an elaborate and well arranged Christmas entertainment at the City Hall last evening.

The principal feature of the yuletide celebration was a pretty Christmas tree, from which was distributed many pleasing gifts to the children and older folk. Mr. M. Marshburn made an altogether good Santa Claus and displayed much tact and merriment in the distribution.

The success of the event is largely due to Mr. Marshburn, Mr. John T. Sholar, the Sunday school superintendent, and the following committee of arrangements: Mrs. John T. Sholar, Mrs. Andrew Blair and Mrs. Amelia Sholar.

Funeral of Mr. Louis Solomon.

The remains of the late Mr. Louis Solomon, whose death at Macon, Ga., has been noted in these columns, reached the city yesterday morning at 10:15 o'clock accompanied by his son, Mr. Albert Solomon. The funeral was held at 8:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence of Mr. B. Solomon, No. 710 Market street, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery. The funeral services were conducted in an impressive manner by the Rev. Dr. S. Mendicino, rabbi of the Temple of Israel. The pall bearers were: Honorary: Messrs. J. Well, Wm. Goodman, and I. L. Greenwald; active, Messrs. A. David, A. Shrier, Sol. Bear, A. Well and L. Bluetenthal.

Paving on Princess Street.

The brick for the Princess street pavement, between Second and Fourth, is being laid. The work was begun yesterday and is being done by Wm. McLean & Company, for Roger Moore's Sons & Co., who were awarded the contract by the city. The announcement that this section of the street is being paved will be read with much interest by the citizens generally. When the two blocks are completed, Princess street will be one of the prettiest and most popular thoroughfares in the city. Not very many days will be required to do the work.

Didn't Buy the Horses.

Chief Charles Schnibben returned Sunday night from Baltimore, where he went to buy a pair of horses for the Wilmington Fire Department. But he did not make a purchase, as he saw nothing good enough for his department, but they were not up to the standard established here. Only the very best horses can be used in the Wilmington department, and Chief Schnibben and the Fire Committee are determined not to buy any inferior horse flesh.

It's not too late for you to get a nice present to give in return. I have sold a large quantity of novelties and other nice goods, but still I have a nice line to select your New Year's gifts from. They are too numerous to mention. J. T. Burke, the jeweller, 37 South Front street.

Bond Over to Court.

Walter Silvia, white, and "Bud" Green, colored, whose escapade at the store of Mr. James Chapman on Christmas eve has been told in these columns, were given preliminary trial by Mayor Waddell yesterday on charges of forcible trespass. Each was bound over to the Superior Court in a bond of $150, that of Silvia having been given by his mother and the negro having gone to jail in default. Silvia's wound is doing well, but that of the negro is not so favorable.

FORMER NORTH CAROLINIAN.

Mr. H. M. Holleman Elected President of the Harvard Auto Corporation, of Boston.

"The election of H. M. Holleman of Boston to the presidency of the Harvard Auto Corporation, owners and operators of fourteen large automobile stations in as many cities throughout New England, is one of the developments of the week in the financial world that will particularly interest the people of Boston and North Carolina. Mr. Holleman is a North Carolinian, being the son of Rev. J. M. Holleman of Apex, and has, for several years, been engaged in the banking business in Boston, where he has succeeded in financing a number of the largest and most successful enterprises in the North.

The combined capital of this consolidation will doubtless be several million dollars and Mr. Holleman will represent what North Carolina financial interest therein. Mr. Holleman's personal banking and financial business, covering New England with thirty-six offices, does the largest business of its kind in the United States. He is also interested in ten other corporations, and it is stated that every financial proposition which he has undertaken has been successful. I Am Just As Thankful

For a small order as I would be for one amounting to $50.00, for when you see the design, it is not construction of my goods a larger order is sure to follow. In fact, that is the way I have built up my business to its present mammoth proportion. No better time to be gotten out of the grip of the above statement than now by buying a small New Year's gift for some loved one or friend.
