They Come as Guests of the Boards of Trade and Will be Handsomely Entertained - Important Meeting of Business Men To-night.

If nothing unforeseen occurs, Vice President and General Manager Jno. M. Barr and Traffic Manager W. H. Pleasants, of the Seaboard Air Line, will reach Wilmington from Colum bia via Hamlet at noon to-day and North Fourth street and is receiving a will be guests of the commercial good share of the patronage which he bodies of the city until to-morrow afternoon. They come by invitation of the business men here to look into the practicability of establishing a double-daily mail and passenger ser vice between Wilmington and Hamlet on the Carolina Central railroad and incidentally to pay a visit to one of the important terminals of their great system. Mr. Barr has never before visited Wilmington, and has expressed a desire to see the place and get acquainted with its representative business people. The visit to-day and to-morrow will afford a pleasant occasion for the gratification of that

> The officials will be met at the station by a deputation from the allied commercial bodies of the city and will be taken in carriages to The Orton where they will be entertained. This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Mr. Barr and Mr. Pleasants, accompanied by a number of Wilmington gentlemen, will be given a complimentary trip about the harbor and down the river on the steamer Navassa, which has been kindly tendered by Mr. H. W. Malloy, president of the Navassa Guano Company and an enterprising member of the committee on entertainment. Returning to the wharf later in the afternoon the distinguished guests will be taken for a carriage drive over the city.

At night, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock, a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Produce Exchange, Merchants' Association and Wholesale Grocers' Association, will be held in the rooms of the first named organization and at that time the local business men will present their claims for the additional service on the road. Mr. Barr and Mr. Pleasants will probably address the meeting regarding interesting railroad matters. A full attendance of the members of all the organizations is earnestly desired by the committee in charge, which assures an evening of entertainment and profit. The joint committee is as follows: Messrs, L. B. Rogers and H. W. Malloy, of the Produce Exchange; T. W Clawson and L. Bluethenthal, of the Chamber of Commerce; W. E. Worth and Geo, R. French, of the Merchants' Association, and W. B. Cooper and Jos. H. Watters, of the Wholesale

SMALLPOX PATIENT DISCHARGED.

Postal Clerk Niven Left for Monroe

Thomas is Still Held.

W. M. Niven, the colored postal clerk confined since last Friday in the pest house with smallpox, was discharged yesterday morning by Dr. Chas. T. Harper, city superintendent of health, and he left in the afternoon for his home at Monroe, N. C. Niven had completely recovered from the disease, and Capt. Robert Green, chief quarantine officer, saw that all his clothing and his person were thoroughly disinfected before he took his departure. The other colored mail clerk, W. H. Thomas, who is held in the house of detention, about 150 yards from the smallpox hospital, has not yet exhibited any symptoms of the disease, but the period of infection will not have passed until to-morrow week, and he will be held until then. There is now no smallpox in Wilmington, and even the case with which Niven was suffering was of an exceeding mild type.

Funeral of Late Mrs. McGuire. Pontifical requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of the late Mrs. Wm. Ann McGuire was celebrated yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Thomas' Catholic church by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Leo Haid, of Belmont, assisted by Revs. Father Marion, of Fayetteville, and Dennen, of Wilmington. There was a large attendance upon the funeral and there were many pretty floral emblems. The pall bearers were Col. F. W. Kerchner, Maj D. O'Connor, Messrs. Jno. H. Sweeney, James Madden, Daniel Quinlivan and Martin O'Brien.

Smallpox in Sampson. Sampson Democrat, 12th: "Not a case of smallpox in Clinton, and only one case in the entire county at this writing. This one case is one of the old cases, and is of a light form. The house where this case is has been un-der quarantine since it first appeared, but it will be raised very shortly. It has been raised from all other houses and the patients told to go scot free. Now remember, there is only one case in the county and this one about well, and not a case in town."

The funeral of the late Mr. Albert A. Willard was conducted at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence of his son, Mr. Martin S. Willard, Sixth and Orange streets, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery beneath a mound of beautiful flowers contributed by those who were near and dear to him in life.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Wells, Ph. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Willard was for more than 35 years a ruling elder. There were many friends in attendance and the services were most impressive.

The honorary escort of the remains in the funeral cortege were fellow elders of the deceased in the First church as follows: Col. Jno. D. Taylor, Capt. W. R. Kenan, Messrs. B. G. Worth, Samuel Northrop, B. F. Hall, Jno. McLaurin, C. H. Robinson and Philander Pearsall. The active pall bearers were Messrs. C. W. Worth, R. W. Hicks, Geo. D. Parsley, Wm. Cumming, Col. Walker Taylor and Capt. Preston Cumming.

DEATH OF MR. J. DAVIS.

Passed Away Yesterday Morning-Pu-

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Webster, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church, from the late resi dence and many of the deceased's comrades'in arms were in attendance upon the services. There were several very beautiful floral emblems. The pallbearers were all from Cape Fear Camp No. 254, U. O. V., of which Mr. Davis was a member, as follows: A. G. Hankins, O. M. Fillyaw, J. O. Ormsby and J. Dickson Poisson.

The late Mr. Davis was about 87 rears of age and besides Col. Jno. L. Cantwell was the last male survivor of the Mexican War in the immediate vicinity of Wilmington. He was a gallant soldier in both struggles and was well and favorably known by many veterans.

TO ABATE WHISTLING NUISANCE.

Shrill Blasts From Exuberant Youths Must Stop, Says the Mayor.

Fred., C. T. and Frank Williams, A. L. Mott and O. C. Grant, young white men, were arraigned in the municipal court yesterday on a charge of having been disorderly on Fifth between Castle and Queen streets Wedesday night. Each of them was fined $5 except Grant, who was discharged upon payment of the cost.

In connection with the cases Mayor Waddell delivered a timely little speech to the defendants and court attendants upon the nuisance of shrill, head-splitting whistling by mouth and on the fingers, which has become epidemic among both white and colored youths in different sections of the city. Mayor Waddell gave instructions to Chief Furlong to have all the policemen notified that the nuisance must be abated by prompt arrests. The only other case in the police court yesterday was that of Martha Pierce, arrested by Policeman Frank George for committing a nuisance on Nutt and Grace streets. She went to the roads for 30 days.

REV. DR. JARVIS BUXTON DEAD.

Pather of Mrs. Jos. H. McRee, of Wilmington-Funeral Yesterday. Rev. Jarvis Buxton, D. D, died at 3:45 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home in Asheville. Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at Trinity Episcopal church by the rector, Rev. McNeely DuBose. All the members of the immediate family of Dr. Buxton-J. C. Buxton. of Winston; Mrs. Jos. H. McRee, of Wilmington; Mrs. Kane, of Philadelphis; Miss Lilly Buxton, of New York, and Misses Mary and Fannie Buxton, of Asheville, his son and daughters-were with him at the time of his death. Dr. Buxton was for forty years rector of Trinity church Several years ago he resigned to become rector of the church at Lenoir. About a year ago he retired from the active work of the ministry. He had passed his 83rd year. Dr. Buxton was one of the oldest Episcopal ministers in the State. He was born near Washington, N. C. He was the first Episcopal missionary to Western North Carolina, and built many of the chapels through the country.

Reward for Thos. Evans.

Chairman D. McEachern, of the Board of County Commissioners, in another column this morning advertises the reward of $190, offered Tuesday night for the arrest and delivery to Sheriff Frank H. Stedman of the negro desperado Thos. Evans, who assaulted Foreman Gregory last Friday. An excellent description of the negro is given in the advertisement and it is believed the reward will bring the negro to justice. Mr. Gregory was able to be up for much of the day yesterday and walked about the hospital for a short while. He is doing yery well

FUNERAL OF MR. WILLARD. 1902 EASTER OPENING

Spring and Summer Display of Millinery and Dress Goods · at Rehder's.

IT COMMENCED YESTERDAY

Will Not End Until This Evening and Ladies of Wilmington Are Cordially Invited-The Latest Creations in the Art.

The large department store of Messrs. J. H. Rehder & Co. has always been famous for its magnificent millinery and dress goods displays, but if one event has surpassed another in beauty or elegance of styles shown it s the grand Easter opening of 1902, which commenced at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and which will continue until 7 o'clock this evening.

Yesterday there was a throng of visitors in all departments during the entire day and last night the crowds were simply immense. Ladies came to the store, saw the hundreds of pretty things and went away to tell their friends. The result was exactly what the enterprising people who run the store expected and that accounts for the hundreds of dainty creations and artistic displays that are made for the admiration of the gentler sex.

in hats each year; they may be extreme as to size, extreme as to color, or extreme as to trimming, but there is always the modifications of these styles, that prevent conformity, and admit of all women being in the fashion if they have tack enough to adapt the fashion to what is becoming. This year, however, the fashions are not extreme. They are less so than at any time for many seasons, and there is no reason why all women-no matter what their individual type may be -should not have something distinctly becoming and still be in style. Rebder's millinery parlors include them all, among the leading styles this year being the "Continental," the "Marquis," the "Napoleon," the "Prince Henry," and a hundred and one others-all "too beautiful to talk about, a rapture to be dreamed of."

The millinery department has been converted this year into an exquisitely beautiful garden scene, the design of Mr. Carl B. Rehder, the enterprising junior member of the firm, and Mr. E. Clayton Moore. Southern smilax festoons the walls, while the general decorations are roses, Easter lilies, palms and potted plants. Pretty little canary birds, sweetly singing, and hung in cages in different parts of the room. add to the splendid effect. To the right, near the rear of the millinery parlor, is a pretty little retreat for those who might possibly be prosaic enough to become tired of feasting their eyes upon the dream of beauty-land. It is furnished with rustic settees and the entrance is a magnificent floral arch, with suspended crest studded with roses and multi-colored electrics. Miss Sarah Gardner is the supervising milliner of the store and she is assisted by six regular adept trimmers and salesladies. Elegant quality, expert workmanship and superior teste are shown in this year's opening, and the Parisian creations exhibited are simply lovely. The copies of these, the New York and London pattern hats, and the exclusive conceptions of Rehder & Company's own work rooms, show an artistic touch to be envied. The window displays are exceptionally pretty, one to the right of the millinery door being a Spring pond scene, the creation of Mr. Clayton

Moore. The dry goods display this year is perhaps next best to the millinery, although all departments are on "dress parade," to use a military expression. The dress goods' section of the large store is under the very efficient management of Mr. Claude Morse, a man of great experience, who is assisted by Mr. Robert Bowden. The walls and ceiling of this department are draped with figured dress goods. The effect is very beautiful, though hardly de-scribable. In wash fabrics, which are extremey popular this season, Mr. Morse has an excellent display of mercerized chambrays, all shades; satin-striped batiste, lace striped batiste, Parisian figured satin-striped mulle, silk and wall challies. In silks the line is especially beautiful and serviceable. He has black Marie Valour silks, a beautiful line of plain and fancy striped Shantung goods, black Peau D'Soie and Armure gros grain and faille and Satin Duchesse. In black dress goods the stock consists of the celebrated gold medal line, Pebble Eudora, royalette, Shark skin, pebble armure cloth, black batiste, tamis, Swansdown, whip-cord, all wool poplin clay worsteds, etc. In colors the line consists of pan broadcloths. Venetian cloths, cheviots, serges, pebble cloths, satin prunella, tamise and many other varieties. A visit to this department will secure the personal attention of Mr. Moore, who will appreciate the

Last evening from 8 to 10 o'clock splendid music was discoursed for the enjoyment of visitors.

To-day members of the firm, Mr. Anson Alligood, the capable head salesmen in the store, and his 26 clerks most cordially invite the public to visit them.

EDUCATIONAL MASS MEETING

Residents of Delgado Were Addressed by Superintendent Catlett Yesterday. Money Raised for Library.

An interesting educational meeting was held in the chapel at Delgado Mills yesterday afternoon, the object of which was to arouse the people of that enterprising little village to the necessity of sending their children to the very excellent public school conducted in their midst by Misses. Augusta Wiggins and Reba Myers. There are now 50 or 60 pupils enrolled at the school but there should be a hundred or more and it is the purpose of the local committeemen to secure a much larger atttendance during the Spring and Summer months, if pos-

The District Committee consists of Messrs. J. M. Barr, James Ezzell and James Lord and Mr. Barr was chairman of the meeting yesterday. The exercises commenced with the singing of "Carolina." Prof. Catlett, the county superintendent, was present by invitation and was introduced by the chairman. Prof. Catlett made a ringing address along educational lines and it was well received by those in attendance.

A movement was started for the establishment of a library at the school and $15 was easily raised. The school will use $10 of the amount by apply-Of course there is a prevailing style | ing for one of the rural libraries furnished by the State.

The exercises came to a close with the rendition of a charming solo by Miss Barr, daughter of Mr. J. M. Barr. The community was very much aroused as to its educational needs and much good will no doubt result from the meeting.

COMING OF JOSEPH MURPHY.

eading Refined Irish Character Comedian Next Monday Evening.

Mr. Joseph Murphy, the leading refined Irish character comedian in the most successful play ever written. "Kerry Gow." will be the rare attraction offered at the Opera House next-Monday evening, St. Patrick's Day, the 17th. Of the second night's per formance of Mr. Murphy in Norfolk, the Virginian-Pilot of yesterday

"Joseph Murphy closed his Norfolk ngagement last night by presenting Shaun Rhue' at the Academy of Music. Mr. Murphy, as usual, was the bright particular star. His song, 'A Handful of Earth.' at the rise of the curtain, was beautifully rendered. Miss Jeanette Ferrell, as 'Kate Donovan,' proved herself an excellent actress, and won well merited applause. The rest of the company is above par.

'The play, like 'Kerry Gow,' is an Irish comedy-drama, purely Irish, and of intense heart interest. It held the audience last night from start to finish. Although, as before stated in these columns, these plays are now in their thirtieth year, they seem to have lost none of their attraction.

Mr. Schulken went in the back yard of his residence the night a cow and calf that were in the lot. He heard some one stumbling over some old tin vessels that were under a shed near and called out to know who it was. A negro rose up in the darkness and fired a pistol at him for an answer. The negro ran before Mr. Schulken could get under cover and return the salute. There was a chicken coop in th yard and Mr. Schulken thinks his unwelcome visitor was out for "game," although none of the fowls was
