STATE CONVENTION.

Called to Order by Chairman Simmons With Fifteen Hundred Delegates Present.
THE JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS.
Walter Clark for Chief Justice—Connor for Associate Justice—State Executive Committee Announced and Organized for Campaign.
GREENSBORO, N. C., July 16.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order at noon to-day by State Chairman Simmons, with fifteen hundred delegates present. Rev. P. R. Lawson, of Lumber Bridge, led in prayer. Hon. Charles M. Steadman made a pleasing address of welcome. He was followed by Senator Simmons, who spoke for nearly an hour, discussing State and national matters. He challenged the Republican party to signify whether or not it would accept the constitutional amendment. Until the Republican party did this, he said that in his judgment it was the duty of the white people of North Carolina to stand together for their own protection.
Chairman Simmons called on Hon. A. M. Scales to serve as temporary chairman, and Mr. Scales took the chair with a graceful speech. Committee men were then announced, the new State Executive Committee being as follows:
State Executive Committee—W. G. Lamb, W. B. Rodman, L. L. Smith, George W. Ward, M. J. Hawkins, E. L. Travis, W. H. Powell, L. V. Morrow, E. M. Koonce, J. A. Bryan, O. Middleton, N. O'Brien, J. R. Young, E. C. Beddingfield, R. H. Hayes, E. S. Abell, J. S. Matting, B. S. Royster, R. D. Reid, J. J. Nelson, J. B. Underwood, D. S. Cowan, A. W. McLean, D. H. McLean, D. E. Melver, W. L. Parsons, J. The committee, on its permanent organization reported, W. D. Turner, chairman, F. B. Arendell, secretary; Geo. P. Pell and Walter Murphy, assistant secretaries.
Nominating speeches were limited to ten minutes.
Congressman Claude Kitchin nominated Walter Clark for chief justice, seconded by N. B. Broughton, of Wake. The vote was: Clark, 1,116; Justice, 28.6; Shepard, 8; Connor, 1. Not voting, 43.8.
For associate justice, Victor S. Bryant nominated Connor; Ed. S. Abell nominated Brown. Connor's nomination was seconded by Sheriff Ellington, of Johnston, and Geo. H. Fell. Brown's nomination was seconded by W. E. Moore, C. Skinner and W. Bryant. Connor was nominated, receiving 625 4/100 to Brown's 620 65/100. The contest was spirited and exciting, and the count was watched by experts representing each of the two candidates.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 16.—The Democratic State Convention at Greensboro to-day was one of the most largely attended ever held in the State. Walter Clark was nominated for chief justice of the Supreme Court. A motion to make his nomination unanimous was objected to. Connor and Walker were nominated for associate justices. E. C. Beddingfield was nominated for corporation commissioner and J. T. Joyner for superintendent of public instruction.
Senator Simmons was present and made a speech. He said among other things that the State treasurer had borrowed $30,000 in New York to tide over a deficiency in the State treasury. Every county in the State except Mitchell was reported to be in fine condition for a Democratic victory in the State in November.
Referring to national affairs the platform says:
"We reaffirm our allegiance to the Democratic party and its principles as enunciated in its national platform."
It defines its opposition to trusts and monopolies and the protective tariff and favors the establishment of an Appalachian forest reserve by the government.

LOVELY ROME WEDDING.

St-Gilbert Nuptials Celebrated at Home of Bride's Parents Last Night.
One of the prettiest home weddings of the season was the one celebrated last night at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Bates, on the southeast corner of Seventh and Chesnut streets.
The wedding was that of Mr. and Mrs. Bates' charming daughter, Miss Augusta, and Mr. Volney M. Gilbert. The ceremony, performed by Rev. Father Dennen, of St. Thomas' Cathedral, took place in the parlors of the cozy home, attractively decorated for the joyous occasion, and was attended by a host of the two popular young people's friends. After the happy vows were spoken and congratulations bestowed, an elaborate wedding supper was served. Around the festive board Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert's were heartily toasted and sincerely wished long life and prosperity.
The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome gown of white organdie with Duchesse lace trimmings and pearls, and the groom wore the conventional black.
The happy couple received many costly and useful presents both from friends in the city and abroad.

THE ADVANCE GUARD OF REGIMENT HERE.

Finishing Touches Being Placed to the Camp for the Coming of the Fifth Georgia To-morrow.
The advance guard of the Fifth Regiment, National Guards of Georgia, reached the city yesterday afternoon and went directly through to the camp site at the Hammocks. Work was commenced at once and by the time the troops arrive to-morrow the island will have become a tented city. The advance squad consists of a commissary sergeant, cook and helper from each company.
The Fifth Regiment consists of twelve companies, eight from Atlanta, two from Rome and two from Newnan. Besides the regiment, Colonel C. L. Anderson will command one battery of artillery and a regimental band, both from Atlanta. The band is considered to be one of the best in the South.
Contractor Applegate has finished the kitchen, and the regimental and company messes.
The regiment is to be commanded by Lieutenant Colonel C. L. Anderson. The battalions will be commanded by Majors Barker, Patton and Sherrer.
The band is commanded by Band Master Joseph Stewart.
Governor Chandler and staff will arrive next week and review the regiment.
Mr. Edward Wood, correspondent of the "Rome Tribune" is with the regiment, in the interest of his paper.

SUCCESS ABROAD.

A Young Wilmingtonian Who is Winning Laurels in the Literary Field.
Our many young people who remember Mr. James Douglas Campbell, or "Jamie" as he was familiarly called, will be glad to know of his marked success in the literary field. While not devoting his entire time to this profession, Mr. Campbell is "turning out" some literary gems. His latest work of fiction appeared in last week's issue of the New York Mast and Mirror. It was a short story entitled "Bill, or a Ducky of the Old South," and deals with the style of character the author is so familiar with. His manner of telling it, aside from a very interesting little plot, is original and entertaining.
Mr. Campbell's scores of friends here expect from him greater achievements in literature than this, his latest story promises.

EXCURSIONISTS RETURN.

Sepulchre Excursion Departed for Home Last Yesterday Afternoon.
The Charlotte excursionists returned home yesterday afternoon, after a delightful visit to our beaches and other places of interest.
Yesterday most of the excursionists availed themselves of the trip on the steamer Wilmington to Southport and to sea which had been arranged for their pleasure. The trip was an exceedingly pleasant one and greatly enjoyed even by those whom the rocking sea made sick. On the return trip about 4:30 o'clock the Wilmington accommodated her jolly cargo of excursionists by running up the river to the Seaboard Air Line depot, so they could disembark there and be saved a long walk.
The train pulled out for home shortly after 5 o'clock.
To Southport To-morrow.
The grand family excursion of George Washington Council, No. 67, Junior Order United American Mechanics, to Southport, is on tap for to-morrow. The steamer Wilmington will make two trips, one in the morning and the other in the evening. The last boat will leave Southport at 11 o'clock at night. There will be dancing and other amusements. The Boston Italian String Band will furnish the music.
"The Boston Italian String Band" will remain in Wilmington for the season, and will furnish music on all occasions. All transactions by mail or wire will receive prompt attention. Apply to W. Cammarand, No. 611 South Front, or D. Amerena, No. 209 Castle street.

GAVE BOGUS CHECKS.

A White Man Buys from Merchants and Gives Checks Banks Will Not Honor.
WENT OUT FOR HIS ARREST.
He Purported Being a Business Man of Hamlet and Bought Goods by the Wholesale—Told a Most Pleading Tale—A Slick Artist.
A wholesale giver of checks has been among our merchants the past few days and has caused considerable of a "stir," as the orders given by him in most cases were very large and the checks are in all probability bogus. At least the banks have refused to honor them, which is strong evidence of their invalidity, and the generous buyer and reckless giver of checks is nowhere to be found; that is the authorities cannot find him.
Mr. Peter McQueen, Jr., was engaged deeper in the mire than anyone else in the city, though his actual loss is a small one, and yesterday morning he swore out a warrant for the alleged bogus check giver before Justice McGowan.
The story of it all is very interesting, it is as follows:
Monday morning a stranger, giving his name as John M. Rand, called at the Atlantic National Bank of this city and presented a draft for $1,500 on a bank in Columbia. He asked that the draft be collected and placed on deposit for his credit, but saying that there was no hurry in the matter as he wouldn't need the money before the latter part of the week. However, the bank sent the check off at once and took the wise and commendable precaution to attach a note to the draft, asking for an immediate wired reply.
The same morning Rand walked in to the wholesale grocery establishment of Mr. Peter McQueen, Jr., on Water street, near Princess. He made himself extremely affable to Mr. McQueen, introducing himself and claiming to be a business man of Hamlet. His object was to purchase a large order of groceries to be shipped to his place of business. He made a large selection of articles, amounting to $34.61, and gave his check for this amount and five dollars additional, which he afterwards borrowed from Mr. McQueen. In presenting the check he told an exceedingly plausible tale, referring, of course, to the draft he had deposited at the Atlantic National Bank, and made himself so clever otherwise that Mr. McQueen accepted the check, knowing that if any thing was wrong he would find it out before the goods ordered were shipped. Then Rand played deeper, and ordered a car load each of hay, corn and oats and said he would give his check for the something like $1,800 cost later in the week. The check he gave Mr. McQueen he dated the 16th inst., which was yesterday, and asked that it not be presented at the bank before that time.
Next, Rand visited the establishment of Mr. C. M. Whitlock, on Front street, near Grace, and there, too, he made a large purchase of piping, etc. In all the order amounted to about $656. For a portion of this amount, $280, he gave a check similar to the one he had given Mr. McQueen, with the date and request the same.
Tuesday, the next establishment to fall in line was that of George R. French & Sons. There Rand was introduced to Mr. W. A. French, Jr., who sold him a bill of shoes amounting to $280. Another check was presented and the same story told Mr. French as had been told Messrs. McQueen and Whitlock. Rand also told Mr. French that he had a large camp of men located near Hamlet, doing contract ballasting work on the Seaboard Air Line. He wanted the shoes for his male employees. From Mr. French he obtained a pair of shoes for himself.
The jewelry store of Mr. George W. Higgins was next included in the list. There Rand went in search of a fine diamond ring. He found just the ring he desired, which cost over $300, except he didn't like the setting. This objection he concluded could be easily remedied, and he ordered the stone reset, leaving a $25 check on the "Bank of Columbia, B. C." as a deposit of good faith. Later, he returned and desired to carry the ring to the hotel to let his mother see it. This Mr. Higgins declined to do, and Rand left, leaving the check, which was made on a scratched blank of the Atlantic National Bank of this city.
Tuesday afternoon Rand visited the C. W. Polvogt Co., and obtained a valise, giving another check dated the 16th in payment. He had the valise lettered "J. M. R." the initials of his alleged name. After Rand had departed Mr. Polvogt became suspicious and had the check presented at the bank. Its payment was refused and an officer immediately put on Rand's tracks. In the meantime Mr. Polvogt and Mr. Henry G. Haar, book-keeper at the establishment, while on a street car going to the Seacoast depot, "ran across" their late customer. They determined that he make good the check or give back the valise. He did the latter and then went down to the beach.
The lively stables of Mr. S. J. Davis was also visited by Rand. There he owed a small livery bill of $3 and gave a check on a fictitious bank, "National Bank," of Columbia, S. C., for $4, receiving two dollars in change. Another one of these many checks was presented at the Orton Hotel, where Rand stayed a short while.
The first real intimation that any thing might be wrong was Tuesday, when Mr. McQueen sent the check given him to the bank and it was "turned down." Afterwards, Rand was in Mr. McQueen's place and he accounted for the bank's action by upbraiding Mr. McQueen for sending in the check the day before the date specified, the 16th. Mr. McQueen made some excuse and left Rand in his store while he went to further investigate the matter. While he was absent Rand disappeared.

Yesterday morning nearly all the checks given by Rand were presented at the Atlantic National Bank for payment and each in turn was refused, as the bank had received a wire from the Columbia bank that the $1,500 draft would not be honored. So it looks as though Rand has put a number of bogus checks in circulation. He was said to tell an extremely plausible tale and boasted of the fact that he required no reference as he paid everything cash.
As to such a man as Rand holding a contract with the Seaboard Air Line for road work the officials, in Wilmington know nothing.
Rand is described as a man about six feet tall, with a smooth but rather red face.

WANTED IN ATLANTA.

Requestion Made on Governor Aycock for J. C. Blackley, Charged With Giving a Bogus Draft on This City.
Yesterday's Atlanta Constitution says: "Governor Aycock yesterday issued a requisition upon the Governor of North Carolina for J. C. Blackley, who is wanted in Atlanta to answer to the charge of being a common cheat and swindler."
The warrant upon which the requisition is based was issued by Justice Bloodworth upon the affidavit of J. H. Ferguson. It is charged that in a horse trade in which the firm of J. H. Ferguson and the Atlanta Horse and Mule Company were parties, Blackley gave a draft upon Wilmington, N. C., which proved to be bad.
"The amount involved is $155. Blackley is said to be under arrest in North Carolina and Governor Aycock, of that State, is, by the requisition issued yesterday, requested to give him over to the Georgia authorities to be brought to Atlanta and placed on trial."
