-A TANGLED WEB.

In writing a few days ago on the question of getting rid of the friars in the Philippines, we expressed the opinion that if a peremptory deone than was anticipated. mand were made for their withdrawal and insisted upon it would probably put an end to the negotiations for the purchase of the 400,000 acres of land which the friars own. This Government did not care for the land, but proposed to purchase it to get rid of the friars, and the main reason, as we see it, for desiring to get rid of them was not to placate the Filipinos, who are said to dislike them, but because they were supposed to be unfriendly to this country and more loyal to Spain than they are to the United States, which supposition is probably well founded. Governor Taft made the withdrawal of the friars a condition to the purchase of their lands, on the assumption, perhaps, that the Vatican had the power to arbitrarily order them to vacate, which assumption seems to have been unfounded, even if the Vatican was disposed to co-operate with Governor Taft in his efforts to get rid of the friars, which it was the ex-Confederate pensioners and not.

Unfortunately for the success of boys and girls, he said: this scheme Governor Taft had put himself in the attitude of a partisan against and an enemy of the friars before he went on his mission to Rome, and consequently he went handicapped by his own record. The cardinals who were assigned to the the task of negotiating with him, were familiar with this record as published, and knew more about the friars than he did and knew the Paris treaty and the clauses in that document which put a limitation upon the powers of this Government, and therefore they took amin this matter. ple time to consider his propositions and demands, and ample time to answer them, and when they did answer them it was to the effect that the Vatican felt that it could not act

ACTS VERSUS PROFESSIONS.

It is a customary trick with the Republican politicians of this State, and one that machine manager Pritchard very frequently plays, to pose as the special friends of the poor man, champions of popular education, friends of the old soldier, etc., and on these grounds appeal to popular support. But facts speak stronger and more eloquently than professions. Some of these were forcibly presented in the speech of Senator Simmons at the Democratic Convention in Greensboro, Wednesday, facts showing what the Democratic party has done, in contrast with the airy professions of the Republicans and what they did when in power. In speaking of what the Democratic administration which succeeded the Republican-Populist combine, has done for the deaf, dumb and blind, for the insane, for for the education of the State's In addition to the duty of enacting wise and just laws for the protection of life, liberty and property, the State owes to society and civilization three paramount duties, which the Democratic party is pledged to discharge to the fullest extent of the ability of a generous, humane and patriotic people. We owe to the children of the State the duty of giving them an opportunity to acquire an education. This the constitution requires and the Democratic party has promised. This year, for the first time in the history of the State, we have reached the constitutional requirement and have given to each common school district in the State a four months' term. - Statesville Landmark: Mr. W. F. Munday show d the Landmark yesterday the largest tomato of the season. It weighed two pounds and nine ounces. It was of the Fonderosa variety.

- Fayetteville Observer: The sneak robbers have left this vicinity. They were evidently tramps. Olaud McKay was arrested Thursday morning by Officer Benton, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, and was bound over to the Superior Court. He gave bond and was set free.

- Scotland Neck Commonwealth: News came this morning that a colored man, two colored women and a mule were killed by lightning Tuesday afternoon near Spring Hill. - The deep well being sunk on Main street in front of the hotel is now over three hundred feet. No rock has yet been struck and the work progresses well. - Concord Times: The semi-annual meeting of the stockholders of the Odell Manufacturing Company was held last Tuesday. The mills made an excellent showing for the six months just closed, and a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. was declared. During the six months ended June 30th, these mills paid out $436,652.12 for expenses, or over $3,000 a day.

- Wilkesboro Chronicle: Two large cranes were killed at the pond at the Curtis place Monday morning. Mr. Morrison who lives there now tells us the largest crane measured (feet and 2 inches from tip to tip, and was over 5 feet high. — A few nights, Mr. E. W. Settle, of Benham, heard a racket among his chickens, and when he got there he found a big chicken snake and three dead chickens. He killed the snake before it got hold of another chicken. — The negro convict, who escaped from the camp on Reddies River last week was captured Monday up near F. T. Al-ander's. When the negro escaped bloodhounds were put on his trail.

The dogs came up with the negro, but he made friends with them and the dogs did not harm him. When the negro was located and an attempt was made to capture him, the dogs defended him and one of the dogs was killed before the convict could be taken. F. T. Alexander finally suc-ceeded in capturing the negro, but not until the convict was shot in the back and seriously wounded. It is doubtful whether or not the negro will recover.

- Greensboro Record: The man knocked from the Southern tracks by an incoming train near Holt's Chapel Monday morning, died at Dr. Thames sanitarium yesterday at 11 o'clock without regaining consciousness, though he was recognized as J. S. Tur ner, aged 19. He worked at Revolution Mills and left there about four months ago. It is thought he was going to Burlington and had become sleepy and sat down upon the track and went to sleep, becoming dazed as he awoke by the approaching train. -A rather singular fatality occurred Wednesday afternoon about half-past six, whereby an innocent old darkey lost his life. Nervous diseases when aggravated by mental disturbances produce more causes of insanity in the hot weather than at any other season of the year. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness and chronic constipation induce depression of spirits, extreme weakness, morbid fears, despondency and langour; from these, dread in sanity comes slowly but surely.

Hot Weather.

Insanity Due to Nervous

Nervous sufferers have a dread of hot weather. Finding themselves deeper in the pit of misery than they were in the spring and early summer, they are in utter despair.

There is hope for you, dear reader, if you are one of the sufferers. You stand in need of Paine's Celery Compound, that great builder of the nervous system. Its vitalizing action com-mences with the first bottle you use. The volume of blood immediately increases in the arteries, and the body is fully fed and nourished. Your appetite becomes regular and natural, the nerves and brain are strengthened, and you have impulses of health that cheer the soul.

This remarkable remedy will truly meet your case and give you new life; it will lay the foundation for happiness and long years. We counsel you to try this marvelous summer healthrestorer at once, and enjoy the bless-ings of health.

THE STEEL TRUST.

There has been a great deal of talk about the U.S. Steel Trust and its immense capital, but very little was hastily in a matter of such grave im portance and that final action should not be taken against the friars without their having an opportunity to be heard in their own behalf and something to say about putting a valuation upon the property of which it was proposed to dispossess them.

As a sort of compromise, however, so as not to make Governor Taft feel as if effort his had been a total failure, the request was assented to that the Vatican instruct the friars to devote themselves strictly to their clerical and parochial duties and let civil and political matters alone. This seems to be the fruitage of Governor Taft's visit to Rome, whither he went fully determined to get those objectionable friars out of the Philippines. He found he could not do it, and then compromised by securing assent to something which would probably have been assented to two years ago if the simple request had been made through this Government.

Charges of oppression, disloyalty to the Philippines and loyalty to Spain, of being spies, informers, prosecutors and frequently judges to condemn the accused, with being immoral, etc., had been made against the friars, and believed by Governor Taft. Some of these charges were probably true, while some of them were doubtless false, but Governor Taft made them the ground of his opposition to the friars, and his outspoken dislike for them.

He puts his desire for their, withdrawal on the ground that they are much abhorred by the Filipinos, and that letting them remain in possession of their holdings would cause endless trouble and imperil the public peace. There is no question that some of the Filipinos heartily hate the friars, and that if they had the power they would confiscate every foot of land they own, and drive them from the islands. but there is no proof that this enmity is general. But whether it is or not, or whether it is well founded or not, or without taking into account the advisability or inadvisability of forcing the friars out, when Governor Taft giving a reason for his anxiety for their withdrawal savs their presence is odious and an imperiller of the peace does he not concede that this Government is making through him a confession of weakness in not being able to preserve the public peace, when it claims to have conquered peace, with some 9,000,000 or 10,000,000 of people arrayed on the other side? which they believed and which we believed to be right. Greater love hath no man than this, that he give his life for his friends. He who goes to war for his country, risks his life for his ellow man. As long as one of these old heroes lives, it will be the duty of the State to see that he suffers no want he cannot himself reasonably supply. These are duties imposed upon us by civilization, by Christianity, and by The Democratic Legislature of 1899 and 1901 appropriated for these three great objects, education, charity and pensions to Confederate soldiersomething over a million dollars more than the two fusion Legislatures appropriated for those purposes, and at the end of the present fiscal year the Democratic party will have spent for these three great objects something more than a million dollars more than the fusionists spent for these purposes during the four years they were in During the three and a half years of our tenure of office we have appropriated, and at the end of the present fiscal year we will have spent six hun. dred thousand dollars; (mark the figures and register them in your minds) six hundred thousand dollars more for the common schools than the fusionists appropriated and spent for that purpose during the four years of their tenure of office. Here is telling reply with which to confront the Republican tricksters when they rend the air with their yawp about the interest they feel in the masses of the people, and what they would do for them if in power. It is a striking contrast between what the Democratic administration has done and what the Republican-Populist administration, with all their talk, didn't do when they had the power to do.

The sailing vessel as a freighter is coming to the front again. Several very large ones, five or six masters, have been built within the last few years, the last being the Thos. W. Lawson, a seven mast schooner, launched at Quincy, Mass., last week. The seven masts are 155 feet high, and carry 43,000 square feet of canvas. She carries six steam engines, five of 20-horse power and one of 45-horse power, to operate sails, lift anchors, load and unload cargoes, etc., so that a crew of sixteen will be sufficient. It is contended that these large sailers can be more economically operated than steamers.

In this connection he stated that the net earnings for the past quarter were $37,691,700; at the rate of $150,766.000 a year. He also expressed the opinion that the profits ending April 1st, 1093, the second year of the existence of the Trust, will be larger than those of the first year, and will probably exceed $140,000,-000. He also made the interesting statement that the Trust could stand a reduction of 75 per cent in its profits without loss, and yet we are told by Republican statesmen who are opposed to tariff revision that a reduction of duties on steel manufactures would ruin the U. S. Steel Company and all other steel companies.
