One of the hotels to be built in New York this year will rent for over $300,000 a year. People who patronize that hushery will have to pay something.

Uncle Russell Sage celebrated his 80th birthday last Monday by attending to business in his office as usual, and posing three times for pictures for the papers, somewhat unusual.

Richmond papers say there is a movement on foot for a shoe factory in that city. Several moneyed men have a hand in it. This is the last we have heard of it and that's all we know about it.

Two college boys have left Cincinnati to take a boat ride to Rio Janeiro. They propose to row it all the way, provided they don't run up against something to interfere with their plans.

The mining companies in South Africa are talking about importing Chinamen to work in the mines, but the papers are kicking against it. They declare that South Africa is now a "white man's country" and they don't want any yellow streaks in it.

Sheep herding is sometimes pursued under difficulties in the "Wild, woolly West." Recently in Colorado nineteen herders were attacked, brutally beaten, tied and left on the ground all night, while their assailants gobbled everything they had worth gobbling and drove off and slaughtered 4,000 of their sheep.

Mr. H. M. Flagler, who owns about 600 miles of railroad in Florida, and the Seminole Indians are good friends. There are about 600 of them, and he lets every one of them ride dead-head over his road as much as they choose. They like that and think him the biggest man in America.

A Chicago man has invented a process to aid cattle to digest their rations of corn. The corn is put into machines, where it is allowed to sprout, when it is fed to the cattle. He claims that one-half the corn fed in this way will produce more fat, and in less time, reducing the cost of fattening one half. We don't believe half of it.

NEW SAVINGS BANK WILL BE OPENED HERE.

Atlantic Trust and Banking Company, of Wilmington, Chartered by Treasurer of State—The Incorporators.

The Atlantic Trust and Banking Company, with an authorized capital stock of $100,000, has been incorporated by the Treasurer of the State to do a general savings and trust business in Wilmington. Its incorporators are among the leading financiers of the city, headed by Mr. Matt J. Hoyer, who will be president of the new institution. A number of them are already prominently identified with the banking interests of the city and the new enterprise promises to be a success from the beginning. The new bank will occupy the old site of the Atlantic National Bank, on Princess street, and will be open for business Sept. 1st. The usual four per cent interest will be allowed. The following special received last night from Raleigh gives details of the organization:

The list of four incorporators to the stock aggregating $25,000 is given in the application for the charter. The State Treasurer says those taking the most number of shares are Mr. J. Hoyer, George R. French, W. E. Worth, C. W. Yates and J. S. Armstrong. The other stockholders are Thos. Wilson, Cades, S. C.; Martin S. Willard, E. C. Holt, Walter Farley, Sam'l. Bear, Jr., Janus Davis, D. McEachern, A. B. Lynch and Geo. W. Kidder.
"This bank is the second chartered under the new State banking law enacted by the last Legislature. The first was the Alliance Loan and Trust Company, of Burlington."

The warrant was served upon Dr. Hatcher Wednesday. He was represented at the hearing by L. V. Grady, Esq., and was discharged upon the ground that there was no evidence against him. The government offered three witnesses but the defendant offered none and did not find it necessary to go upon the stand himself. The government witnesses were Ellis Wells, D. D. Bradshaw and Geo. Cox, all of Rose Hill.

CRASH AT CAROLINA BEACH.

Fourteen Injured by the Falling of Building at That Resort—Wounded Were Brought to the City—The Storm Elsewhere—Incidents.

Miss Alice Phillips, broken ankle and contused back. She was in the ruins for an hour and a half before help could reach her, and then only in a very difficult and painful manner she was rescued.
Capt. John Barry, sprains and other injuries to both ankles.
Mrs. John Barry, severe injury to left lower limb, fracture of the femur and ankle, and suffering much on account of her advanced age from the nervous shock.
Captain John Fitzgerald, of Richmond, nephew of Capt. John Barry, contusion of left shoulder and chest, and perhaps several broken ribs.
M. H. Kelly, laceration of the forehead and other severe injuries.
The last four named are at the home of Capt. John Barry, and are being attended by Drs. Schonwald and Bellamy.
Mrs. Owen Martindale, contusion and laceration of the face and head, injury to back and ankle.
Miss Martindale's three-months-old child was asleep on the second floor of the building. When taken from among the debris it was found that the baby had dropped miraculously to the ground upon a mattress that came down with the collapse. It received not a scratch.
Tobe Howard, bar-keeper at the hotel, laceration of the scalp, with contusion of both arms, jaw and shoulders.
Mrs. Tobe Howard, laceration of the forehead. Mrs. Howard, after her rescue, went bravely into the rescue work and in the absence of a physician she assisted both Miss Furlace, even going so far as to tear her own clothing to make bandages for the injured.
J. E. Haywood and five-year-old daughter, of McCall, S. C. Mr. Haywood suffered a severe sprain of the right ankle, left leg broken just above the ankle and a dislocation of the same ankle; a severe contusion of the spine. The little girl was on the second floor of the building and escaped without injury. Accompanied by Mr. J. S. Thompson, of Hasty, she will return home to-day. Mr. Haywood and Mr. Thompson came down the day before and expected to stay some time, but the storm changed their minds.
J. M. Rumley, Beaufort, N. C., injury to back, left hip and knee.
The old Hotel Oceanic had not been used strictly for hotel purposes in several years and during the past two seasons, Capt. Harper had refused to rent it as a hotel but merely as a place for the entertainment of excursionists, with a restaurant attached. It was fortunate that it was not used as a hotel, else the consequences of last night's storm might have been more terrible. Capt. Harper and every person connected with his boat or interests on the beach did all in their power for the suffering ones yesterday.

News Reached the City.

The first intelligence the city had of the catastrophe at the beach was through Robert Freeman, colored, who was sent for Dr. Andrew H. Harris by Capt. Furlace, and from whom the STAR received its information at 4:30 o'clock. Capt. John W. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, was also notified, but in the excitement Freeman only acquainted Dr. Harris and Capt. Harper of the fact that one patient needed attention. Capt. Harper, with Dr. Harris, made record breaking time on the steamer Wilmington to the beach, leaving the city at 8:15 A. M., and all hands with the sympathetic surgeon went to work to relieve the suffering. Though alone, Dr. Harris accomplished wonders in administering to the wants of the wounded, and improvised coats and stretchers were made and all placed on a flat car, which reached the pier safely. The wounded ones were placed on the steamer and Dr. W. D. McMillan. The need of a hospital ambulance was strongly evidenced, but Dr. Harris, Capt. Harper and Mr. Ed. Manning made the best of things and secured the best vehicles in sight. As before stated all the sufferers were doing well at last accounts last night.

Queer Pranks of the Wind.

Mrs. Louis Fremuth, of Wilmington, was a guest at the hotel at the time but had just stepped out to a telephone to talk with her husband in the city. Her little five-year-old son was asleep on the second floor but escaped without a bruise. When the debris was being removed, it is said the little fellow was found, under it all, quietly asleep on the sand as if nothing had ever happened.
The kitchen of the hotel building was left intact and scarcely jarred from its foundation. The mirror in a bureau that was smashed all to pieces was found yesterday in the ruins without so much as a crack.
Mr. J. B. Thompson, of Hasty, N. C., accompanied by his little daughter and two little sons, were disappointed the afternoon before the storm that they could not find a place in the hotel.

They went over to the Kure House, some distance away, and were safe throughout the wind.
Storm at Other Places.

Mr. W. H. Biddle, of Masonboro township, who was in the city yesterday, reported a severe blow in that territory about the same hour as the Carolina Beach storm. It lasted but for five minutes, but incalculable damage was done to corn, trees were uprooted, fences blown down and other damage wrought. The roar of the cyclone could be heard for some time as it approached. It moved in a path covering nearly two miles.
The first news of a terrific wind storm, cyclonic in its proportions, which passed over Carolina Beach early Wednesday night, carrying destruction in its path, was printed in these columns yesterday morning, but as the wires were down and travel across country was extremely difficult by reason of hundreds of trees and debris piled up on the roads, nothing like particulars could be attempted.
The most serious loss and injury by the storm was in the wreck of the old Hotel Oceanic, a large two-story wooden structure, owned by the New Hanover Transit Co., and conducted this season by Mrs. Rebecca Eilers, of Wilmington. The storm appeared to have singled out this building for all the rest on the beach and its walls came down with a crash, burying in its ruins sixteen occupants, all of whom were more or less injured and one perhaps fatally, except three small children, over whom Providence seemed to have exercised a special care.
The storm came on from the southwest and appeared to strike the hotel in the nature of a whirlwind, blowing the middle part of the building toward the sea.
Eight of the occupants of the house were engaged in dancing at the time in the dining room of the hotel and were taken completely unawares. The only one to escape was Mr. Sebastian Winner, who was picking a guitar for the dancers. He was near the door and got on the outside before the crash came, but his instrument was smashed into smithereens. He received only a slight injury on the leg and joined bravely in the rescue of the injured as soon as he could collect his thoughts. The work was extremely difficult and was done only by the flashes of incessant lightning that accompanied the storm. Mr. Marion Winner, father of Sebastian Winner, was the first to reach the scene, but very soon afterwards he was joined by Captain Thomas McGee, Mr. Robert S. Collier, who is spending some time with his family at the hotel; Mr. Hans A. Kure, Captain Furlace, Capt. J. C. Smith, Mr. Henry Solter, Mr. J. S. Thompson, of Hasty, who was stopping at the Kure House across the sound; Miss Furlace, daughter of Captain Furlace, and Mose and John Evans, two colored men employed by Capt. J. W. Harper. Two small railroad jacks for hoisting purposes, two saws, two axes and a pinch bar were the implements used, and heroically did each man work. All the injured ones except Mr. Hampton Smith, who is a son of Capt. J. C. Smith, the well known steamboat man, was not rescued until two hours later and it was then by a heroic effort on the part of Capt. Tom McGee. He is said to have lifted almost the entire roof of the building. Out of the first hole that was cut six people came out, badly frightened and badly injured. Young Smith, when taken out, was so badly injured that he cried pitiably for some one to kill him. He has contusion of the brain and will not be out of danger for some time. At the hospital last night, Dr. Fride J. Thomas said he was doing nicely, as were the two other patients remaining there, Mr. J. E. Haywood, of McCall, S. C., and Mr. J. M. Rumley, of Beaufort, N. C. The other injured persons, who were later taken to their homes, were also doing well from all that could be learned.

The injured and the extent of their wounds as given by the attending physicians yesterday are as follows: Hampton Smith, laceration of scalp and face, several contusions of the left shoulder, chest and back and a very severe contusion and laceration of the entire left leg. He was also suffering yesterday from concussion of the brain. Young Mr. Smith was in the wreck for three hours, pinned between a partition, floor and roof, with his left leg jammed between a girder and a water cooler.
Mrs. Rebecca Eilers, proprietor of the hotel, laceration of the scalp, contusion of the left shoulder, back and ankle.
Miss Nettie Eilers, daughter of Mrs. Eilers, broken ankle and nose, and suffering severely from the shock.
The residence of Mr. Owen Martindale, four miles from the city, in Masonboro township, was badly used by the wind. A chimney was blown down; doors and shutters torn off and the plastering in several rooms twisted about. In the neighborhood the roads were impassable. It was Mr. Martindale's wife who was injured in the fall of the hotel at the beach.
The only other damage at Carolina Beach besides the hotel was the blowing down of a part of the kitchen of Mr. W. L. Smith's cottage near the hotel.
The storm was very severe in portions of Brunswick county opposite Carolina Beach, but at Wrightsville the wind did not reach the proportions of a storm and not the slightest damage was sustained.
In this connection it may be interesting to know that severe wind storms passed over Durham, High Point, Statesville, Asheboro and Winston on the afternoon of the same day the gale struck this section at night. Smoke stacks of industrial plants were felled; in one or two instances factories were unroofed and church steeples badly damaged. O. L. Kinney, a white man of Richmond county, was killed instantly by a stroke of lightning as he stood in the office of the Clerk of the Court in Rockingham. Mr. Kinney was seated near a telephone when the accident occurred.

During the electric storm Wednesday night at Florence, Maurice Gregg, a negro employed at an ice house grasped an incandescent electric light for the purpose of turning it on, and his death followed almost immediately. Two negroes were killed by lightning at Mayesville, S. C., the same afternoon. At Charlotte, lightning struck a merry-go-round at Latta Park, instantly killed one negro and seriously injured two others.

REMARKABLE CATCH OF FISH.

Party from Wilmington Had Fine Sport at "The Rocks" Yesterday.
It seems impossible, but coming from the well known "piscaatorialists" that it does, we will accept the story as the truth, the proverbial regard of the average fisherman, for veracity to the contrary notwithstanding.
Yesterday morning Messrs. W. Van Hardie, Louis H. Skinner, B. F. King, T. W. Wood and T. S. McManus were at the club house of the Fort Fisher Rod and Gun Club at the "Rocks," having spent the night there. Beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock, armed with rod and line, they indulged in two hours' sport at the old "Modern Greece" wreck, and in that short space of time caught 180 fine sheep head and 80 trout and pig fish, weighing in all about 650 pounds. They say the fishing was never finer at the "Rocks."
The party was in the new club house during the storm Wednesday night and say the staunch little structure met the wind without a quiver.

BASEBALL YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Southport Defeated Wilmington in Score of 4 to 1—A Splendid Game.
The Southport and Wilmington baseball teams put up a rattling good exhibition of the National sport at Hilton Park yesterday afternoon, but the visitors won in a score of 4 to 1. The disaster for the locals came on a wild throw to first in the sixth inning which let in three men. Previous to that time the score was one to nothing in favor of Wilmington and both teams were playing big league ball. There were about a hundred persons, including ladies, who witnessed the game and were highly pleased with it. Mr. W. A. French, Jr., served very acceptably to both sides as umpire. The line-up was as follows:
SOUTHPORT. WILMINGTON.
Bell, (captain)..... King
Davis..... Williams
Burdie..... Disher
Duvall..... Smith
Hewitt..... Jordan
Genuaux..... Westcott
Harris..... Linder (capt.)
Disher..... Ligen
Newman..... Kure
The Southport team will return home to-day.
Struck by Trolley Car.
Near Front and Walnut streets yesterday morning, about 9 o'clock, there was a mix-up of a trolley car, a negro, a mule and a dray. It occurred at Car No. 25, of the street railway system, was on its way to Brooklyn. The mule was knocked down and slightly injured, while the negro escaped by jumping. A shaft of the dray was broken, but the other damage was of little consequence. Motorman Geo. Savage and Conductor N. B. Penn were in charge of the car, while John Morris was "motorman" on the vehicle, represented by the mule and the dray.
Injured at Saw Mill.
Mr. Robert Garrell, aged 24 years and employed by the Angola Lumber Co., was seriously hurt yesterday morning at the mill by being struck in the abdomen with a bolt of iron from some of the machinery. He was sent to his home on Tenth between Mulberry and Chesnut streets, where Dr. Andrew H. Harris gave him the necessary surgical attention. Dr. Harris was unprepared to say yesterday whether or not internal injuries had been sustained.
Bellegier Excursionist.
Thos. Jackson, a young white man of Bennettsville, S. C., who made trouble for the conductor on the Gibson excursion upon the departure of the train from the Front street station of the Coast Line Wednesday night, was arraigned before Mayor Peem, Cooper yesterday and given choice of paying $10 fine or going to the roads for 30 days. Thus far his decision appeared to be in favor of the roads.
Wholesale Grocers' Association.
The Wholesale Grocers' Association, Mr. J. A. Taylor presiding, met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Merchants' Association rooms, but nothing except routine work was accomplished. There was an informal but a very enthusiastic discussion after the meeting looking to the securing of the next annual meeting of the National Association in Wilmington.

The Elks' Smoker.

The Elks' smoker last night in compliance to the New Atlantic Coast Line clerks was a popular affair and an enjoyable evening was spent by hosts and guests alike. The Elks know how to entertain and they made the city's new comers feel comfortable in their handsome club.

TO HAVE NEW HOME.

Chamber of Commerce Will Remove to Princess Street Location Oct. 1st.

THE MEETING YESTERDAY.

Decision to Move Reached on Report of the Executive Committee—Something of the New Quarters—Increased Facilities.

The only business of interest transacted at yesterday afternoon's regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the Exchange rooms, on Water street, at 3:30 P. M., was the decision to remove the present headquarters of the institution to the building now occupied by the Southern Express Co., on Princess street. The transfer will take place about Oct. 1st, when the Express Company will remove to its new quarters on Chesnut street, in the rear of the new Murchison National Bank building.

The removal to new and more convenient quarters for both up-town and wharf merchants has been contemplated by the Chamber ever since the Produce Exchange and Chamber of Commerce were consolidated several months ago. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee, Mr. L. B. Rogers was appointed chairman of a special committee to look for better quarters and the mission of that committee was accomplished in short order: a report made back to the Executive, and the whole matter brought to the attention of a general meeting of the Chamber yesterday, with the result stated.

The new quarters for the Chamber will be overhauled and placed in exactly the condition desired by that body. The building is 30 1/2 feet wide and 67 1/2 feet long, with a slight extension of the width from the rear. The room will be divided into two apartments 20 1/2 x 20 1/2 feet and 27 x 37 feet in size, respectively. In the rear the black boards and Exchange machinery will be located with the smaller room in front for reception. In the latter apartment writing desks for visitors will be arranged to the left and on the right the branch telegraph office of the Western Union will be established. In the rear there is a piazza which will be extended to the alley and covered with canvas, so as to make a delightful retreat for members at their leisure or with a penchant for checkers and other games popular with the "bulls and bears" of the local "Change."
The Produce Exchange, before it became the Chamber of Commerce this year, has long occupied its present quarters at northwest corner of Water and Princess streets.
Those present at the meeting yesterday were Mr. H. W. Malloy, acting president; Mr. James Kyle, secretary, Messrs. S. P. McNair, L. B. Rogers, I. M. Bear, and G. J. Boney, members of the Executive Committee, and Messrs. E. N. Sweet, H. C. McQueen, Jao. F. McNair, C. C. Brown, W. H. Brown, W. L. DeRosier, Jno. T. Rankin, T. D. Love, Peter McQueen, Jr., J. H. Boatwright, W. E. Worth and A. H. Zoeller.

GEN. CARR WRITES OF GREENSBORO REUNION.

Veterans Are Urged to Attend in Large Numbers—Details of the Trip and Entertainment.
Capt. James I. Metts has received the following letter which explains itself from General Julian S. Carr: Commander Cape Fear Camp No. 254, Wilmington, N. C.
MY DEAR SIR: It is my desire that the reunion at Greensboro shall prove a big success. I ask your aid and cooperation in the least convenient manner we have had in a good many years to collect together the old Confederate Veterans of North Carolina, and perhaps the finest one we will have for some time to come. The people of Greensboro promise to be very hospitable. Greensboro is so situated that it can be reached most conveniently from all points in the State. The railroads have been very liberal in the rates they propose to give us. As there is some business to be done at the reunion, it is best to come before the meeting. I trust you will interest yourself in having as many veterans attend from your section as is possible. We want to make the parade of the veterans quite a feature at this reunion. The more veterans we can have in line, the better fitted we will be to stir the hearts of those who remember the days from '61 to '65, and the greater impression we will make.
I am writing to ask your further interest in the matter. Mention it to the veterans in your community. Talk to them about it, and insist upon their presence at Greensboro. Tickets will be prepared for all who will come, and railroads will be furnished free to all who will ask it. Every veteran is expected to bring his own blanket or other material for covering. Bring these matters to the attention of your camp, and try and get us a good crowd.
Yours, very truly,
J. S. CARR.
