One Chicago man has sued another Chicago man for calling him a lobster, which is pretty good indication that he wasn't as much of a lobster as the other man supposed.

A Mississippi doctor is quoted as saying that if one drinks plenty of whiskey and eats plenty of raw onions, he need never fear malaria. We should think not. No ordinary malaria would ever tackle a combination like that.

One of the oath-bound gang of St. Louis aldermen boodlers says they didn't think they were doing anything morally wrong by taking bribes, because they had been doing it long. They became so accustomed to it that they looked on it as a matter of business.

Captain Andrews, of Boston, who took a young wife some time ago, and made the bridal tour across the Atlantic in a cockle shell boat, all by themselves, may be officially dead, as declared by the court which granted letters of administration on his estate, but when last heard from he and his wife were very much alive, although somewhat astirated with salt water.

A new industry has been established in Maine, where some enterprising fellows have gone to breeding foxes for their hides. In some other sections up there where they pay bounties on wild varmits, thirty fellows breed them for their scalps. In Ohio a couple men have a snake ranch, where they breed snakes for their oil, and they are making lots of money by it. They count on a crop of 100,000 snakes this year.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Church notices on second page.
— Cotton receipts yesterday were 2,714 bales; same day last year 793 bales.

— Regular convocation of Concord Chapter No. 1, R. A. M., Monday evening at 8 o'clock.
— The schooner Wm. H. Bailey, Capt. Luce, cleared yesterday for New York with a cargo of lumber consigned by the Angola Lumber Co.
— Two good printers, thoroughly competent in daily newspaper work, may secure employment by applying at the office of THE MORNING STAR.
— The annual re-union of Co. "B," First battalion, C.S.A. (Col. Taylor's company) and Co. "E," Thirtieth N. C. T., will take place at Rose Hill, N. C., on Thursday next, Sept. 18th.
— Charleston has a fight over the appointment of a Collector of Customs to succeed Col. R. M. Wallace, who died only last Thursday. Two negroes are aspirants for the position.
— Capt. A. H. Worth, of Fayetteville, the veteran steamboat master of the Caps Fear, was a passenger on the steamer Hurt, which arrived yesterday and returned in the afternoon.
— By deed filed for record yesterday Mrs. Martha F. Maunder transferred to Mrs. Mary Wright Northrop, house and lot at southeast corner of Eighth and Meadow streets, 60x150 feet in size; consideration, $2,500.
— Church notices to secure insertion in the STAR must be written out as they are desired to appear and left at the office on the day or night before which they are expected to be printed.
— A meeting of the New Hanover "Independents" is reported to have been held last night. A reporter for the STAR couldn't get on the "inside" of the affair, hence there is no report of the proceedings.

— Friends will regret exceedingly to know that Mr. H. O. Craig continues very ill at his home on North Seventh street. He has suffered several strokes of apoplexy, the most severe of which came last Thursday.
— Something was radically wrong with the gas mains in the city last night. Several red hot consumers of the element telephoned to the STAR office to know what was wrong. The very idea of newspaper people being responsible for the gas supply of the town!
— Two negro excursionists from Goldsboro were called in the police court yesterday to answer charges of being drunk and disorderly. One of them appeared and was let off with the cost and the other, Sam Lofin, forfeited $10 cash appearance bond put up by his father the day before.
— Shall Charleston Go Ahead?
The News and Courier, of Charleston, says a number of leading merchants and business men have begun a movement which promises much for the commercial welfare of that city—something on the order of the gala weeks which have been popular in that city the past few years. Considering the fact that Charleston has just closed a big Exposition, should not the fact that she is going to have a gala week this Fall, too, prove an incentive to Wilmington business men to rally to the support of national Bazaar Carnival? If the business men do not appoint a committee from their number to cooperate with the Pythian Committee, should they not at least subscribe liberally to the support of the enterprise?

Newspaper Men Fare Well.

Newspaper men in South Carolina fare well in the distribution of public offices, according to the Florence Times. In last week's primary, J. W. Ragdale, elected to the Senate from Florence county, is publisher of the Timonville Enterprise; Dr. J. C. Mac, of the Marion Star, has been elected to the Legislature; Josiah Daar, of the Georgetown Times, was elected county superintendent of education, and J. W. Daar of the Outlook, was elected to the Legislature.

GEN. GORDON COMING

The Distinguished Confederate and Renowned Platform Entertainer in November.

AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Theatrical Season Opens Thursday Evening With the Thrilling Melo-drama "Human Hearts"—Attraction Praised by the Press

In a city so truly Southern as Wilmington, so proud of a splendid history, perhaps no announcement could bring greater pleasure to her patriotic people than the early coming of Gen. John B. Gordon, for many years the Commander of the United Confederate Veterans. All through this Southland, and even far into the North and West, Gen. Gordon in his wonderful magnetic way has told the story of "The Last Days of the Confederacy." As he fought bravely, so he speaks tenderly, and even in the homes of his one-time foes—now his ardent friends—he told that wonderful story of bravery and devotion, of grim humor, of wonderful pathos, and men listened eagerly to the words as they came from the lips of the battle-scarred hero.

The new lecture to be delivered this season is a story of the early struggle, "The First Days of the Confederacy," and is said to be as attractive in every way as the one delivered here some four or five seasons ago.

Wilmington will be honored by the visit of this gallant soldier, statesman and orator, and a hearty welcome awaits him.

His address will be delivered in the Academy of Music some time during the month of November, the exact date to be named later by the Academy management.

Next Thursday night at the Academy of Music the Wilmington theatrical season will open with a splendid production of Hal Reid's beautiful melo-drama, "Human Hearts." No better evidence of its merit can be given than to state that the press has strongly endorsed it as being a good attraction. The past week the company was in Virginia and received high commendation from a number of papers from that State. The Portsmouth Star of Friday afternoon says:

"Human Hearts," a beautiful story of life in the hills of Arkansas, was presented at the Lyceum last night before a large and appreciative audience. — Mr. E. P. Sullivan, as Tom Logan, the big, honest-hearted blacksmith, the hero of the play, was liberally applauded, and received an ovation at the close of the third act. — Jim Mason, the tramp, was very clever and created considerable laughter. Sidsay Lee filled the role of Jimmie Logan, the half-witted brother, in a very acceptable manner.

"Miss Ida Rockwood, as Ruth Larkins, and Miss Grace Lockwood, as Jennette Logan, were true to nature in the rendition of their respective characters. Master Percy, as little Grace Logan, was exceptionally good for one of his age.

The piece is being presented by a strong company, and is staged with almost a car load of special scenery.

The advance sale of seats will open at the Academy's down town box office at Plummer's, on Princess street, Wednesday morning.

Seashore Hotel to Close.

Manager Hinton announced yesterday that the Seashore Hotel will close to-morrow. The season at the "Seashore" this year has been the most successful in years and had the electric road been completed earlier, Wright's triumph would have been even greater. The weather to-day is not suggestive of a trip to the beach and it is perhaps as well that Manager Hinton has decided to close. It is hard to combat the elements even with a thing as good as the Seashore Hotel.

Accident to Capt. Duckett.

Raleigh News and Observer: "A telegram received yesterday morning by the family of Capt. John Duckett from Mrs. K. M. Biggs, his daughter in law, states that Captain Duckett has 'dislocated his shoulder and will not be able to return to Raleigh for several days. It will be remembered that Captain Duckett went to Wilmington several days ago to look after the maps and charts that were in the possession of the late Captain McCree, State Engineer. On Thursday evening, Captain Duckett went to Lumberton to visit his daughter, and it was at her home that the accident happened."

It's Taking in the Country.

A number of travelling men who are in from their week's trip in the country report that the people outside of Wilmington are "taking right hold" of the Pythian Carnival and will be here to attend in large numbers. Last year, the travelling men say, the conditions in the country were different from what they are now. Everything is on a boom and people have the carnival spirit "in their bones."

Board of Audit and Finance.

Repairs to the Board of Audit and Finance room at the City Hall have been completed. A neat railing encloses the office proper of the Board and a handsome carpet has been laid on the floor. One of the latest and most complete file cabinets and book cases has been added to the furnishings, and other improvements of a long-needed character have been made.

As we live we grow. Every department in full. Can't you give us a look before buying.

J. H. Rehder & Co. import their entire stock of Mattings, which enables them to give extra values.

ESCAPED S. C. CONVICT IS FOR HOUSE-BREAKING.

His Wonderful Appetite Got Him in Trouble for Five Years and Won't Let Him Get Out.

A slave to his stomach and with a penchant for freeing himself of convict chains almost when he chooses, Ben Brackie, alias "Henry Fullard," the colored youth arrested last week by the police for the larceny of a chicken and upon whose ankles shackles were found when searched at the police station, will be taken back to-morrow to Conway, S. C. by Supervisor O. M. Harrelson, of the Horry county chain gang, who arrived yesterday.

The negro's morbid appetite is at the bottom of all his troubles. He is a typical African, aged about 19 years; ravid-looking, and has a mouth attached to his superstructure that will cut a half moon in the largest pie ever conceived in the mind of the most ambitious baker. He was sentenced to five years on the Conway chain gang about 12 months ago for breaking into a South Carolina farm kitchen, recalling his inner self with a two gallon churn of clabber, a bucket of milk and stealing a large country ham on the side. He was caught the next day boarding a boat for Georgetown and as there was no one sleeping in the house at the time of his robbery, when court came he got only five years on the roads for his crime. Of his term he has served only one year and has succeeded in getting away four times by slipping or fling the chains with which he was bound. His appetite, however, got the best of him each of the four times and he has been captured and returned to the gang. His last effort to appease his hunger with a chicken led to his arrest here. Yesterday he summoned Policeman C. E. Wood hastily to his cell and put up a pitiful plea for crackers and candy, which, of course, he didn't get, as Officer Wood dismissed him with the admonition that "a shackled nigger and crackers and candy don't go together."

THE CUMBERLAND PRIMARIES.

Correspondent Says Special in Star Was Misleading—Mr. McNeill's Position. [Special Star Correspondence.]

FAYETTEVILLE, Sept. 12.—The special in your issue of to-day dated Sept. 11th, about the Cross Creek primaries is misleading. Neither Mr. Hale nor Mr. MacNeill were candidates for office. The results obtained (which, by the way are incorrectly reported by your correspondent) were: Second ward—J. H. Hopkins, 10 votes; of two of the town candidates for sheriff (Cook and Gaster) against a third (Thomson) aided by the friends of Mr. MacNeill, the object being the defeat of the country candidates, Marsh and Adams, with whom Thomson is in sympathy. The statement by your correspondent that the country precincts "indicate about the same ratio" as those in town, is untrue. On the contrary, Cook and Gaster have developed very little strength in the country, which votes 110 votes to the town's 10. The object of the Cook and Gaster combination, it is believed, is, if possible, to break up the 10 vote per township rule under which all our nominations for years have been made; but it is not seen how this can be done, as the country townships are not likely to yield this provision, their only defence against the town ring, which, by combining with one or two of the able, formerly controlled all the offices.

Your special was also mislaid. The primaries were not held on the 11th, as therein stated, but on the 10th.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 12.

Editor Wilmington Star:

DEAR SIR—Will you kindly give me the name of the sender of your special telegram in yesterday's STAR. He certainly must be a very prejudiced individual, as neither Major Hale nor myself were candidates for any public favor. The contest was between rival candidates for sheriff, all from this township, and was one in which I had no personal interest, as I am quite well satisfied that the nominee for sheriff will this year come from a country township. I ask the publication of this telegram in your issue of your correspondent as a matter of simple justice to Major Hale and myself. Yours, respectfully,
JAMES D. MCNEILL.

[Special Star Telegram.]

SOUTHPORT, N. C., Sept. 13.—The Democratic primary for Smithville township was held here to-day. The fight between the factions favoring E. D. Guthrie and J. B. The delegates to the County Convention were instructed for Wm. Weaks for the House, David Ward for sheriff and Guthrie for register of deeds.
