OTHER NEWS OF THE WHARF.

Cotton Receipts Seven Times Those Last Year-Lumber Industry is Still Active - Scarcity of Mullets. Another Cotton Steamer.

Mention was made in these columns yesterday that a new steamer for the Wilmington and Little River Transportation Company, of this city, would be launched next Thursday at Shallotte, Brunswick county, where she is in process of construction. The new boat will be used for the coast trade between Wilmington and Little River and is being built with that special end in view. There are a number of inlets and sounds which are desirable to enter and the new boat is designed to navi gate these easily with its light draught at the same time having a great freight carrying capacity. The steamer Compton on that run has too much depth for the smaller harbors and the new steamer will replace her. Messro Stone, Rourk & Co., will, of course, be the new steamer's Wilm ngton agents, and Capt. W. A. Sanders will be in executive control of her while on the water. She is to be a model in every respect and only the very best material is allowed to enter into her construction. She is 90 feet long, 181 feet beam and draws 51 feet of water loaded and 41 feet light. On the lower deck are the saloons, and pilot house and cabin quarters for passengers are on the upper deck. Her freight capacity will equal that of the Compton. Her gross - The Atlantic Coast Line is tonnage will be over 100 and her net inches in diameter and 10 feet long A steam pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch is guaranteed, and she will have fore and aft compound marine engines that will give a speed of from 14 to 16 miles an hour. The machinery will be placed in position in a few weeks and the boat will be ready > to run by Oct. 15th. The Compton will leave Thursday morning at 5 o'clock with a party of Wilmingtonians on board to attend the launching ceremonies. Mr. M. J. Corbett, president of the company, and others will go.

> Although less than twenty days of the new cotton year have expired, the receipts of the staple at the port of Wilmington have already reached about one-seventh of what they were the entire twelve months of last year and about seven times what they were for the corresponding twenty days in the season of 1901-'02. The exact figures since Sept. 1st are 41,896 bales against 6,038 bales up to Sept. 20th 1901. The week's receipts as posted at the Exchange yesterday were 18,963 bales against 4,731 bales the same week last year. The quotations are unchanged locally. Yesterday's receipts of cotton were 2,577 bales against 511 on the same day last year. All the railroads shared in its trans-

> Mr. Wm. B. Stillwell, of the South ern Pine Company, has returned to Savannah, after a two weeks' trip to the lumber markets of the North Atlantic seaboard. The lumber business is in a most satisfactory condition. Mr. Stillwell says, and the outlook also is excellent. Business among the members of the Georgia Saw Mill Association also is excellent, Mr. Stillwell says. The mills are running on full time, there is a brisk inquiry and demand, and prices are good. There will be a meeting of the Saw Mill Association at Valdosts, Sept. 30, but it is thought there will be no change in the present price list.

The famine in mullets appears to be about relieved but the supply is still very much shorter than last year. The steamer Compton, which arrived yesterday, brought a large number of barrels from Little River, S. C. and rail shipments from Onslow and Jones counties are also picking up. The prices are not quite so high as they were earlier in the season when packers could get none of the favorite salt fish for love or money. The same scarcity that has been evident here has been complained of at Beaufort, Newbern, Elizabeth City and other points in Eastern North Carolina.

The British steamer Haxby, 2,252 tons, Capt. Upperton, arrived yesterday from New York for a cargo of cotton. She is one of the largest, if not the largest, steamers of the season and is consigned to Messrs. Alexander

Schooner Merom, Capt. Sorensen. laden with cross-ties, hence for Boston, passed out at Southport 7 A.M. yester-

Escaped from Horry County.

NEW CAPE FEAR BOAT PYTHIAN CARNIVAL AND MERCHANTS' FESTIVAL

Chairman of Advertising Committee Tells Why Its a Good Thing-"Push It Along"-Charleston's Show.

"There is no reason in the world why the merchants should not contribute very liberally toward the Knights of Pgthias Carnival and Merchants' Fall Festival", said the chairman of the advertising committee vesterday afternoon, to a STAR reporter. The chairman, by the way, is also one of Wilmington's successulmerchants. "They have everything to gain", said he, "and I will guarantee, aside from the fact of helping their own town it will be the best invest ment they have made in many moons. We are going to bring the people here. The surrounding country is one hundred per cent. better off financially than it was last year and in better condition than ten years. Tobacco is plentiful and bringing fabulous prices; good cotton crops, bringing big prices, compared with recent years; therefore they have got the money and w at is needed now is good attraction, low rate on railroads and the crowds wil be with us.

"It's no easy undertaking for the le n who have this in charge, and when the soliciting committees call on the people, they should give them a liberal contribution, their good will and hearty support. Let every man make himself a committee of one to see that this undertaking is carried to a success ful end and make this a banner week for the old town."

The next meeting of the committees will be next week. Charleston is arranging for a gala week, also in November, and her merchants are showing commendable interest in the affair. Her commercial bodies have appointed committees to co-operate in the work, and the Mayor will never do for our business men to lag behind in this carnival project.

BRUNSWICK COUNTY CONVENTION.

Nominations Made Thursday at Lockwood's Folly-Strong Ticket.

[Special Star Correspondence.] SOUTHPORT, N. C., Sept. 19-. The Brunswick County Democratic Convention at Lockwood's Folly vesterday made the following nominations: For Register of Deed, Geo. M. McKeithan of Town Creek; House of Representatives, W. H. Phillips, of Shallotte: Sheriff. Peter Rourk, of Shallotte; Treasurer, A. Sidney Kirby, of Orton Coroner, J. W. Tharp, of Shallotte; Clerk of Superior Court, J. W. Roberson, of Lockwood's Folly; Surveyor,

Mr. Edwards, of Waccamaw. Tae convention passed off without any display of feeling in reference to the diferent factions although there was a spirited fight over the nomina tion for Register of Deeds.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

- Mr. L. L. Bultman, of Columbia, S. C., is spending a few days in the city with his relative, Mr. John J.

- Lumberton Robesonian: "Dr. T. S. Burbank, of Wilmington, was called into consultation with our physicians who are attending Mr. E. K.

Proctor, Jr." - Lumberton Robesonian: "Mrs. Lina VonGlahn and daughter, Miss Carrie May, of Wilmington, arrived here Wednesday, and will spend some time with Mrs. J. H. Wishart."

- Misses Kate Harlowe and Carrie Wright have returned from Wilkesboro where they spent several weeks. They were not in the hotel at that resort, which was burned Wednesday night, they having left the morning before the fire at night.

Police Court Yesterday.

Jordan McIver and Tom Branch were sent to the roads by the Mayor vesterday on charges of being drunk at Eighth and Castle streets. Branch told the Mayor they were going home and had a falling out over the question of which was the drunkest. Jim Wood, proprietor of a cold drink stand on Fourth, between Taylor and Howard streets, was arraigned for selling beer without a license. Several conductors and motormen of the street railway testified in the case for the State, but the hearing was contined for evidence in behalf of the defendant until to-day noon. Wood is represented by Herbert McClammy.

Mr. E. K. Proctor's Condition.

The Lumberton Robesonian of yesterday says: "We are glad to report Mr. E. K. Proctor, Jr., improving. Tuesday his condition was thought to be almost hopeless but a restful night improved him and since Wednesday his symptoms have been more favorable and he is decidedly better, though still a very sick man."

Speaking at Southport.

Gilbert B. Patterson, Esq., and Col. A. H. Slocomb, Democratic and Republican nominees, respectively, for Congress in this district, will speak at Southport Monday night, the opening day of Superior Court there. It is likely that a joint debate will be arranged.

NEW STREET LIGHTS.

System of Alternating Enclosed Series Arc Lamps for Illumination of the City.

DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.

Rival to Old Sol at the Power House Last Night-Magnificent Display of Electrics Soon to Be Transferred to Thoroughfares

Within two or three weeks Wil mington will have a thoroughly modern and most efficient system of street lighting. The system will be of the latest improved alternating enclosed series are lamps and it will be installed by the Consolidated Railways, Light and Power Company which now has the contract for the municipal lighting. The company has not claimed in recent years that the old lamps were satisfactory, either to the public or to the contractors and has for some time pur posed to give the city the very best to be had.

Alderman Mann, chairman of the Light Committee, since his election to the head of that department, has been a tireless worker for better service and the company has responded in a most substantial way by placing an order with the General Electric Co. of Schenectady, N. Y., for 104 of the very best Thomson Enclosed Arc lamps of two thousand caudle power each, to supersede the same number of the old open affairs that have been in almost continuous service since 1888-fourteen years ago!

The new lamp was invented only five years since and has revolutionized municipal lighting in late years. Lamps of the new type are now in use in New York, Boston and in our own Southern city, Atlanta, where they have proved an immense success. In St. Louis there are over 1,000 in use

The new lamps for Wilmington have already arrived and last night, through the courtesy of General Manager A. B. Skelding, of the C. R., L. & P. Co., a representative of this paper had the privilege of looking in upon the hundred and four, all suspended and burning brightly as a test, in a room at the power house about 12x30 feet in size. The combined candle power of the battery of lamps was something over 200,000, and it was a sight fit for the gods to see. When this light is distributed over the city it will rival Old Sol by night and put the Man in the Moon to shame. These lights will be given a thorough test at the Orange street power station and before they are distributed over the city a competent electrical engineer will be here to judge of their efficiency. The change from the old to the new will be made probably during the first moonlight period in October and but a single night will likely be required for the operation, when the time comes for Manager Skelding to say, "Presto!

The new lamps possess many points of advantage over the old, besides the difference in length of service. The old lamps, while practically of the same candle power, consume but 450 volts of electricity, while the new ones will consume 550. They will also burn 120 hours without re-trimming, while the present ones last only 12 hours. The light is absolutely steady and without a flicker as the arc is protected from the wind and weather by an enclosing globe, ten inches in diameter, and a shade of enamelled iron above about two feet across. A smaller globe is on the inside with dimensions of 7x2% inches. In this the carbon burns instead of in the open, as before, and they are changed each time the lamp is trimmed. The globe serves to diffuse and distribute the light along the street, a point not covered by the antiquated system now in use. The new lamp also does not give the sharp contrast of the old ape; does not flicker and thus lights more effectively the space between lamps on corners, where illumination is most needed. The glare is also made obsolete, so that as a New York paper puts it, one will be glad to have such a lamp before his own house and not insist on its being placed in front of some nearby neigh-

The new system will, of course, be installed at a great cost to the company. The lamps are not all for which legal tender of the company has to be exchanged. Expensive apparatus has to be installed to regulate and transmit the current properly, and all that has been placed by the C. R., L. & P. Co. in its power house on Orange street, where the station will remain for the present. The company and the city are to be congratulated upon this very valuable improvement, which is decidedly s step forward. As before stated, the lights will begin to go on the street just as soon as the necessary test has been made. The lamps on Front street are to be suspended on mast arms, which will rid that thoroughfare of a large number of unsightly poles. This improvement has before been noted in these columns. The new lights are all that could be desired, and put Wilmington right in the front rank of the best lighted cities in the country.

HOTEL LITHIA BLAZED NEAR WILKESBORO, N. C.

Fire in Which Number of Wilmingtonians Lost Their Valuables-Heavy Loss to Owners-Little Insurance.

> The Winston Journal of yesterday morning has the following special in n regard to the burning of the hotel Lithia, near Wilkesboro, N. C. at which a number of prominent Wilmington people were guests as noted in Friday's STAR:

WILKESBORO, Sept. 18.—A disastrous fire last night entirely destroyed Hotel Lithis, at the popular resort on Brushy Mt., six miles from here. The blaze was discovered about ten o'clock but the building was doomed then and heroic efforts were necessary to save some of the guests. Trunks and loose packages belonging to the visitors were generally saved, but many articles of clothing and jewelry were lost. The building was the property of J. E. Finly, but the lessee, W. A. Sydnor, owned the furniture which was valued at $500. Mr. Finley's loss will exceed $6,000; he had insurance for $2,000. There is a considerable mystery in the origin of the fire as the flames were first seen when they burst through the roof in a part of the house distant from
