Both ministers are al ready in the city and have joined heartily with the pastor of the church, Rev. Jno. H. Hall, in the spiritual and temporal rejoicing accompanying the season of jubilee.

OVERMAN HERE TO-NIGHT

He Will Speak in Court House--Yesterday at Jacksonville, N. C.

[Special Star Telegram.] NEWBERN, N. C., October 1.-The speech of Hon. Lee S. Overman to day at Jacksonville was that of an orator, an actor and a logician, interspersed with humor and pathos. He was introduced by Frank Thompson, Esq., and was referred to as the logical candidate for the position now held by Pritchard. His friends say if he was worthy to be the Democratic caucus nominee of 1895 to be defeated by Pritchard in the combination of Republicans and Populists in open session, he is worthy now to be the choice of the Democrats to succeed Pritchard in the glorious days of Democratic triumph, which is but just ahead. Mr. Overman will reach Wilmington on the 12:15 P. M. train over the Wilmington and Newbern railroad tomorrow. Let Democracy turn out and matraight national ticket hear him plead for a continuance of

YELLOW LEAF MARKET SPLENDID GORDON-SHAY

Chamber of Commerce Committee Its Business Manager Tells of the Reon Industrial and Business Enterprises in Session.

TOBACCO WAREHOUSE HERE.

Steps Taken Toward Establishment-Nucleus for a Stock Company to Launch Movement-Will Send Delegation to Investigate.

For the purpose of considering the establishment of a warehouse in Wilmington and the development of this immediate territory into a tobaccogrowing section, the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Industrial marks were in line with the spirit of and Business Enterprises, to which the matter was referred, held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Exchange rooms on Water street. The question was fully gone into and a committee was appointed to visit leading yellow leaf centres for the purpose of more fully acquainting the local promoters with the management of enterprises similar to the one sought to be established

Those present at the meeting yester day were Chairman M. W. Jacobi, Messrs. W. E. Worth, Geo. O. Gaylord, J. H. Boatwright and W. H Brown. Secretary Kyle, of the Chamber, was also present and kept a record of the proceedings.

The chairman read a letter from President Chadbourn relative to the establishment of a warehouse and another from the same source enclosing a subscription blank to the capital stock of the new enterprise upon which Mr. S. P. McNair and another prominent business man each agreed to take eight shares at $25 each.

Mr. W. E. Worth said from what he could learn it would take from $40,000 to $50,000 to launch the enterprise upon an extensive and profitable scale, but the question was, will a sufficient number of people in this section grow tobacco enough to warrant the market here? Several expressed the opinion that they would: that growers would come to a good market for hundreds of miles around and that many would ship here by rail at the better freight rates enjoyed by Wilmington.

Mr. Geo. Gaylord presented in this connection a letter from Mr. Frank Andrews, of B. F. Hall & Co., at Jacksonville, N. C., in which he said he sold tobacco in Kinston on Sept. 1st, and saw other leaf sold by E. W. Dixon, of Onslaw, on the same market at the highest price paid on that day at Knott's warehouse; that W. H. Hurst from the same section of Onslow hauled tobacco 70 miles to Kinston. This Mr. Gaylord said, went to prove that not only will tobacco go a long way to a good market, but that this section is peculiarly adapted to growing the better grades of leaf.

Mr. Gaylord also made a fine argument for the growing of tobacco in the country; people who come here on excursions from tobacco sections always bring more money, as is proved by actual sales in the stores.

Letters to Mr. Gaylord were read from the Liberty Warehouse, Greenville, N. C.; Horry Tobacco Warehouse Co., at Conway, S. C.; L. G. Cherry, Conway, S. C., and several others. These gave a pretty good idea of the inside workings of a warehouse. One of them which sold over a million pounds during September received in commissions $5,205 in addition to weighing and auction fees, which amount to nearly half as much more. The expense for labor, etc., was about $75 per week. The clerical force included a book-keeper at from $60 to $100 per month; an assistant bookkeeper at from $35 to $50 per month; an auctioneer at from $75 to $125 per month; night watchman at from $30 to $40 per month; ticket marker at from $12 to $15 per month, and a floor manager at from $35 to $40 per month. Overman To-night, Watson Next Wednes-The committee was very much enlightened by the reading of the letters, but in order that no detail may be omitted, it was decided to defray the expenses of Messrs. W. E. Worth and Geo. O. Gaylord as a special committee to go to Goldsboro, Kinston, Wil son or other tobacco centres and get the practical working of things. These gentlemen will decide upon the date and place or places for the official visit

It was adopted as the sense of the meeting that the committee would do everything possible and as rapidly as possible to develop the movement.

Mr. Gaylord submitted samples of tobacco sold lately at the Liberty warehouse, Greenville, N. C. Mahogany wrappers sold for 45 cents; mahogany fillers at 16ic; white wrappers at 38c; Lemon wrappers at 62c, that the tobacco booth in connection with the Carnival be established by all means and offered the lot next north of his store on Front street as a suitable place.

A Boy Disappeared.

Mr. John Welch, the well known butcher on "Castle street, was very much distressed yesterday over the disappearance of his little 5-year-old son from the family residence at Sixth and Castle streets. He was described as wearing a light hat, white waist, blue overalls and suspenders. He has light hair, blue eyes and light complexion. He disappeared yesterday morning and had not been found yesterday afternoon.

You should not fail to attend the grand opening at the Racket Store today and to-morrow, Thursday and Friday. Good music a plenty.

GRAND OPERA COMPANY.

ception in Virginia-"A Runaway Match" Here To-night.

"If you nave not seen the compliments showered upon Miss Shay and other members of the Gordon-Shay Grand Opera Company by the Norfolk and Richmond papers in their criticisms of the operas presented in these two cities recently, I wish you would cast your eyes over this bunch." said Mr. Albert, business manager of the Gordon-Shay Co. to a STAR man last evening. "I never have but on a very few other occasions seen the press so unanimous in their praise of a star and her supporting company as they have been over Miss Shay's performances this season. "Look at this paper, the Richmond News, in flaring headlines on the first page says: 'Shay Replaces Beloved Emma Abbott;' others say she is the equal to Calve, etc. I could go on forever telling you what the critics say in praise of this organization, but I will let you judge for yourself when she comes to the Academy on the 8th of this month. We have a very large and expensive company, consisting of fifty people, carrying our own orchestra and a car load of special scenery."

At the Academy To-Night.

The bright and exceedingly funny farce comedy, "A Runaway Match," will be the Academy's offering tonight. The play, which the press say is a "side-splitter," will be given a correct presentation by a capable cast. During the action of the piece popular specialties will be introduced.

Another feature of the performance to-night will be a fine programme of music rendered by the Academy's orchestra, directed by Prof. C. W. Hollowbush. It will be as follows: 1. Overture. March, "Clorinda,"

2. Gems from King Dodo: "Look in the Book and See," "Tale of a Bumble

Bee," by Luders. 3. Xylaphone and Tubaphone Solos by Mr. Fred J. Poufe. 4. Concerto "Lagarre" by Blauer. 5. Exit. "A Georgia Wattermelon

To-day the Chamber of Commerce will move its headquarters from the northeast corner of Water and Princess streets to the building formerly occupied by the Southern Express Company, nearly opposite the STAR office. On account of the removal the regular meeting of the Chamber this afternoon has been postponed. In its new place the organization will have comfortable home. The arrangement of the offices, etc., has already been given in these columns. Yesterday workmen were busy in making he necessary changes and linemen were engaged in transferring the wires for the Exchange telegraph station.

The monthly statement of cotton and naval stores, as posted yesterday at the Produce Exchange may be found in the commercial columns of to-day's STAR. Of the cotton receipts yesterday the steamer Hawes brought 136 bales on a flat, in addition to a large amount of manufactured goods, and the Compton brought up 96 bales from Little River, S. C. The Compton also brought about 400 barrels of mullets.

Ground was broken yesterday for the two-story brick warehouse which the D. L. Gore Company will build on the wharf opposite the store of the company on North Water street. The wharf is also being substantially repaired and made nearly new. The warehouse will be one of the most ommodious and convenient to its owners of any in the city.

The little sufferer was given the best of surgical attention at once.

YESTERDAY SUNSET BEGAN THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Holiday Being Observed by the Hebrews of Wilmington-Other Israelite Festivals in the Present Month.

The Jewish New Year 5663 A. M., or Tishree Rosh Hashanab, as it is more properly called, began with the going down of yesterday's sun and will continue until the same hour today. Next to Yom Kippur, which comes ten day's later, it is the most important festival in the Jewish calendar and is religiously observed by all good Israelites. The orthodox Jews will observe the third day of the month also. The observance of both days is said to be through an uncertainty as to which is the right day of the two, and the orthodox Jews, rather than observe the wrong day, observe both. Saturday, October 11, is the feast of Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. On this day, as well as on New Year's Day, all establishments conducted by Jews are closed, and the occasions are observed as holidays.

On October 16 the eight days of the tabernacle commence. While the orthodox Jews celebrate all eight days, the reform Jews celebrate only the first and last day of the tabernacle. During the eight days of the tabernacle some orthodox Jews live in booths, constructing houses of tree limbs and bush and leaves, and living in the open air, where the constellations can be observed from their cots. This is to commemorate the passing of the children of Israel through the wilderness. The seventh day of the tabernacle is known as Hoshanah Rabah. On that day blessings and prayers are offered to plants, trees and flowers. etc. The last day of the tabernacle, observed by all alike, is called Sheminu Aserat, and many observe this day as a holiday.

New Year's Day and the feast of Yom Kippur are being and will be generally observed in Wilmington with services in the synagogue.

The trash carts removed 1,156 loads of garbage and the Health officers made 3,039 inspections. While speaking of my lessons, I will mention that Mr. Baugert gave me a method of teaching the waltz, a revised system of which he hopes will be the means of bringing back the true 3-time waltz, which has been corrupted for the past few years by the two-step, many people confusing the two together so as not to be able to distinguish them
