comic opera star carries by far the big-

Frank Daniels sings some decidedly funny songs in this new musical com-

Mr. Daniels enjoyed one of the most successful runs of the season in New York at the Casino, and these funny songs of his, with their catchy airs, set the whole town not only to whist-

the best of the songs that fall to his lot in "Miss Simplicity" are "Don't Mind

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1902.

GLENN'S FINE SPEECH.

Heard by Enthusiastic Assemblage of Voters in Court House Last Night.

State and National Issues Discussed in an Able, Fearless and Convincing Manner-- Eloquence and Pathos; Wit and Wisdom-Notes

While the audience which heard Hon. R. B. Glenn in the Court House last night was not the largest, to one who saw the moments when the crowd lingered upon his words, when his hearers were spellbound with his logic and the next moment perhaps convulsed with laughter at one of his roaring campaign jokes, pointedly illustrating a fact-to one who saw and felt all these things, there can be no doubt of the success or enthusiasm of the meeting. Mr. Glenn spoke for a little more than two hours and he had the undivided attention of these under the sound of his voice. County Chairman Geo. L. Peschau called the meeting to order and good humoredly stated that to his 'eccentric" friend George Rountree had been delegated the honor of presenting the speaker of the evening. Mr. Rountree said he was fully persuaded that there is no community on earth so hard to arouse as this one, but he said he was equally as persuaded that, once in action, they are absolutely irresistible as was shown in the campaigns of '98 and 1900. Hence he said it was, that the people on the great watch tower of Democracy were putting forth extreme efforts to get them aroused by sending some of the very best expounders of Democratic doctrine to these parts. When the State had been in danger, Mr. Rountree said, the strident but persuasive ways been heard above the din. Mr. Rountree then recited the circumtemporary employment by applying Mr. Glenn from the Senatorial race and presented him as the "best campaigner in the State of North Carolina." Mr. Glenn thanked Mr. Rountree for what he had said, but ended that it was undeserved. He also spoke of his aspiration to and withdrawal from the race for the United States Senate and paid an eloquent tribute to his fellow townsman, Hon. C. B. Watson, in whose favor he retired. He said he rose above self on that occasion and came to the people of Wilmington as an humble citizen, speaking in behalf of themselves, their families and commonwealth. He was not a "Democrat for revenue only" and expected to live and be buried a Democrat, because he knew of no better way of serving his country and his God than by helping to keep in power the Anglo-Saxons of North Carolina.

The first hour of Mr. Glenn's speech was devoted to State issues and that part of it was eloquent, inspiring and straight from the heart. He said there was but one issue in North Carolina this campaign. It was Jeter C. Pritchard. Pritchard is the Republican party in North Carolina and the Re- prises. publican party is Pritchard. Every county officer that is put up first has to have his nomination go before the "boss," then it is ratified in convention. He made and unmade candidates as he saw fit. "It is the game of Simon says wiggle-waggle," he said, 'only it is Jeter says wiggle-waggle and down come Cooke and Furches; wiggle-waggle again and up goes Hill; wiggle-waggle once more and up spite of Republican legislation. goes Lindsay Paterson and down comes Petree. In Western North Carolina in Republican ranks it is now 'Marse Jeter' and not Pritchard or Senator Pritchard. Thank God. I belong to no such party, but to one whose nominations are made by the people in convention assembled." North Carolina a comparison of administration of affairs and the speaker accepted it. He said he would empanel those before him as a jury and begged them to hear the testimony. "Hear it, Anglo-Saxons," said Mr. Glenv, "and when you make up your verdict I'll not be hiding around this the war but he pathetically told the story of the laying down of Confederate arms at Appomattox and then graphically pictured the days of reconstruction and the attitude of the Republican party to a devasted State. White men disfranchised and negroes enfranchised. There was no law and order and misrule ran riot, culminating in the saturnalia when drunken Fusion legislators clasping hands and in their revels danced about legislative halls

Then he pictured the return of the Democracy to power under the lamented Vance; told how the State the first year spent $174,000 for education the next year $256,000 for the same purpose, while the tax rate was reduced frem 86 to 37 cents and on down to 21 cents, and now we are spending $1,200,000 for schools. The Democrats built hundreds of miles of railway; erected schools and asylums for the insane; provided pensions for Confederates, etc., until we then and now have the strongest, the best State south of the Mason and Dixon line and it was made so by the Democratic party. The speaker next traced the history of the formation of the Populist party and the drifting of the Ship of State into the hands of the fusionists. "The white flag, I say it with shame, totered and fell and hoisted aloft was the black insignia," dramatically exclaimed Mr. Glenn,

Further contrasting the State ad ministrations it was shown that under the Democrats never had there been a single blot upon the men who held office, while under the fusionists we had the Hancock scandal, the Dr. Babb scandal, the Kirby Smith scandal, the Jim Young scandal, the Wm. H. Martin theft, negro magistrates innumerable, negro solicitors, negro congressmen, etc. etc. ad nauseam. With applause he then compared Aycock to Vance in the former's leadership of the fight to redeem the State and declared that redemption is now forever.

Coming to the Constitutional-

Amendment he said it was the great est pride of his life that he had taken part in its preparation. In speaking of the words of the Republicans who asked if Democratic speakers were not going to stop talking about the "nigger." he said, "ges, when Republicans say plainly that they accept the amendment as constitutional." He declared amidst great applause that he would never be satisfied till the damnable 14 and 15th amendments, made to humiliate the South, was wiped off the National statutes. He said he was told he must not discuss the "aigger." "Not very much but a little," said Mr. Glenn; "on my own personal account." He then told of instances of social equality he had seen the past Summer in the North. White men were walking with negro women and vice versa. He saw them eating in the same restaurants; saw them bathing together; playing baseball together and white and negro children side by side in the schools. He wound up with great applause by referring to the Booker Washington dinner at the White House. He eulogized the Anglo-Saxon race and said he thanked God he was an Anglo Saxon and a pledged to keep the race in power. He next entered into a brilliant defence of the State expenditures and scored Pritchard for his wanton in- and the latter board has employed exconsistencies and false claims. His Judge E. K. Democrat because that party was

The last half of Mr. Glenn's speech was devoted to an able discussion of the tariff and the trusts, with a final and earnest appeal to Democrats to remain steadfast, not divide, and by all means to register. He said that he had been coming to the East for twelve years and he came this time to tell the people here that the West needed them and needed them badly. In speaking of the tariff he showed its inequality as applied by the Republican party and hooted at some of the infant industries that wanted protection. Some of the babies, said Mr. Glenn, have grown so large that when you spank one of them, you can hear him holler from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Referring to the sale of American manufactured goods across the ocean cheaper than they are sold to home consumers, he said it was "a shame, a dirty measley shame," according to the popular song. In discussing the tariff he disclaimed hostility of the Democrats to corporations or organized labor but said they must not be prohibitory to other legitimate enter-

The prosperity issue of the Republicans was hooted at, so far as they were responsible for it, and the coal strike was thrown up to the administration as well as the thirty million dollars turned loose illegally in Wall street the other day to save the Republicans a panic on their hands. Prosperity, declared the speaker, has come, if at all, at the hands of Providence and in

Mr. Glenn's closing appeal was earnest and eloquent. He was warmly congratulatd after the speaking by many who crowded about him to shake his had. Mr. Glenn goes to Fayetteville to-day; then to Red Springs and Lumberton.

ODDS AND ENDS DAY

Superior Court Yesterday Transacted Very Little Business of General Interest.

THE HULLEN-CITY VERDICI

May Be a New Trial and Perhaps a Set ting Aside of the Verdict--Municipal Tangle Over "Black Maria." Other Routine Proceedings.

Yesterday was odds and ends day in the Superior Court and very little of public interest was transacted. In the morning there was a motion by plaintiff for a new trial in the case of Meta H. Hullen against the City of Wilmington but Judge Bryan said he would take the matter under consideration. It is also learned that the attorneys for the city will make a motion to set aside the verdict upon the ground of the jury's having found contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff and in the next issue having given her judgment against the city. However, nothing was done in the court yesterday.

The morning session was principally taken up with a trial of the case of the S. P. Cowan Livery Co. vs. City of Wilmington, in which the plaintiff seeks to compel payment for the police patrol wagon purchased by the Board of Aldermen a little over a year ago. The Board of Audit and Finance refused to approve the bill for payment on the ground that the purchase by the Aldermen was irregular. The suit brings on a clash as to the authority of the two co-ordinate boards of the city government and is therefore being watched with interest. The Board of Aldermen and the Board of Audit and Finance are represented in the court by City Attorney Bellamy

After all the evidence was in yesterday morning Judge Bryan intimated that the plaintiff could not recover, whereupon plaintiff's attorneys suffered a non-suit and appealed to the Supreme Court. Notice of appeal was waived; the bond fixed at $25 and the plaintiff was given until December 1st to file statement of case on appeal, and defendant 40 days thereafter to file counter statement, but later the entry as to appeal was stricken out on the Clerk's record and some agreement between the attorneys will likely be reached later. In the meantime it looks like a victory for the Board of Audit and Finance.

The jury before which the case was heard vesterday was composed of T. B. Kingsbury, E. P. Owens, Geo. W. Rogers, Jno. H. Strauss, T. W. Wood. H. M. Mason, Matt J. Heyer, A. B. Brower, B. M. Leheu, W. D. McGrew, M. Marshburn and J. S. King. The damage suit of J. W. Holmes against Drs. W. J. and L. H. Love was not taken up for trial yesterday as was expected but was continued for plaintiff until next term. Unimportant cases were disposed of during the morning as follows: Joseph H. Walters vs. M. W.

Hedgepeth and W. A. Hedgepeth; judgment for principal and interest amounting to $570.21. P. Cumming vs. W. J. Reaves et. al., confirmation of sale. Henry Whitted et. al., vs. C. H. Thomas et. al., judgment for plain-Following divorces were granted: Andrew Brown vs. Dinah Brown; Rachael R. Lamb vs. Perry Lamb; Andrew Williams vs. Tenah Williams.

The following talesmen were ordered summoned for to-day: Thos. J. Torpy, A. H. Paddison, C. H. Schulken, Jno. H. McDongal, H. Gerdis and W. F. Davis.

SAILOR'S BODY NOT FOUND.

Unfortunate White Man Who Fell Overboard at Compress Tuesday Night.

The body of George Barham, ship's carpenter on the steamer Acacia, who fell overboard and was drowned at the wharves of the Champion Compress Tuesday night, was not found yesterday, but to-day the steamer will be moved and Larry Lowe, the colored expert, with grappling hooks, will make another trial. His efforts yesterday were fruitless.

The unfortunate man had been ashore Tuesday night and returned to the ship intoxicated. While climbing the ladder over the side of the steamer he made a misstep and fell headlong, striking his head on the wharf and tumbling into the river. SOLID WEEK OF REPERTOIRE.

Grahame-Goodwin Company Opens Engagement Here Monday Night.

Regarding the opening performance of the Grahame-Goodwin Comedy Co., which will be at the Academy here all next week, the Charlotte Observer of Tuesday has this to say:

"A large audience witnessed the presentation of "A Pair of Black Eyes" by the Grahame-Goodwin Company at the Opera House last night, and the play provoked continuous applause. The company is a popular-priced organisation, and has a hard-working, capable cast. The specialties were much applauded; and "Baby Edna," who starred between acts, is the winsomest and most tal-ented little maiden that has appeared on a local stage in a long time."

SOME FINE BAREBACK RIDING.

No Less Than Twenty-three Professionals With Forepaugh & Sells Brothers,

No less than the twenty-three bareback champions of the entire world are with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' consolidated shows this year. As a matter of fact there are no other riders worthy of the name in this country. These shows are in a measure playing the dog-in-the-manger policy toward the other shows in regard to riders. One-third of the number they have would be more than any other show has ever had before, but they simply will not let the other shows have any one of these champion riders. It certainly makes these shows the most astounding exhibition of equestrianism the world has ever seen without indulging in any of the ordinary circus exaggeration. They will all be seen with the shows exhibited here on next Monday, Oct. 20th.

- There will be a total eclipse of the moon to-night. The moon will enter the shadow at 11.17 P. M., the total eclipse being at 12.19 A. M. It will be visible throughout the United States.
