politics, to the negroes, who have constituted the bulk of the party to which he belongs, at least before he plied his white-wash brush to make it a "lily white" party.

When it was proposed to amend the constitution of this State by addng to it an educational suffrage clause he opposed it because it would, he said, disfranchise so many negroes, but to make his opposition more popular with white Republicans, many of whom were in favor of disfranchising illiterate negroes, he said he opposed it, not only because it would disfranchise so many negroes, but would also disfranchise thousands of illiterate white men, which would put power in the hands of the aristocracy, which didn't want the poor white man to vote. But when the constitutional amendment was ratified by the voters of the State, and became a part of the constitution he came to the conclusion that he had nothing further to gain by sticking to the negro and championing his cause, and he was one of the first to turn against him, and as the Republican machine manager of the State, to send word along the line that negroes must be frozen out of Republican conventions, and the doors of the State convention be closed against them. And it was done. No man with a vestige of political gratitude in him would ever have consented to much less suggest and carry out a cold-blooded scheme like that, which was even more sweeping than the Democratic qualified suffrage amendment, for that disfranchised only the illiterate negro, not on account of his color but on account of his unfitness to wield to ballot, while Sen. Pritchard's fireezing out process practically disfranchised all, as far as the Republican party is concerned, literate and illite-

MACHINERY DISCOUNTS PRO; TECTION.

Senator Pritchard and other defenders of the Dingley tariff assert that it is a good thing for North Carolina, and Southern States gen erally, because it gives protection to Southern products. Among these products is rice. North Carolina produces very little rice, and therefore derives little benefit from the tariff, if any Southern State

The rice-growing industry is able to take care of itself, because the inventive genius of the American has constructed machinery that enables the rice grower of this country to produce many times much rice as the Asiatic grower can, and at much less cost, notwithstanding the cheap labor in the rice-growing countries of

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

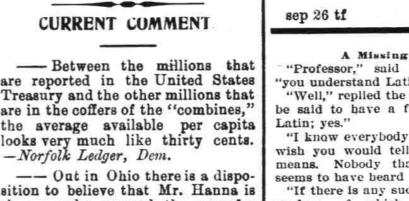

- McDowell Democrat: D. R. Brown, of Bridgewater, is very much perplexed over the peculiarity of finding a strand of spool cotton thread en-twied among the limbs of a large, old pine tree, which he cut down re cently. The thread was mingled in the topmost branches of the tree, which was very higb, and reached down through the lower branches. - Reidsville Weekly: The only el-ment of uncertainty in the contest in this district is the size of Congress man Kitchin's majority. It would not surprise us to see it exceed his combined majorities over Settle, Adams and Joyce. A poorer vote-getter than his opponent, Mr. Lindsay Patterson, could scarcely have been put out sgainst him.

- Newton Enterprise: Farmers are getting more cotton off their land than they expected. The top bolls are all opening and there will be very litthe left for the first killing frost. -This is wheat-sowing week all over Catawba county, A good deal was sown last week, but this week nearly everybody is at it, and by Saturday night, if the weather remains clear, the bulk of the crop, except on cotion and corn lands, will have been sowp.

- Favetteville Observer: The Democratic candidates are all enthusi astic on their reception thus far and are confident of an overwhelming victory in November. --- The Democratic County Executive Committee met this (Monday) morning, pursuant to call of Chairman Cook, and adopted a motion declaring that, whereas, "J. D. McNeill and Joshua Cook having, by public announcement, declared themselves as opposed to the Demo-cratic ticket in this county; and J. B. Underwood, Jr., publicly declares that he will not support the entire Demo-eratic ticket-their places as Chairmen of the Fourth Precinct, Cross Creek, Lock's Creek Academy and First Precinct Cross Creek, respectively, are declared vacant and they are no longer entitled to sit in the' councils of the Democratic party; and the precinct committees are requested to fill the vacancies thus created; and the Central committee is instructed to prepare and issue an address to the party and people.'

SENATOR PRITCHARD'S ABILITY

Senator Pritchard is credited with being a man of rather extraordi nary ability. Some of our North Carolina papers have done much to add to his reputation by referring to him as the great gladiator, the great debater, &c., &c., and Mr. Craig complimented him as the "ablest living Republican in North Carolina."

That he has ability of a certain kind must be admitted, but it is neither the ability of the statesman nor of the big brained man who discourses upon public questions, but the ability of the trickster and the man who advances sheer assumption for argument and bases argument upon assumption, brazenly adhered to and reiterated, no matter how often it may be exposed.

As for principie he hasn't got any. He practically acknowledged that when in advocating fusion with Marion Butler's party, he in the Republican convention at Raleigh publicly declared in his speech that he was willing to hold his "principles in abeyance" for the purpose of forming an alliance with a party with which his party had nothing in common. He did hold them in abeyance and by doing so wormed his way into the United States Senate, which he had in his eye when he and Marion Butler were concocting their fusion plans. He and Marion both got there, and Marion, who also holds his principles in abeyance, is for him now and wants to have him sent back to the Senate. It is not principle with schemers like Pritchard; it is self, and the spoils of office.

When he was running with Marion Butler's party he was a free silver man. Free silver was then an issue. All the Populists, with whom he had fused, and many Republicans, were in favor of it. But it has ceased, for the time being at least, to be an issue, and therefore he is no longer a free silver man, power. It was looking to making not because it is not an issue now, the power complete when it had in-tion and the most transparant demagoguery, are evidences of a high order of ability, then Senator Pritchard is an able man, a very able man; but that is not the kind of ability the people of North Carolina wish to represent them in the United States Senate, a kind that does them little credit and that they have no reasons to be proud of.

and machinery discovnt protection and get away with the so-called "cheap labor" on the other hemiswork. The rough rice passes in at one end and out at the other, graded, sacked and weighed for the market a the rate of twenty thousand to two hundred thousand pounds a day, act cording to the capacity of the mill. "On the prairie rice lands of Lousi ana and Texas one man with a four mule team can plant and harvest one hundred acres of rice, He will require an additional man in harvesting and stacking, and, of course, help for two or three days in threshing. Well tended, his crop will net him one thousand barrels. He may do much better than this, and he may do worse,

In Japan one-third of an acre is a reasonable rice farm for a man. In China and India, the water buffalo is used in preparing the land, which enables one man to cultivate one-half an acre to two acres, depending upon the amount of additional help employed. With our improved machinery there is no known country where a dollar will produce as many bushels of rice as in the United States. The indications are that rice production in India and Japan will decrease. Every acre devoted to fibre must be withdrawn from the cultivation of rice or wheat, for every available acre in China and
