Bohumir Kryl, the cornet soloist, who is to appear with Innes, is an illustration of what can be achieved by pluck and industry when added to genius. A few years ago Kryl was a sculptor in Indianapolis, working in the atelier of a well-known artist there. One night after a social dinner at which were present both the young sculptor and the famous American band-master, Kryl was prevailed upon to play a few notes on the instrument he loved beyoud almost anything else on earth. The bandmaster was electrified. "Why, my boy," said he, "you have spire y to commit an assault upon a fortune in that cornet of your's. Come with me, put yourself under my direction, and inside of a year you'll be earning more money than a U. S. Senator." Kryl eagerly seized the opportunity, and the result has justified the prediction of the great bandmaster The young Bohemian sculptor is to day concededly the King of cornetists. His fame is world-wide, while his income is such as will surely earn for him a princely fortune. Democratic Majorities Ranged From 681 to 878 -Big Reunion on Nov. 15th.

[Special Star Correspondence.] KENANSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 7.-The canvassing board met here vesterday and completed the count of the county vote, which shows a Democratic majority ranging from 681 to 878. C. S. Carr, Register of Deeds, led the ticket with 1,604 votes, receiving a majority of 878. The majorities are as follows: Walter Clark, 865; Chas. R. Thomas, 865; Duffy, 828; Hicks (Senate), 875; Carlton (House), 681; Wallace (Clerk), 803: Middleton (Sheriff), 859; Carr (Register of Deeds), 878.

The Democrats carried precincts which they had not carried since 1890. The Republicans carried upper Island Creek and Rockfish townships by 11 major.ty each, and Wolfscrape by 2. The other precincts are all Democratic. There was a complete landslide in Whiteoak, which has been anti-Democratic since 1890. Smiths' still stands solid and is the banner precinct, only five Republican votes being cast and no scratching. All the precincts did well notwithstanding the fact that 444 Democrats remained at home and did not vote. A full Democratic vote would have given 1,200 majority.

On account of the prohibition question the anti-prohibitionists made a vigorous fight on D. L. Carlton for the House, but as chairman of the Executive Committee and as candidate he made a plucky fight and won many friends for himself and Democracy. The result is more than gratifying to his friends and is a blow to the opponents of Democracy.

There will be a big reunion of old veterans here Nov. 15th, and everybody is invited to come and bring a [Special Star Correspondence.] CURRIE, N. C., Nov. 6 .- Mr. Joel Whaley who lives about 21 miles from this place planted this year two acres of the poorest land he had on his farm in tobacco. He did not get a good stand as the weather was very dry at the time the plants were set. He sold his crop a few days ago at his barn to Mr. L. G. Cherry, of Winston, for $147.11. It paid him better than any other crop he planted. Mr. Whaley also raises cotton, corn and strawberries. He says it will not do to depend on any one crop. Hogan, the White Tramp, Sent to Penitentiary for Six Years-An Example of Swift Jadgment-Other Proceedings of Yesterday.

The case in the Superior Court against Messrs. Robert H. and W. H. Northrop, Jr., for an assault and battery upon John H. Gore, Jr. Esq., was concluded yesterday about noon, the jury having returned a verdict of not guilty after having been out only a short time. In the additional case against the same defendants for conthe same complainant, a nol pros, was entered. The case had occupied the court since 11 A. George Hogan, the white tramp arrested Wednesday night on the Carolina Central railroad yards for highway robbery of Mr. Benj. L. Grant, was the next defendant before the court yesterday. A detective, giving his name as Baldwin, testified that he saw the robbery of the old man, made the arrest and turned Hogan over to an officer. Mr. Grant also testified as to the occurrence and the jury was not ten minutes in bringing in a verdict of guilty, whereupon Judge Bryan sentenced the defendant to eight years in the penitentiary. Later Judge Bryan reduced the sentence to six years. The case is an example of swift justice for a grave offence. Hogan robbed Mr. Grant Wednesday night. Thursday at noon, he was bound over to the higher court by the Mayor and Friday at noon he was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary for his

All of the afternoon session of the court was taken up in the trial of a with throwing stones into an Atlantic Coast Line excursion train, leaving the city one night last Summer. Townsend was represented by Messrs. Brooke G. Empie and Herbert Mc-Clammy and Solicitor Duffy was assisted in the prosecution by Mr. Junius Davis, A. C. L. attorney. After hearing the evidence, the jury promptly returned a verdict of guilty and Judge Bryan was entertaining a motion in arrest of judgment made by defendant's counsel, when a recess was taken until 10 A. M. to-day. Mr. Davis asked time to prepare an answer to the argument for arrest of judgment made by the defendant's counsel. Other proceedings which appear on the clerk's docket yesterday are: John Hurst, assault with deadly weapon, not guilty; Matilda Smith and Hattie Mitchell, charge of mayhem, amended to assault and battery, and defendants sentenced to two months in jail each, with leave to Commissioners to

In the civil suit of Mary E. Irving vs. William Blanks, et al., involving the title to the land upon which Summer Rest is situated, an order was made for an alias summons for Pem-

The grand jury is still in session, with Capt. Walter G. MacRae as foreman. It is understood from the large number of witnesses summoned that a number of new matters are being taken up and that some sensational developments may result to-day.

The following talesmen were ordered summoned for jury duty to-day: S. A. Grelish, J. S. King, L. B. Pennington, W. H. Hardy, Thomas F. Bayley, W. J. Howard, Geo. S. Boylan, J. Carmer Davis, Geo. F. WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

Concluded Its Sessions at Long Creek

Yesterday-Something of the Work. The new Wilmington Association of thirty-three Baptist churches closed its first session at Long Creek church, in Pender county, yesterday. It was well attended. From this city were Messrs. D. L. Gore, C. D. Weeks, H. L. Peterson, Revs. J. L. Vipperman, C. B. Paul, J. W. Wheeler, J. R. Marshall and C. S. Blackwell, D. D.

The next session will be with Bethehem church in Bladen county, Tuesday following the second Sunday in October next.

The most immediate and urgent resolution was to urge all the pastors and officers in all the churches to take up a liberal collection at once for the Baptist Female University debt, and forward it before the State Convention at Durham, Dec. 4th. This matter is urgent and prompt action is needed. J. T. Bland, Esq., was moderator, and Addison Hewlett clerk.

British steamer Mountby, 2,114 tons, Capt. Payne, sailed from New York for Wilmington yesterday. Steamers Accacia and Valetta, bound from Wilmington to Bremen, arrived out yesterday.

Local cotton quotations dropped to 74 cents for middling yesterday. The market was firm. The receipts yesterday were 1,204 bales, against 3,177 bales same day last year. The week's receipts ended yesterday were 11,693 bales; same week last year, 17,585 bales. Crop year receipts to date have been 184,789 bales, against 127,664 up to a corresponding date last season. It is expected that cotton receipts will begin to fall off from this date.

British steamer Zambesi, 2,416 tons, Capt. Rooney, arrived in port yester day. Although this is Capt. Rooney's first trip to Wilmington, the local maritime people find him an exceedingly clever gentleman. He has a fine ship, two years old next January, equipped with its own electric lighting system, and a beauty in every respect. The steamer comes from Santos, Brazil, and Capt. Rooney has on board a number of interesting reminders of the South American port.

WEEK OF CARNIVAL.

Rain Again Interfered With Mont Pelee Eruption on the River

POSTPONED UNTIL TO-NIGHT.

Closing Day of the Pair Will Be Grandest of Them All With Good Weather-Aiready an Assured Financial Success-Leave Sunday.

The weather Man could not have sent along a dirtier or more disagreeable day for Carnival purposes than yesterday turned out to be. Lowering clouds hung loosely in the elements all day and it rained intermittently; sometimes persistently. It was a day on which everybody felt inclined to remain indoors and it was, therefore, not a good season for the Pythian fair, which had just reached the heighth of its glory when rain began to descend on the night pre-

Not withstanding the rains, however, there was much fun-making; visitors continued to throng the streets and most of the shows did a good business. Early in the evening the Carnival district was thronged, in the face of an advisory warning from the Weather Bureau that a northeaster was liable to break over the city at any minute and it required a good, heavy downpour of cold rain to finally drive the people to shelter.

"If this Carnival would keep up a month," one gentleman said, "there would be very little falling off in the crowds each night." As a substantial proof of what he said, he pointed to Front and Market streets where, with a cold, drizzling rain coming down on them, the people literally packed all the open space available and the midway shows in the vicinity.

With the rain came disappointment -bitter disappointment for both the people and the fair management. The Mont Pelee eruption had to again be for the display. Manager Layton and his men worked like beavers all the afternoon and at nightfall everything was in readiness. But the rain descended and at a hasty consultation the committee decided best to postpone the event. The display could have taken place, but the damp atmosphere and the rain would have spoiled it and so the Committee and Manager Layton thought best to postpone the big event until the same hour to-night, when it will come off "rain or shine." It's no saving to the Committee or to Manager Layton, for the material is here and has to be paid for just the same, but the fair management, after its high claims, doesn't want to forfeit the confidence of the people.

The weather forecast for North Carolina is: "Fair Saturday and Sunday, except rain on the coast; fresh northeast winds." That's not very encouraging, but the prediction yesterday was for fair weather, and may be the reversed order of things will continue to-day, which means fair weather. The local forecast for Wilmingmington and vicinity is encouraging, and the Carnival management is hoping for better things to-day.

It was not known last night until the last minute that the eruption would not take place, and the water front, from Chesnut to Ann street, was lined with people. The steamer Wilmington, with festive Japanese lanterns hanging from every deck, was fired up and ready to take a party out into the stream, and the steamer the same mission, but to no avail. Housetops were covered with people fied to the love and esteem in which and every window with a view of the river was utilized. At 8 o'clock the postponement was announced above the din by megaphone, but even then the people reluctantly turned their faces toward the tamer amusements on the midway.

It's much like the cry of "wolf," but don't forget that the eruption evening and are the guests of Dr. G. takes place to-night at 8 o'clock. No change in the hour but a slight change in the date. The weather and the sickness of Mr. Baldwin again prevented the balloon ascension yesterday, but it will come off to-day as advertised unless some insurmountable difficulty again comes in the way.

Manager Layton, of the Carnival Co., is a primee of good fellows and no one is disappointed about the weather more than he is. He says his patronage in Wilmington has been fine and the Pythians say the same. They have already cleared enough money mon to-morrow will be a treat for all to handsomely furnish their new hall and there's no doubt of the success of the fair from every viewpoint. The Parade Committee as the result of its voting contest for Queen of the Carnival will turn over several hundred dollars into the Pythian exchequer poses were G. Smith and wife, South- and Mr. John B. Turrentine, Jr., in port; Mrs. H. A. London and children, charge of the confetti department, ham; J. W. Davis, Maxton; Robert 20,000 bags he has only about B. Scarborough, Conway; G. E. 1,800 left and as the final battles are placed on the programme for tonight, the supply is likely to run short. The material should be bought early to save disappointment. Proprietor James F. Woolvin has also done well with the Country Store and his only trouble has been in keeping up his stock. There's no danger of a bankruptcy case for him. Chairman Fishblate, of the Booth and Privilege Committee, has also done well and as chairman of the Executive Committee he's > simply immense. The Carnival closes to-night and the shows leave to-morrow for Sumter, S. C.; then to Florence and then to Charleston.

Aycock to-day issued a proclamation Grate, designating Thursday, November 27th, as Thanksgiving Day. The preamble is as follows: "The State has greatly prospered during, the past year. In the main our farmers made good crops and received fair prices for them: the manufacturers have reasonably succeeded; labor has received just reward for service, and the State has had peace, quiet and good order. For all these blessings we owe acknowledge-ment to the Lord. Things do not happen, but the hand of God is in every happiness that comes to our people. It is appropriate that this Christian State should acknowledge its obligations to God for the blessings it has enjoyed. In conclusion the proclamation says:

'I urge all people to meet in their respective places of worship and there thank God for his manifold mercies he has shown us, individually and as a people, and ask his protection and guidance in the future. I earnestly recommend that on this day our people shall give, as God has prospered us, unto those needy; particularly to the widows and orphans."
