THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Neither University Nor A. & M. Scored in Brilliant Pootball Contest Yesterday Afternoon at Raleigh

[Special Star Telegram.] RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 8.-In the State championship game of football this afternoon between the University of North Carolina and the A. & M. College neither side scored. It was the finest game ever seen on the local gridiron, and was witnessed by 1,500 people. The result was a great surprise, as it was expected the 'Farteam would be easy marks for the "Varsity." The A. & M. is jubilant over the result, regarding it as a victory for them. The game was fierce from the start; both teams strove with dogged determination. The star work for the Carolina was by Holt, half back; Berkely, left half; Jacobs, right half, and Captain Foust. For the A. & A., Devlin, left tackle; Robeson full back, and Welch, right half back, were the stars. The work of the whole team was fine. There were no sensational features. The game lasted two hours. The halves were 25 and 20 minutes each. A very high wind prevailed. Three University players were disabled and substitutes went back in during the last half.

FOURTEENN ARRESTS BY POLICE.

An Unusual Amount of Disorder Upon Closing Scenes of the Carnival.

Fourteen arrests were made by the police up to last midnight. None of them were for very grave offences, although several were for assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

Proprietor Hines, of the "snakeeater" show, was assaulted by a white man with brass knucks and Mr. "Rem" Jones was assaulted with knucks at Second and Market streets by a stranger named Turlington, who accused Jones of throwing confetti in his eyes.

Special Officer C. T. Croom arrested two negroes who assaulted some of the "hobby horse" managers, and two others who had a fight near Dock street. In none of the cases was serious injury done.

We have disposed of all the cases which have come before us, and given as much time as possible to new business, having sent up 29 true bills and 6 not true bills. We have had before us a paper from many property owners asking that the owners of certain property rented for alleged immoral purposes be prosecuted but in the limited time at our disposal have not been able to conclude our investigation, and have therefore returned the complaint with a list of witnesses.

A committee from the grand jury has inspected the jail and the Court House. The committee calls attention to the condition of the faucets in the jail-to the walls which are discolored to the ceiling of the basement-to all of which attention has been heretofore called. The committee also calls attention to the fact that there is a tin shop in the jail, whether by permission of the county authorities or not. they cannot say. In other respects, as to food, etc., the conditions are good. As to the Court House-the basement is littered with old furniture, election boxes and unclaimed property and therefore dirty and unkment We recommend that this material be placed in some one room in orderly condition. We find two holes cut through foundation walls under each entrance and recommend that they be closed. We find the northeast room damp on the floor, caused from water coming up through the cement floor. The offices we find on the first floor in good condition and well kept except the walls in the office of the Superintendent of Education, which are discolored by water from a closet overhead. The plumbing of this floor is in good condition. We find closet in the yard in a condition needing attention to doors and frames which are rotten. Ashes from the furnace are scattered over the yard. BANDMASTER INNES IS ILL.

Taken to Philadelphia For Operation, and All Southern Engagements Cancelled - Disappointment Here.

Local theatre-goers and especially the musical contingent of the city were sadly disappointed at the announcement yesterday that owing to the sudden illness of Bandmaster Innes, his band would not appear at the Academy at night.

Messrs. Cowan Bros., managers of the Academy, received two telegrams, the first from Innes' manager in New York, saying: "Innes is ill with appendicitis. Tour closed at Raleigh. All dates cancelled." The second telegram was received from Raleigh, where the band played Friday night. It said : "Innes is sick with appendicitis and is being taken to Philadelphia for operation to-morrow. Tour abandoned. Further particulars by mail."

BANDMASTER INNES Stricken With Appendicitis Yesterday in Raleigh.

No one regretted the cancellation of the engagement more than the local management, but under the circumstances, of course, it could not be helped. The cancellation results in a financial loss to all parties concerned. The Band was booked for a matinee engagement at Newbern yesterday afternoon and that, too, had to be abandoned. The Band expected to have arrived here on a special train from

First Days of the Confederacy," is pronounced by those who have heard it as fully equal in all respects to the 'Last Days." Indeed many of the most competent critics think it the more powerful lecture of the two. It is a vivid portrayal of the wild and often ludicrous scenes enacted at the beginning of the war and the boundess enthusiasm which prevailed. In it General Gordon depicts many of the thrilling scenes in the great battles occurring in the first years of the war, interspersing pathetic incidents and amusing anecdotes, while the whole lecture is pitched on the highest plaine of brotherhood, sectional fraternity and intense Americanism. Wherever it is delivered it is regarded as a bene-

MT. PELEE ERUPTION

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1902.

Display of Fireworks On the River, Closing Feature of the Pythian Carnival.1

WITNESSED BY THOUSANDS.

Midway in Full Operation Until Near Midnight-Layton Company Leaves This Evening For Sumter-Final Word for the Fair.

With the eruption of Mont Pelee on the river and a final round at the shows on the midway until near midnight, the Pythian Carnival and Merchants' Fall Festival of 1902 this morning passed into history.

Of course the crowning feature of the day was the Mont Pelee display. It was witnessed by thousands and pronounced a success. As a representation of a volcano in eruption, although few of us have had an opportunity to witness an actual occurrence of that kind, we should say it was none the best, but the pyrotechnic display was very creditable. The eruption proper lasted about twenty minutes, and there was decidedly "something doing" during that brief period. The scenic effects were good, and from the crater a perfect fusillade of rockets and imitation lava went up wildly and beautifully into the air, with the roar and chaos attending that one would surmise nature would send along with such a disturbance.

The eruption was from three barges anchored near the middle of the stream and a safe distance from either shore. The people flocked to the river front in countless numbers, despite the raw weather and almost certain indications of a continuance of the cold, drizzling rain that came down occasionally all during the day. On Market street a number of seats had been constructed, circus-fashion, and these were sold at 25 cents each. Many paid the fee, which was for the benefit of the Pythians, but a few of the more obstinate ones Trabue Barksdale, C. R. Branch, W. tood back on their rights and de manded the use of the street. None of these were refused the privilege of exercising their rights as free American citizens, and all enjoyed the display. The steamers Wilmington and Compton took out large parties, and from the decks of each of the boats hundreds were delighted. In the various buildings overlooking the water many others got a splendid view of the performance.

Upon the whole, the display may be said to have been quite successful. It didn't come quite on time and many had a cold, disagreeable wait, but that was not the fault of the management. The weather was bad, very bad. While the pyrotechnics were being made ready, a funny clown paraded up and down the street and the Carnival bands gave open air concerts on the barges. The crowd had a much longer notice that the eruption was going to take place than did the inhabitants of Martinique, but the result in the end was by far not so disastrous. The eruption went off without an accident and prop-If the weather had been fine and the people in good spirits, the success of the event would have known no bounds. The crowds which thronged the midway last night were almost up to the dimensions of those on previous evenings, and all had a good time. They were not quite so good natured, however, but there were no untoward incidents. The Layton Carnival Co. will leave this evening at 7 o'clock over the Atlantic Coast Line for Sumter, S. C., where a street fair opens to morrow night. Next it goes to Florence, then to Georgetown and to Charleston, S. C. Manager Layton, of the company, has made himself quite popular with Wilmington Pythians and should they give another fair next year, they would desire to be associated with him again. Personally, he has been kind and courteous, and has been disposed to do the "square thing" by the Knights.

The financial success of the Carnival has never been doubted since the first three days of the week when the weather was ideal and the crowds immense. The Pythians will receive as their share of the profits something over $2,000, and every cent of it will be used in furnishing their handsome new Castle Hall, over the Murchison National Bank building. And in speaking of the event, it is nothing but mete and proper that all honor should be paid to the chairmen of the various committees, who worked so industriously for the benefit. There's Chairman Fishblate, of the Executive Committee, a genial whole-souled Pythian, who has spent days and nights in lecture at the Academy of Music, Carnival harness. His friends say he looks like a skeleton after the week's work and it's not a wonder. As chairman of the Finance and Soliciting WE SELL Contractor James H. Burriss has committees, Mr. H. E. Bonitz has put his entire time and energy to the work and that's saying a great deal. As chairman of the Transportation Committee and a member of several other committees, Mr. L. B. Rogers has been faithful and devoted. As chairman of the Mt. Pelee committee, Mr. T. D. Meares has been unlucky, but a winner in the end. Maj. W. F. Robertson as chairman of the Amusement Committee, has been all that could be desired and his counsel as to all Carnival matters has been sought. Mr. E. H. Munson, as chairman of the Music Committee, has looked after that department better than any other person could. He is a musician himself and the various open-air concerts and trolley parades bringing people down town, are a testimonial to his efficient service. The handsome electric welcome arch at Front and

Chesnut streets, which was the cynosure of all eyes during the week. especially at night, is a monument to the memory of Dr. J. D. Nutt, chair, man of the Decoration Committee. He has been valuable in all other work. too, and the Pythians owe him a lasting debt of gratitude. Col. Walker Taylor, as chairman of the Information Bureau, has well cared for a most important detail in the Carnival arrange ment and his services in other departments have also been valuable. Perhaps to none others is due more credit than to Chairman B. O. Stone, of the Advertising Committee, and Chairman John J. Fowler, of the Parade Committee. A whole book might be written as to the labors of both these gentlemen, but the work of each during the past week was too well apparent to need further comment. Stone brought the crowds and Chairman Fowler had something for them to see, including a Queen, when they came. Mr. James F. Woolvin did well with the Country Store and while his work was not of the estentatious kind, it will count when the cash balance is drawn. Nobody did better than Mr. John R. Turrentine, Jr., who was in executive control of the sale of confetti. His services were secured late, but they were none the less distinguished for that. He contributed much to the joy and merriment of the crowds and will turn into the Pythian exchequer a goodly sum. By mentioning the chairmen of committees it is not intended to disparage the efforts of the lav committeemen. Dr. Galloway, Mr. Jeff Hopkins, Capt. Oldham, Mr. John Littleton, Mr. Joe King, Mr. Harris Yopp, Capt. J. W. Harper, Mr. L. L. Boon, Mr. W. C. Von-Glahn, Mr. R. B. Clowe, Mr. R. S. Collins, Messrs. W. C. and C. D. Yarborough, J. H. Rehder, J. W. Fleet, E. V. Richards, R. H. Rubright, Anson Alligood, R. C. DeRosset, R. M. Capps, W. E. Perdew, E. F. Jones. J. C. McLeod, W. C. Smith, Alex Holder, G. W. Branch, L. O. Smith. J. L. Brimer, W. A. Caldwell, Col W. J. Woodward, Capt. Jim Morrison, Eugene Fillyaw, J. M. Holmes, W. Hodges, C. H. White, E. C. Craft Will Rehder, Geo. O. Gaylord, and many more-all these worked in season and out of season, and to each and every one of them great credit is due. Chief of Police Furlong and his men also did great work during the week. There was one highway robbery but the robber was promptly "jugged." There were no reports of pickpockets for the Chief had the men sized up before they came here. The whole force did itself credit.

Every lady can save from $2.00 to $5.00 by purchasing a shirt-waist at Rehder's this week.
