TURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 23

THE CONSEQUENCES OF REPEAL New York Sun: In a very clearly written article in the Yale Law Journal, Mr. John R. Dos Passos reaches the conclusion already indicated by the Sun in its discussions of negro suffrage at the South.

This is that sooner or later the country will have to face squarely the question of the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment and the repeal or modification of the second section of the Fourteenth Amend ment, leaving the Thirteenth as it now stands in the Constitution.

In contrast with the protests of violent and ignorant partisanship against the correction of what many intelligent and candid Republicans at the North now regard as a stupendous blunder, hear what this able lawyer and student of constitutional history says of the practical effect of such a repeal:

"The consequences resulting from this method of solution may not be as profound or far-reaching as many, at first blush, may think. It is true that it requires the repeal of the second section of the Fourteenth and all of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. The effect of this repeal would be to relegate the whole question of suffrage to the respective States. They could deprive the whites or blacks, or any part hereof, of the right to vote. The negro can never be deprived of citizenship nor of his rights to equal-ity before the law, so long as the first section of the Fourteenth Amendment remains a law-and it may be assumed to be permanent.

"Is it fair to trust the Southern States with the regulation of this great question? I claim that it is. Primarily it is their intent to treat the negro race justly and liberally, to open up to them the paths of education and progress. To do otherwise means positive loss to State development.

The repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment and the repeal or modification of the second section of the Fourteenth Amendment mean neither the abolition of negro suffrage nor the exclusion of the negro from restricted everywhere by law in the of system." case of white citizens, according to State ideas of expediency or competency to exercise the suffrage.

The State should determine. The unqualified power to determine this question of suffrage should be restored to the States, where it properly belongs; and this can be done by a process of constitutional change which shall neither take the ballot away from a single black man fit to be a voter nor deprive any black man, whether fit or not to be a voter, of the essential rights of citizenship, including the right to the full and equal protection of the

POST CHECK CURRENCY.

Brooklyn Citizen: There is a host of people in city, town and country who regret that the Fifty-seventh Congress adjourned without taking affirmative action on the Post Check Currency bill. It is a measure wholly in the interest of the people, and absolutely unpartisan in character, which is perhaps the reason why no time was given to its pass-

The advocates, including especially the deviser of the system however, are fairly satisfied with the progress made towards its adoption and quite hopeful that it will go through the Fifty-eighth Congress substantially as devised. Everybody who has to pay bills due in distant places, and has, as now, to make use of the registered letter plan or the money order system, will join in this hope.

If postmasters were supplied with a certain amount of the Post Check bills, credited as cash, which they would be until redeemed, those who want to send money to creditors, relatives or friends, could supply themselves with bills of the $1, $2 or $5 denomination at the post office, supposing that there were none to be had at the storesdealt with, clap a 2-cent stamp on the one they desired to send and post it like any ordinary letter; and, if they made it payable to any one in particular, they could feel sure that no one else could secure its redemption, and that !fact would put a damper on any other person's desire to steal it.

In short, the Post Check, if unendorsed, would pass as money the same as the present bank notes, while, if endorsed to a payee, it while, if endorsed to a payee, it would be of no use to any one else, and the sender would be relieved of the many family doctor for colds in the head. I use the necessity of spending the time it freely on my children. It is a God-vice of C. W. Post, who offers it to the Government and people without other reward than the knowledge that it is worth something to them: and he is bearing the financial burden imposed by the maintenance of a bureau at 825 Vermont avenue in Washington, and such expenses for printing, etc., as are required to keep the question before the public.

It is to be hoped that the bill as agreed on by the House Committee last January will be promptly taken up when the next Congress meets,

A lottery that would probably have the approval of President Roosevelt exists in Derby, Conn. where annual drawings are held. It is the lottery of a bachelors' club of twenty-five members, the initiation fee of which is $50. Once a year twenty-four white strips and one black strip are put into a wheel and drawn out. The member who draws the black strip stands pledged to get married within a year, and the club pays $200 for wedding expenses. Should the black strip man fail to marry within the specified time, he loses whatever he has paid into the treasury and is expelled from mem-

Richmond folk are complaining bitterly now of having to walk. Why, go back to 1850, or thereabouts, when old men thought nothing of walking from "Screamersville" to "Butchertown," or even to "Rocketts." In those days Richmond had but two police officers on day duty, "Old Clem. White" and "Old Byrd Page," as the boys derisively called them. Think of the pedestrian feats they performed in covering the city from Buchanan's Spring to Church Hill. The present generation of Richmonders must be weak in the legs.

Howell is the name of a town of ,200 people situated three miles from Evansville, Ind. The town has a street car line. A day or two ago the company put a negro in the position of conductor. The sight of the black man taking fares was too much for the people of the Indiana town of Howell. "A crowd of angry citizens,' says a dispatch to the Indianapolis News, "boarded the car and threw the negro off. The negro was told to leave town at once, and he has not been seen since."

John T. Gibbons is quoted as saving that in boyhood his brother, now cardinal and archbishop, delighted in athletic exercises, played a rattling game of baseball, was a splendid swimmer, and withal was very methodical. "He had a certain citizenship and its inalienable rights. I time for study, a time for play and The right to vote is not one of the a time for prayer. He was a boy of nesssary rights of citizenship. It is system, just as he is to-day a man

HUMOURS SCALP

Itching, Scaly and Crusted With Loss of Hair

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap and Cintment

When Every Other Remedy and Physicians Fail.

Warm shampoos with Cuticura Soap and light dressings of Cuticura, the great skin cure, at once stop falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, soothe irritated, itching surfaces, destroy hair parasites, stimulate the hair follicles, loosen the scalp skin, supply the roots with energy and nourishment, and make the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all else fails.

Millions of the world's best people use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings and chafings, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and inflammations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weak nesses, and many antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Cuticura Soap combines in one soap at one price the best skin and complexion soap and the best toilet, bath and baby soap in the world.

Complete treatment for every humour, consisting of Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment, to heal the skin, and Cuticura Pills, to cool the blood, may now be had for one dollar. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning and scaly hu-mours, eczemas, rashes and irritations, from infancy to age, when all else fails.

From Experience With Alfalfa. First.-We do not believe hogs wil thrive on alfalfa hay alone, nor do w think it pays to expect young pigs are going to do well on alfalfa pasture

Second.-We do not believe that you can turn shotes on an alfalfa pasture in the spring and with one pound of corn for each head a day make a gain of from one-half to three-fourths of a pound a day or from 125 to 150 pounds during the six months of grazing sea-ments we have made that by chopping alfalfa hay (this must be good hay, where the leaves have been preserved) and mixing this with ground corn at the rate of about one pound of corn to five or six pounds of alfalfa it will make a ration that will carry stock hogs over the winter as satisfactorily to the owner as the ordinary ration, mostly of corn, at one-third the cost, and the animal will be in better condition to ward off disease.-G. When the King Laughed.

One of the three occasions on which Philip IV. of Spain laughed was as follows: Philip's first wife, Isabella of Bourbon, died in 1645, and the next year he married the Austrian Archduchess Maria Anna. This princess understood Spanish but very imperfectly. Passing on her way to the capital through a certain town which was distinguished for its silk manufactures. she was presented by the inhabitants with a few dozen silk stockings. Heedless of the queen's presence, the master of ceremonies snatched the parcel out of the hands of the town councilors, flung it on the ground and exclaimed in a rage:

"Are you not aware that the queens of Spain are not supposed to have any

The queen, with her imperfect knowl edge of Spanish, here began to weep, called for her father confessor, Reithardt, and told him that she meant to return to Austria. If she had known that in order to become queen of Spain it was necessary to have one's limbs cut off, she would rather have died in Germany than undergo the operation in Spain. When this incident was related to the king, he burst into loud laughter before the whole assembled court.

"Bees as big as sheep!" said his in credulous listener. "Why, what kind of hives do they have to keep them

"No bigger than the ones in this counthry," was the reply. "Then how do the bees get into the hives?" he was asked. "Well," replied the Irishman, "that's their own lookout"

LONG-PELT WANT

Good-natured people are often ir.

If you know the reason, you would not be surprised. Ever have itching piles? Not sick enough to go to bed, not well enough to be content. The constant itching sensation. Hard to bear, harder to get relief Spoils your temper, nearly drives vou crazy. Isn't relief and cure a long felt want? You can have relief and cure if you will follow the advice of a local citizen.

C. S. Hollen, printer on the Morn. ing Messenger, residing at 419 Grace St., says: "I had used several reme. dies to get relief from itiching piles but without any good results. Learn ing of Doan's Ointment I obtained it at Bellamy's drug store. It acted immediately and proved so effective that I am entirely cured of the afflic. tion. I found it to be an excellent
