Trades Unions Busily Engaged in Preparing for an Elaborate Celebration.

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

NATIONAL LABOR DAY

Fransportation Companies Offer Inducements for the Beaches-Governor and Other Prominent Speakers Will Come-Other Notes.

The celebration of National Labor Day by the allied trades unions of the city on the first Monday in September promises to be a most elaborate affair. Strong hopes are entertained that the Governor will accept the recent invitation extended to him to be present and deliver an address upon that occasion and in addition to the chief executive invitations will also be extended o State Treasurer B.R. Lacy and Hon. Wm. E. Springer, mayor of the city.

Another meeting of the joint committee of arrangements was held last night in the hall of the Electrical Wire Workers, on the fourth floor of the Atlantic National Bank building, and while nothing very definite was accomplished, plans for the celebration were considerably furthered and other meetings were appointed for to-morrow night in the Pythian Castle Hall and on Monday and Thursday nights of next week in the Electrical Workers' hall. The meeting last night was presided over by Mr. W. C. Wallace and Mr. J. Edgar Lewis was present as secretary. The question of deciding upon a place for the celebration was again considered. The secretary read a letter from General Manager A. B. Skelding, of the O. R., L. & P. Co., offering a round trip rate at 25c. to Wrightsville Beach to all those wearing badges to be distributed to members of each union and their friends; also to furnish one or two bands and accommodations for the crowd. Negro Who Shot Herbert Ross, Colored, at Navassa Last Spring Made Good His Escape. of Aldermen Will Be Held [Southport Standard.] Sunday morning Jailor B. F. Greer went to the jail to feed his only prisoner, Calvin Walker, who was confined Court. The prisoner was in one of the cells in the upper story and Mr. Greer, on going up stairs, found Walker in the cell and everything apparently in order. Soon after Mr. Greer had handed the prisoner his breakfast, Walker requested a bucket of fresh water. Mr. Greer readily consented and went down stairs to the pump, which is just outside of the jail at the front. After securing the water Mr. Greer went back up stairs, and was surprised to find that his prisoner was not in the cell. He called for the prisoner, and just at this juncture Walker rushed from behind a door in an adjoining room and made his way down the steps and out in the street,

Mr. Greer having left the doors unlocked on going upstairs. On reach-awaiting the Fall term of Superior

ing the street the prisoner made for the woods, and made good his escape. Walker had cut out two of the iron bars of the cell and when Mr. Green went out for the water he slipped out of the hole and hid behind a door in an adjoining room, and made a dash for liberty at the opportune time. The escape had been fully planned by Walker, as Mr. Greer informs us that ne rushed down the steps after Walker when he made his dash for liberty, and reached him just in time to kick bundle and antiron bar from under is arm. This disclosed the fact that the prisoner had armed himself with an iron bar and some rations for his contemplated trip, and with intentions to do barm to Mr. Greer if it became necessary to make his escape. Walker had been in jail since April and, last. He was sent here from Navassa to await trial in the Superior Court for shooting Herbert Ross in the right leg with a shot gun, from which injury Ross had to have his leg amputated. This was the second attempt of Walker to escape from jail, the first one being discovered in time to prevent his escape.

Dr. Voigt was asked last night as to the probabitity of his acceptance or rejection of the call to become professor of theology and dean of the Lutheran Seminary at Charleston. He said that he had received no official notification of his election and knew nothing more than he had read in the newspapers; that he had not dreamed of such an election and, of course, could and would not give the matter any consideration until officially notified. The people of the city at large hope that Dr. Voigt may see his way clear to remain in Wilmington and every inducement will be offered him to

BRUNSWICK JAIL DELIVERY. MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

No Special Meeting of the Board - Mr. J. T. Ashford, of Clinton,

Until Monday Night. LIVELY SESSION EXPECTED.

Lighting, Liquor and Other Problems to be Wrested With-Controversy Over an Alley and Opinion by City Attorney Upon Same,

The Board of Aldermen yesterday finally abandoned the idea of a special meeting for this week and none will be held until the regular session Monday night. There were a number of matters that seemed to Mayor Springer earlier in the week to demand immediate attention but those matters so arranged themselves that it was later thought inexpedient to call them up until they came in regular order.

One of the questions was the controversy between the city and the administrator of the Rothwell estate over the 10-feet alleyway, next north of the Odd Fellow building, opposite the City Hall, reference to which was made in these columns some time ago City Attorney Bellamy to whom the matter was referred yesterday submitted a verbal opinion to Mayor Springer, advising against a surrender of the two feet claimed by the Rothwell estate, inasmuch as eight feet of the alley were devised for public use in 1853 and the two remaining feet now belong to the city by virtue of possession during the long term of years. A formal report by the City Attorney will be made Monday night.

The lighting question will be another prolific source of argument Monday night. The proposition of the C. R., L. & P.Co. to renew its contract will be again submitted as will also that of the Turrentine Light Co. to install a system of Kitson lights. It is also quite likely that the committee recently appointed to investigate the cost of a lighting plant to be owned by the city will be ready with a report. It is known that letters have been written to near-by cities asking the result of their experience with municipal ownership and that figures have been obtained relative to the cost of a sufficient plant. The Light Committee contends that inasmuch as the city now pays approximately $10,000, per year for its lighting, a plant could be made to pay for itself in a few years. However, there appears now little doubt but that the contract will go for another year at least to the present contractors. The ever-recurring liquor license problem will also have another inning Monday night, the committee in charge of drafting new "rules and regulations" for the traffic having arrived at an agreement and an ordinance having been prepared, which has been duly approved by the City Attorney as to form. The matter of early closing, agitated in some quarters, will not be touched in the ordinance as drafted and, it is said, there will be few changes, except in verbiage, from the rules adopted at the suggestion of Alderman Gafford at the first meeting in July and afterwards revoked. Then the unusual monthly routine business will come up and to a "man key at Hamlet, N. C., is in the city up a tree," it appears there will be and at the beach for a brief vacation. something for the inhabitants to talk He is accompanied by his wife and about for months to come.

THE BIG PICNIC AT ROOK'S. It Was a Splendid Success-More Than Five Hundred Were Present.

[Special Star Correspondence.] ROOK'S STATION, N. C., July 29. This evening Capt. W. H. Ward is wearing a broad smile, and well he may, after his great success with the picnic and dance, for to him and his great energy is due one of the most successful entertainments ever held in the county, assisted by his able committee, composed of J. F. Simpson, Lee Woodcock, Jas. H. Colvin, G. F. Lucas, Jr., J. H. Woodcock and James Montague.

Early in the day, from all parts of this and adjoining counties, a steady stream of buggies, loaded down with the youth and beauty of the country, drove down to the Woodcock mill, an ideal spot for a picnic. On the arrival of the morning train from Wilmington some fifty or sixty of Wilmington's fair daughters and noble sons were landed at the station, where conveyances were on hand to transport them to the scene of festivities, where they joined their country friends. In a short time the Italian band struck the warning note that soon had the fine pavilion filled with those who touched fantastic toe to the queen's taste until the committee announced little folks and those who have them | that dinner was ready. And such a in charge. Additional committees dinner will long be remembered by will be appointed and a programme all present. A Wilmington photographer was on hand and was kept quite busy most of the time. There is one thing our entire community wish to thank Capt. Ward and the committee for, and that is the splendid order maintained. It had been generally understood that there would be no drinking of liquor tolerated on the ground.
