Attendance of Survivors and Other Veterans Will be Large-Arrangements Continued Yesterday-Steamer Wilmington Under Charter.

Easily the leading event of the present week at Wilmington will be the Fort Fisher reunion down the river on Wednesday. The committees spent another day in active preparations for the celebration yesterday and a score of letters were received announcing that veterans from all over this and other States will be in attendance. Most distinguished of all the visitors will be Col. William Lamb, of Norfolk, Ve., who commanded the post during the memorable bombardment, and Governor Charles B. Aycock, who will arrive Tuesday from Raleigh. Col Lamb is expected Monday and it is unnecessary to state that he will be royally received by members of his former command and Confederate veterans in general. He will be met at the train by a deputation of prominent men and will probably be entertained at The Orton while in the city. Both Col. Lamb and Governor Aycock will be expected to make trief addresses at the the fort. The steamer "Wilmington" has been chartered by the Veterans for Wednesday and there will be no regular trips to Carolina Beach. Col. Woodward, of the committee, has had a board walk made over the "rocks" to the fort, and visitors will find no difficulty in getting there. Visitors via the Seaboard Air Line may return Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, if they desire. Some of the survivors from up the Carolina Centhey would have to spend two nights here. Such will not be the case. Yesterday's Norfolk Virginian

"All arrangements have been completed for the grand reunion of the survivors of the famous Fort Fisher, N. C., which is twenty miles below Wilmington at the mouth of the Cape Fear river. The hero of the fort was Colonel William Lamb, of this city, who defended the Confederate fort against superior numbers, and after a gallant fight was forced to surrender.

"Colonel Lamb has received an invitation to attend the reunion which will be at the fort on the 12th of this month. The invitation came from W.
J. Woodward, commander of the Cape Fear Camp, United Confederate Veterans and H. C. McQueen, commander of the Fort Fisher survivors. "Colonel Lamb stated yesterday that he was so rushed with bus-iness that he thought it un-likely that he would be able to attend, but, however, the de-mand for his presence was so great that he did not see how he was going to stay away. Colonel Lamb has been put down as one of the leading speak-"There is much interest felt in the forthcoming reunion and inquiries have been received here from various Northern newspapers which will like-ly send representatives to the notable "Colonel Lamb had 1,900 men with him in the defence of Fort Fisher, which fortification was constructed of sand and logs, and which is said to still be in a good state of preservation. "Colonel Lamb said yesterday that he could not tell how many survivors of the famous battle were yet alive."

The Street Car Disorder,

Hoses Davis and the young man Williams who have just completed a term of 30 days on the roads for disorderly conduct on a street car at Ninth and Princess streets some time ago, were brought to the city yesterday and arraigned before Justice Fowler upon the charge of an affray in which deadly weapons were used. They were each held for the Superior Court and sent to jail in default of bond. John Thorp and the young man Grant, charged with implication in the same affair, will be given preliminary examination later.

Fire This Morning.

The alarms of fire at 2:15 o'clock were on account of a small blaze in the rear of the bakery of Mr. A. B. Cook, 109 South Front street. The amount of damage could not be ascertained this morning, but it will probably not exceed $150.

THE REGISTER CASE.

New Firm of Enterprising Young Men Will Begin Business on Market Street Very Soon.

Messrs, Robert C. Platt and G. Henry Haar, enterprising youn men of Wilmington, have formed a copartnership under the firm name of Platt & Hear and will in a short time open a first-class dry goods and notion store at 114 Market street, the stand now occupied by A. D. Brown. The entire store will be remodelled; new shelving, show cases, silent salesmen and fixtures will be installed for the new firm, which proposes to have one of the prettiest and most conveniently arranged retail establishments in the State. Although comparatively small the place will be stocked with only new and strictly first-class goods throughout. The stock will include the newest of everything in dress goods, silks, domestics, gents furnishings, etc., etc., and the best class of trade will be catered to.

The young men comprising the firm are very popular and have had years of experience in the dry goods business. Mr. Platt for fifteen years has been with the leading establishments of M. M. Katz, Katz & Polvogt, A. D. Brown, J. H. Rehder, The C. W. Polvogt Co. and others and lately resigned as secretary and treasurer of the Polvogt Co. to engage in business for himself. Mr. Haar has also had wide experience and possesses an especial aptitude for the dry goods business. For eleven years he has been with the C. W. Polvogt Co., Katz & Polvogt and others and resigned the vice presidency of the Polvogt Co. Aug. 1st to form the copartnership with Mr. Platt. Messrs. Platt & Haar will leave in about 10 days for New York and other Northern markets, remaining there about a month, which will give them amply time to select a stock and buy judiciously. Hundreds of friends wish the new firm the unbounded success it is sure to win.

A REMARKABLE FAMILY.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan W. Branch Will Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

At their residence on South Front street to-day Mr. and Mrs. Jordan W. Branch will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their marriage. There will be present many friends to felicitate the aged couple upon the happy event in their lives and there will also be in attendance upon the celebration upwards of a hundred immediate members of the remarkable Branch family. Mr. Jordan Branch, who is actively engaged daily as janitor at the Court House and is the head of the family, has 31 grand children and three greatgrand children, 20 of the number being boys and men. Seven of his grand children will be old enough to vote in the next Presidential election, a fact referred to with much pride by Mr. Branch, whose long term at the Court House has caused him to become something of a politician, as well as an all-round citizen. The reunion of the family at the celebration to-day will be a happy one.

The Big State Gathering May be Secured With Very Little Effort. Chief Charles Schnibben, Maj. Wm. F. Robertson, superintendent of the Clarendon Water Works, and the Wilmington delegates to the annual meeting of the State Firemen's Association and tournament this week will leave to-morrow for Durham. There is talk of a meeting of the Board of Aldermen to morrow night for the purpose of extending a formal invitation to the Association to hold its next annual seasion and tournament in Wilmington. Chief Schnibben is confident the meeeting can be secured for the city, provided those in a position to do so will make the proper effort. The tournament would bring to the city upwards of a thousand visitors for the week and it is to be hoped some action will be taken to get the laddles to come for their 1904 gathering.

CASINO DARK THIS WEEK.

Open, However, to Pleasure Parties - Music and Dancing Afternoon and Night. The Casino at Wrightsville Beach will be dark this week, but in lieu of theatricals the managers have arranged for a series of delightful concerts and dances that are certain to become popular. The Casino pavilion will also be at the disposal of pleasure parties for all purposes. Next week will be opened with another strong vaudeville or light opera offering that is now being arranged for. The Juvenile Minstrels closed their engagement last night and will leave to-day to go on the Wells' circuit. They gave eminent satisfaction to the amusement public here.

Dr. Wells Called Away. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First this morning from boxes 43 and 41 | Presbyterian church, has been called away by the sickness of one of his children at Lowisburg, West Virginia, The Rev. Stedman Black, of Fayetteville Presbytery, will preach and conduct the communion service at 11 o'clock this morning, as announced. No evening service.

State Introduced Testimony in the Murder Trial at Whiteville Yesterday.

EDMONDSON'S CONFESSION

fold Straight Story and Was Corroborated in Part by Other Witnesses. Attorneys and Others Returned Last Night-Proceedings.

Solicitor C. C. Lyon, Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy, Col. N. A. McLean, Claude J. Bernard, Esq., I. B. Tucker, Esq. Miss Stella Shrier, the official stenographer, and others who have been engaged in the murder trial of H. B. and Jabel Register in Columbus Superior Court at Whiteville Friday and yesterday, returned last night to spend Bunday in the city and at the beach. They will return Monday morning at o'clock.

The evidence for the State in the Register case yesterday developed the ommission of one of the most atroclous murders in the history of the county. Whether the defendants will be fixed with the crime is another story. Mr. Bellamy, Mr. Bernard, Mr. McRackan and Mr. Tucker are guarding strenuously the interests of the defendants while Solicitor Lyon, Col. McLean and Mesers. Lewis & Schulken are fighting manfully for the conviction of the men.

The court met yesterday morning at :30 o'clock with another tremendous crowd in attendance. A recess was taken from 1:30 to 2:30 P, M. and final recess in the afternoon at 4:30 o'clock until Monday morning. Although a dozen or more witnesses were introduced yesterday, the State will likely not rest its case before Monday at noon. It will take a day or two after that time to get in all the tratimony for the defendants. Cross Edmondson, whose confession implicated the Registers and led to the State yesterday. He went on the stand after two others had been introduced in the morning and did not complete his story of the murder until the afternoon. He was subjected to a rigid cross examination by attorneys for the defendants. A synopsis of his evidence is to the effect that he went to Vineland on Saturday before the murder about 2 o'clock; went to Maultaby's store to get some crates; then to the postoffice; some one called him and saw Jabel Register, who said his (Register's) father told him if he saw Edmondson anywhere to tell him to come up to the house, he wanted to see him; went with Jabel to Formy Duvall's stables, H. B. Register was there doctoring a sick horse; asked witness what he was going to do that night; told witness that he wanted him to stay at his house and help doctor the horse; told Register he was going to the depot to attend to some business; Register said come back and let's have some fun; went back and Jabel and I went to the lot Jabel said "stay here and I will go to the house after the old man." H. B. Register came out with lantern there were two guns and canned goods lying on a tow-sack. H. B. Register asked me if I didn't want to make some money; said I didn't object; told me he knew a darkey staying with Jesse Soles that had between $1,000 and $2,000 kept on his person. He wanted Jabel and I to hold him up and shoot him if necessary: said Jesse Soles and Staley were wanted for selling liquor, and the officers wanted a moonshine still broken up but were afraid to go down there. H. B. Register talked on and we took the guns and canned goods and went to the Lewis place; crossed fifteen or twenty little bridges and came to a footpath; slept there all night and went down the road and found a still in running shape: drank some beer; Jabel said let's make a fire; 150 yards from the still in the woods we laid down and I went to sleep; waked up and found Jabel gone; he came back with a quart of "low wines:" ate some potted ham and crackers and remained there until dark; came back to still, drank some more beer and went to Jesse Soles'; I never saw Soles at his house; we saw a keg lying out; I kicked it and it was full of corn liquor; filled a pickle jar with liquor and stopped the bung with my handkerchief; Jabel hid the keg 20 or 30 steps away by a dead pine; said that we would carry Jim Edwards some of it and that we would get supper and go home; we got by where he said Soles lived; said perhaps Edwards was at Soles' and we turned back to Soles' house; I put my gun at the well and leaned over the well; Jabel walked up and fired twice in the window; I heard some chairs and hol lering when gun fired and a shot from behind the house. I got scared, ran and hid under a pile of rails, leaving Jabel at the house; Jabel called me from the house and I finally answered; a couple of guns and called for mine; I got it; asked me what I ran for; told him I was scared; told me he had a notion to shoot my d- d brains out; we went about four miles and I saw a light; it grew brighter and I asked him what it meant; he wouldn't tell me at first, but finally said he sup-weapons to them. Nelson Toon and wife testified that these two men went to their house about midnight and staid till morning. They had three guns. They went off toward Whiteville.

Bradlay Herring saw Jabel and Cross with three guns going toward Whiteville along a very dull, woods road early Monday morning. A little nearer Whiteville David Baldwin saw Jabel by himself coming out of the woods without a gun.

Upon the convening of court yesterday morning the State had 22 witnesses in all sworn. John Manning the first said he was at Jesse Soles' house Sunday at 4 P. M. on the eve of the long Turkish Bath Towels at 15 and 25 cents. tragedy. He left Coleman Smith and his son there with Jesse Soles and the negro Jim Staley. There was some fouor about. That was the last time the men were seen alive.

W. A. J. Soles, brother of Jesse Soles, said he saw a light about the size of a torchlight in direction of Jesse Soles' house about midnight and again about 4 o'clock in the morning. About daybreak he sent his son to see what was the matter and found the house was burned. Then he himself went and found charred bodies of two men lying in front of the fireplace. He recognized one of them as Jesse Soles by his keys which dropped down by his aide where his pocket was. He knew the keys. There was one very old key-the barn key-one of bis father's old keys. He recognized Jim Staley by the buttons he wore in his shirt.

E. D. Richardson testified as to the purchase of the canned goods by H. B. Register; Lee Formey Duvall, as to the presence of the two men at the stables, and David Baldwin, Bradley Herring, Joshua Smith and Forney the story of Edmondson.

C., Aug. 8 .- Joe Savage, a colored engineer on the Eureka Lumber Company's road, near Fountain, was crushed to death under his engine yesterday afternoon while returning from a water station on the East Carolina road to the junction. The engineer had gone out over the latter road to get water and acquired a speed of nearly a mile per minute. which he could not undertake over the narrow rails of the track. The engine after jumping the track and running two hundred feet, left the roadway, struck a stump and turned over, catching the engineer under it. Three others in the cab escaped injury by jumping.
