PLANS OF THE LETTER CAR BIERS.

Efforts to secure an increase of ay will be resumed at the convention the National Association of Letat Carriers, which will be held at racuse beginning on August Slat. he association has had this matter efore Congress for a number of ears, but has been unsuccessful, wing to the persistent and emphatic osition of Congressman Lond, of alifornia, for many years chairman of the House Committee on Postfloes and Post Roads. The carriers have sought to have their salaries inreased, according to terms of service, with a maximum of $1,300 in cities of the first class. At present the maximum salary is $1,000. After the rejection of the claims of the sarriers at the first session of the Fifty seventh Congress, officers and sembers of the association carried their grievances into politics, and re credited with having secured the tefeat of Congrossman Loud, and the effect of this political activity on heir part will be closely watched in the consideration of their claims by the committee in the next House. Public sentiment is doubtless with the carriers in this fight. Their labors are never light. Their hours, while not long, require them to be exposed to all kinds of inclement weather and to be prompt, accurate and regular in the discharge of their duties. They are required to strictly comply with certain rules and regulations, the slightest viola-tion of which carries its penalty. Almost without exception, they are faithful and edicion public ser-rants. The question of their comvants. The question of their compenastion is one that should not be influenced in any manner by political consideration, and the members bia State (Dem.) of the organization who carried the fight into the elections made a mistake that may prejudice the case of the entire association. It appears to be a clear case of dellars and cents. The recent disclosures of frand in the management of certain divisions of the department will have the effect, undoubtedly, of preventing any hasty legislation on postal matters in the next Congress. If the reforms that have been instituted, and others that will be necessarily made in the service. result in anything like the large saving of the revenue that has been estimated, the way may be made clear for more liberal compensation for the carriers. Increased compensation should not be granted, however, through fear of influence that the organization may command at the polls against members who oppose their claims in the committee or on the floor of the House. The letter carriers will be wise if they discount in advance any intention

But after all this thought may be thrown out by those in the steel corporation's management who have always contended. and still contend, that no dividend should be paid on its common stock until it is clearly democstrated that the corporation is able to stand the test of hard times. - Savannah Nows.

CURRENT COMMENT

---- Poverty has its compensa tions. It is to be noted that it is always the "wealthy" farmer who is buying gold bricks or running away with his neighbor's wife or hanging himself or shooting somebody else. The needy agriculturist is presumably too busy heeing corn to get into such scrapes. - Chisago Chronicle,

---- The negroes of Virginia have contributed about $10,000 to fight the new constitution of this State. For all practical purposes of good to themselves or to any one else, except the lawyers on their side of the case, they might as well have poured their dollars in a rat hole. Will the negroes never learn anything in the hard school of experience? Especially, will they never learn that the way to their elevation and prosperity as a race does not lie through the field of politics, but in the acquisition of wealth and learning ?- Petersburg Inden Appeal.

-Mr. John G. Webb of Florida writes to the New York Sun quoting a dictum of John C. Calhoun, that "cotton cannot be profitably raised where there is no frost." This was announced in one of his masterly speeches in the United States Sen-ate. Mr. Webb continues: "Since then I have become a Southern farmer and I have learned that Mr. Calhoun's dictum is true. The cost of eliminating the last year's foliage, unaided by frost, is too great." This is another illustration of the profound philosophical intellect of Calhoun. He was not content to go along blindly, but he must first see things, and then see the reason of be removed from the soil? It has been said that Calhoun was the best farmer in South Carolina. He certainly was a close observer. - Colum-

- A Raleigh dispatch says: A very singular accident, and one which narrowly missed being fatal, occurred yesterday afternoon in Swift creek township, near this city. A preacher rode up to the house of Mr. George Ford and left his horse unhitched in the yard. The horse went to the well, one of the kind having two buckets and a pulley. On the edge of the curb was a bucket full of water. This the horse showed back into the well. Mrs. Ford was standing near the well and as the bucket fell sprang forward and seized the chain, to stop the bucket. In a second she was drawn headforemost into the well, which is 25 feet deep and in which there is 10 feet of water. The walls being of rough stone, her husband and the preacher hurried to her rescue. She was conscious and when they let some lines down to her, seized them and was drawn up. Her head was cut and bruised by

attracted wide attention: She has published several books, among them "The Imp and the Angel," "Fables of the Fair" and "Whom the Gods De stroyed." Miss Daskam is a very handsome woman and affects simplicity of dress. She is a sweet singer and for a time was soloist in the leading church

No place has been more transforme by the ravages of the sea than Dun-wich, in England. Centuries ago in was a large city, with a fine harbor, and was the capital of the eastern counties. Now it is a little decayed village, with only one church and a few broken down houses. The other sixteen churches have been washed in to the sea, and the sole remaining one is now perilously near the edge of the
