ALL BUT DROWNED.

Mr. W. W. Thigpen and Colored Man Had a Narrow Escape Yesterday Afternoon.

SKIFF CAPSIZED WITH THEM.

In Mid-Stream They Clung to Overturned Boat Until Help Reached Them. Pine Breech-Loading Gun Lost. Unpleasant Experience.

Benumbed with the cold and clinging for half an hour of more to the bottom of a small skiff which had capsized in the middle of the Cape Fear river, nearly opposite Northrop's mill, where the stream is widest, Mr. W. W. Thigpen, chief engineer at the power station of the C. R., L. & P. Co. in the southern section of the city, and Joe Williams, a negro woodpasser at the same plant, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon about 2 o'elock.

Mr. Thigpen had taken his gun and employed the negro to row him across the river to Alligator Creek, where he proposed to have an aftercoon's sport at gunning. When they had proceeded some distance off shore, Mr. Thigpen had occasion to shift his position in the canoe and in doing so he capsized the small craft. Both men pitched into the rather icy water and clung to the wreck for dear life, neither of them daring to turn loose and swim the long distance to shore, handicapped as they were with their hunting clothes on.

They shouted for help and at length Mr. Jordan Branch, Jr., saw their predicament and hastened to launch a boat for their rescue. Two colored employes of the Eccleston Lumber Company-John Watters and Zeb Harriss-manned the boat from Skinner's shippard and soon had the men hausted when the boat reached him ling was held at which the finishing and was naturally very cold. He will touches were added to all the preparanot crave another experience like it. tions. Reports from Newbern are that Besides having the rather cold plunge | every show of the Layton Company is and losing the afternoon's sport at clean and of the average for a street hunting, he lost a fine double-barrelled fair. Editor Stevens, of the Newbern breech-loading gun, which went to Journal, who arrived yesterday, voices the bottom when the skiff capsized. Upon reaching the shore, he hastened home to provide himself with dry raiment. The negro did likewise.

LOW WATER STILL BAR

TO RIVER NAVIGATION.

Stage in Cape Pear Said to be Unprecedeated in Duration-Many Obstructions in the Channel.

Although navigation of the Cape Cape Fear river is still almost in the range of impossibility on account of low water and innumerable snags and obstructions on the bottom, the steamer "Hurt" managed to get in port last night from Elizabethtown. The "Highlander," which left Fayetteville two days ago for Wilmington, passed Elizabethtown at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, but a later report said she had struck bottom again and was floundering about in the stream below Elizabethtown like a big fish out of water. It is not known when she will arrive here. The present low stage of water is said by steamboat men to be almost unprecedented. The number of obstructions in the river appears also to be larger than ever before and an effort will likely be made to get the government to remove them. "The locks and dams are all right in their place," remarked an up-river man last night, "but with the man who tries to get a boat up the river over the logs and stumps now lying on the bottom, there are several other kinds of 'dams' "

The "Tar Heel," which recently ammed a hole in her hull above Elizabethtown and lay on the bottom a week or two, came off the ways at Skinner's yesterday at noon. Either she or the "Hurt" will probably clear for Elizabethtown this afternoon about 5 o'clock.

AT THE LOCAL PLAYHOUSE.

Black Patti Troubadours Held the Boards Last Night - Marie Wainwright and "Holty-Tolty" Comisg.

The Black Patti Troubadors played to a large and well pleased audience at the Academy last night. Messrs. Voelckel & Nolan, the proprietors, have surrounded the famous colored singer with a company of real artists and from the beginning to the end of the performance, there's something doing and that something always brings forth storms of applause from the audience. The company travels in two private cause and will leave this morning for Florence, S. C.

Mr. Walter Floyd, one of the advance representatives of Weber & Fields' great musical success "Hoityall those who are interested in the Toity," which will appear here next question of better conditions in the Thursday evening, spent yesterday in regulation of the liquor traffic, wheththe city. Weber & Fields have established an enviable reputation as leading producers of musical comedy travesties and on the single production of "Hoity-Toity," it is said they have lavished $25,000. It comes to Wilmington with a cast of fifty pecple from a run of one solid year in New York at their celebrated Broadway theatre. The book and lyrics of "Hoity-Toity" are by Edgar Smith, the music by that master musician John Stromberg. The scenery of 'Hoity-Toity" is beautiful, and it is said that the dazzling loveliness and fabulous glory of the costumes will be a revelation, even in these days of utter disregard of money in the staging of musical comedies.

Everywhere Miss Marie Wainwright has appeared in the South this season she has been greeted by large and fashionable audiences and the press comments upon her "Viola" in "Twelfth Night" have been most enthusiastic. She will appear here next Tuesday evening and the sale of seats will begin at Plummer's to-morrow morning. All seats downstairs, with at $350 each, but counsel demurred to the exception of the last four rows, and the first two rows upstairs, will be $1.50. The four rows excepted down enough to ensure the attendants upon | stairs will be $1. The Newport News the higher court. After argument the Press of this week says of Miss Wain-

Miss Marie Wainwright and a well balanced company presented Shakespeare's enjoyable comedy, "Twelfth Nigth," at the Academy of Music yesterday, matinee and night. Where all did well, there is little need of specific praise. As the beautiful and complicated little love story of the master playwright, with its accompaniment of wit and buffoonery, was unfolded, the audience vociferously gave evidence of its approval of the play and players.

Miss Wainwright makes a faultless Viola, Miss Meta Rogers, a splendid and sprightly Olivia, and Miss Stella Machefert as Maria, the mischievous maid, won a large share of the ap-plause. The buffoonery of the play was in the hands of J. K. Applebee, as Sir Toby Belch; Spottiswood Aitken, as Sir Andrew Aguecheck, and Robert Lee Allen, as the clown. Each handled his difficult part with ability. Arthur Row made an exceptionally good Malvolio.

CAN'T TAX SALARIES OF JUDGES.

Supreme Court So Decided in Lengthy Opinion Delivered Yesterday. [Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 15.-In an elaborate opinion delivered to-day the Supreme Court rules in the case of Judge Thos. R. Purnell vs. Sheriff Page, of Wake county, that judges of the United States and State courts and the exclusive officers of those respec tive governments, are not liable for the State tax on incomes, their reason being chiefly that the power to tax includes the power to destroy, and if a State were allowed to tax a United States officer one dollar it might tax him to the full amount of his salary and thus arrest all the measures of government.
