COLLEGE ROWDYISM.

College-boy rowdyism and indecency and their results could hardly have gone further than they went in Brunswick, Me., the other night. The freshmen of Bowdoin Cellege, attired only in their night shirts or pajamas, as they possessed one or the other, were escorted through the town by the sophomores. The procession made its way in most boisterous fashion to the town hall, and after burning red lights, singing songs and making the night hideous with yells, started on the return trip to the college. In the meantime the "hoodlums" of the place had been aroused and stretched a rope across the street at a certain point, and having assembled there in large force, began to pelt the revelers with clods of earth, over-mellow apples and over-ripe eggs. The students, finding themselves greatly outnumbered, deemed discretion the better part of valor and made a break for college quarters, the town mob, which included many grown men, following. The route, however, led through a street that was undergoing repairs, and along which were scattered piles of broken stones, and soon the missiles that came so handy were falling thick and fast upon the retreating column. Scores of undergraduates received severe scalp wounds, the captain of the freshman baseball team was knocked senseless and a is generally appreciated. Its final junior and a sophomore were lugged development will do more to solve off in a critical condition. From all accounts the whole affair was one of the most disgraceful that ever oc curred in a college town, says a contemporary, and "especially so in the myagery of the attack of the citizens."

But an exceedingly more disgusting and disquieting development of the epidemic of rowdyism is the class rush reported from Topeka, Kansas. In that city, on Thursday, on the stage of a public hall and in the presence of five hundred specta- not likely to impress the applicant tors, two classes of girls and young with the importance of the act in woman, about fifty each, lought. Imitating the men students, they undertook to crowd each other from the platform. Dresses were torn, eyes were blacked, hair was pulled, there was hitting and kicking and scratching -- presumably swearing also.

-- The frequency with which dangerous cranks seek to gain access to the President should put an end for all time to these senseless public receptions at which the President is expected to stand up and let hundreds of people file in and shake his hand. The degenerate survival of the royal levee has long been an outrageous nuisance. It has been used for an advertising card for Washington excursion business. parties of tourists have and taken to receptions by guide and put in line to shake hands with the President. Idle curiosity. - Pittsburg Gazette. ---- Men go where a money reward for toil beckons them, and the Life. South offers more inducements in this line than any other section of the footstool. The white man is learning that in no other part of the world is industry so liberally rewarded and the result will be that in a few years the burden of the work in the rejuvena tion and development of the South will be performed by the white men. The negro will be forced into competition with a restless, anergetic class of bread-winners and given to understand that shiftlessness spells hunger. That condition is developing in the South more rapidly than the race problem than all the combined efforts of radical theorists, North or South. - Washington Post.

We have discovered the secret of life and give it free to you. Our mission on earth is to heal the sick and cure the maimed-come unto us, and we will give you health and strength.

A bright star of hope has appeared in the east. An old Indian medicine man worked on this constituent element for years. American physicians and specialisis took hold where their Indian friend left off. At length when failures seemed imminent the secret was discovered. A miraculous combination strange ingredients produced this most mistifying, miraculous and remarkable discovery known in the annals of medical science. To us it has been given this power to bring to the diseased brothers and sisters this price less boon, and even to the ends of the earth we send our message of love, peace and help. #### Vernet at the Sea.

Vernet, the celebrated painter of sea pleces, eager in the study of nature. made several long voyages in his younger days in order to observe the various scenes which the changeful elements exhibit. In one of these excursions undertaken merely for the love of the art a most violent gale of wind arose, when Vernet, without attending to the perils with which he was surrounded, desired one of the sailors to lash him fast to some of the rigging. Soon after this request was granted the storm increased, attended with thunder and lightning and with every circumstance that could add to the horror of the scene, and consternation and terror sat on every countenance, but in the young painter every emotion was lost in that of admiration, which so wholly engrossed his attention that he every now and then exclaimed in the most enthusiastic terms, "Good heavens, what a noble scene!"

It is bad enough when colleges and universities teach boys to be rowdies; but when the evil lesson is extended to the girls the very foundations of decency and civilization are assailed. A rowdy, coarse, immodest, aggressive woman is an abomination, demoralization, disfigurement to any community or people. What hope can there be for a clean, respectable, civilized race of men with the wives, mothers and sisters blackguards and pugilists ?

Here in the South the natural conservatism and sense of personal dignity of the people has checked the tendency to imitate the blackguardism of some of the Northern and Western institutions alleged to be of learning, but on the other side of the Potomac conditions seem to be worse than ever. If they continue, the conservative people of the country who wish their children to be brought up to be something like gentlemen and gentlewomen will keep them at home, and the youth of the future will present as its best testimonial and proudest boast the fact that it never has been at college or exposed to college influences ro examples.

The remedy is in the hands of the authorities of the institutions and the parents of students. If somebody has the nerve to send all the girls who engaged in this affair at Topeks to their homes in disgrace and to be equally severe with the Bowdoin toughs, and if other institutions will refuse to receive them, a vast deal will have been accomplished toward checking that part of the trouble, at least. Public senti. ment throughout the country should be aroused and plainly expressed. We cannot afford to consider such outbreaks indulgently as merely youthful freaks. They are distinct demonstrations of rowdyism of the most violent and threatening kind and ought to be considered and treated in that way. - Richmond News Leader.

How to Cure Colds.

Here are five cures for a cold, says

Household: First, bathe the feet in hot water and drink a pint of hot lemonade; then sponge with salt water and remain in a warm room. Second, bathe the face in very hot water every five minutes for an hour. Third, snuff up the nostrils hot salt water every three hours. Fourth, inhale ammonia or menthol. Fifth, take four hours' exercise in the open air. A ten grain dose of quinine will usually break up a cold in the beginning. Anything that will set the blood actively in circulation will do it; but, better than all, if your cold is inveterate or serious, consult your family doctor, and at once.

How to Remove Tomato Skins. Cover the tomatoes with boiling water for half a minute and then put them in cold water until they become perfectly cold. When this has been done the skin will then come off quite easily and leave the tomato in an unbroken condition and quite firm.

How to Make a Walst Form. From smooth, firm cloth cut a lining coming up beyond the neck line, well down on the arms and below the waist line. Fit perfectly, stitch. Stitch flexible bones on all the seams to give the proper curvatures. Put on, mark waist line and front closing, stitch and bone the closing seam, seam on pieces fitted to neck and arm's eye, stuff firmly with totton or other material. Cut board or basteboard the shape of your form, over with cloth, tack cloth over board or sew to pasteboard, and you will have a very good dummy.

Whales and Bluefish.

The amount of nourishment required to maintain the life of a whale is something which almost passes human imagination. As many as fourteen seals have been taken from the stomach of a sperm whale, says Nature, and his ordinary diet consists of squids, which often weigh several tons. The whalebone whale simply opens his mouth and takes in jellyfish by the wagon load. The bluefish also has an enormous appetite, and it has been estimated that it requires 10,000,000,000 Spirits turpentine steady. sardines to feed 1,000,000,000 bluefish
