FALL SESSION

VOL. LXXIII.-NO. 28.

Wilmington Presbytery Held In teresting and Profitable Meeting at Wallace.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL WORK

Encouraging Reports and Truthfut Discus sion - Adjourned Yesterday Until Spring Session at Whiteville in April-The Schools.

Presbytery which was in session at the construction department of the Wallace since Wednesday morning company and will have headquarters adjourned at 4 o'clock yesterday after- in Atlanta, Ga., having come from noon and members and delegates from that department a little over three this city returned last evening with years ago to assume the management many others from this section, who are passing through on their way to their respective homes. Rev. V. H. Starbuck was moderator of the Presbytery at Wallace and Rev. J. C. Story, of Southport, and Ruling Elders J. H. Moore, of Burgaw, were Eastern Carolins," being a son of the cierks. The attendance was unusually good, each of the 15 active ministers and a goodly number of ruling elders having been present. The church at Wallace is growing in numbers and usefulness. Each day of the Presbytery the hospitable people of that enterprising town and section, spread a bountiful dinner and returning ministers and delegates are profuse in their praise of the way the visitors were taken care of. The Presbytery adjourned to meet at Whiteville on the second Wednesday in April.

The session just ended was conducted especially in the interest of the Sabbath school. The opening sermon Wednesday at 11 A. M. was by Bev. R. M. Mann, of Clinton. He was heard with pleasure and great profit. Wednesday afternoon was taken up with routine business and Wednesday night Rev. J. O. Story preached a sermon of much force and eloquence.

Thursday morning Presbytery listened with great interest to a well-pre- ous up-hill fight a great development pared sermon by Rev. J. M. Wells. Ph. D., of this city, upon "The Reward of the True Teacher;" also, a fine address by Rev. P. McIntyre, of Faison, on "The Influence of the Sunday School on Character." In connection with Rev. Mr. McIntyre's address 17 Bibles were presented to children of his charge for committing to memory the "Shorter Catechism;" also, five testaments to children of his charge for repeating the child's catechism. At the same session Presbytery listened to a splendid address by Dr. W. J. Martin, of Davidson College, upon "The Relation of Minister and Ruling Elder to the Sabbath School." At night a large congregation heard Dr. A. D. McClure, of St Andrew's, Wilmington; in a timely treatment of the subject, "The Duty of the Church to Feed and Shepherd the Children of the Church." Yesterday a popular meeting was held in the interest of "Ministerial Re lief." Presbytery heard interesting discussions by Rev. C. W. Trawick, and Dr. McClure, of Wilmington, and Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff, of Whiteville.

During the sessions it was gratifying to note that the Presbyterial schools all made excellent and encouraging reports, the James Sprunt Institute at Kenansville having to refuse board to students on account of lack of dormitory facilities. The faculty has been enlarged by the addition of four music teachers and another in French and Art. The Preabytery also heard an address during the sessions from Dr. Martin upon the work at Davidson College. The institution has an increased number of students-50 more than ever before. The dormitories there are also filled and there is need of more professors.

A sew committee on Church and Christian Education was formed with Rev. C. W. Trawick, of Wilmington, as chairman. The committee will endeavor to increase interest in the Presbyterial schools and to do more evangelistic work. A committee composed of Rev. Dr. Wells and Rev. Mr. Trawick was empowered to establish a circulating misdonary library for the Presbylery.

New churches were reported organsed at Calypeo and Hallsville, Duplin county. Arrangements were made for the installation of Rev. T. D. Johnson as pastor of the Burgaw group of churches on the second and third Sundays in November.

Much regret was expressed that owing to the health of his wife, Rov. J. C. Story, of Southport, will have to withdraw from the Presbytery and move to another field. He is one of the most popular and earnest young ministers in the Presbytery. He will not, however, leave for the present nor in the immediate future.

WILLS' MUSICAL COMEDY CO.

Scored a filt Last Night in "Sweet Sixteen"-Other Academy Offerings. Counter attractions were responsible for a rather small audience at the Academy last night to witness the opening production of the Wills' Musical Comedy Company, which came from a succession of triumphant engagements elsewhere in the State this season, and presented as the inaugural bill here, "Sweet Sixteen," which was put on with special scenery and a company of twenty people, catch-lined as "mostly girls." Of course the production suffered some by following Weberfield's "Hoity-Tolty," but the show was first-class for the popular prices and everybody was satisfied. The specialties were strong-very strong-and the audience was kept in an uproar of continuous laughter. As a special offering for the ladies and children this afternoon at matinee "Two Old Cronies" will be presented, and the prices will be 15c and 25c. To-night a big spectacular production of "At Atlantic City," with special scenery, will be given. Next week theatre-goers will greet with pleasure again that brilliant young actor, Paul Gilmore, in the great New York success, "Mummy and the Humming Bird." On Thursday night, the Hoyt Comedy Company, for a special one-night engagement, and every evening the following week, the ever popular Mabel Paige Company in a brand new repertoire.

to the K. of P. lodge there. Grand Vice Chancellor Robertson, owing to business engagements, was unable to go.

- A runsway horse at Third and Market street yesterday afternoon knocked down one of the supports to the slack wire artist's paraphernalia there. ### CLOSE OF CARNIVAL.

Midway Still Thronged With Pleased People and Unpleasant Confetti Throwers.

THE FIREWORKS DISPLAY.

Was "N. G."-Junior Order Will Make Pleancial Success of the Venture. Layton Company Goes to Monroe, and Plans for Cuba.

The fourth and next to the last day beaviest increase being in the latter. of the street fair and carnival was Spirits closed yesterday steady at 56c.; without special incident yesterday and receipts 83 casks. last night. The crowds continued to diminish to some extent but there was "plenty doing" on the midway to at. tract the casual stroller and remind the people that the season of merrymaking was not quite over. To-day, the last of the week, will be Saturday, and the carnival management will put forth extra effort to merit the increased patronage that will naturally follow pay-day at the various industrial plants. It is announced that the sev. eral attractions will remain open until midnight and the carnival district will be crowded, if the weather doesn't in-The Layton Company leaves Sunday on a special train for Monroe, N. U., where a street fair will be held un. der the auspices of the volunteer fire department of that city all next week. From that point the aggregation will go South and expects to embark for Cuba in the Winter. The carnival here has been a success, considered from many points of view. The attractions are all clean and there is none of the questionable gaming which has been an objectionable feature of previous engagements of its kind. It is gratifying to state that financially the Jr. O. U. A. M. has already made a success of the affair. They encountered untold objection in their efforts and were handicapped with their preparations at every point of the compass. They endured patiently and meekly subof Wilmington appreciate his efforts them. They are now triumphant, and will sincerely regret to lose him from a financial and moral standpoint, and it is a real pleasure to say so. Early in the week their proportion of the revenue had paid all expenses, and now they're on easy street, with every indication of making a net profit of not less than $500. The "Country Store" in the hands of the Daughters of Liberty has contributed to a good share of the profit, and the ladies are to be congratlated upon their success. Last night they had proposed to raffle off a couple of shot guns in the same way and manner in which such contools are usually carried on at church and fraternal order fairs, but some esptious critic pronounced it "gambling," and at once they desisted, to > their credit. As to the fireworks last night at Ninth and Red Cross. B-u-m spells bum, and that describes the pyrotechnics for the want of a stronger word. Mont Pelee didn't erupt, and after the first two or three bunches of rockets and crackers went off, a dry goods box on the end of a pole caught fire and the people stood and saw the Pelee manipulators put it out, wondering all the while if there was "any more." Salutes fired by a detachment of the Wilmington Division Naval Reserves from their one-pound Hotchkiss gun was the biggest part of the performance. The management announced to those who privately asked for satisfaction that an accident had befel the manipulation of the works, but to a man up a tree, inside the enclosure on a pass, it looked like the only accident was in not buying enough fireworks to light up the scenery. However, the charitable view of the situation is that the company was goaded by the newspapers and the public to giving the exhibition when they were not prepared for it. The exhibition was inside a canvas enclosure and a fee of 25c. was charged for admission. By for the largest crowd stood on the outside and saw-the display, of course.

CLOSE OF THE STATE PAIR.

Marshals' Ball Crowning Succes-Col. Morton Honored by Aides.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 23.-The State Fair came to a brilliant close to-night with the marshals' ball, led by Col. Geo. L. Morton, chief marshal, with Miss Newland, of Newbern, to whom he presented his regalis. He presented as souvenirs to each lady exquisite pearl and satin fans and handsome golf bags, in each of which is a beautiful selection of silver breast pin fans and bags, which bear the inscription:

'Marshais' Ball, State Fair, 1903." Col. Morton's aides presented to him a handsome gold watch, W. D. Merritt, of Roxboro, making the presenta-tion speech. He said in part: "The curtain has gone down upon the greatest Fair in the history of the State, and you, sir, have played a true and faithful part. It has been the custom on the part of the assistant marshals to present their chief with some token of regard and esteem, and had there been no such custom this night would mark the beginning of one. In accordance with the wishes of my associates, those you have chosen as your aides, I have the pleasure and honor of presenting you this beautiful gold watch. Accept it, we pray you, not so much on account of its intrinsic value and usefulness, but as an evidence of our affection and admiration for you. As you carry it on your person, may its gentle tickings ever remind you of those friends whose hearts beat with love and loyalty to you and its smooth face call to your memory the faces of absent ones who can never forget. May each second it records bring you unalloyed joy, may all your fondest hopes and ambitions become most pleasing realities. Accept it with the full assurance we ever hold you, our worthy chief, in grateful remem berance, and cherish recollections of this occasion as our sweetest pages in history ever lived."

The watch bears on the inside the inscription, "Presented to Geo. L. Morton, Chief Marshal, by his aides." On the outside, "G. L. M., 1903." Col. Morton gracefully accepted the token, expressing thanks to the State Fair officials, marshals and others who have been so kind to him in his work of the chief marshalship. He paid an eloquent tribute to the ladies who graced the marshals' ball.

THE SUPERIOR COURT Judge Brown Will Either Continue

or Remove the Terry Murder Trial.

THE PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY

Plaintiff Sneeden Pails to Recover for Damage to Shade Tree-Ocean View Co. vs. Mercer & Phares - Sults Against Corporations.

Judge Brown in the Superior Court at noon yesterday announced to counsel on both sides of the case that he had not yet determined what he would do in the motion for a change of venue in the Terry murder case, but that he would say for the information of attorneys for the defendant, that he would either continue the cause until the next term of New Hanover Superior Court which convenes here Monday, Nov. 30th., or he would remove the trial to another county. Judge Brown will make up his decision and announce it later during the present term. There is much speculation as to which county the case would be sent Indies. The "Haywood" cleared from in the event His Honor's decision would be for a removal. Many were of the opinion Thursday that it would go to Duplin, in which event it would be tried week after next, but yesterday well informed persons said they thought it would go to Pender, the next term of which court is for one week and will not meet until Jan. 11th. The next term of Onslow court is Dec. 7th. Brunswick court doesn't meet until March 21st, next year, and that county being in another district, it is hardly thought it would be removed there. Columbus court, also in another district, convenes Nov. 30th.

Judge Brown does not say when he will announce his decision. When the case was first called early in the week after Terry was arraigned, councontinuance. This was overruled and next Monday was set for the trial. The defence then made a motion Wednesday for removal to another county and read affidavits setting forth that the defendant could not get a fair trial in New Hanover county. Yesterday the State produced a number of affidavits stating that Terry could get a fair trial in New Hanover and resisted the motion to remove. Other Court Proceedings.

Court met as usual at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Of the jurors summoned for the day the sheriff returned the following: Reuben Grant, Henry C. Bear, E. D. Craig, W. Russell Middleton, Chas. W. Craig, R. Lee Holmes, W.J. Crosswell, Jr., J. M. Holmes, D. J. George, Rod. MacRae.

Upon the conclusion of the evidence in the case of Jos. S. Sneeden vs. C. R. L. & P. Co., the court rendered an opinion and judgment to the effect that it is admitted that defendant is a public corporation operating electric lights, etc., in the city of Wilmington: that it is admitted that defendant, without consent of plaintiff, did cut and injure a shade tree on southwest corner of Fourth and Queen streets in said city on the outer edge of the sidewalk at a gutter, for the purpose of passing its wires above said shade tree and preventing contact with its body and limbs; that it was admitted that defendant was empowered to do so by the mayor of Wilmington pursuant of section 33 of the charter, page 41. The court is therefore of the opinion that the electric light wire constructed and operated along the public streets are not such additional servitudes as will give abutting property owners right to receive damages; that although the tree was in front of plaintiff's residence, the is not entitled to recover. It was ordered that the action be dismissed and defendant recover costs of plaintiff. Plaintiff excepted and appealed to Suprereme Court. Bond was fixed at $25. In the case of H. M. Bowden, trustee against Iredell Meares and Thos. D. Meares, judgment was signed dismissing the action; defendants to pay costs according to terms of the compromise.

In the damage suit of J. L. Love against the Carolina Central Railroad Co., judgment was signed according to compromise; defendant to pay costs. In the matter of W. T. Dortch, adm'r., Atlas J. Grady, A. D. Ward and Jno. E. Swinson against W. T. Bannerman and wife, judgment was signed placing possession of lands in witnessas. Robert Myer, colored, submitted to gambling and was required to pay

The most important cases of the day were those of the County Commissioners of New Hanover and State of North Carolina against the Armour Packing Co., Swift & Co. and Standard Oil Co., involving payment of certain license taxes imposed by the last Legislature. It was agreed to try the case against one of the defendants and allow others to stand by a decision in that one. That against the Armour Packing Co. was taken up: a jury trial was waived and by agreement it was left to the court to find the facts. The case was argued by Rountree & Carr for plaintiffs and Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy and James H. Pou, Esq , for the defendants.

When a recess was taken at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the court was in vited to attend.
