WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV.

THE BXTEA SESSION.

As the extra session of Congress, which convenes next Monday, will have only four weeks before the beginning of the regular session, on the first Monday in December, and as it usually takes Congress a week to get down to routine work, it is not likely that there will be any consideration of general matters outside of the specific object of the Partisan sparring for posisession. tion may lead to the introduction of many measures, but it is not likely that they will receive consid- he says, "about their looks or their eration.

We think it is likely that Congressman Hardwick is correct in believing that a majority of Democrats will vote for the confirmation of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba. This treaty which was ratified by the Senate months ago has to be passed upon by the House because of its revenue features. It will be remembered that the treaty, in return for the favorable admission into Cuba of various products of this country, admits Cuban sugar into the United States at a reduction of twenty per cent. from the regular duties.

The opposition to the measure is expected from Republican congressmen from the Northwest, who are acting in the interest of the beet sugar industry in the United States, and no doubt they will have the cooperation of members from Louisiana. Friends of the treaty declare it will not in any way affect the price of best sugar and the American Beet Sugar Company is taking no part in the opposition. The confirmation of the treaty will only be acting in good faith with Cubs, and there is little reason to doubt fayorable action by the extra session. It a said that President Roosevelt will reserve his measage on the general affairs of the country for the first Monday in December, and his message to the extra session will be a comparatively brief document devoted almost exclusively to the Cuban treaty. Hon. Serene E. Payne, of New York, will continue at the head of the Ways and Means Committee in the new Congress, and it is an-Memphis Commercial-Appeal, Dem. nounced that Hon. James A. It has been discovered that British soldiers have been getting drunk on powder, not the historically romantic drunk of the powder fumes in battle, such as one reads of in books, but the regulation guard house sort, caused by eating cordite. This pleasant pastime was discovered by Tommy Atkins while in South Africa, and cordite first intoxicates him and then makes him very sick. Cordite looks something like vermicelli and is said to taste sweet and pleasant.

A farmer from Buckeye, Arizona, has written a letter to Eastern citisens saying that he can "place" several car loads of women if they are forwarded to the Territory at once. By this statement he is understood to mean that he can provide husbands for a job lot of ladies without "We are not particular," trouble.

Senator Morgan is preparing to bring his heavy oratorical guns into action against the Panama canal project at the extra session of Congress, which meets November 9th, for the purpose of considering the plied. question of reciprocity with Cuba. And the old gentleman carries some

The Cuban sugar crop is thrown upon the market about Dec. 1st and unless the reciprocity treaty is ratified the sugar growers will not receive the benefits which it grants them, which would be a serious loss. -----WILL PENSIONS DECLINE :

According to the estimates just submitted by the Secretary of the Interior a smaller appropriation will be required for pensions the next fiscal year, beginning July 1st, 1904. Commissioner Ware calculates that 50,000 names will be lost to the pension rolls by death or otherwise, causing a reduction in the expenses of the bureau of $1,695,000. The rat is, as no one will doubt. very fair climber. He can scamper about anywhere on the roof of a barn or can ascend the ivy that grows on the house wall and make the lives of the pigeons in their cots anything but happy ones. The rabbit, on the other hand, is not usually accounted a c abing animal. A writer in Field describes the astonishment of his sisters at seeing a rabbit jump from the bough of a tree and picking himself up, "scamper off rather dazed to his warren." Wherever a rabbit is found in a tree except when he is carried there by flood or left there by a receding snowdrift, it will be found that a sloping bank or other easy method of approach has been made use of. He is, however, very expert at climbing stone walls that bound his fields and even the wire netting that the farmer vainly imagines will keep him from the choicest crops. We have seen rabbits run up the face of a quarry to their holes toward the top, a feat which we have not found it easy to imitate.

Wax From Trees. The wax palm of the Andes is a vegetable wonder. It grows to a height of nearly 200 feet and thrives not only on the plains, but the mountains. The wood is tough and durable and is employed in carpentry. The wax comes from the pits between the trunk and fronds. It is yellow or grayish white, is as pure as beeswax and is used for
