A RUNAWAY ENGINE. J. M. SOLKY & COMPANY.

Narrow Escape of Big Fire Department Machine, the Driver and Team.

RAN DOWN PRINCESS STREET.

Parting of Collar on One Horse and Disarrangement of Lines Endangered Life and Property-Hereic Efforts of Bystanders.

But for the exercise of rare presence of mind on the part of the driver and the performance of an heroic act by Mr. Ned Grafton, of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co's. branch office in this city, the big Sileby engine of Fire Engine Company No. 1. Fourth and Princess streets, the two heavy draft horses attached to the ponderous machine which weighs over 5,000 pounds, and Driver Ernest Burris, would have plunged into the river with terrible consequences at Princess street dock last night shortly before 7 o'clock. None the less heroic was the act of Mr. Charlie Gordon, who previously, at Front and Princess streets, attempted to check the frenzied horses as, from under control, they dashed down the thoroughfare to what seemed imminent destruction. A runaway fire engine, with smoke pouring from its funnel and leaving in its wake a path of red hot coals, and lumbering at terrific rate down the sharp incline of a well paved street, while big horses with distended nostrils jerked it to and fro, is not the sight one sees on the streets every day, but last night it was the intensely exciting cause for the shudder of hundreds of people who witnessed the spectacle from the crowded sidewalks on Princess streets from Fourth to the river. An slarm was sent in to the department from box 17, Fifth and Nixon streets, at 6:50 o'clock. The hose reel wagon at Fourth street station was out and gone up Fourth street in an instant. The big engine was not a second behind. Driver Burris jumped on the high seat and Engineer Russell having touched off the inflammable material in the furnace, jumped upon the low step at the rear. The big doors of the station flew open and out dashed the engine. At the turn in the driveway the collar on the "right-hand" horse parted and the harness with the reins dropped off, leaving only the one horse under partial control. Instead of turning up Fourth street, the horses-one of them absolutely free and running by instinct-wheeled down Princess street. Engineer Russell shouted to the driver that he had mistaken the alarm, but the driver had made no mistake; he was simply powerless to control the animals, who ran like fiends to keep ahead of the big engine, as its momentum increased with every foot from Second to Fourth and the laying of an extensive drainage system on the same thoroughfare between the river and Fourth street were open ed by the Streets and Wharves Committee of the Board of Aldermen at the Mayor's office yesterday. There were present at the opening of the properate, Mayor Springer and Aldermen W. H. Yopp and Jnc. H. Sweeney, composing the committee; City Engineer S. P. Adams, Capt. W. H. Northrop, Jr., clerk of the Board of Audit and Finance, Superintendent of Streets Woolard and Mr. B. F. King, Jr., of Roger Moore's Sons & home. Co., and Capt. E. G. Parmele, the two last named representing the bid-

For the drainage there were three bidders but the contract was awarded to W. E. Glenn for $3,250. The other bidders were Roger Moore, $3,500 and E. G. Parmele $3,700. The pipe has already been ordered for the drainage and will be on the ground within 30 days. The work is required to be completed within 60 days after arrival of the material. Reference has been made several times as to the details of the plans for the drainage.

For the paving contract there were paly two bids and each was irregular. The bidders were Roger Moore and E. G. Parmele, the last named being the lowest. Each of the two offered the Georgia vitrified brick or block, but had previously been tested by the committee. Mr. Moore accompanied his bid by a certified check for $500 as required in the call, but Capt. Parmele did not. Those slight irregularities left the committee in doubt as to what to do and no definite action will be taken until another meeting on Wednesday night of this week. The committee is very desirous of awarding the contract without the delay incident to calling for new bids again, if t can be avoided.

DRUNKEN NEGRO SHOP-LIFTER.

The papers were filed last Thursday and a meeting of creditors is appointed Captured in Rather Unusual Masner Last Night-At Police Station.

An unknown negro shop-lifter, who was too drunk to tell his name to the police, is locked up at the police station for preliminary trial Monday. Early last night Mr. J. R. Moore was passing on the south side of Market street, when he saw a negro emerge from Taylor's Bezzar, or a store in that vicinity, with an arm full of dry goods novelties. The negro accidentally dropped a number of the articles and Mr. Moore called to him to stop. Although very drunk, the negro instinctively ran. Mr. Moore, however, soon caught him and turned him over to Policeman N. N. King, on corner of Second and Market streets.

The negro was drunk; there was no feigning, and he was sent up to the police station with the goods, which wait identification. There are a lady's work basket, a purse, several hand bags and other articles.

CONVICTED OF MURDER IN DUPLIN George Daniels' Pleas of Insanity and

case of State vs. Geo. Daniels, for the murder of Will Maxwell, was called at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Out of a special venire of 135 and the regular jury twelve men were selected by noon. The defendant interposed two pleas-insanity and self-defence The State introduced Rufus Stroud, who saw the shooting, the coroner and a few other witnesses and rested in less than two hours. The defendant introduced a large number of character witnesses and proof of his insanity. and went on the stand in his own behalf. The evidence was closed by Thursday at 4 o'clock, and counsel began the argument, which was conluded by the dinner hour Friday. Judge G. H. Brown began charging the jury about 3:30 Friday afternoon. The charge was brief and to the point; in fact, was considered an able and fair exposition of the law. After leaving the question of insanity to the jury the court charged in substance, that if they passed this ques-tion, that if the jury believed the defendant's own statement on the stand he was guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury took the case about 4 P. M. and returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree at 5:45. Bolicitor Duffy and Carlton & Williams represented the State and Stevens & Beasley the defendant. The verdict is approved by the public. An appeal was taken after Daniels was sentenced to hang Jan. 13th, 1904.
