HANDSOME GOLD MEDALS.

Three Established for High School by Public Spirited Citizens-To be Awarded Commencement.

As an incentive to more thorough work and proficiency in their studies by the students of the Wilmington High School, three leading citizens of IN Wilmington have established gold medals to be contested for each year by the graduating class at the popular institution named above and to be awarded at commencement.

One medal will be for the best essay, another for the highest distinction in Latin and the other for proficiency in mathematics.

Only members of the graduating class will be allowed to compete for the prizes. A committee will be appointed to decide upon the best essay. The faculty will point out the students standing highest in Latin and mathematics. One student will be allowed to take only one medal. In case one student stands highest in two of the branches, the two standing second best will receive one of the

Medals have never before been offered in the Wilmington public schools and the three now established promise to create a friendly and interesting rivalry among the pupils, which will no doubt result in much good. The names of the donors will not be announced until commencement, the one for the best essay being by a leading member of the Wilmington bar and the other two by prominent busi-Superintendent J. J. Blair has announced to the pupils of the High School that the medals will be awarded and the conditions under which they will be given.

A BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

Complaint Filed in Action for the Recovery of $5,000 by Hugh Schwartz.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Lineman Who Fell From Pole and Was lojured Last August Alleges That He Was Knocked Off by Electric Current--Interesting Case.

Complaint was filed yesterday in $5,000 damage suit which Messrs. Russell & Gore have brought against the Consolidated Railways, Light and Power Co., in behalf of their client, Hugh Schwartz, the lineman who fell from a post, near Front and Grace street, last August and received injuries, which at first were thought fatal. The case will likely not be reached at the next term of court, as most of the one week allotted will be taken up with the Terry murder trial. Mesars. Davis & Davis and perhaps other attorneys will appear for the defendant corporation. The complaint to which Schwartz makes affidavit sets forth in the opening section that the defendant is a corporation duly existing under the laws of North Carolins, etc., and continues with the allegations that on or about Aug. 25th, 1903, plaintiff was in the employ of the defendant by contract in the capacity of painter, to paint the trolley poles of the company along the line of its railroad in the city of Wil

That the defendant, disregarding its duty to protect its employes and the public from the danger of dangerous electric currents, so carelessiy, negligently and unskilfully constructed and maintained its electric line, that it provided an unsafe, defective and insecure insulated bell or clasp to which the corner of Front and Grace streets, as it well knew or had reason to know, but of which the plaintiff did not know and had not the means of

That because of said negligence of the defendant, while plaintiff was in the discharge of his duties as painter and while painting a pole near Front and Grace streets, by reason of said unsafe, defective and insecurely insulated bell, while standing on the span wire connected to said pole and the defective bell or trolley wire supporter and touching the ground wire, received a terrific and powerful electric shock and was thrown headlong from the pole a distance of 25 feet to the brick pavement below. Concluding the complaint sets forth that plaintiff was laid up in the hospital for five weeks with great suffering and expense and that he is permanently injured in his hips, being now unable to perform his duties as lineman or electrician or do any other hard manual labor to his damage in the sum of $5,000, which amount with the cost is asked of the court.

THE PICTURE OVERDRAWN.

Mr. E. A. Moore, of Currie, Corrects Palse Impressions of Atlanta Visit.

Mr. E. A. Moore, of Currie, Pender county, who was the gentleman referred to in the dispatch from Atlanta, printed in the STAR yesterday morning, called at the office last night and asked that the statements of the Georgia reporter be corrected. Mr. Moore says that the affair was made a "mountain out of a mole hill." He simply called at the school house to see his children and took his little son for a walk down town and made a few purchases for him, as any father would do; that he had no idea of abducting the child and all reports of threats are absolutely without foundation. He regrets the unpleasant notoriety and says the picture of the "sensation at the school"was very much overdrawn. This statement of the affair is given in justice to Mr. Moore, who is a member of one of the leading families of his section. He appears to have been a victim of the over-sensational Atlanta newspaper man.

Articles Will be Called for Next Wednesday- DeRosset's Store. The ladies of the North Carolina Sprosin beg to announce that the Rummege Sale already mentioned in torse columns has been postponed for several days owing to the inability to secure the store at the time proposed. All friends who have so kindly promised articles for this worthy undertaking may expect them to be called for on Wednesday, the 18th, instead of on next Saturday as previously stated It is hoped the delay will be of value as it will allow more time for searching those well filled store rooms which we feel sure our friends will be happy to investigate for so good a cause.

A telephone message can be sent to any member of the club who will gladly place it in the hands of the proper committee. The store secured for this sale is the one now occupied by Mr. R. DeRosset, 107 Market street.

HENRY E DIXEY 10-NIGHT.

Distinguished New York Comedian in Successful Comedy at the Academy.

To-night Henry E. Dixey will present at the Academy "Facing the Music." The story of the comedy is something like this: A young husband whose wife is away from home on a visit is suddenly beset by a succession of mishaps. It transpires that living on the same block with the young husband, whose name is Smith, is a curate, whose name also is Smith. Like the plain Mr. Smith, the Rev. Smith is married, and to a young wife. Like his citizen namesake also, the churchman's wife is away from home. Returning home, in her husband's temporary absence, the wife of the curate, through a very natural and very ingenious situation, takes up her abode in the home of the plain Smith, the plain Smith, at the hour of her arrival being rather frivolously elsewhere than at his own fireside. The comic woes of the four Smiths and a host of other incidental folks, as consequences of this mix up, are said to be excrutlatingly funny. The piece laughed its way through a run of two hundred nights at the Garrick Theatre within the year, and Chicago roared at it all
