EARLY MORNING FIRE.

Four Thousand Barrels of Rosin and 1,500 Cross-Ties Went Up in Smoke.

THE DAMAGE ABOUT $8,500.

Splendid Services of the Steam Tog "Marion"-Pire Engine to Relief. Vessel and Warehouse Endangered-The Issurance.

Fire of an unknown origin which started shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning near the centre of the extensive naval store yards of the D. McEschern Company, on the west side of the river, nearly opposite Market street dock, destroyed upwards of 4,000 barrels of rostn belonging to the McEachern Co. and Paterson, Downing & Co., and between 1,500 and 3,000 cross ties belonging to the B. F. Keith Co. The property loss in the rosin is about $8,000 and in the crossties approximately $500, all of which is fully covered by insurance. For a time the large warehouse of the Mc-Eachern Company on the grounds and in which were stored 140 casks of spirits turpentine, was threatened as was also the schooner "Loring C. Ballard" in which were loaded about 14,000 cross-ties. The vessel had just completed receiving her cargo at an adjoining wharf and the burning of the warehouse would have meant the destruction of the schooner.

The steam tug "Marion," Captain Edgar D. Williams, had fortunately fired up a short time before the alarm was given and was about in readiness at her wharf at foot of Nun street to proceed to the compress to take the British steamer "Heathford" to the coal chute on slack water. She lost no time in reaching the scene of the fire and thosellin, the spot marvelled at her promptness. The alarm went in at 5:17 and at 5:35 the "Marion" had a stream on the red flame through the dense black smoke. But for the services of the boat the warehouse age. It is interesting to note, WASHINGTON, Nov. 19,-For North | would undoubtedly have gone and as was called to mind yester-Fietcher, who was aboard the schooner, said he was awakened by the alarm, but thought the fire was in town. In a few moments the second mate came down and told him of the danger to the schooner. By the time he could dress and get on deck, the "Marion" was steaming up to the wharf and the fire was gaining headway towards the warehouse. With the assistance of Chief Schnibben and two firemen a full stream from the "Marion" was put into play and after a while the flames were checked. The "Marion" then kept the fire subdued until half an hour later when Engine-No. 2, from Fourth and Princess street fire station was towed over by the tug "Navama" on one of the large lighters of the Acme Tea Chest Co. The additional stream and one later from the steamer "Wilmington" finally extinguished the fiames about 11 o'clock. Capt. Fletcher, of the schooner which was in danger, says that he is satisfied that but for the prompt work of the "Marton," the entire yard and warehouse would have gone. The "Marion" remained by the fire until 6:30 o'clock at the sacrifice of the personal interest of its master at the Compress. The service of the tug in this and other similar instances in the past should be recognized in substantial

The alarm was sent to the department from box 41 by Policeman Jno. R. Hardee, who discovered the flame when it was only slightly larger than a single barrel on fire. Fire in a naval store yard with a wide river to cross on an intensely cold morning, however, make the proposition a hard one for the firemen. All hands did well in reducing the property loss to the minimum which they did.

Wonderful Possibilities of English Tramp tlad She Been Available in '63,

The STAR has referred to the coming of the fine steamship "Anglo Saxon." A view from her upper bridge while she lies in one of the Champion Compress docks is most interesting, as she towers nearly a hundred feet above the level of the nearer ships. Her affable commander, Captain Perry, remarked to a STAR reporter that he was master of the British barque "Atawhelpea" in 1863, and that while at sea in that ship he was overhauled by the Confederate Corvette "Florids," commanded by the late Captain John Newland Maffitt, of Wilmington, who, after ascertaining that he was a genuine neutral, courteously permitted him to proceed on his voythat if such a ship as the "Anglo Saxon" had been available as a blockade runner in Wilmington in 1863, while cotton was sold at the equivalent price of five cents in gold in the Confederacy and at over $1.00 in gold in England, she would have cleared a profit in one voyage of nine million dollars in gold, to say nothing about the inward cargo which might have raised the profit on one round voyage to ten and a quarter million dollars gold, estimating her cotton capacity at the record-breaking complement of 18,000 bales.

THE GASTLE HAYNES FERRY.

Joint Meeting Yesterday of Commissioner of New Hanover and Pender.

The commissioners of New Hanover and Pender counties met in joint session yesterday at Castle Haynes for the purpose of considering the maintenance of a free ferry over Northeast river, either by purchase, or lease of the present ferry or the establishment of a new ferry. Those present from New Hanover were Chairman D. McEachern, Msj. Wm. F. Robertson and Messrs. H. L. Vollers and M. W. Divine, while Chairman K. F. Powers, of Pender, represented the Board of that county."

The premises along the river were examined very closely by the commissioners and subsequently a formal meeting was held with Chairman K. F. Powers presiding and Mr. M. W. Divine acting as secretary. Nothing definite was arrived at and upon motion a joint committee from the two boards was appointed to report on the advisability of establishing a new ferry or the purchase or lease of the present Blossom told ferry. "In order to establish lines, etc., the committee was instructed to procure a copy of the charter of the Blossom ferry, look into the matter very thoroughly and report at the earliest practicable time.

The joint committee is composed of Chairman K. F. Powers and Commissioners F. P. Flynn and George J. Moore, of Pender; Chairman D. Mac. Eachern and Messrs. Robertson and Vollers, of New Hanover.

MEETING OF U. D. C.

Interesting Report of the General Convention in Charleston Last Week.

GEORGE DAVIS MONUMENT.

Concerted Effort Urged Upon Members o Cape Fear Chapter-Annual Meeting in December-Other Notes of U. D. G. Interest.

The regular monthly meeting of Cape Fear Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, held yesterday after noon in the W. L. I. armory, was of more than the usual interest from the fact that a most comprehensive report of the recent general convention in Charleston was submitted by Mrs. Junius Davis and was heard by the Chapter with great pleasure. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. M. 8 Willard, the president, and Mrs. W. G. Pulliam was in attendance as secretary. A large number of members were present.

The Treasurer reported that the Chapter is now on a very sound financial basis. Concerted effort was urged upon member in the matter of the George Davis monument and much interest was manifested in the cause. Attention was called to the fact that the next regular meeting on Dec. 19th will be the annual session for the election of officers and the transaction of other important business. Mrs. Davis' excellent report of the Charleston gathering is as follows: Report to the Cape Fear Chapter of the Proceedings of the Tenth Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The tenth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was opened on the 11th of November, 1903, in Hibernian Hall, Charleston, S. C., by Bishop Capers of that State himself a veteran. Gov. Heyward and Mayor Smythe were on the platform to welcome us to their State and

I would like to say first that what struck me most forcibly in this convention was the fact that though North Carolina had one of the smallest delegations there, she was well represented in the delegations from many of the other States. The presi-Carolina woman. Ohio's president. Louisiana's and Missouri's are all women from the Old North State, A lady from Southern Virginia told me that nearly every member in her chapter entered on the record of a North Carolina soldier. Of the work done in this convention.

I think the most important was the acceptance of Mr. Valentine's beautiful plans for the monument to our beloved president, Mr. Davis, I suppose some of you have seen his design. I have a description of it here. It is to cost complete $70,000. We have on hand $63,000, of which amount North Carolina gave $2,800, leading all the States in the contribution to the monument fund. She must not stop here, however, for Georgia has already promised to raise here to $3,-000 before the year is out,

Another thing finally decided was that the Veteran's Cross of Honor should go at his death, to his eldest lineal descendant, male or female, or, in case of his dying without heirs or without leaving it by will to some one, it must be placed in his State Museum, if there be one, or sent to the Museum in Richmond. An amendment to the Constitution was adopted that any woman, wife of a Confederate soldier, could become a member of our organization. The Chapter at Union Springs, Als. endeavored to have passed a resolution asking all Chapters to abandon their Sunday observances of Memorial Day. This was lost, and it seems that Christian women all over the United States look upon their Sunday Memorial service as the most sacred and impressive of them all. Mrs. Dowdell, of Alabama, presented a resolution for the appointment of a committee to confer with Veterans and Sons of Veterans and collect all the words that had been written to the tune of Dixle and report to the next convention the most suitable to be adopted as our National song. The historical committee made fine report and recommended a list of books for use in public schools and families, which list will soon be published.

A resolution was passed at a meeting of the state historians that hereafter state presidents and historians request publishers to send them notice when receiving works in which Southern history is touched upon. Another attempt to get the right for state presidents to vote for chapters not represented by delegates or proxies was defeated after discussion. There was a report from the Hampton Monumental committee showing $789.75 collected. When the nominations were in or der, Texas with her 183 votes very gracefully presented the name of our first president, Mrs. W. M. Paraley, for custodian of the Cross of Honor, but it was not voted on at all, Mrs. Olds withdrawing it immediately.

"I was a great disappointment and sur-prise to the entire North Carolina delegation, for we had reason to believe that Mrs. Parsley would be elected. A resolution was pussed allowing the "Children of the Confederacy" seats upon the floor during the proceedings of the convention.

All members of the U. D. C. are instructed to stand when Dixie is played or sung. The convention just closed showed an increase in membership, new chapters organized in various places, good work done in each of the States represented and increase of interest. These facts were proven by the State reports. We were entertained in Charleston with lavish hospitality-not only by the Daughters of by the Sons of Veterans, the Colonial Dames, the Commercial Club, the Confederated Woman's Club, at the Confederate Home and by the city officials themselves. We visited on Saturday Forts Sumter and Moultrie, where the United States officers received us with great courtesy and politeness to the strains of Dixie and showed us through the forts. On Sunday there was a special service for the Daughters at the old Colonial church at Goose Creek, built in 1706. On the altar is the British coat of arms, which, they say, saved the church from destruction during the revolu-

Delightful Reception Last Evening at the Y. M. S. A .- Musical Programme, Dr. McClure's Address.

The reception to the shopmen of the A. C. L. at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, while not so largely attended, was nevertheless a delightful success. A goodly number of visitors with members of their families and lady friends were present and the various features of entertainment pro yided were of an exceptionally high order.

fine address by Rev. Dr. A. D. Mc-Clure, the popular pastor of St. Audrew's Presbyterian church, on "The Dignity of Labor." Dr. McClure was presented by Mr. J. T. King, chairman of the Social Committee of the Y. M. C. A., under the auspices of which the reception was given, and the speaker engaged the undivided attention of his hearers every moment he spoke. Dr. McOlure said the dignity of anything consists of its being worthy of respect and that the dignity of labor consisted in work done for the support of those dependent upon one, for helping in the home as a training for better usefulness in making the world better and preparing one's self for better usefulness, and that we had in this the example of Christ himself. In John 5 17, it is said "My Father Worketh Hitherto and I Work;" for God works in Providence and Christ works in salvation and the Holy Spirit works with both of these in grace and strength. Wnether we work with hands, heads or hearts-and we ought to work with all—the true dignity of labor consists in doing the best with our own powers, helping others and making the world better.

The address was delivered in the auditorium of the building and seated on the stage besides Dr. McClure were Dr. W. C. Galloway and Secretary Charles Dushan, of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. J. T. King, Messrs. Z. E. Murrell, G. F. Quinn, J. A. McGeachy and W.

L. Williams. The exercises opened with a selection, "Sleep on Thy Pillow," by a male uartette consisting of Mesars. Wilbur Dosher, Albert Dosher, Willie McGirt and Willie Muse, with Mr. J. W. Fleet, accompanist. The next selection was a plano solo "Polonaise in A" (Chopin) by Mr. James Charles Oraft, followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. F. A. Muse and Mr. Chas. Dushan with Mrs. Mattie L. Chasten, accompanist.

Following the address of Dr. Mc Olure the audience was delighted with a soprano solo, selected, by Miss Martha Lee Horne with Prof. A. H. Yopp, accompanist. The concluding number was a humorous selection by the male quartette, "Jonah and the Whale."

The audience was then invited to another apartment of the building where delightful refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Association.

THE CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

Description of Handsome Memorial as Made by the Designer.

In connection with the report of the general convention of the U. D. O. in Charleston last week by Mrs. Junius Davis to Cape Fear Chapter of this city, yesterday afternoon, the following description of the Confederate monument to be erected in Richmond will be of interest. It is from the News and Courier's account of the proceedings: A semi-circular colonnade, with dimensions across the open end of about fifty-two feet, the columns supporting an ornamental cornice, the top of which would be eighteen feet from the ground level. This colonnade, or architrave, will carry a half circle seat, and this on a platform about three steps above ground. In the centre of this half circle will stand a bronze statue of Jefferson Davis, and behind him a Confederate column, fifty-six feet high, will rise, the top to carry a bronze statute of a woman. This latter is to be an allegorical figure, pointing Heavenward, while just beneneath, in the bronze inscription, will be the words, "Deo Vindices." column will have other inscriptions, beginning low down with "Fort Sumter," and concluding with "Appomattox." The great seal of the Confederacy will be shown in bronze relief panels on the column. "At the base of and between the granite columns of the architrave will be the coats of arms of the States that took part in the war for Southern intependence and historical inscriptions on various and many tablets. The inscriptions are to be of historical character and will show some of the brave deeds of Southern men, from the earliest days of the colonies to 1861. The bronze statue of Davis will stand on a granite pedestal, simply inscribed with his name, date and place of birth and death, and the words,

"The first and only President of the Confederacy." The figure will be made with one hand resting upon an open history and the other pointing to the deeds and acts of great Southerners in the times past, as much as to say to the stranger and student, "sur rounded as I am by such truths and

CRUSHED OUT.

Owen D. Hansley Met Tragic Death in A. C. L. Yards Last Night.

CIRCUMSTANCES UNKNOWN.

His Mangled Body Pound Under a Shiftlog Eogine - Presumed That He Attempted to Board a Train to Return Home.

The chief feature of the evening was Owen D. Hansley, aged about 35 years and a truck farmer living near Castle Haynes, this county, was hor. ribly crushed to death on the A. C. L. yards in Wilmington, near Fourth street bridge, last night about 7 o'clock. Exactly how the accident occurred will perhaps never be known. Yard Engine 101, in charge of Engineer Brown, started out to the "Y" about the hour indicated and the switchman on the pilot of the engine noticed the body. Engineer Brown and others went to investigate and saw the mangled form under the engine. Death must have resulted almost instantly. Several theories were advanced last night as to the probable way in which the young man met his death. One is that he was coming up the yards to the station to board the 7 o'clock train, northbound, for his home and that in attempting to board the cars he was thrown under the wheels and crushed to death. This theory, however, is discredited by the fact that the young man was found on the tracks of the W. C. & A. railroad, over which the northbound train did not pass. Another theory is that in attempting to board the northbound train he was thrown to the W. C. & A. tracks, knocked senseless and that the shifting engine later came on and took the body under its pilot.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner; Dr. D. W. Bulluck, A. C. L. Surgeon, and Dr. C. T. Harper, city superintendent of health, were among the physicians who yisited the scene, but the man was beyond all human aid. His right foot was cut off near the ankle and the other leg was almost severed from his body. His head was crushed in to so some extent and there were also bruises about the body and arms.

The remains were removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. W. E. Yopp and prepared for burial. The funeral arrangements, however, will not be made until later. The deceased was a son of Mr. W.

M. Hansley, of Castle Haynes, a well known citizen and surveyor of the county. He leaves a wife and a little son as well as several brothers and sisters. Mrs. C. J. Jones, wife of Policeman Jones, is a sister of the young man and the funeral arrangements are being made by Mr. Jones. The death is indeed a sad one and the family has the sympathy of friends in their bereavement.

Other relatives surviving the deceased are the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Ed. Griffin and Mrs. David Futch, of Wilmington; Mrs. Moses Padrick, Miss Sallie Hansley and Mr. W. M. Hansley, Jr. Mr. Calvin C. Bordeax, of this city, is a cousin of the
