PLENTY OF ISSUES.

There is no telling what issues are destined to spring up in the Presidential campaign next year. As the Washington Pest sententiously remarked a few days ago, there are already some good issues that will make a lively opposition.

Events are now transpiring so rapidly that it is difficult to predict what will happen to give the Democrats a stick with which to prod the G. O. P. elephant. Some of our contemporaries are already suggesting platforms, but many of the "planks" are too split to stand upon, and especially the weak financial plane. That issue has been sett'ed for the present and unless it is a matter of necessity it is not necessary for the Democracy to be making any little meaningless or platitudinous declarations on the money business.

One sure issue which the Democrats will have is a proposition to revise the iniquitous Dingley tariff. There is a demand for revision not only by the Democrats, but by a large Republican following, and if "stand patters" of the Republican party have their way and obstinately reaffirm their out-of-date tariff bill, the Democracy will have some good stock in trade in this issue. The best way, however, to get a good platform to oppose the Roosevelt outfit is to send wise and true and tried Democrats to the next national

In an editorial on "The Tariff Issue" so strong a Republicon paper as the Washington Star sounds this note of warning to its party :

"Who is Tariff, and why is he for revenue only?" Nast's greatest conrebution to the campaign of 1880 represented General Hancock, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, as in a brown study propounding this He had a few weeks before declared that the tariff was a local question, and at the time added to the affectiveness of Nast's cartoon. The country laughed heartily, and seemed to think that the quiz went very perly with an old soldier taking bis

General Hancock, as we know, was defeated, but not because of his attitude on the tariff question. In September of that year the greenbackers of Maine, assisted by the Democrats, carried Maine in the State race, and that gave the business interests all over the country a shock. Esst and West the effect was felt, and the Republicans began to pluck up courage. Up to that time they had been in deeply depressed spirits. General Grant and Mr. Conkling took the stump, and General Garfield

The old soldier, as experience since has shown, spoke words of wisdom. The tariff is, in very large measure, a local question. Protection is widely popular. Every section of the country has something it wants the tariff to shield; and whenever the tariff schedules are under revision, no matquests pour in on Congress to remember this industry and that, and do nothing rash or extreme.

The result is that the free traders, so-called, have lost control of the Democratic party, and, to a degree, the ear of the country. There is bitter warfare no longer on the protected industries of the United States. There is severe criticism of monopolies, and much of it is just; but those eloquent gentlemen who used to advance to the footlights and challenge the protected industries to a battle to the death have lost their occupation. In their places are men of the stamp of Mr. Gorman and Mr. Williams, who talk conservatively on the tariff question and show no disposition to be brash or destruc-

And The Star repeats its question of yesterday. Does this change among the Democrats convey no meaning, no warning, to the standpatters among the Republicans! Do the men who insist that the Dingley schedules must not be touched "so long as times are good" fancy that it will only be neceseary for them to take the stump next year and sound the old alarm about free trade in order to win? Free trade is no longer an issue. But freer trade is, and a great many Republicans are

ANARCHY ONCE MORE IN CHI-

Riot and bloodshed still goes on in Chicago, where the street car strikers are bringing on a state of

When Grover Cleveland was president he put an end to a Chicago riot, and yet a Democratic platform condemned him for it. The sooner people in this country get it into their heads that law and order must be enforced, the science of goverament will begin to dawn upon them. There should be no toleration for mobocracy anywhere in a land where people have every opportunity to carry out their aims in a peaceable way. If strikers wish to gain sympathy, they should let go of the mob end of their argument.

The situation in Chicago, where disorder and terror have reigned for a period too long tolerated, is a pretty spectacle for people who think they can govern themselves.

REFUSED TO SEND TROOPS.

The Roosevelt administration on Thursday declined to grant the appeal of Gov. Peabody, of Calorado, to supply such troops as may be necessary to preserve order in the Telluride mining district. When the governor is right on the spot, how did Roosevelt and the Secretary of War know better than he did that "it did not appear that the resources of the State to keep the peace had been exhausted?" Roosevelt knows from Cleveland's experience how unpopular the idea is to send Federal troops on the people, and he is aware that the striking miners will be the main force in the national election next The strenuous President knows a few things besides bear

A little squirt of a Congressman from Pennsylvania who wanted it to get out that he was not simply holding his seat and drawing his pay, has introduced a bill to make it punishable under the Federal law for common carriers to provide separate cars for either white or colored passengers. That little effort to attract notoriety will be lost in an outof the way pigeon-hole.

CURRENT COMMENT.

- The bureau of insular affairs has announced that no less than 14,000 Filipinos, interested more or less directly in the tobacco industry of the Philippines, have petitioned Congress to remove the Dingley rates of duty so far as they apply to the United States. Very naturally, these Filipines, who have been told so much about benevolent assimilation, would now like to see something tangible in this direction. - Boston

- President Spencer, of the Southern Railway, is quoted as exsecting a congestion of traffic in the South consequent upon the increased requirements of industrial enterprises. "This congestion," it is added, "is more or less general throughout the country; but in the South, where the industrial awakening has been relatively the greatest in a short space of time, the situation has been more difficult to forecast and to reasonably provide for than in other sections where industrial changes have been more gradual."-Baltimore Sun. - Philadelphia is having some experience with a negro who is preaching a strange religion there. The Philadelphia Press says: Three persons dead and the probability of a smallpox scourge among the colored population in the vicinity of Fitzwater street, between Broad and Sixteenth-this is the result of the faith curing of a religious sect peculiar to this city. The members are commonly known as "Foot Wash-"Saints of Christ"-and treat all by the laying on of hands. To-day forty of them will be treated to something more than a mere "foot wash." They will be given a disinfecting bath in the Municipal Hospital. The fanaticism of the sect of "foot washers" in this city, which concealed cases of smallpox from the authorities, menaces the health of the community. On no grounds of liberty of conscience can be justified. The individual's rights end where the public welfare begins. Such "faith cure" as this present case is simply folly and

- It is not news that the United States Government had some warning in advance of the revolution at Panama. As a matter of fact, all the world had it. Long before the Hay-Herran treaty was blackmailed to death at Bogota, when the first intimations of such fate appeared, representative men at Panama plainly declared that if the treaty were defeated and the canal lost to that isthmus or imperiled, Panama, would revolt and proclaim her independence. There was no secret about it. Such revolutionary talk was open and general. As time went on it became more earnest, and preparations for earrying it into effect were made. The United States Government was neither blind nor deaf, even if the Colombian was. It knew what was threatened. We are not aware that either knowledge or preparation to act upon knowl-edge is criminal. That the United Statet inspired, encouraged, fomented or aided the outbreak there is not a scintilla of evidence. - New York Tribune.

- Goldsboro Headlight: If the lease means such desirable immigration to this section, its consideration will unquestionably receive the most respectful attention by the stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, for no greater inducement could be offered by persons seeking to lease this railroad property than the guarantee that through such a lease immigration would flow into this section to relieve the present deficiency of labor, for both industrial and farm improvement and development are seriously hampered, really almost at a standstill, because of the lack of laborers.

"Can you tell me what words there are on the arch?" quietly asked Dufferin. "Oh, yes," replied his inyous prostration nowadays? It didn't formant; "they are 'Carnarvon Terms or Separation.' Quintne. Quinine was first introduced into Europe by the wife of a Spaniard who was viceroy of Peru. Then Jesuits carried it to Rome and throughout Spain and Italy, proclaiming it an infallible remedy for all ills and selling it to the rich at unheard of prices. An Englishman at last got hold of some of the quinine powder, cured Charles II. of a tertian fever and on the strength of it was appointed court physician and granted a knighthood. Later he similarly cured the dauphin of France and induced Louis XIV. to purchase his "secret." Still the medical faculty fought against quinine. Not even the patent efficacy of the thing could overcome the fact that it was introduced by one not of themselves. For many years the contest waged. Men faithful to the faculty died for want of quinine. Others, not caring a snap for the associated pedants, took their quinine and lived to see their children's children congratulate the medical schools of their day on climbing down and admitting that quinine was a good thing.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star NEW YORK, November 20. - The con

ton market opened weak at a decline of nine to eleven points under heavy realizing and bear pressure, which in the present instance was encouraged by lower cables than expected and warmer weather in the belt, though the forecast was for more or less gen eral rains. On the decline, however, good buying developed, including aggressive operations by local bulls. further covering and outside buying orders, which were accompanied in many instances by further reports of crop damage from the recent freeze and predictions for an early falling off in the movement. Soon after the call the market rallied to about last night's prices. After this it ruled very irregular, but hardly so active as the recent average. At one moment the market would show considerable firmness and advance, then would come a wave of realizing and Wall street selling orders. The estimates for to-morrow's receipts at leading ports were full, but the into-sight movement for the week fell behind early estimates and the exports were again very heavy.
