A COLLISION WITH HORSES.

Two Pine Animals Belonging to Mr. S. J. Davis Killed on the Suburban Line Barly Last Night.

Two fine carriage horses owned by Mr. S. J. Davis, the Market street liveryman, ran into a head-on collision with Suburban Car No. 29, Motorman McCall and Conductor Riggs, early last night between Airlie station and Macomber's store, on Wrightsville Sound, and one of them was instantly killed, while the second was so badly broken up that he had to be shot. The horses had been driven in a vehicle to a pavilion, near the railroad track, where a ne gro dance was in progress, and the colored driver had unhooked them to be fed. In some way the horses became frightened and broke away from the negro. They ran down the county road to the track, and their instinct telling them that the road led back to Wilmington, they ran up the track at breakneck speed. The car was coming from Wilmington, meeting them, at a lively clip, but they apparently paid no attention to it and fairly leaned into the vestibule when it was upon them. One

There were a number of passengers on the car, including Mr. S. J. Springer, who, when he saw that one of the animals was broken up past recovery, shot him in the head at the direction of the rallway authorities. The fender of the car was pretty badly smashed up.

Bad Negro, This.

Justice Fowler yesterday gave preliminary trial to Charles Wilkins, the negro arrested a few days ago at Wrightsville Beach for the larceny of a razor and other articles from the truck of Mayor J. A. Arringdale, of Wrightsville. The negro is scarcely out of his teens, but readily confessed the theft and said he sold the razor for 50 cents. He was equally as frank concerning his past record and said that he had been arrested for shooting spite of the application of several a white boy in Goldsboro, but had white girls. The town was in gotten away. He also said he had served a term in the pen for rocking a train in Columbus county, and in proof of the latter, drew from his pocket a discharge from the superintendent of the penitentlary, the same having been dated as late as July 1st of this year. Wilkins was committed by Justice Fowler for his last offence in default of $50 bond.

COME FOR AN OUTING.

Children from Odd Fellows' Orphanage at Goldsboro Will Be Here Tuesday.

LAYING OF CORNER STONE

Will Participate in Elaborate Ceremonies by I. O. O. P. of Wilmington-Where and How the Children Will be Entertained-Homes.

Accompanied by Superintendent J Brinson and family and Mrs. C. F. Artan and Miss Cornelia Nicholson teachers in the institution, the fiftyfive happy children of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage at Goldsboro will arrive here next Tuesday on the morning train from the North and will spend the week in the city and at her seaside resorts as the guests of the four enthusiastic lodges of the order in Wilmington. The outings at the seashore for the children have been an annual event ever since the founding of the institution and the children have learned to look forward to the occasion each recurring season with more and greater delight. They have also learned to cherish and love the Wilmington Odd Fellows, who have made these annual outings possible.

This year the visit of the children will be of more than usual interest and pleasure from the fact that while here they will be present and take part in the elaborate ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone of the handsome new Odd Fellows' building at northwest corner of Third and Princess streets, the arrangements for which are now complete. The children will arrive at 10:10 A. M. and will be met at the station by those with whom they have been assigned homes while in Wilmington. They will repair at 4 o'clock to the Odd Fellow building and will doubtless join the parade of the order from the City Hall along the line of march previously given in these columns.

Wednesday morning the ehildren will go for their annual trip to Wrightsville Beach, leaving the city of Manager Jos. H. Hinton, of the Seashore Hotel, who always entertains the children free of charge and in royal manner. The party will leave the beach for return to the city at 6 o'clock and that evening will be entertained by Letitia Lodge, Daughters of Rebekab, at a sumptuous repast which will probably be given in Pythian Castle Hall. Thursday morning the children will go to Southport where they will be guests of Atlantic Lodge L. O. O. F., of that city, for a day and night. They will return to Wilmington Friday at 2:30 P. M. and will be entertained privately by the Odd Fellows in numerous ways until Monday morning when they will return home. It is especially desired that those who have charge of the children will pay particular attention to the programme and to see that they are on time to meet appointments at the cars and returning to the city.

While in the city Superintendent Brinson and family, Mrs. Artan and Miss Nicholson will be entertained at The Orton, while the children have been assigned homes with Odd Fel-

Naval Store Receipts Show Decided Gains Markets and Shipping.

Nothing doing in spirits turpentine yesterday. Rosin was firm at $2.25

Coasting schooner "Carolyn," Capt. oore, is here from New River with cargo of naval stores for Wilmington merchants.

British schooner "Tyere" cleared yesterday for Gibara, Cuba, with cargo of lumber consigned by S. & W. H. Northrop, agents. Swedish barque "Trientalis" arrived yesterday from Cape Town, South Africa, via Tybee, for cargo of rosin from Murchison & Co.; vessel to Heide & Co. The barque is now at quarantine.

The past week's receipts of naval stores show a gain in all items except rosin and tar in which there is a slight falling off. The figures are as follows: Spirits, 707; rosin, 1,196; tar, 180; crude, 931. Last year: Spirits, 636 rosin, 2,090; tar, 564; crude, 864. In view of the rapid depletion of the turpentine forests in the Wilmington territory, it would be expected that crop year receipts of naval stores would continue to show a falling off in receipis from season to season. Such has been the case for a decade until thing except tar. The receipts for the crop year to date have been as follows: Spirits, 8,292; rosin, 26,888; tar, 10,688; crude, 14,660. To same date last year: Spirits, 8,133; rosin, 26,508; tar, 13,019; crude, 12,350. The decline of the cross-tie industry is said to be responsible for the greater attention paid by farmers to naval stores this year.

OLD ANTE-BELLUM DARKEYS.

Half-Blind, They Narrowly Escaped Burning

to Death in Home Thursday Night. Old "Uncle" Jim Wilson and his wife, both of them over 80 years of age and partially blind, were burned out of house and home with all their effects at Castle Haynes Thursday night about 8 o'clock. The old antebellum darkeys lived all alone in a two-room house in which they had been given a life estate by their former master and when the fire broke out from the chimney about 8:30 o'clock they had retired and being unable to see, knew nothing of the threatened destruction of their home until driven out by heat. They had a narrow escape from being burned up in the house. Mr. Shearin and other neighbors, who had been contributing to the support of the old couple for a year or more, saw the blaze in time to run down to the house and keep the old colored folks from running back into the fire to save a a part of all their earthly possessions. They had been receiving a small amount from the county on the outdoor poor list for a while and had refused to go to the home rather than forsake the old place left to them, but now since the burning of their house they will go to the County Home. Mr. Shearin was here yesterday and secured a permit for them to go to the Negroes Approach Ladies Returning from the Depot, Robbing One of the Number.

VISITOR FROM MONROE, N. C.

Purse Containing Money, Railroad Ticket and Other Articles Taken from Mrs. J. fl. Petteway-White Men Gave Unsuccessful Pursuit.

An outrageous highway robbery by regroes occurred early last night on Nutt street near the Seaboard Air Line station, the victim being a lady visitor to the city, Mrs. J. H. Petteway, of Monroe, N. C., who came down on the Charlotte excursion Thursday to visit the family of Mr. A. D. Hobbs, No. 19 South Ninth street. Mrs. Petteway had been accompanied to the station by Mrs. Hobbs and daughter but they reached there too late to catch the train and had started up Nutt street, returning back up-town. That portion of the street between the S. A. L. depot and the A. C. L. yards little passing after night fall. The three ladies were accosted by two negross, who demanded money. The ladies were at first too much frightened to scream and in the twinkling of an eye, one of the negroes jerked a hand bag belonging to Mrs. Petteway and emptied the contents of it into his hand. In a purse taken by one of the negroes was $12 in money, the lady's return-trip ticket to Monroe, two unused tickets to Carolina Beach and a number of other articles such as handkerchiefs, etc.

Before the negroes could proceed further with the robbery, if they had intentions of so doing, one of the ladies screamed and four white men in the vicinity, whose names were not ascertained, rushed up to the relief of the ladies and saw the negroes coamper off in the darkness. Two of the gentlemen gave pursuit, but the way was so dark and the acquaintance of the negroes with a means of escape was so familiar that the chase was fruitless. The ladies were able to give no well defined description of the negroes and the possibility of their capture is very remote.

Mrs. Petteway 'phoned her husband in Monroe of the occurrence last night and will leave for her home to day. Purse snatching and highway robberies are becoming rather frequent of late and the police have registered a determination to put an end to it.

Mrs. Clemmons and party of friends returned to Florence on the 2:45 P. M. train.

Here For South Sarolina Negro.

Sheriff H. N. Sessions, of Conway, S. C., arrived yesterday for the negro barber, John Wesley Glover, wantee in that town for grand larceny, and who was arrested by Chief Furlong upon his arrival here Thursday afternoon. The South Carolina officer brought with him A.K. Kelly, the negro from whom Glover stole $67.15. Kelly easily identified Glover and told the story of how he lost the "ducats." The negro barber was passing through Conway from Georgetown and stopped at the same boarding house with Kelly. During the night he stole Kelly's keys and went into his trunk, removing the cash. Later he was foolish enough to send the keys back to Kelly. Sheriff Sessions will leave for Conway this morning with the prisoner.

The negro prophet is George W. Richardson, of Newbern, who proclaims himself "Prince George III, Ruler of the Universe." Richardson is a negro of above the average intelligence of his race and for several years a shoemaker in sevaral cities in the East in wnich lived. He also at one time travelled for a colored newspaper printed at some point in this State. A year or two ago he went "daffy" and has since that time travelled up and down the State play-

How ever, of late housekeepers have been besieged with requests from their servants for a vacation, and several noted that the absent dates included the 15th. Within the past few days many housekeepers have found their servants willing not to stand upon their going at all, and servants in many cases are scarce at any price. A thousand curses have been heaped upon "Princ George," and it would be well for him not to come this way again.
