THE PROGRESS OF CHARLOTTE

If a stranger picks up any one of the Charlotte papers he will be able to judge that they are published in a live and growing city. Newspapers are fair representatives of the prosperity of a city and so it is that the Charlotte papers will convey an impression that will at once speak well of their town. A live newspaper does not always make a live town but a live town always turns out a live newspaper. Naturally a newspaper records in its columns the progress of a city. Its substantial industries are mentioned with pride and there must necessarily be considerable blowing over the establishment of new ones, rejoicing over the growth of population and the influx of capital, and thus a newspaper becomes a reflex of the enter-

Charlotte, however, has one citizen who does not appreciate the newspaper as a factor and certain force in city building. We do not know whether that citizen is much of a force in building up his city, but what he said to the representative of the Evening Chronicle a day or two ago shows that some of his conceptions are out of gear with the progressive citizen. Here is how the Chronicle reports him, and then gives him some wholesome enlight-

A man stopped a Chronicle reporter on the street the other day and registered a kick because the local papers print so much about the development and growth of Charlotte, saying: "Everybody knows that Charlotte is prosper ous, so what's the use of filling the papers with stuff about the organ-ization of new companies, the building of new houses and telling of all the new people that come here to live?" What's the use, indeed? If there is anything of more importance than that which deals with the progress and welfare of the community, the newspaper men have not found it out-and it is their business to tell of the things that reflect the life and growth of the community. But there are all sorts of people in the world. Perhaps the gentleman who objects to reading so much that tends to show that Charlotte is the best town in the South would prefer to be regaled with a lot of dirty scandal and other reeking stuff; setting the world's peace.—Mexican but one is inclined to the opinion Herald. but one is inclined to the opinion that, if such is the case, he forms the greater part of a mighty small lowed J. Pierpont Morgan's exammajority in this town. The average citizen of Charlotte would believe the bottom had fallen out of things a case of cause and effect, but anyif he diddn't read in the papers every day or two stories telling of a new factory to be built or the organization of an important enterprise-and he would believe correctly so far as (Portland, Maine.) the Evening Chronicle was con-

When we read the above in the Chronicle we were overwhelmed with astonishment to learn that any man interested in the development of his city could entertain sians, Virginia and Mississippi, and such an idea. We thought of Rip even suggests that there might be Van Winkle at once as a good side partner for the man who has so he makes that Democrats are genlittle conception of the sphere of erally apathetic because of the disusefulness of a paper in the building franchisement of the negro, besides of his city.

The story told daily by the press of that city has deeply impressed us.

wouldn't know Charlotte now if we have not been there in ten years to see how the city has developed.

Notwithstanding the opinion of the man who talked to the Chronicle of Monday to give us Chronicle* of Monday to give us Hareock's Liquid Sulphur.

To night the city will be lighted by means of machinery which is being driven by the waters of the Catawba river about eighteen miles away from the city. The location of this water power and machinery is in another State.

The turning on to night of the

The turning on to-night of the current marks an era in the progress of this city. Charlotte becomes in the very forefront of cities which have all the conditions necessary for the development and economic operation of small and diversified manufactures, while continuing to be a most favorable location for the larger enterprises also.

When the new waterworks is completed the conditions here will be still further improved. Meanwhile the present supply of water is suffi-cient for any one who is now ready to utilize any part of the power which the Catawba Power Company has brought to the city and has now ready for sale. In congratulating ourselves and the new company which is entering upon a contract to light the city, we deem it in no wise amiss, but on the contrary no more than just, to compliment the com-pany which is relinquishing the con-tract.

We should now all work together to forwerd the interests of Charlotte. The seed time of our prosperity is now at hand. If we work in harmony and with reasonable energy the harvest will be a fruitful one.

That from the Chronicle is a tremendous advertisment of Charlotte. The world is made to know that Charlotte is not only lighted by electricity furnished from the harnessed Catawba, but that it furnishes the city electric current to run cotton mills and other [manufacturing enterprises. We are truly envious of Charlotte, but if there had not been a live newspaper to tell us about this new and wonderful advantage of the Queen City our envy might have been spared in not finding it out until a hearse brought the news sometime in the future.

Some people surely do not appreciate what their papers are doing for their community.

WANTED ... A COLONIAL SECRE-TARY.

"Insular affairs" is the manner in which the administration refers to matters touching our colonies. To call them "colonial affairs" might make the people sit up too straight and go to thinking. With the vast possessions which we now have outside of the American domain, how long will it be until we will be compelled to have another Cabinet officer to be called the Secretary of Colonies?

If the American people do not elect Judge Parker to the Presidency inside of the next 80 days, our government may as well contemplate the establishment of a colonial secretaryship, if it is desired to exploit our colonial policy in a way to develop our possessions for all they are worth.

The idea is quite monstrous that a republic which was established upon a bloody war that was fought for eight years because there was "taxation without representation" and to establish the principle that our form of government shall depend upon the consent of the governed, should purchase people and their possessions and exploit them in the manner that caused the Thirteen Original States to rebel against the sovereignty and government of Great Britain.

To say the least of it, the Republican policy is un-American. If the American people look at it right they will elect as their President Alton Brooks Parker, who understands our constitution and will restore our government to the principles which that constitution embodies.

It is just a common cold, people say, there's no danger in that. Admitting their statement, then there are uncommon colds, colds which are dangerous; for many a fatal sickness begins with a cold. If we could tell the common cold from the uncommon we could feel quite safe. But we can't. The uncommon variety is rarely recognized until it has fastened its hold on the lungs and there are symptoms of conthe lungs, and there are symptoms of consumption.

At the first symptoms the careful person will heed the warning by taking a mild laxative; some vegetable pill that will not disturb the system or cause griping. About the best is "Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets." If the cold starts with a cough, and it persists then some local treatment for this condition should be taken. A well known alterative extract, which has been highly recommended by thousands of users, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic compound is composed of an extract of roots and herbs and has a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane, allays the irritation and at the same time works in the proper and reasonable way, works in the proper and reasonable way, at the seat of the trouble—the stagnated or poisoned blood.

It contains no alcohol to shrivel up the blood corpuscles, but makes pure rich red blood.

- Did you ever hear of a Governor coming from the ranks of the ball room gents, who wear swallowtailor coats and shirt fronts as big as a tray? We do not recall one, but many have hauled rails in the rain and driven spotted oxen to town after a load of fertilizers. -Charity and Children, Thomasville.

- Greenville Reflector: The Refector has about reached the conclusion that the spirit of license taxes s wrong. It looks like a tax upon industry. Take the merchant for example. He pays his advalorem tax on what he possesses, has to pay another tax for the privilege of doing business, and in addition to this has a still further tax of a certain per cent. on his gross sales. Other examples might be given in which special taxes are equally unjust, but this one is sufficient to illustrate the point in mind. In many instances icense taxes are overworked and are burdensome. We are not prepared to offer a substitute, but it would be better to encourage industry rather than hinder it.

- Capt. J. D Phillips, of Spencer, who had for a number of years been freight conductar running out of that place on the Southern Railway, was arrested at his home Monday on the charge of robbing a freight car in transit, the articles taken being principally merchan-dise. The arrest, which has caused quite a sensation, was effected by Chief Detective Dave Julian and J. A. Siceloff, who have been working on the case for a number of weeks. Among the articles found at the home of Conductor Phillips were two new typewriters which had been taken from a box car in December, 1902, together with a lot of bolt goods and clothing. In default of a $1,000 bond he was committed to jail to await a preliminary hearing. When seen at the jail Monday afternoon by a newspaper reporter, Mr. Phillips declined to talk further than to protest his innocence of the serious crime with which he is charged. Phillips is a young man, parently 30 years of age. He refuses to talk of the charge under which he is in the custody of the law. - Charlotte Chronicle, Aug. 15: The Geo. H. McFadden Brothers, who succeed to the cotton business of Mr. J. H. Sloan, began operations to-day under the new and enlarged connections. The firm has a special wire service for its own private business, stretching from the home office in Philadelphia to Houston and Galveston, Tex., and reaching the other branches in the following places: Charlotte, Spartanburg, S. C.; Augusta, Savannah and Albany, Ga.; Memphis, Tenn.; Jackson and Meridian, Miss.; Little Rock, Ark., New Orleans and Shreveport, La., and Paris and Waco, Texas. The McFaddens are strong factors in the cotton business and are said to be the largest dealers in spot cotton in the world. Under the new arrangement, Mr. J. H. Sloan, of Spartanburg, will act as agent for the company in North and South Carolina, Mr. C. B. Bryant, who had charge of Mr. Sloan's Charlotte office for several years, will handle the North Carolina account.

COTTON MARKETS.

Sy Telegraph to the Morning Star NEW YORK, Aug. 16.-The cotton market opened steady at a net advance of one to thirteen points in response to better cables than looked for, further talk of too much rain in the eastern belt encouraged by the appearance of moderate precipitation at two or three points and apprehensions of a builtsh crop report at midday. But the continued increase in receipts of new crop cotton as reflected by the estimates for the day's ports and the figures reported for the day by Houston checked any general buying movement and after selling up to an advance of about six to seven points the market worked back to a level two to three points over last night's figures. The weekly report of the Weather Bureau was read about this leyel and proved rather more bullish than had been generally expected, as it indicated a more or less general deterioration during the week. It was backed up to a a certain extent by a statement issued by a local crop authority showing a deterioration in the crop of about two per cent. of the average since July 25th. At first the influence of these two reports and the rather disappointing estimate for to morrow's receipts at Houston where only twelve hundred to fifteen hundred bales are expected, was offset by the liquidation of smaller longs and the market immediately after the refirmness. Later, however, there was bull support from lower Wall street and with nervous shorts covering the market advanced to a net gain of about 105%; 108%; 10 port showed irregularity rather than fourteen to seventeen points. The close was steady within a point or two of the best or a net twelve to fifteen points higher. Bales were estimated at 125,000 bales.
