Theatrical Society Event.
The very first society event in the theatrical line will take place at the Academy Saturday night of next week when the well known New York success, "The Marriage of Kitty," will appear. ## THE SUPERIOR COURT

Chris. Eilers Gets One Year for Murderous Assault Upon His Wife.

SUBMITTED TO THE OFFENCE.

Boys Not Guilty of Entering Third Street Residence, But Guilty of Keeping. Grand Jury to Investigate the Negro's Murder—Notes.

Superior Court continued its session yesterday until 7 o'clock in the evening. Judge Moore is making an excellent presiding officer and his efforts toward clearing the docket of the unusually large number of cases are being ably seconded by Solicitor Duffy. With the possible exception of the burglary case and that of the Herring brothers and young Jones, recently charged with murder, all the matters will likely be cleared from the calendar by the expiration of the one-week term. All of yesterday morning's session was consumed in completing the trial of the two boys charged with entering Mr. Herbert Smith's residence, on Third street, last month, and stealing therefrom a watch and other articles of trifling value. Testimony for the defendants was heard yesterday and the balance of the morning hour was taken up with argument by counsel to the jury—Marsden Bellamy and Woodus Kellum, Esqs., for the defendants and Solicitor Duffy for the State. The jury retired a little after noon and came in with a verdict during the dinner recess of the court. The verdict was not guilty of larceny, but guilty of receiving the watch, knowing it to have been stolen, the same being valued at $10. Each defendant was recommended to the mercy of the court on account of his youth. As the defendants were not in court when the verdict was brought in, Judge Moore said he would continue judgment until this morning, the defendants meantime remaining under their present bond.

The only other cases of interest in court yesterday were those against Chris. Eilers, who made the murderous attack on Mrs. Eilers at Carolina Beach about two months ago and then turned his own pistol upon himself in an unsuccessful attempt at suicide. The particulars of the offence are already too familiar to the public. Eilers presented a very dejected appearance in the prisoner's box, his confinement telling in a marked degree upon his strong constitution. He was not represented by counsel and pleaded guilty to the assault upon his wife but not guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. Marsden Bellamy, Esq., assisted Solicitor Duffy in the prosecution. The case of carrying concealed weapons was tried by a jury composed of Messrs. Louis Taylor, J. M. Mayland, B. N. Horn, Z. B. Egan, C. W. Woodard, Chas. D. Ford, H. W. Koenig, Jas. H. Cowan, L. M. Guttenberg, Geo. Harris, G. W. Mote, S. R. Ellis and M. A. Jones. Only one witness testified—Mrs. E. B. Loughlin, a daughter of the crime father, and from her evidence it was not contradicted that the pistol was secured by Eilers from a room in the club house where the shooting occurred. The jury retired with the case before dinner, but in the afternoon several members of the panel desired to recall Mrs. Loughlin, and that was allowed upon the court's convening in the afternoon. Fifteen minutes later a verdict of not guilty was rendered. Eilers was then called up for judgment in the case of assault, to which he had just submitted, and was sentenced to one year on the county roads. The maximum penalty for the offence charged is two years and the minimum is a fine or a three months confinement in jail. In passing sentence upon Eilers, Judge Moore asked the prisoner a number of questions, to which he replied that he had always lived peacefully with his wife; that upon the occasion of the shooting he was drunk and had no recollection of shooting his wife or attempting to kill himself. Other than Mrs. Loughlin none of Eilers' family was in court during the trial.

Early in the afternoon Joseph Thomas, the negro who shot a colored deck hand on the steamer "Wilmington" Labor Day, pleaded guilty to charges of an assault with a deadly weapon and carrying a concealed weapon. Judgment was reserved.

Routine Proceedings.
Upon the convening of court yesterday morning, the sheriff returned 31 of the talsmen ordered summoned for the day. O. W. Edger, Geo. Robinson, J. T. Hawkins, J. A. Huske, A. F. Walsh, B. Kelly and Hosea Shepard were not found, and W. W. Blair, F. H. Griffith and J. E. Morris were excused by the court.

The following unimportant cases were disposed of during the day: Louis Lavender and Ernest Blount, larceny of goods from railroad; Blount not guilty; Lavender guilty and sentenced to one year on roads.

Charles Hankins, larceny; verdict guilty; left open for investigation of another case of larceny.

Geo. Blount, carrying concealed weapons; verdict guilty; judgment left open for another bill for perjury committed in the trial.

Isiah Singletary, assault with a deadly weapon, and carrying a concealed weapon; submitted to latter charge; verdict guilty as to first count; sentenced to four months on roads; judgment suspended in case of carrying concealed weapons.

Kate Fisher, larceny of money from James Gavin; verdict not guilty.

THE CAROLINA CLUB.

Formal Presentation of Commodore's Cup to Yacht Puzzle Last Evening.

MOST PLEASANT OCCASION.

Racing Captains and Crews Delightfully Entertained at Home of S. P. Cowan, Owner of the Defender "Sadie"—The Trophy.

Fifty or more enthusiastic members of the Carolina Yacht Club, comprising the captains and crews of the racing fleet and crews of the club, gathered last evening at the hospitable home of their genial host, Commodore, Capt. S. P. Cowan, northeast corner of Third and Nun streets, and celebrated most auspiciously the formal presentation to the yacht "Puzzle" of the handsome commodore's cup, established by Commodore Cowan in 1903 and successfully defended by his smart and trim little yacht "Sadie" for three successive seasons. The reception and dining rooms of the home were most artistically decorated for the occasion in the club colors of red and white, a soft light from red and blue incandescents contributing wonderfully to the charm of the scene. Club flags and emblems were tastefully arranged to still further give striking effect to the general scheme.

The guests after having been received were ushered into the dining room, where the presentation took place. In behalf of Commodore Cowan, Thomas W. Davis, Esq., explained the object of the assembly and in graceful language presented the handsome cup to the Regatta Committee of the Club. The trophy was received in a most pleasing speech by Capt. Wm. F. Robertson, who paid a deserved compliment to the donor and the Defender "Sadie" and gave a brief history of yachting here and elsewhere, referring to the great international event, the Bermuda regatta, by a commendatory reference to Sir Thomas Lipton. Capt. Robertson charmed his hearers with his address which, though extemporaneous, was really eloquent and captivating. He gracefully presented the cup to Capt. Jno. Van B. Metts, joint owner with his brother, Capt. E. A. Metts, in the "Puzzle," which won the cup this season. Capt. Metts responded in appreciative terms to Capt. Robertson for his complimentary reference and to Commodore Cowan for the loyal spirit ever manifested by him in the club's yachting, so nobly exemplified in the founding of the cup just delivered.

As that feature of the evening's entertainment was about to be concluded, Mr. R. C. Cantwell begged attention for a moment while he addressed the Captains Metts, stating that only a short time previously and too late to prepare a speech to fit the emergency, he had been unexpectedly requested by an unknown friend to present to the Messrs. Metts a "puzzle," which he was led to believe was a Chinese one from the color and characters inscribed thereon. So saying he handed to Capt. Metts a pretty yellow silk club flag upon which had been neatly painted a number of Chinese letters. With the admonition to solve the puzzle, Mr. Cantwell committed the flag to the keeping of the winners. Capt. Metts responded to the humorous remarks of Mr. Cantwell in an equally happy vein and the party turned to an unsuccessful effort to assist the captains in the task assigned to them by way of solution of the problem so suddenly thrust upon them.

Exercise over, the genial host bade the guests to partake of a delicious repast before them, consisting of wine and cake, ice cream, fruits and other delicacies, the refreshments as far as possible being served in club colors with a compliment to the "Puzzle" in the form of cake bearing the name of the successful yacht in letters of red. Upon the wall at the head of the table in graceful folds over a double picture of the winners of the cup, decorated with miniature club colors, was the companionship flag, also won this season by the "Puzzle." At the foot of the table, over the mantel, was the "Sadie" flag bearing in letters of red a record of her victories. The affair in its entirety was most delightful and every one present silently voted Commodore Cowan an excellent host and a yachtsman whose affability is exceeded only by his enthusiasm in the cause.

The cup presented last night is a very handsome one and is beautifully engraved. On the front, with background, is an excellent inscription of the club name, emblem and the words "Presented by S. P. Cowan, 1902." On either side of the cup is inscribed the names of the captain and crew of the cup defender and those of the "Puzzle."

The cups are as follows: "Sadie," Capt. S. P. Cowan, R. C. DeRosset, C. S. Granger, W. D. McMillan, Jr., F. A. Lord and A. P. Adrian. "Puzzle," Capt. E. A. Metts, John Van B. Metts, W. C. Lord and J. E. Grant.

The cup also bears the names of the members of the Carolina Yacht Club Regatta Committee—Messrs. Wm. F. Robertson, George Davis and B. E. Bridgers.

At intervals last night the club members in attendance were entertained by several selections by the "Sadie" Quartette, an impromptu organization, which afforded excellent music, concluding with the spirited singing of "Carolina."

Among the distinguished men at the meeting will be the Archbishop of Canterbury, who is now visiting in this country. The archbishop will speak in the Academy of Music there Friday afternoon.

Far-Famed Myrtle Hearing.
Herbert McClammy, Esq., returned yesterday from Southport where he was in attendance upon Superior Court, principally as associate counsel with Ireddell Meares, Esq., for the petitioners in the celebrated Town of Myrtle case. Mr. McClammy had a number of matters in the Superior Court here and he was obliged to return to the city before the Myrtle case was taken up. It is not probable that the case will now be reached before the last of the week. Mr. McClammy says there are few cases of importance on the criminal docket at Southport and court will probably adjourn Friday. The speaking by Hon. R. N. Hackett did not take place Tuesday night, owing to the indisposition of the speaker.

Mr. Dickinson to Wed.
Friends in the city yesterday received handsomely engraved invitations bearing the following announcement of interest: "Mrs. Emma Mercer Walker requests your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Lillie, to Mr. Charles LaFayette Dickinson, Wednesday, October twelfth, nineteen hundred and four, at six o'clock, Grace M. E. church, Wilmington, N. C." Mr. Dickinson is a popular young insurance man of this city and Miss Walker is one of Wilmington's most charming young women.

Unusual Capture of Buck.
The crew of the steamer "Franklin Pearce" which left the city yesterday afternoon for points up Town Creek, captured a 300-pound buck just below the dam there. The deer was trying to swim across the river and found the current too swift for him. In trying to stab the deer a man named Milliken was severely cut in the wrist by one of the crew and had to be brought back to the city for his wound to be dressed. The buck was displayed at the store of Brooks & Taylor.

Academy Last Night.
The production of "A Village Parson" at the Academy of Music last night merited a much larger patronage than it received, the house having been comparatively small on account of the very warm weather. The play is strong in human interest, points to a sound moral lesson and is acted by a company well able to handle the lines and situations.

The Local Cotton Market.

FEATURES OF THE BIG SHOW.

John Robinson's Mammoth Tented Enterprise Here Next Wednesday.

John Robinson, the pioneer show man of the country, begins his eighteenth year of successful circus history this year. After months of strenuous work by scores of skilled artists, these mammoth shows will be seen in all their glory, a credit to the master showman's mind.

To enumerate the many new and extraordinary features this old institution will offer during the coming season would tire the reader, but one European card, after a year's negotiation, has been secured, that for hair-raising dexterity and skill will never be forgotten by the audience.

All the now famous "loop" proposition sale into insignificance when compared with this, the latest cycling, the perpendicular loop act, which is accomplished by a skilled performer, who during the act is actually balanced on the shoulders, the entire apparatus, man and machine, by an intrepid equilibrist whose sole ability and skill keeps the ponderous plant in mid-air while the performer is moving the circle with the rapidity of lightning.

It required seventeen months to perfect this act, and will be seen for the first time here with the Robinson Shows.

The street car service will be of such ample proportions as to enable every one to reach the show grounds, see all the wonderful programs and reach home at a civilized hour.

It would be advisable, on account of the enormous crowd, to bring the children to the afternoon show, when the manager and circus can be seen with comfort, and such a plan is suggested. The performances begin at 2 and 8 o'clock, doors open an hour earlier.

The big shows will exhibit at Wilmington, near Delgado Mills, next Wednesday.

NOVEL QUESTION IN WAKE.

Insane Wife Killer Now Restored to Reason Wants His Liberty.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 28.—Judge Ferguson to-night refused a writ of habeas corpus, remanding Emitt Boyette, of Kinston, to the criminal insane department of the penitentiary, thereby declining to pass on the constitutionality of the act of the 1899 General Assembly, relating to the case of a man acquitted for murder on the plea of insanity and committed to the insane department of the penitentiary, he must remain there until liberated by a special act of the Legislature. Boyette killed his wife a year ago while insane. He is now pronounced cured and his lawyers demand his constitutional liberty without awaiting a liberating act by the Legislature in January. On advice of Judge Ferguson, counsel will take the case before the Supreme Court to-morrow and ask a ruling as to the constitutionality of the act.

"FATAL WEDDING" YONDAY NIGHT.

The Next Attraction at the Academy of Music—Sale of Seats.

Next Monday night the patrons of the Academy will have a pleasant surprise in store for them, when the "Fatal Wedding" will be seen here. The plot is a powerful one, and deals with the adventures of a scheming woman, who, assisted by a male accomplice, designs the ruin of a happy family, and the separation of wife from husband and children, in order that she can contract a marriage with the husband and thereby gain his fortune. She is prevented from doing this, however, by the timely interference of two characters, a Frenchman and an Irish servant woman, who, in their respective parts, create no end of amusement for the audience. The sale of seats will commence Saturday at Plummer's.

Dr. Strange in New York.
