practice in a different way what News and Observer. China does as to trade. The laws of China actually prohibit trade except in what are called "open ports," whereas we do not prohibit foreign trade itself but we do close the door to it by what we some times call the "Chinese little busybody. The were Amoy, Canton, Ningpo, Shanghai and Foochow. From time to time, by operation of treaties and otherwise, but generally for the purpose of pledging the customs duties therein collected in behalf of foreign loans, other ports have been opened until the list includes 36 ports, as follows: Kiukiang, Wuhu, Nankin, Ningpo, Canton, Kiungehow, Mengtsz, Tengyueh, Nuchwang, Chungking, Chinkiang, Wenchow, Kongmoon, Kowloon, Szemas, Tientsin, Ichang, Shanghai, Foochow, Samshui, Lappa, Chingwantao, Chefoo, Shasi, Soochoow, Wuchow, Kiachow, Yochow, Changsha, Hankow, Hangchow, Swatow, Pakhoi, Lunchow and Santuao:

Consul Anderson says some of the last named are only partially opened to trade, and many of those included in the list are small places connected with larger ports. A few other ports have been brought within measurable distance of foreign trade by special regulations and arrangeports. A few other ports have ments, but some of the largest and most important cities of the Empire are not open to foreigners at all. Pekin, the capital of the Empire and its second city, is a closed port. For instance, in this district also the two largest cities -Changehow and Chinchou, eities of three-quarters to a million people each-are closed to foreign trade; and foreign goods can be entered only in the open ports above named by the payment of the imperial maritime customs duties of about 5 per cent. ad valorem. Except for missionary pur-

The Chinese system of taxation is one drawback to foreign trade. The Chinese government has to have money and one way it taxes the people is to raise taxes at the gates of the cities-taxes on goods or products coming in from the country or on goods going out of the cities over the borders of one district to another. tug at burdens that strain the back and the heart alike, without any idea of the outrage. Children follow in too quick succession to allow the mather time to recuperate. The womanly organs become displaced, there are debilitating, disagreeflamed or ulcerated parts. In this condi-tion the woman bravely tries to carry her household load, afraid to take the rest she needs lest a meal will be late. No wonder she is pale, weak, wretched, surly of temper and snappish of tongue. She would be false to nature if she were anything else. No persons need help so much as the class of whom this woman is the type. And for such women no help is so sure, so wonderful, as that given by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It restores all the womanly organs to perfect stores all the womanly organs to perfect health. It establishes regularity in their functions. It restores the strained and shattered nervous system. It clears up a substitute.

"I wrote to you in 1902, about my case," writes Mrs. Ells W. Robbinson, of Nuttree, Va. "Was then in a bad condition, and your reply was that I probably inherited the trouble from my mother, and you prescribed Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. About that time I had an attack of fever and was sick for quite a while, so falled to get your 'Prescription.' In December following was married and then my husband bought me two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before I began to take it I had bearing down pains at monthly periods, also dizzy spells. After I had taken one bottle I felt better and had no more pains. After taking the second bottle felt better than ever in my life, and in September gave birth to a twelve-pound baby girl. I am very thankful for your good medicine, and shall tell my friends what it did for me, and shall recommend it to all who are afflicted. We think it the best medicine in the world."

Do you worry about nothing? Startle at trifles? Feel irritable, peevish, sad and Suffer from neuralgia, sick headache, dizziness, backache, bearing-down pains? If so, your nerves are stretched to the snapping point, like the strings of a fiddle twisted up out of tune, which screeches at the least touch. You are in a dangerous condition of health and need a medicine to take the strain off your nerves. If you are a woman, what has overstrung you is probably disordered menstruality, which, in women, makes more trouble, pain and nerve sickness than any other single cause. The thing to do is to follow the example, being set daily by thousands of women, and take the good, old, reliable remedy for ports and they scoop in the tariff female disease, with a record of 70 years of success, in the cure of female diseases, viz:
