-It was confidently expected that the dose given the Sophomore class at the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh, by the expulsion of two of its members, had ended that trouble, but there was a fresh outbreak last week and as a result five students are on the point of dismissal. -Whiteville News: "We are glad to see that many of our farmers are holding their cotton for the minimum price made by the Southern Cotton Association at the recent meeting held in Asheville. Some little cotton is being sold to settle fertilizer bills, but the bulk of the crop is being held. Many say they are going to hold for 12 1-2 cents."

-Hendersonville Hustler: Dr. J. C. Waldrop, who is sufficiently informed that of the more than 9,000 visitors in Hendersonville the past summer not single death, has been reported and not serious illness. Isn't this a record of which the city should be proud? Looks like the physicians and undertakers will be forced out of business in this city and flowery land of ours. -The Chicora Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, of Dunn, will furnish one room in the new dormitody of the Soldiers' Home at Raleigh. The room is to be named "Chicora," in honor of the sleeping Confederate soldiers buried at Chicora cemetery. The Daughters there are making elaborate arrangements to give an entertainment on the evening of October 31st, or Hallowe'en, for the benefit of furnishing the room in the Soldiers'

-Fayetteville Observer: "Mr. J. A. Oates returned this morning from the prosperous little town of Raeford, which is partly situated in Cumberland and partly in Robeson counties, where last night he delivered an address to the students of the Raeford Institute. Mr. Oates says that Raeford is showing much progress, and that the citizens of that place are now organizing a company for the erection of a big cotton mill, with a capital stock of $125,000. Already $80,000 of the stock has been taken: Best of all, the factory is to be erected on the Cumberland side of Raeford. With the Flora Mills soon to be erected here, this will make eleven big cotton mills in the county.

-Charlotte Observer: Mr. Samuel W. Pettus, the painter, had the misfortune a few days ago of losing his hearing. He, with a force of employes, was engaged on a job in Salisbury, and he thinks it was ammonia that destroyed his hearing. He was opening a can of ammonia, such as is used to take old paint off a surface, and when the can came open suddenly the fumes almost staggered him, and after that instant he could hear nothing. Mr. Pettus is nearly 60 years old and healthy and strong. His hearing had never troubled him. After the accident he came immediately home and consulted a specialist, who says that there is some hope of recovering the sense in a small degree.
