H. Fishblate and wife against the Fidelity and Casualty Company, of New York, returned a verdict for the full amount of $1,700 asked for in the complaint. The jury took the case a few minutes before 5 o'clock and announced its readiness with a verdict in a remarkably short time, the issues and answers being returned as follows:

> "Was the plaintiff's eye lost as the result directly and independently of all other causes from bodily injuries sustained through external, violent and accidental means? Answer, Yes. "Did the plaintiff warrant in the contract of insurance that he was in a sound condition mentally and physically? Answer, Yes. "If so was said warranty false? An-

Just before court adjourned the celebrated case of Monk against the City of Wilmington was called so it would not lose its place on the calendar under the rule of the bar that all suits not reached on the day they are set for trial go over until next term. The case involves the title to the city rock quarry and royalty upon a large amount of street paving material taken therefrom. The matter has been to the Supreme Court a time or two coming back now for a new trial. An imposing array of counsel appear on each side of the controversy and the trial without a doubt will continue into the second week. Appearing for the estate of the plaintiff, who died Hon. Jno. D. BOND WANTED FOR SHOCKLEY

Motion For Habeas Corpus Lodged in Superior Court Yesterday-Heard Upon Petition Next Friday,

In the Superior Court yesterday a motion was lodged by defendant's counserfor a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of M. W. Shockley, who is confined in jail, charged with the killing of Frank Talbert in front of defendant's saloon on South Front street a few months ago, the circumstances of which are familiar to readers of this paper. The motion was by Herbert McClammy, Esq., who said he would either on the following day or on Monday. He made the motion in advance so that the proper notice could be given Selicitor Duffy to be present and represent the State at the hearing. Judge Allen, presiding over the court, ordered the motion entered upon the docket and the clerk was instructed to issue notice to the solicitor both at his home and at Newbern, so that the prosecuting attorney may be present or represented at the hearing upon the petition, which was set for next Friday, October 13th. Messrs. McClammy and Bellamy & Bellamy appear for show the prisoner. As yet no one has been engaged by the prosecution to assist the solicitor.

Counsel for Mr. Shockley yesterday afternoon courteously declined to discuss the grounds upon which the petition for habeas corpus will be based, further than that the offence with which he is charged is a bailable one and the next regular term of court at which it will be possible to give the defendant a trial is more than three months distant and the prisoner must lie in jail until that time. It is understood that the jury was Journalistic Honors Is in Field.

"The Independent," Wilmington's new evening paper by The Independent Company made its initial appearance on the streets yesterday afternoon. It presents an attractive typographical appearance and the first number is well filled with general and local news and vigorous editorial comment. The paper was delivered to city subscribers before nightfall and made a very favorable impression upon its already large and growing constituency. Previous announcement of the business and editorial management has been made.
