LOCAL DOTS.

—Other local on fourth page.

The American barque Arlington, 493 tons, Capt. Eckert, sailed from Baltimore on Monday for Wilmington.

British steamer Nyassa, hence for Bremen, Germany, with cargo of cotton, September 30th, arrived out yesterday.

—Services, First Church of Christ, Scientist, this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Odd Fellows' building, second floor. All are invited.

—Contractor T. E. Lupo yesterday made application for a permit to build a two-story single-roof residence for C. C. Rice, on Third, between Harnett and Swann streets.

—The local cotton market continued steady at 10c for middling yesterday. Local receipts were 3,025 bales against 3,283 bales same day last season. The New York spot market yesterday advanced to 10.65 cents.

—Mr. J. M. Batson has taken charge of the Co-operative stables, on Princess street, as general manager, succeeding Mr. J. W. Potter. Mr. Batson is a young man of push and ability and will do well in his new position.

—The Cape Fear Fisheries at Old Brunswick will probably start up the last of this week. The fishing steamer of Atlantic, from Lewes, Del., the first of a fleet to arrive to supply the factory, is expected to-day or to-morrow.

—Schooner J. Howell Leeds cleared yesterday for New York with cargo from the Angola Lumber Co., and the barquentine Rose Innes, for the same destination, with cargo of 17,651 crates, consigned by the Ecceleston Lumber Co.

—John Holland, a negro cart driver for Mr. T. Donlan, was before the Mayor yesterday, charged with driving on the sidewalk in the vicinity of Tenth and Princess streets. John showed to the satisfaction of a jury that his mule shied from a wood-sawing outfit in full operation in the street and under the circumstances the Mayor excused the mule and incidentally the "nigger," who was let off without costs.

MRS. STRUTHERS DEAD.

Passed Away Yesterday Evening at Grist, N. C.—Funeral There.

Many friends in this city will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Struthers, widow of the late David Struthers, which occurred at 6 o'clock yesterday evening at the home of her son, Mr. William Struthers, at Grist, N. C. Mrs. Struthers was up and about the house until noon, when she complained of feeling unwell and retired to her room. She gradually became weaker in spite of all that could be done for her and she passed away peacefully at the shades of night being 45 years of age.

Mrs. Struthers was born in Scotland and would have reached her 85th year next January. She possessed all those strong characteristics of the Scotch people and cherished through her long and useful life a devotion to the Scottish traditions and precepts. She survived by three sons, Mr. William Struthers, and Mr. Hugh L. Struthers, who now resides in Cuba; also she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Springer, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Springer are now in New York and until they can be heard from, no arrangements will be made as to the funeral. It will be held at Grist, however, and the remains will be laid to rest beside those of her lamented husband in the family burying ground there.

Mr. and Mrs. William Struthers, Jr., and Miss Etlette Struthers, of Wilmington, will go up to Grist on the 6 o'clock train this morning on account of the death of their grandmother.

North Carolina Sorosis.

The North Carolina Sorosis is engaged in an undertaking of immense value to Wilmington in its efforts to establish a practically free library. The library rooms are in the Odd Fellows' handsome new building, on Third and Princess streets, and the ladies already have the nucleus of 1,200 volumes to credit to Wilmington. Certainly Sorosis deserves the commendation and hearty encouragement of the people of Wilmington and it can be given at a public reception which the ladies will give at the library rooms next Monday evening from 5 to 7:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served, and while no charge for either admission or donations will be made, there will be contribution boxes for such voluntary donations as any person may wish to make in either cash or books. A delightful evening is promised to all who attend the reception.

Hospital to Police Court.

When Rufus Davis appeared in the municipal court yesterday, he bore the scars of battle, having just been discharged from the hospital where a rent in the breast, inflicted with a knife, had been brought up by Dr. Akerman. Rufus was not before the court as a defendant but in the role of prosecutor and Carrie Stuart stood at the bar as the prosecuted. Rufus had been in the hands of the Philistines the night before, as was evident from his appearance, but just how when and where he could not say for he confessed the mild impeachment of having been very drunk. The injured innocence of the female by his side so impressed itself on the court under the circumstances that she was forthwith reluctantly discharged.

M'CRAW TO RETRACT

Wife Visited Slayer of Her Mother in Jail and Made a Request of Him

ITS FULFILMENT PROMISED

Heart Broken by Charges Contained in Letter Left by Her Husband, She Appeals to Him to Make Written Retraction.

Thos. A. McCraw, in jail charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Wright, has had only one caller since he was imprisoned ten days or two weeks ago. That one was his wife and the daughter of the good woman whom he slew upon the threshold of her home. Mrs. McCraw, her heart bruised by the terrible charges made against her mother in the letter left by McCraw, called at the jail to see if her husband, since his senses have returned to him, would retract what was contained in the communication. It is reported upon good authority that McCraw told his wife that he knew not what he did when he wrote those letters and that he would willingly furnish her with a written retraction of everything he had said.

It is said further that McCraw is now at work on this retraction and that at the proper time, before court convenes, the communication will be furnished the press for publication. McCraw denies knowledge of anything he said or did on that fateful morning at the Wright home and is said to regret more than words can express his terrible deed upon that occasion.

None of McCraw's people from Franklin county have been to see him and it is learned that no definite arrangements have been made by him for counsel to represent him at the trial. On the day that the coroner's inquest met to investigate the death, McCraw sent for Mr. Marsden Bellamy, but it is learned that Mr. Bellamy has not yet been retained. He counseled the prisoner not to talk, but beyond that his legal services were not tendered at the solicitation of the prisoner.

McCraw claims that his mind was a blank not only at the time he wrote the letters involving against his mother-in-law but also when he shot her that morning. Whether insane or crazed by drink or drug, his declaration that he knew not what he did is regarded as most unusual in the light of the sequence of events both before and after the terrible tragedy.

LIGHT INFANTRY PROMOTIONS.

General Order No. 49 Published by Capt. Robertson—Property.

The office of first sergeant being vacant on account of resignation the following appointment and promotions were published in General Order No. 49, given out by Capt. Robertson, commanding, at the regular weekly drill of the Wilmington Light Infantry last night: First sergeant, George Davis, promoted; C. G. McMillan, second sergeant, promoted; S. C. Potts, third sergeant, promoted; P. L. Cantwell, fourth sergeant, promoted; T. J. Gause, fifth sergeant, promoted; L. E. Hall, first corporal, promoted; H. B. Peschua, second corporal, promoted; W. L. Walker, fourth corporal, promoted; A. C. Smith, fifth corporal, promoted; Nell Morse, sixth corporal, appointed.

Capt. Robertson appoints T. J. Gause as property sergeant to assist the First Sergeant in maintaining a record of the property of the company and to open an account with each member of the command as to the issuance of uniforms, supplies and arms.

REFORM COLORED YOUTH.

State Movement to Establish Reformatory for Criminal of Negro Race.

Rev. J. G. Willingham, of Fayetteville, commissioner for the parent conference of the State of North Carolina, will address the colored people of Wilmington in mass meeting at St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church tonight; the First Baptist (colored) to-morrow night, and the Mount Olive A. M. E. church Friday night. The object of the conference is to establish a reformatory for the criminal youth of the Negro race. Mr. E. A. Poe, of Fayetteville, has donated a site of 56 acres of land for the proposed reformatory and it now only remains for the colored people of the State to show their appreciation of the gift by erecting the necessary building. It is hoped that the meetings in this city will be well attended and that the colored people generally will be responsive to the appeals of Rev. Willingham, who is here in the interest of the work.

Governor's Prompt Action.

Yesterday's Raleigh Post says: "Governor Glenn heard a rumor yesterday evening that Bill Carter, a negro, was in jail at Kernsville for outraging a little white girl and a lynching was expected. The Governor had received no information from the Duplin county sheriff but he immediately wired to that official that the militia would be placed at his command if necessary, and a special term of court called if so desired. Last night the Duplin sheriff wired that the negro had been placed in the Goldsboro jail."

Died in New York.

Fred Stewart, the 21-year-old son of Henry Stewart, a well known colored resident of Wilmington, arrived last night from Brooklyn, N. Y., where his death occurred Saturday. The young colored man went to New York to live about three years ago and had been a resident there ever since. He leaves a wife and one child. The funeral will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon from St. Luke's A. M. E. Z. church and the interment will be in Pine Forest cemetery.

Mrs. T. Frank Bell Dead.

Mrs. Mary A. Bell wife of T. Frank Bell well known in the city, died last night at 6:20 o'clock at the family home, No. 1121 Wright street, aged 55 years. Mrs. Bell is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Geo. W. Mills, Mrs. J. T. Brown and Miss Mattie Bell, and two sons, Messrs. Willie and Walter Bell. The funeral will be conducted from the family home at 4 o'clock this afternoon and the remains will be laid to rest in Bellevue cemetery.

QUARANTINES GO OFF TO-DAY

All Danger Having Passed Wilmington Again Opens Her Ports to the World, Without Question.

All danger of contagion having passed and the flow of travel having turned back South instead of away from the infected district, the yellow fever quarantine which Wilmington has maintained under strict regulations since the fifth of August, at an expense of something like $15 per day for guard service alone, will be lifted after to-day and visitors will be free to come to and go away from Wilmington to any point in the Union without regard to health certificates. The order for raising the quarantine was received last night from Mayor Waddell after communication with a majority of the members of the Wilmington Board of Health, who were of the opinion that all danger has passed and that the guards had as well be called in from the trains.

Capt. Robt. Green, the chief quarantine officer, breathed a sigh of relief when he announced the information of the lifting of the quarantine to a reporter last night. Capt. Green has been most efficient in the discharge of his duties. He was always in perfect touch with the men on the trains, advised them in all cases of emergency, met hundreds of late trains and arranged and had executed under his supervision all the machinery of the quarantine from the day it was put on until the present. Capt. Green is not throwing any bouquets at himself, but he says he has had a hard time of it and is glad that it is all over and that the public has been protected from the terrible scourge. The public in turn bows to Capt. Green and his able assistants, for the men on the trains were all excellent officers, and thanks them for performing well a great public service.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Woods-Browning Company Repeating Its Success of Opening Night.

Rip-roaring farce comedy, the kind that tickles the risibles when the risibles almost refuse to be tickled, was the menu at the theatre last night, the Woods-Browning Stock Company having carried the audience before it on that clever vehicle of fun "A Hot Old Time." The situations were ludicrous, the comedy clean and snappy. The audience was abundantly well pleased.

To-night's bill will be one of the big royal plays of the company, "The Northern Lights," the second being laid in Montana about the time of Custer's last charge. The story is not a blood-curdling one as the environment would seem to indicate, but the piece will be found to be elaborately staged, pure and wholesome. This afternoon the Woods-Browning people will offer a specialty matinee at which "Master and Man" will be given. The hour of the matinee is 3 o'clock. Popular prices will prevail.

First Baptist Meetings.

The series of revival services begun at the First Baptist church Sunday and give promise of much good in the community. The meetings are being well attended and the speakers are gaining a wonderful hold upon the people. The large choir led by Mr. James H. Parrish, of Kentucky, is furnishing splendid and most inspiring music and Rev. J. C. Masee, of the Tabernacle Baptist church in Raleigh, is preaching with telling effect. Nine accessions to the church membership having already been received. The meetings continue daily with services at 3:30 and 7:30 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and the good people of all denominations are asked to join in the movement which means so much for the betterment of the community.

Wilmington Furniture Company.

A certificate of incorporation for the Wilmington Furniture Company was received by the Clerk of the Superior Court yesterday. The incorporators are W. T. Mercer, E. S. Hancock, A. Cole, of Wilmington, and Henderson Cole, of Smithfield, N. C. The authorized capital stock is $125,000, but the company may begin on $14,000, which is subscribed in shares of $100 each as follows: W. T. Mercer, 60; E. S. Hancock, 30; A. Cole, 10, and Henderson Cole, 50. The corporation is formed to buy and sell, at wholesale and retail, furniture, household and kitchen furnishing goods, musical instruments, sewing machines, general merchandise, etc., and to manufacture mattresses and furniture of all kinds. The principal office will remain in this city.

Track Facilities in Fayetteville.

The Atlantic Coast Line, through Hon. Geo. M. Reese, attorney, has applied to the Fayetteville town council for permission to extend its passage or switch track in that city and to move its present main line to the west so as to give free and unobstructed passage for vehicles along Winslow street; also that passenger trains going North and South may be next to the depot and not on the track away from same as now. The permission is being resisted by the Raleigh and Southern railroad, which has already been granted a franchise to go down Winslow street and by certain property owners along the proposed route. The matter has been referred to the Railroad Committee for report to a full meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Negro Blashed Last Night.

A negro giving his name as Chas. Anderson was carried to the hospital last night. He had a knife wound over the right eye and on the right wrist. If a tendon was severed in the wrist, the wound may be rather serious; but otherwise the patient is all right. Anderson said last night about 10:30 o'clock he was standing at the door of the rear of Mr. D. McEachern's residence, on Seventh street, talking to the colored cook. A white man came along, had some words with him and set upon him with a knife. No other particulars were learned from him and the police know nothing of the affair.

Funeral of Mrs. Jenkins.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Alma Jenkins was conducted from the family residence, Second and Meares streets, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, officiating. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. Thos. Lossen, M. M. Haney, I. W. Haney, Ben. T. Burns, Walter P. Burns and W. H. H. Todd.

DEFECT IN THE LAW?

Attorneys Give Opinion That New Street Legislative Act Operates in Reverse Order

ALDERMEN CALLED TO MEET

Will Consider the Matter With Question of Repair and Rebuilding of Sidewalks in Down Town Sections—A "Conference."

What some attorneys regard as a most serious defect in the new law with regard to the permanent improvement of the streets of the city has just been discovered. The alleged defect is located at by other attorneys with the same enthusiasm with which it is championed by those who persist that they have made the discovery. An unfortunate ambiguity of English in the act by which no street in the downtown sections can be paved and an assessment levied against the property owners for their pro rata share of the cost as now in vogue, unless these property owners petition for the same, while permanent improvements may be made to streets in the outlying districts and the pro rata cost of said work assessed against abutting property, regardless of petition. The act was intended to operate just the reverse; that is, it intended to confer upon the Board of Aldermen of the city, the power to require down town streets paved, regardless of petition, while beyond certain prescribed limits no permanent improvements could be made and the pro rata share of the cost assessed against owners unless they asked for it. In drawing the act of compulsory improvement, it is said that the language of the act means exactly the reverse of what was intended. The defect was found by attorneys, who, it is understood, have been employed by certain parties who will resist the assessment for the Grace street paving. If such be the case, the contest will lead to numerous complications and an opportunity to remedy the defect will not present itself until the Legislature meets January 1 year hence.

However, it is claimed by other attorneys, that the point raised is a purely technical one and one that the courts would not construe otherwise. It is the meaning of the act. It is pointed out that most any sentence of length in the English language may be distorted into other than its exact meaning and that the courts will only pass upon the reasonable and just view of the situation.

To consider the reported defect in the language of the act and for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the sidewalk of the city, the Board of Aldermen has been called to meet in conference at the City Hall to-morrow night. At the meeting it is expected that a legal opinion upon the language of the street law will be submitted and adopted and that steps will be taken at once to remedy the present deplorable condition of the sidewalks down town. Whether other matters will come up and whether the meeting will be a public one or not is not yet known.

The alleged defect in the street law is being generally discussed in municipal circles and known to have given some concern whether the point as to the language of the act is well taken or not.

EAGLES IN NEW HOME.

Lodge Room and Club Apartments Handsomely Furnished—Norfolk.

Carolina Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, met last night for the second time in its handsome new lodge room in the I. Shrier building, on North Front street. The occasion was one of felicitation for the aerie, which in addition to marking an important epoch in local F. O. E. history also marked the beginning of a life of about twelve promising eaglets, who were inducted into the order according to the amplified ceremonies of initiation of the order.

The lodge room is very handsomely furnished with large heavy, piano-polished oak and all other appurtenances necessary to an up-to-date F. O. E. assembly hall. The club rooms on the second floor are now being fitted up at great expense and will be formally opened with an elaborate banquet in about a week or ten days. A handsome piano with pianola attachment has been purchased for the parlors and all arrangements are being made for a first class buffet service to members. A competent white steward will be engaged and the Eagles will cultivate in every way a club fellowship among its members.

Carolina Aerie is just now planning for a big trip to Norfolk on Thanksgiving Day to witness the Carolina football game and to make an official visitation to the Virginia aerie in that city. It is probable that a large contingent of the Wilmington "high flyers" will soar over to Norfolk on that day and enjoy all that's coming their way.

Back from New Orleans.

The United States Revenue Cutter Seminole is expected to return here from New Orleans where she has been in the yellow fever quarantine service about the first of November. The Seminole is now in command of Capt. J. H. Quinn, who joined the ship at Gulfport, Miss., September 30th. The cutter is now stationed at Fort Morgan, Ala., and is reported to have done excellent service in the quarantine.

Funeral of Mrs. Jenkins.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Alma Jenkins was conducted from the family residence, Second and Meares streets, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, officiating. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. Thos. Lossen, M. M. Haney, I. W. Haney, Ben. T. ### CAPT. DIVINE'S ESCAPE.

Run Down by Car on Front Street Yesterday Morning.

Friends of Capt. John F. Divine are congratulating him upon a narrow escape from serious injury by being run down by a city street car on North Front street yesterday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. Capt. Divine was on his way over to his office at Coast Line headquarters and was in the act of crossing the track when city car No. 21, in charge of Motorman B. C. Jones, under a low rate of speed, ran into him. Capt. Divine was caught on the fender and fell forward about the time the car was coming to a standstill. Motorman Pete Merritt was on the car instructing the new motorman, and picked Capt. Divine up as he fell. He was fortunately very little hurt and proceeded to his office with only a few slight bruises and, perhaps, a scratch or two.

The same car early yesterday afternoon on Front, between Grace and Walnut streets, ran into an ice delivery wagon. The damage was trifling.

Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL.

Teams Being Organized For Winter Season—Boys' Brigade.

The approach of Winter brings a revival of interest in basket ball at the Y. M. C. A., and teams for the three leagues that are to take part in the sport this season are being rapidly organized. The three leagues will be known as the Juniors, Intermediates and Seniors. In the series of games by the two last named leagues, the Boys' Brigade will have teams and some exciting contests will be put up.

The games will begin on Friday night, November 3rd, with contests both in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium and in the Boys' Brigade armory. The first games at the armory will be between the Boys' Brigade and the Association young men and the A. C. L. and Triangles. At the Association the teams of E. C. Lucas and H. Woolcott will contest and the Boys' Brigade Intermediates will battle with the Assemblies. All these teams will be well matched and the games promise to be very interesting.
