AN APPEAL TO GROWERS.

to All Planters.

Maxton, N. C., Dec. 5, 1905. To the Public:

The government estimate of practically 10,168,000 bales of cotton should convince the most skeptical that the Southern Cotton Association was right in predicting a small crop of cotton and higher prices. I want to urge every cotton producing county to meet on next Saturday and elect their county officers and have their representative in Raleigh at the State meeting on January 3rd. If your county is organized you will undoubtedly do this: if it is not organized, it is your duty to see that there is an organization and that the organization is represented at this meeting. This is an individual responsibility, and if there is only one man in each county that is enthusiastically in earnest he can perfect his county organization and be represited.
