United States in Past Year Built 1,221 Vessels.

New York, Nov., 22 .- A great improvement in shipbuilding in the United States for the coming year was predicted by Rear Admiral Francis Bowles, president of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, in an address at the opening session of the society's fourteenth annual meeting here today. President Bowles said that while the government's record of shipbuilding for the past fiscal year indicates a pitifully small showing of steel construction on the seaboard, he was gratified to be able to prophesy a great improvement for the coming TWENTY DESIGNS.
