

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Inter-State Convention of the Young Women's Christian Association is in session in Greensboro. About 100 delegates are in attendance.

—Mr. C. C. Moore, of Mecklenburg, president of the North Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Association, will address the farmers of Cumberland next Tuesday in Fayetteville.

—Mr. W. J. Galloway's barn, near Hamlet, was burned on Sunday night. All the stock was saved, but a lot of feed stuff was lost. The origin of the fire is unknown.

—Fayetteville, Nov. 21.—The Cumberland Savings and Trust Company began business to-day in the building recently occupied by the North Carolina Baptist, corner of Gillespie street, and Market Square. Its officers are: President, Frank H. Stedman, of Wilmington, who will make his home here at the expiration of his term as sheriff; vice presidents, J. F. Post and Dr. J. V. McGowan; cashier, C. W. Rankin.

—Greensboro, Nov. 21.—The action of State Superintendent Joyner in declining the presidency of the State Normal Industrial School created considerable surprise here. It had been believed that he would accept the place and resign his present office, but when the matter came up for consideration, he declined to accept the place and will continue where he is. The board of directors will employ another teacher to take part of the work now being done by Prof. Foust, dean of the college, who will be continued as acting president until next commencement.
