PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mr. P. B. Robbins, of Phoenix, N. C., was in the city yesterday on a business trip. Miss Allie Cranmer Morris left yesterday morning for Richmond, Va., where she will visit friends. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smith and Miss Bertha Hanson, returned last night from New York, where they have been spending some time. Mr. George N. Harris and daughter, Miss Carrie Harris, left last evening for Richmond, Va., where Mr. Harris is having his eyes treated by a specialist. Dr. N. A. Culbreth, who recently returned from Macon, Ga., has about decided to locate in Wilmington with his father, Dr. N. M. Culbreth, with offices in the French building, southeast corner of Front and Princess streets.

IN TIME OF NEED.

The Only Paper That Reached Laurinburg on Disarranged Schedules. The Laurinburg Exchange of this week says editorially: "Tuesday morning for some reason the mails all went crazy and Laurinburg was without any daily papers except the Wilmington Star. It is a serious thing to be without any communication with the outside world, especially so just at this time, in the midst of our legislative doings, and the Thaw trial, and there was a bowl for a morning paper, from all four corners of the town. We were kept busy answering telephone inquiries if we had received any of the morning papers. The Wilmington Star being the only one we had, we refused to allow it carried out of the office, but invited our friends to come down and help themselves. The Star did a rushing business all day and late in the afternoon was sent ten miles in the country to a friend."

Fell From a Scaffold. Mr. Raymond Williams, a carpenter, of Southport, who is employed at the Swift Fertilizer works, at the plant of the old Pittsburg Lumber Co.'s site fell from a scaffold on which he was at work yesterday and broke his wrist. He was put immediately on the company's launch and brought to the city where he was given the necessary surgical attention and afterward carried to his boarding house.

Carpenters to Celebrate.

Local Union 558, Carpenters and Joiners, at its regular meeting last night decided to hold a bazaar on February 22, in its hall on the fourth floor of the Atlantic National Bank building. It is proposed to have an elaborate affair of the bazaar. There will be a display of union made goods and refreshments will be served free of cost to all. Speeches will be made by several visiting brothers and trade unionists of the city. All members of 558, all other organized bodies of labor and friends and sympathizers of the organization are invited to be present. On next Friday night Mr. J. B. Clemen will give the local a free smoker beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The committee in charge is composed of Messrs. M. E. Keathley, R. S. Cherry and W. L. Riddle. Sub-committee Messrs. R. L. King, R. L. Beaman and J. R. Clemen.

Police Court Yesterday.

F. Hannerford, the young white man charged with being mixed up in the affair of former Special Officer C. T. Croom on Tuesday night, was found not guilty in the police court yesterday and was discharged. S. F. Watts, charged with being drunk, was fined $5 and costs.

THE BRUNSWICK RAILROAD FOR THE BOND ISSUE

President of Company Appeared Before Board of Commissioners. The movement of the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad Company to extend its lines in Brunswick county, is being pushed vigorously. A bill authorizing Brunswick county to issue bonds for subscribing to the capital stock of the enterprise, has just passed the Legislature and already the promoters of the railroad are preparing to advantage themselves of the provisions of this act. The Southport Herald, of yesterday, in reporting the proceeding of the Board of County Commissioners there last Monday, says: "Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, president of the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad, appeared before the Board of Commissioners in regard to the calling of an election to vote on the question of the county subscribing the sum of $30,000 in bonds to the capital stock of the above road. Several petitions fully signed with a large number over the required amount of names of voters necessary to call an election, were presented, but owing to several reasons the consideration of the matter of calling the election was deferred until next Monday, February 11, when a special meeting of the Commissioners will be held for this purpose."

Cook Warranted H. M.

Capt. Joseph Webster, master of schooner Margaret M. Ford, now in port, appeared in Justice Bornemann's court yesterday in response to a summons issued by the cook of the ship, Peter Laeping, who alleged that he was due $13.53 in wages. The captain and Ship Broker C. D. Maffitt appeared as witnesses and explained that the cook desired to leave the ship before his time was up; that he was to furnish a satisfactory substitute and that failing to do so, he was to return to the vessel which he had not done, forfeiting his wages. Justice Bornemann effected a compromise of the difference between the master and the cook by which the latter was paid half wages and was allowed to leave the ship before the period of his contract expired.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

Be Hopeful, Avoid Worry and See the Amusing Side of Life. Women more than men are possessed with a dread of growing old, not realizing that maturity has its charms and compensations. We wish young people often had it impressed upon them that they may provide for a happy old age by laying up a reserve of sound health and a store of happy memories as well as by cultivating tastes and resources which will outlast youth. As for those who are already approaching middle age, there is no surer way to grow old prematurely than to dread the future. It is essential, if we wish to keep young, to cultivate that hopeful habit of mind so characteristic of youth—the hope which makes one able to say with Browning, "The best is yet to come," and with Lucy Larcom, "Every year life is larger and deeper and more beautiful in its possibilities." Allied with this attitude of expectancy must be the ability to see the amusing side of life. Worry and vexation over what would better be laughed at result in disfiguring wrinkles. Above all, if the years bring us, as they should, a better understanding of ourselves, a broadening of active human sympathies, a firmer faith in Providence, we shall find life abundantly worth the living, no matter what may be the number of our birthdays.—Western Review.

The Heart of a Child.

That which disparages us and quickens revolt is no less a factor in a child's emotional life. But there is this difference—we have the better opportunity to defend ourselves and to obtain reparation. So there is a certain pathetic pleasure in standing with humanity where its joys, its longings, its embarrassments and its disappointments are simplest and newest, and, therefore, where impotency is absolute. Give me this most uncommercial, this divinest of enterprises for my own! Give me a child to be at home with, to be in absolute confidence with! If I cannot refashion my warped, wrinkled and discolored old soul into the unbiased graces and the ethereal purity of the spirit of the child, let me now and again open that little door and shut myself in that little heart, just for the sheer delight of it.—Patterson Du Bois in Success Magazine. One thousand homes are needed at Waycross, Ga. Help build them. See advertisement.
