

OUTLINES.

President Roosevelt yesterday discussed with his callers at the White House the features of his controversy with E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate; he says Harriman is mad because he could not root Senator Depew out, so he (Harriman) could get his place in the United States Senate; the President also made a lame reply to Judge Parker's charges about corporation subscriptions to the Republican campaign fund.—At a banquet given in Greensboro last night by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club, President Finley, of the Southern Railway, responded to the toast, "North Carolina and its Relations to the Railroad Problem"; he spoke of the joint interest of the public and the railroad in a successful operation and declared that rates could not be fixed arbitrarily by law, but must depend on conditions that are changeable; he asserted that rates are not fixed to pay interest on watered stock and pointed out that if they were every railroad could easily declare dividends.—The critical stage with Harry Thaw will be reached in New York this morning when the lunacy commission will make its report to the court; the commission having completed its work yesterday; the commission made a physical and mental examination of Thaw and cordially shook hands with him, leading him to confidently expect a finding that he is sane and ready for a resumption of the trial; Thaw wrote to Attorney Delmas to be ready to go on with the trial; if the trial is resumed it is believed a verdict will be reached by the end of the week.—A subject discussed in Cincinnati yesterday at the meeting of the American Educational Society was the need of 2,000 preachers to fill the empty pulpits throughout the country.—The Nicaraguan Minister yesterday protested at Washington concerning interference by the American Minister with the war in Central America.—New York markets: Money on call, easy at 2 1/2 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 1/2; closing bid and offered at 2 1/4; spot cotton, 5 points higher; closing quiet, at 10.95; flour, steady, with a fair inquiry; wheat, steady, No. 2 red, $22 1/4 elevator; corn, steady, No. 2, 56 elevator; oats, steady; mixed, 45; turpentine, firm, 71 1/2 to 72; rosin, firm; strained, common to good, 4.50 to 4.55.

A man can't make a temperate statement when he is full of his subject.

It is curious how many men are liars and President is the one lied on so often.

President Roosevelt seems to come into contact with more liars than any other living man. What kind of company does he keep?

Naturalists tell us that only 10 per cent. of all the animals on earth have backbones. That is about the same proportion of men who've got 'em.

If the commission in lunacy finds that Harry Thaw's noggin is not full of bread-crumbs, District Attorney Jerome will want to kick himself for falling down so early in the game.

A Chicago University professor makes an argument in favor of fairy tales. Some married men could furnish him plenty of proof that fairy tales told late at night after they come from down town have acted like a charm on their wives. Married men know that there's nothing wrong with fairy tales told right.

The last man to be strung on President Roosevelt's string of liars is E. H. Harriman. However, he kicks back, while he is dangling there and leaves the public to infer that the reason the White House man tries to put him in the attitude of a tale-teller is because the President hates to take time to squirm when the limelight is turned on so suddenly.

J. Pierpont Morgan made arrangements with President Roosevelt to receive four of the big railroad presidents, but when the magnates were on the eve of starting for Washington they suddenly sidetracked. There was some wonder that they didn't go on to the White House and go up against Teddy, but the President's little memorandum sent out to the newspapers shows that the railroad men could see a red light all the way from New York to Washington.

Major Seaman, a United States army surgeon, who spent some time in the Philippines, remarked in an address to a Boston audience: "To suppose that from a low-bred animal of the Filipino type there could be evolved in a single generation one worthy of or competent to exercise self-government is to deny the law of anthropology and natural selection and to over-estimate the Major must know that there is a precedent among Bostonians for defying the law of anthropology in believing that the black man was capable of exercising citizenship right after he was freed from slavery."

THE SUPREME COURT

Opinions Delivered in Six Cases One Being From New Hanover.

PARDONS WHITE BROTHERS

Council of State Recommended This Action to the Governor and He Will Act Upon It—Penitentiary and Hospital Boards.

(By Southern Bell Telephone Co.)
Raleigh, N. C., April 3.—The Supreme Court delivered opinion in six appeals today and dismissed another under rule 17. The opinions are as follows: State vs. Robinson, Sampson, new trial; Stone vs. Railroad, New Hanover, error; Moseley vs. Johnson, Sampson, affirmed in both appeals; Floors vs. Insurance Company, Wayne, affirmed; Britt vs. Carolina Northern Railroad, Robeson, new trial; Hamilton vs. Highlands, Moore, error; Johns vs. Railroad, Guilford, defendant appeals dismissed under rule 17. The case of Stone against Railroad from New Hanover was one in which the plaintiff has sued the railroad company for penalties on a car load of hay shipped from Wilmington to Cerro Gordo, N. C., the car having remained on the yards at Wilmington from April 20th to May 10th at which time it was reported by the agent of the Atlantic Coast Line in bad order. Later the shipment was made and it was testified that Stone and Company had received pay for the car. The new trial does not invalidate the statute, but the case goes back on instructions of the court to the jury. It was held that not Stone and Company, but the consignees at Cerro Gordo were the parties aggrieved.

The Directors of the Central Hospital organized here today with John W. Thompson chairman and Dr. J. D. Biggs secretary of the Board. Dr. Jas. McKee was re-elected superintendent for a period of six years.

The Directors of the State Penitentiary met here today and arranged to turn over to the State Treasurer the $175,000 of accumulated profits to the credit of the Board, in pursuance of an act of the last Legislature.

Governor Glenn opened the report of the Council of State this morning, and found that the Council recommended a pardon for Thomas J. White and Chalmers White, the two brothers of Concord, who are serving six years sentences in the penitentiary for the killing of Russell Sherrill, whom they charged with the ruin of their niece. Governor Glenn had referred the question of pardon to the Council for the reason that he was of counsel for the prosecution at the time the Whites were convicted. Acting on the decision of the Council of State, the Governor will at once issue the pardons, along with an official statement of the case and the reasons for the pardons. The Whites have served about two years of their sentences and have made model prisoners. One of them has been running the electric light plant of the prison, and the other has been doing service in the prison hospital and dining room. When they began service of sentence they created something of a sensation by coming to Raleigh with their counsel several days ahead of the time for beginning sentence and surrendered to the prison authorities without the intervention of an officer.

Shanty Car on Fire.

The alarm of fire from box 17 at 11:15 o'clock last night was on account of the kitchen car of a construction train of the Seaboard Air Line being on fire on the S. A. L. tracks, between Fifth and Sixth streets, in the northern part of the city. The fire ladders responded to the alarm, but could not reach the car with a line of hose. However, they laid hold and rolled the car down to the bridge at Fourth and Howard streets, and put the blaze out from there. The fire started from a stove in the kitchen and the car was consumed all but the bottom and trucks.

AFTERNOON WEDDING

Miss Mary Allen Short, Bride of Mr. Arthur Bertram Skelding, in Pretty Ceremony at "Ingle-side," Near Lake Waccamaw.

A pretty wedding ceremony celebrated yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at "Ingle-side," the beautiful country home of the bride's parents at Lake Waccamaw, N. C., joined in marriage Miss Mary Allen Short, the attractive young daughter of Col. and Mrs. Henry B. Short, of that place, and Mr. Arthur Bertram Skelding, of Wilmington. A party of Wilmington friends and relatives left the city at two o'clock yesterday afternoon on a special train over the Atlantic Coast Line to attend the happy event, returning yesterday evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was impressively performed by the Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop of Eastern Carolina, assisted by the Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James' Parish, this city.

The beautiful country residence of the Shorts was a dream of beauty in its pretty decorations for the event, and immediately preceding the ceremony, selections of classical music added to the charm of the surroundings. The strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March heralded the approach of the bride. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marguerite Ashley Short, as maid of honor, and Miss Isabel Rountree, of Wilmington, and Miss Maud Holt, of Charlotte, as bridesmaids.

The bride's wedding gown was of white ivory satin, embroidered with pearls, trimmed with point lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was becomingly gowned in white lace and carried a bouquet of maiden hair ferns. The bridesmaids were also attired in white lace gowns and carried large bouquets of bride's roses.

The groom was attended as best man by his friend, Mr. M. F. H. Gouveneur, of Wilmington.

Southern smilax, palms and ferns and white flowers were used in the artistic decorations of the home. Easter lilies were used in the parlors, where the wedding was celebrated. Apple blossoms and maiden hair ferns were the decorations of the dining room, and wild flowers were scattered in profusion about the house, the scene being one of Springtime and exceeding great beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Skelding left immediately after the ceremony on the south-bound train for a wedding tour through Florida to Cuba and other points. They will return to the city on or about the twentieth of the month, and make their home in this city, the groom being general manager of the Consolidated Railways Light and Power Company.

WRIGHTSVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Closing Exercises Tuesday Night, a Delightful Affair.

The Wrightsville Sound Public School, taught by Miss Fannie B. Wood, closed the Spring term with a delightful entertainment in the school room Tuesday evening. A very large number of friends and patrons were in attendance and a most creditable program of music, dialogues, recitations, etc., was carried out by the children and in addition there were several selections by Prof. and Mrs. H. Womersley, of Wilmington. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of Mass pins to the following pupils for distinctions in scholarship, deportment, etc., viz: Misses Maggie and Bessie Roberts, Elizabeth Westbrook and Aubrey Macomber. After the school exercises the ladies gave a delightful entertainment for the benefit of the Methodist Church building fund at Wrightsville. Delicious refreshments were served, one of the main features of the entertainment having been a voting contest for the most popular young lady. Miss Janie Ketchum won with 1,515 votes, while Miss Sadie Dizer was second with 1,317. Miss Lula Conway was third with 602 votes. Upwards of $90 as received from the entertainment for the church fund and every one present had a most delightful time.

EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL

Stockholders of North Carolina Home Building Association In Session.

THE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Reports Show Past Year to Have Been Most Satisfactory in Every Respect—Those Who Direct the Affairs of Organization.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the North Carolina Home Building Association was held last night in the Mayor's office at the City Hall. A goodly number of the stockholders were present and the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the institution. Mr. Marin O'Brien was called to the chair and Mr. James H. Taylor, Jr., the secretary, kept a record of the proceedings.

The report of the Secretary and Treasurer showed the Association to be in a most flourishing condition, the finances being in every way satisfactory to the stockholders. At the conclusion of the reading of the report a motion was unanimously carried thanking the officers of the Association for the safe and conservative manner in which they have conducted the affairs of the institution in the past. Not a dollar of the money of the stockholders has ever been lost since the organization of the Association. The indications are very bright for another successful year for the North Carolina Home. The following officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year:

President—C. W. Yates.
Vice President—Mr. I. J. Bear.
Secretary and Treasurer—Mr. J. H. Taylor, Jr.

A majority of the Board of Directors have been associated with him for nearly as many years. Mr. James H. Taylor, Jr., the secretary, is enterprising and capable. He was with Sheriff Stedman for a number of years that he was secretary and treasurer of the institution and understands every detail of the work.

The decorations were unusually elaborate, consisting of evergreens, Southern smilax and the like, festooned from the walls and ceiling with garlands extending to the centre of the room, a picturesque effect having been attained in numerous favors of var-colored streamers, parasols and bunches of carnations. INJURY TO TRUCKING

Vegetables in Wilmington Section Damaged From 25 to 30 Per Cent. Strawberries Perhaps Not So Much—Temperature.

It will require a day or two of sunshine to bring out the real damage that has been done to truck crops in the Wilmington section, by reason of a fairly heavy frost which occurred in this territory yesterday morning. Vegetables, rather than strawberries have chiefly suffered from the unreasonable cold, and with these plants the first effects of the frost are not always apparent until after the sunshine strikes the foliage for a day or two. Strawberries are cut off some and the season has been retarded, but to what extent no one can say as yet. Although the growers had ample warning of the frost from the Weather Bureau, it was impossible for them to protect themselves entirely, but so far as they were able the tender vegetation was covered and it is believed that a minimum of damage has been done. It is nothing like a calamity, and the colder weather that prevailed in the trucking region further north may bring it about that what the growers here have lost will be more than made up by the delayed and cut-off shipments from other territory.

Irish potatoes have been cut down to some extent, but these will put out again. Green peas suffered perhaps worst. They were blooming, and the crops were practically blasted. Lettuce grown in the open was damaged about 25 per cent. perhaps more where it was headed. Radishes and beets were cut off some. In the section around Wrightsboro considerable damage was done to beans. This may be 25 per cent. or more. A large East Wilmington grower with whom a reporter talked yesterday, estimates the damage to vegetables on an average of from 25 to 30 per cent. This, he thought, would be offset some by better prices after the cold.

The minimum temperature for the 24 hours ending at 8 P. M. yesterday, was 32 degrees, exactly freezing. Further removed from the coast this record was slightly lower. For today we are promised fair and warmer weather.

MR. MAX FIGMAN COMING.

"The Man on the Box" at Academy Saturday Night.

By all odds the most important social and dramatic event of the season will be the appearance of Mr. Max Figman at the Academy next Saturday night, supported by a clever company. Mr. Figman's New York comedy success, "The Man on the Box," was dramatized by Grace Livingston Felt, a play from Harold MacGrath's book of the same name, had a tremendous vogue. Mr. Figman is one of the most prominent members of the American dramatic profession, and although he has not been long known as a star, has been identified with many of the greatest successes of the New York City stage and has never yet scored a personal favor. His experience has been broad and varied, starting with comic opera and musical comedy, developing into comedy, serious and psychological dramas. He is an artist in every sense of the word and a strong disciple of the modern school of art. He unites with a magnetic personality and a splendid method of expression and delivery, and possesses to a marked degree the quality most desired by the public—serenity. His past achievements long ago entitled him to star, but he has modestly withheld until he found the proper vehicle and most satisfactory auspices. Seats will be on sale Friday morning. The scale ranges to $1.50.

MR. J. W. HAWKINS DEAD.

Well-Known Citizen Passed Away Yesterday Evening—Funeral Today.

Many friends in this city and elsewhere will hear with regret of the death of Mr. J. W. Hawkins, which occurred yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of his relative, Mr. T. L. Skinner, No. 823 South Eighth street, this city. Mr. Hawkins had been in ill health for several years and had undergone several operations for kidney trouble both here and in Baltimore. While his death was not unexpected, it will come with sorrow to many friends who knew him so well. He was 62 years of age and leaves a wife and several sisters and brothers, who have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. Mr. Hawkins was at one time superintendent of the Wilmington cotton mills, in this city, and was held in the highest esteem by all. He had not been actively engaged the past several years and had lived on the Sound with the hope that the change would do him good.

The funeral will be conducted at 10 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Mr. Skipper, in Wilmington, and the interment will be in Belleview cemetery. Members of Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., of which the deceased was a valuable member, is called to meet at the hall and attend the obsequies in a body.

Shifting Engine Wreck.

An A. G. L. shifting engine was wrecked yesterday afternoon near the end of the new office building on the north side of Red Cross street, caused by the turning of a rail. The engine sidetracked an embankment and a freight car against which it was thrown. It was sent to the shops for repairs, having turned nearly completely over. No one was hurt.

SNIPES TRIAL BEGUN

Killing of Young W. L. Williams in MacRae Street House Last September.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Jury Empanelled and Two Witnesses Testified Up to Recess Yesterday Afternoon—True Bills in Primary Irregularities.

The trial of young Lonnie Snipes, charged with the killing of young W. L. Williams, a traveling man, in a MacRae street house in this city on the night of the 14th of last September, was begun in the Superior Court yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock. It was in the afternoon before the panel of a jury was complete, and only the preliminary testimony for the State had been taken when a recess was taken for the day at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, until 9:15 this morning. It will require all of today, perhaps a part of tomorrow, to finish the case.

When the case was called yesterday morning young Snipes was in court with his counsel, Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy, Herbert McClammy and Walter P. Gafford, Esqs. Seated near him during the afternoon were his mother, two sisters and a brother. He was tried in neat suit of black and appeared confident of the outcome of the trial. At no time did he display any nervousness. The State is represented by Solicitor Duffy unassisted. Of the special venire of 75 drawn the day before for the selection of a jury to try the case, the sheriff returned 50 yesterday morning, many having escaped the process server. These were, however, quite sufficient from which to select the twelve men to pass upon the case. Messrs. Henry Taylor, J. H. M. Ahrens and R. J. Casteen were excused from service for reasons satisfactory to the court. In the selection of the jury, which required until after the dinner recess, the State exhausted its two peremptory challenges by objecting to Messrs. C. D. Gore and J. M. Batson. The defense likewise exhausted its four peremptories by objection to Messrs. A. Shrier, J. A. Miller, Archie Warren and H. R. Kuhl. To every one of the veniremen were put the usual questions of having formed and expressed an opinion and the work was tedious from the start. The jury as finally empanelled is composed as follows: Messrs. W. E. Merritt, D. L. Gore, F. Jolly, C. H. Ward, John Kelley, J. G. Barrington, J. W. Carr, Michael, Alex. A. Deane, J. N. Fenell, George C. Jackson, W. M. Crasay and Capt. John Barry. The jury was given the usual instructions about not discussing the case with the public nor among themselves until all the evidence is in. The panel is regarded as a very strong one, and is remarked upon as one of the best ever drawn in the county. They will not be allowed to separate until the verdict is rendered and are being kept at the Court House in charge of a bailiff. Yesterday afternoon, after a recess had been taken, they were taken for some exercise and had supper down town. They are provided with cots for sleeping in the Court House.

The only two witnesses examined yesterday were Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, who held an inquest over the body, and Dr. Slocum, surgeon in charge of the hospital. They testified largely to the character of the wound, etc. As yet no witnesses have been called as to the actual facts of the killing. Dr. Bell testified that he held an inquest over the body of Williams the morning after the tragedy; the wound was just above the right eye brow; couldn't tell the size of the bullet; the wound looked like the ball had gone straight into the head. There was nothing to show whether the pistol was fired at close range or not. He probed some for the bullet himself. He could not be certain as to the size of the bullet from the fact that the hospital surgeons had been probing in the wound for the ball before he came.

Dr. Slocum testified that Dr. E. P. Gray, of his staff, brought the body to the hospital. Williams was then unconscious and brain matter was exuding from the wound in the head. From the wound he would judge that the ball was about a .32-calibre, larger rather than smaller than that, if anything. The shot was not fired at close range enough to burn the skin. There was a very little powder and crime on the edge of the puncture. The immediate cause of the death was hemorrhages caused by the shot. Williams had no coat and hat when brought to the hospital.

Very little attention was given to the cross-examination of either of these witnesses by the defense, which indicates that they have other cards to play in the game for their client's freedom. It is plainly to be seen from the progress of the trial thus far that the attorneys are strongly confident of absolute acquittal. The line of defense, it is almost certain, will be that Snipes did not fire the fatal shot at all; that it was fired by another; by whom it is not up to them to say. The pistol taken from Snipes on the night of the killing had but one cartridge fired, according to Officers M. A. Jones and Tabum, who took it from him before he was sent to the hospital, himself wounded by Special
