Uniformed and armed Confederate infantry and cavalry from Memphis and Nashville yesterday marched through the streets of Washington and proceeded to the White House and called on President Roosevelt; some of the old veterans were Forrest's troopers, and the President said he was glad to see them; they invited him to Memphis and promised to escort him to Nashville.

At Boise, Idaho, yesterday, counsel for the prosecution stated that it was intended to prove against the officers of the Federation of Miners on trial, the allegation charging that they hired men to assassinate Governor Stearnsberg and scores of others, plotted murder, terrorized the Coast States and left a trail of blood behind.—In the trial of Edwin S. Holmes in Washington yesterday for selling advanced cotton crop statistics, a sharp tilt between counsel occurred over a statement that Frederick A. Peckham and Moses Haas, New York brokers, are to be brought to Washington for trial for conspiracy with Holmes.—At Riddick, Ill., yesterday five men were torn to fragments by the explosion of a car load of giant powder.—The West Point cadets will arrive at the Jamestown Exposition this morning, and will remain till about June 10th.—Better crop news helped prices on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday.—The fine passenger steamer Tourist was burned yesterday near Elizabeth City, N. Dr. Long is the nature writer and will be recognized as the prevaricator who occupies the seat adjoining that of E. H. Harriman.

Senator Foraker, in his Ohio speeches, is making a noise like a man who has joined the Democratic shouters.

When a Wilmington man started down town the other evening his wife took his watch away from him because he never looks at it to see when it's time to come home.

The Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer asks, "Do Snakes have legs?" Well, we should smile. We have seen snakes-in-the-grass with a pair of legs.

More trouble for the millionaire Johnnies. A beautiful New Orleans girl, who has been playing with the amateurs has gone to New York to become a chorus girl.

The papers are printing the history of aprons for the last 600 years. The history, however, is incomplete, for it fails to state that during all those years nearly every apron string had a man tied to it.

President Roosevelt has a cinch on calling men fakes, but he should keep off the grass at the Agricultural Department, for Uncle Secretary Wilson started it first about drink and food fakes.

Dr. Wiley, the chemist expert of the Agricultural Department, advises everybody to refrain from chewing their meat. Owing to the prevailing price during Republican times a good many people are refraining from chewing very much of it.

Dr. G. Stanley Hall, at the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the University of Maryland, at Baltimore a few days ago, declared that every man should have a wife. The men will do their part to get one, but what Dr. Hall should do is to make the girls give 'n.

President Roosevelt has told us how to shoot bears and big game; has told us how to be civically righteous, has put us up to all kinds of things about marriage and the family, and has given us disquisitions on about everything he could think of. However, just because he forgot to tell us about how animals live and cavort in the woods, and Dr. Long thought of it first, he has jumped on Dr. Long and called him an undesirable nature fakir and an unmitigated prevaricator about things which Teddy alone is all to the wise.

RECOVERS NOTHING

Jury Required But Few Minutes to Return Verdict in Meier Case.

WAS CONCLUDED YESTERDAY

Consolidated Company Not Held Liable for Death on Rails of Plaintiff's Intestate—Day of Argument and Testimony.

After remaining out less than twenty minutes yesterday evening in the Superior Court the jury which has had in hearing since last Thursday afternoon the damage suit brought by Frank Meier, administrator, against the Consolidated Company for $25,000 punitive and $25,000 actual damages for the killing of the plaintiff's brother on the night of August 1903 on the suburban line of the defendant company, brought in a verdict awarding the plaintiff nothing. The first issue, "Was the intestate of the plaintiff killed by the negligence of the defendant as alleged in the complaint?" was answered in the negative by the jury, therefore, there was no necessity for answering the other three issues which were submitted as follows:

Second—Did plaintiff intestate, by his own negligence, contribute to his injury and death?

Third—Notwithstanding the negligence of plaintiff intestate could the defendant by the exercise of reasonable care have avoided the injury?

Fourth—What damage, if any, is the plaintiff entitled to recover?

There is no doubt, according to statements of attorneys for the plaintiff yesterday afternoon, but that an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court, upon one or all of the numerous exceptions filed during the four long days of the trial. All day yesterday was taken up with the hearing of a few expert opinions on the various appliances in general use during the year 1903 when the accident is alleged to have happened, and argument by counsel to the jury, this followed by Judge Long's charge. Hon. John D. Bellamy, for the plaintiff, and Thos. W. Davis, Esq., for the defendant company, spoke during the morning and in the afternoon closing argument to the jury was made by Marsden Bellamy, Esq., for the defense, and Herbert McClammy, Esq., for the plaintiff. It was 20 minutes to five when Judge Long began his charge to the jury and this was completed shortly after 6 o'clock. When the issues had been submitted and the jury was about to retire, Judge Long stated that if a verdict was reached anytime before 10 o'clock at night the clerk would receive the same, but otherwise they would have to remain out all night. It soon developed that there was no occasion for the latter advice, for hardly had the court room been cleared before the foreman knocked at the door and informed the clerk that they were ready. The foreman then turned in the slip of paper upon which the issues were submitted and the first issue was answered "no"; that the plaintiff's intestate, his brother, was not killed through the negligence of the defendant company as alleged in the complaint.

The jury in the case was composed as follows:

Messrs. J. F. Mann, L. W. Moore, John M. Bass, E. Y. Davis and J. H. Johnson, Sigmund Bear, Walter Taft, Preston Cumming, C. F. W. Rehder, W. S. Clayton, John N. Bennett and Captain Walter G. MacRae.

The Meier case having been disposed of the damage suit of W. J. Hart, et al, against the Wilmington Grocery Company, in which damages are alleged as the result of injuries to Mrs. Hart and child by reason of a runaway team belonging to the defendant company, will be taken up first thing this morning. It is likely that few other cases can be reached at this term as Judge Long announced yesterday that he would have to adjourn court Friday afternoon in order to reach his next appointment, Kingston, without traveling on Sunday.

During the morning session yesterday Mr. Marsden Bellamy presented to the court Thos. K. Woody, Esq., of New Hanover, and he was duly admitted to practice at the bar, after taking the prescribed oath. Mr. Woody is a New Hanover boy whom the Wilmington legal fraternity will be glad to welcome into the ranks.

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Pleasant Exercises by Pupils of St. Thomas' Catholic School in This City—Large Audience Present—Medal Presented.

The thirty-ninth annual commencement of St. Thomas' Parochial School, in charge of the Sisters of Mercy at 215 South Fourth street, was held Monday evening in the school building and was attended by a large number of friends and patrons of the institution. The programme consisted of a series of dialogues, tableaux, recitations and the like with an excellent address by Rev. Father C. Dennen, pastor of St. Thomas' Church. A large number of young people took part in the exercises and reflected great credit, not only upon themselves, but upon those in charge of their training and instruction. Mrs. W. F. Morel was the pianist and played the accompaniments to the musical numbers.

A feature not on the programme was the presentation by the Knights of Columbus to a pupil in the school for greatest excellence in Christian Doctrine. The distinction happily fell to Miss Nellie Howard and the medal was presented with appropriate address by Father Dennen and accepted gracefully by Miss Howard.

The opening number on the programme was a little play by the primary class entitled "The Story of a Strike That Broke Its Own Weight." ## AFTERNOON WEDDING

Miss Emma Bellamy Northrop Becomes Bride of Mr. Howard MacClintock.

THE CEREMONY YESTERDAY

A marriage of much interest to a large number of friends here and elsewhere, joining as it did in union for life, two popular young people of this city, prominent in the social life of Wilmington and the State, was solemnized yesterday afternoon at fifteen minutes after five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Northrop, No. 506 Dock street, when Mr. Howard MacClintock led to the altar Miss Emma Bellamy Northrop, and they were made man and wife in a beautiful service spoken by the Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The Northrop residence was beautifully decorated for the wedding by Rehder, the florist, the parlors and entrance halls having been draped with a profusion of beautiful flowers, Southern smilax and other evergreens, while ferns and palms were placed at advantageous positions, the whole blending in a perfect harmony of colors and adding no little to the beauty of the occasion.

The wedding was in the form of a tableau ceremonial, and was described as one of the prettiest ever witnessed in this city. In the rear parlor an improvised altar had been placed, a soft glow being shed over all from numerous wax tapers in beautiful candelabra, with supplemental electric lights in clusters to give effect at proper intervals in the assembling of the bridal party and guests. Kneissel's Academy Orchestra from a bower at the head of the stairway on the second floor discoursed sweet music. As the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus heralded the approach of the bridal party the wedding guests assembled in the front parlors and as the music ceased the folding doors were thrown aside revealing the beautiful wedding scene in all its beauty to the number of friends and relatives who were invited. The little ribbon girls, Misses Lola Taylor and Carolyn Northrop, in bright costumes, were stationed at each side of the door.

The bridal party consisted of Miss Elizabeth Northrop, maid of honor; Miss Mary Borden, first bridesmaid; Mr. John G. Tooley, best man, and only attendant of the groom, and the following ladies as the bride's attendants: Miss Frances Chadbourn, Miss Madeline DeRosset, Miss Susie Burruss, Miss Eliza French, Miss Leonora Cantwell, Miss Alice Borden, Miss Rena Johnson, Miss Sue Northrop.

The bride was becomingly attired in a white lace robe over chiffon and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore green chiffon over taffeta and carried a bouquet of white carnations caught with ribbon of the same color. The bridesmaids wore French batiste with white lace and green girdles. They carried bouquets of white carnations tied with white ribbon.

As the solemn ceremony was being spoken the orchestra sweetly rendered "The Message of the Violet," and after the ceremony the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March announced the conclusion of the service. Mr. and Mrs. MacClintock gave a brief reception to their friends after the ceremony and later repaired to the Atlantic Coast Line Station, whence they took their departure at 6:35 o'clock on the northbound train for Western North Carolina, where they will spend their honeymoon. Returning to the city they will be at home at 506 Dock street.

The bride is one of Wilmington's most charming young women, and many there are who will congratulate the groom upon his good fortune. Mr. MacClintock is a native of New Albany, Ind., but has been a resident of this city for several years, holding a responsible desk in the office of the Atlantic Coast Line in Wilmington. Both the bride and groom have the very best wishes of very many for their happiness and prosperity.

Popular Couple Wedded.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. J. Presson, No. 214 Chestnut street, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Miss Elizabeth May Presson and Mr. W. B. Munroe, of the firm of W. Munroe & Co., were united in marriage, Rev. Father Dennen officiating. It was a quiet home wedding, but a good many friends of both parties were present, and the large number of beautiful presents they received attested their popularity. Immediately after the ceremony they left on the northern train for a bridal tour, and before their return they will visit New York, Niagara Falls, Washington and Philadelphia. They will return in about ten days, and will make their home on Sixth street, between Orange and Ann. A reception was given them at the home of the bride's mother, Monday evening from 8 to 11:30 o'clock. Among the out-of-town guests present was Mrs. M. C. Gallierds, of Connelly Springs, N. C.

PROJECT FOR THIRTY FEET

Important Conference of Business Men With Congressman Godwin Here Yesterday—Special Meeting of Chamber Tomorrow.

An important conference was held in this city yesterday at which was launched a movement for a project for a 30-foot depth of water between Wilmington and the sea, this movement being explained as one not local in its character but of State wide importance, vitally affecting the question not only of this port, but interior freight rates throughout North Carolina. Hon. H. L. Godwin, Congressman from the Sixth District, came down by appointment with President J. A. Taylor, of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, to discuss the proposition and the conference was held at the Chamber of Commerce Harbors and Shipping Committee, composed of Messrs. H. G. Smallbones, B. F. Hall, Jas. H. Chadbourn, William E. Worth, Daniel H. Penton and H. W. Malloy.

Wilmington recently induced Congress to adopt a 24-foot project with reference to the river and bar and this is now being worked out but it has been realized for some time that if the port and the interior points in the State are to enjoy what is theirs in the way of freight rates in competition with Virginia cities, they must have a gateway such as the 30-foot project would give Wilmington. It was the purpose of the business men here to go thoroughly over this matter with Mr. Godwin first and in turn to interest other congressmen in the State. The conference yesterday was remarkably successful in this respect and Mr. Godwin pledged himself to this work during his Congressional career.

Mr. Taylor discussed the question very logically at the conference, declaring that fights before the Interstate Commerce Commission were next to hopeless so long as the interior points of the State do not have a basis for fighting before the Commission the advantages of a gateway such as it is proposed to make of Wilmington. This was discussed as especially advisable in view of the Seaboard Air Line's evident determination to make of this city a port and to make it a distributing centre for the vast coal shipments that are now handled through points north of Hatteras. It was also discussed in view of the completion of the Panama Canal, Mr. Taylor declaring that the possibilities of the port and of North Carolina were almost incomprehensible if the gateway project could be presented to Congress in such a way as to secure its adoption. The trade with the Orient that would necessarily follow would be of inestimable advantage to the cotton mills in the Carolinas and in the exporting of cotton from here; great good would result from the tributary country in North and South Carolina and in Georgia. Mr. Godwin was much impressed with the representations made by Mr. Taylor which are given here only in brief synopsis, and will not only take the matter up individually but will endeavor to interest other members of the delegation from North Carolina and adjacent States which would share in the benefits to be derived. Especial emphasis was laid on the fact that this would not be a local but a general project and able arguments were advanced to show just why this is so.

A meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday afternoon of this week and it is expected that at that time Mr. Taylor will make full report of the conference with Mr. Godwin and steps will be taken to give the movement a wider scope. It is important that all business men be present at this conference and give their encouragement to the project.

DR. MCCLURE RETURNS.

Back From Columbia Where He Delivered Commencement Addresses. Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., returned on the late train Monday night from Columbia, S. C., where on Sunday he delivered the annual commencement sermon to the graduates of the Columbia College for Women. The Columbia State of Monday gives a lengthy report of Dr. McClure's sermon and speaks in the highest terms of him as an orator. Dr. McClure while in Columbia also addressed a large congregation Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church, of that city.

The services at St. Andrew's in this city Sunday were conducted by Mr. William H. Sprunt, who announced what he chose to call a "family secret." This was to the effect that a member of the congregation some years ago took a nursing policy which had just been completed and as a result of which $1,500 had been paid on the church debt, leaving now outstanding but $1,500. This is fine news for St. Andrew's and was a pleasant surprise for Dr. McClure when he returned.

BUDGET IS ADOPTED

Board of Audit and Finance Made Many Changes at Meeting Last Night.

RULING AS TO THE STREETS

Advised by City Attorney That This Work Must Be Done by Commission—Wages Advanced on a Graduated Scale.

Acting under advice of the City Attorney, it was decided by the Board of Audit and Finance at its regular semi-monthly meeting last night that the city can now continue its permanent street improvement, repair work, drainage, etc., as specified in the act recently passed by the Legislature providing a bond issue by election of the people, only under a Street Commission, the powers and duties of which are prescribed by law. The election was carried by the people at the polls, the Commission was provided for and the Board of Audit and Finance upon the opinion of the City Attorney, takes the position that it cannot legally appropriate money for street work only under the Commission, the appointment of which it will urge at an early meeting, so that there may be the least delay. Mayor Springer and Chairman O'Brien, of the Streets and Harbors Committee of the Board of Aldermen, had hoped that until the bonds are available that the regular appropriation for streets might be continued to some extent at least, but under the ruling made by the Board of Audit and Finance last night, under the advice above, it appears that all work must cease until the bonds can be negotiated or until the Street Commission can be placed in charge of other funds.

This action with the passing of the budget was the most important at last night's meeting of the Board, all members of which were in attendance. The Mayor was present at the first of the session, but retired before the more important matters were reached.

Mr. John J. Sheehan appeared before the Board with reference to the contract of Mrs. Jane Sheehan for feeding the city prisoners. This it was later decided, to refer back to the Aldermen for reconsideration, to meet other propositions made by Mr. Sheehan, that were regarded more equitable for all parties concerned.

The bond of the Assistant City Clerk and Treasurer in the sum of $2,000 with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, as surety, was approved, subject to form and execution.

Then the tax ordinance was taken up, as previously agreed upon in conference, with the change made by the Aldermen in reducing the tax of plumbers to $3 per quarter, where two or more hands are employed by a firm, and including the usual tax on dogs. This was adopted as a whole unanimously.

The budget was then taken up, but was passed over for the time being. Architect H. E. Bonitz appeared with plans for the proposed consolidated fire and market house at Fourth and Campbell streets, but Mr. Rathien, chairman of the Market Committee, was not present and did not present the matter. The Board, however, later took up the question and discussed it with favor, but decided to defer action until the proportion of the budget is more correctly arrived at.

Mr. A. D. O'Brien appeared before the Board with reference to certain bills due Matthew & O'Brien as city engineers, which were approved and ordered paid.

The Board declined to concur in the action of the Aldermen agreeing to pay for a part of the cost of relaying the pavement on Princess street, between Second and Fourth, made necessary by change of the grades for the Consolidated Company's double tracking; alleged to have been given by the City Engineer. The opinion was expressed that the Consolidated Company had been given the free use of a greater part of the street, and it was nothing more than proper that the company should place the street in good condition.

The transfer of the two police janitors now employed at the City Hall and the employment of one janitor at $45 per month, with $200 per year for extra help in their stead, the two present employes in this respect to be transferred to the Police Department, was agreed upon and was later included in the budget.

The acceptance of the park site tendered by Messrs. George R. French & Son and Godfrey Hart was deferred for future consideration, members of the Board signifying their desire to visit the property and more fully acquaint themselves with the terms of the proposition.

Transfer of the back tax books to the City Attorney for collection was concurred in.

Authorization of the Fire Committee to sell at auction after 30 days' notice, subject to confirmation by the two Boards of the city, the hook and ladder property on Dock, near Fourth street, reserving an alleyway on the east side, was concurred in.

Appropriation of $48.25 to complete paving around Front street market house was concurred in.

A large number of contracts were concurred in as follows: Jackson & Jun 5 2 fr su
