OUTLINES.

As the contractors have not completed the monument to be erected to Capt. John Smith, the unveiling exercises to have taken place at the Jamestown Exposition, have been postponed. In his report Gen. Meyers, of the Department of Texas, fixes on the negro troops the shooting up of Brownsville. Two fires at Pittsburg yesterday destroyed eight buildings valued at $250,000. Secretary Taft yesterday addressed the Kentucky Republican State convention at Louisville, confining himself to the race question, which he declared kept the South from becoming Republican; he declared that the Southerner is the negro's best friend, and it is all right to disfranchise the negro for illiteracy if the white man is also disqualified. E. F. Noel seems to be leading for governor in the Mississippi Democratic primaries for gubernatorial honors. The executive committee of the American Federation of Labor arrived at Norfolk yesterday and will arrange for the annual session of the Federation at the Exposition beginning November 12th. Edwin H. Potts, a trusted employe of the American National Bank, Washington, D. C., is missing and the police are looking for him on a charge of stealing $11,000 certificates. Near St. Peter's Dome, Col., yesterday an attempt was made to blow up a train, the windows being shattered and one man's hand being cut. Cincinnati, O., had a million dollar fire last night, the flames originating in the Eagle White Lead Company's plant and spreading to adjoining buildings. Five men were entombed yesterday by the collapse of an earthen wall in a mine at Port Blanchard, near Wilkesbarre, Pa.; some of the men crawled out, but others are believed to have been killed. Two daughters, aged 14 and 16, were attacked by a negro rapist near Pocomantas, W. Va., yesterday; the negro was captured and taken to Tazewell jail to prevent trouble. New York markets: Money on call, firmer 2 1/4 to 3 per cent, ruling rate 2 1/2; closing bid 2 1/4, offered at 2 1/2; spot cotton steady 13.35; flour quiet and barely steady; wheat easy, No. 2 red, 95 1/2 elevator; corn easy, No. 2 64 elevator; oats strong, mixed 62; turpentine quiet, 59 1/2; rosin firm.

The enmity and envy of others is often the penalty of a man's success.

If President Roosevelt is really looking for a way to punish the trusts he might try revision of the tariff.

Some people in New York permit themselves to be awfully scared by the bears in Wall Street.

It is almost invariably a hard luck story that comes from Wall Street these days.

Taft has made Foraker tired because the Big Secretary of War failed to discover and frustrate a new rebellion in North Carolina.

After looking into it to considerable extent, Mrs. Eddy's "next friends" apparently concluded there is nothing in it for them.

"Don't laugh at other people's misfortunes," we are told, but you can't keep a fellow from laughing at some other fellow's predicament.

Ida M. Tarbell says "Mr. John D. Rockefeller lacks the collective sense." However, she must admit that he hires other people who can collect to beat the band.

President Roosevelt's Provincetown speech has not quieted the situation. After reading it, the "criminal rich" are more uneasy than ever. The only way to escape and be happy is to be good.

Probably that yarn to the effect that work on the Panama Canal is going ahead faster than the appropriation provides for, is only preparing us for an excuse for spending that $8,000,000 before it should have been spent.

The benefactions of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, according to figures recently compiled, amount to $102,000,000, or more. His gifts are to colleges, churches, schools and charities. He has given the Chicago University $24,000,000, but his largest gift was $43,000,000 to the General Education Board.

Says the Savannah Morning News: "Secretary Cortelyou proposes to apply civil service rules in the Treasury Department without reference to sex, and has begun by promoting several deserving women clerks to better places and higher salaries." However, Cortelyou should know that the female vote of the country already has been clinched by Vice President Fairbanks for pulling a girl out of a lake.

RED MEN'S GALA DAY

Celebration Yesterday at Wrightsville Beach by Cherokee Tribe, No. 9, I. O. R. M.

THE EVENTS ENTERTAINING

Tug of War, Sham Battle and Sparring Matches Some Features of Athletic Contests—Music and Dancing—Programme.

Despite the rain and other untoward circumstances in connection with the weather, "Red Men's Day" at Wrightsville Beach yesterday under the auspices of Cherokee Tribe, No. 9, I. O. R. M., of this city, was pronounced a success in every particular. The rain kept many away and the crowd was not too large for comfort. The best of order was maintained, and all who participated in the exercises and those who went down as spectators were eminently well pleased with the celebration. Headquarters were established at Lumina and at the Casino, and there the jolly men of the forest gathered, enjoyed their sports and did everything but paint the beach the vermilion hue which the name of the order might suggest to the uninitiated. Large crowds went down on the early afternoon trains of the Consolidated Company before the rain commenced and once there, the elements had no effect on the jollity of the crowds.

Perhaps the most spectacular feature of the day was the sham battle between a band of Red Men in war paint costume and a detachment of the Wilmington Division, Naval Reserves, it having been impossible for the regulars to come up from Fort Caswell as had been expected. The mimic warfare took place on the beach in front of the pavilion and was quite interesting as representing the primitive and modern methods of fighting. The Red men are especially grateful to Lieut. Chase, of the Naval Reserves, for his kindness in allowing the Reserves to participate in the affair.

During the day there was dancing to the accompaniment of two bands, both at Lumina and in the Casino, and a programme of interesting and amusing athletic and other exercises were given for the entertainment of the visitors by the Red Men themselves. These events and the prizes in each were as follows:

Bag race, silk umbrella given by the C. W. Polvogt Co., won by Robert Thompson.

Egg race for boys, pocket knife given by James Winberg, won by Ben Duncan.

Egg race for men, silk parasol given by C. W. Polvogt Co., won by J. A. Parker.

Climbing greasy pole, watch by Zoeller & Co., not given on account of rain.

Tug of war, $5 in gold offered by the committee, won by team captained by Wm. E. Watson.

Pie eating contest, pair of shoes given by Solomon's Shoe Store, won by George Sperzel, of Philadelphia.

Watermelon contest, hat given by J. W. H. Fuchs, won by Mr. Rowan.

At night an interesting feature of the contest was a series of sparring matches between Messrs. James Winberg and George Sperzel, of Philadelphia, and Douglass Yarbrough and Ed. Wilson, two well known young colored pugilists. Both events were declared a draw, but the matches afforded new and novel entertainment for a large crowd which lined the ring.

Between the colored boxers there were two matches of four rounds each.

The affair was in charge of a general committee composed of Messrs. A. T. Parker, C. H. Huband, W. H. Lane and John Davis, while the chairman of a special committee on music was Mr. D. A. Rowan and on athletic sports, Mr. James Winberg. The party returned to the city on the late car last night, enthusiastic over the sports of the day.

MR. KITCHIN AT WARSAW

Candidate for Governor There in Connection With Duplin County's Farmer's Institute, Which Was Highly Successful.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Warsaw, N. C., Aug. 22.—The farmers' institute for Duplin county, conducted by Dr. Tait Butler, of Raleigh, and Mr. T. B. Parker, of Hillsboro, was held here today with a fair representation of the best farmers of the county in attendance. The institute was held in the graded school building and was opened at 10:30 A. M. by Dr. Butler, who discussed at length the subject of crop rotation, stressing the importance of the rotation of crops as a means of improving the soil. Dr. Butler made the assertion that crop rotation is the basis of all soil improvement. His address contained much food for thought for the farmers and elicited many questions from them as to what methods to adopt in attempting to secure a profitable plan of rotation of crops.

Mr. Parker followed Dr. Butler with an address on legumes, urging the cultivation of the leguminous crops, both because of their value as feed crops and because of their value in improving the soil. At the close of Mr. Parker's address the institute adjourned for dinner, reassembling at 2 o'clock, when Dr. Butler spoke to the growers, giving them some rules to observe in selecting different kinds of stock, dwelling particularly upon the rules for selecting dairy and beef cattle.

Mr. Parker closed the institute with an address on corn culture, urging the farmers to ask questions and join freely in the discussion, which they did with much profit to themselves. Many farmers in attendance upon the institute expressed themselves as much pleased with the discussions of the day, and as determined to adopt some new methods in their farming the coming year.

Mr. W. W. Kitchin was here, and delivered an address at the opera house after the close of the farmers' institute. Mr. Kitchin discussed the railroads, their attitude toward the people; the American Tobacco Company and other trusts. He scored the railroads for attempting to ignore the recent rate law, and accused the railroads and the American Tobacco Company of opposing his candidacy for Governor. Mr. Kitchin expressed himself as confident of securing the nomination for Governor at the coming Democratic convention, basing his hope upon what he chose to call his service to the people.

CHARTERS GRANTED

Willson-Marine Grocery Company Among Those Issued at Raleigh Yesterday.

NEWS FROM STATE CAPITAL

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., August 22.—The Willson-Marine Grocery Company, of Wilmington, having for its purpose the operation of a grocery establishment and canneries for fruit, oysters and fish, was chartered today with $25,000 capital by J. E. Willson, F. W. Marine and W. N. Marine, of Marines, N. C.

Another charter is for the Rockingham Motor Company, of Rockingham, Richmond County, capital $10,000, authorized, and $3,000 subscribed, for manufacturing and dealing in motor cars.

Another charter is for the Blue Ridge Bending Company, of Lenoir, for wood working shops and lumber plants, capital $50,000, by John Hill and others. There is also a charter for the Lenoir Hardware and Furniture Company, of Lenoir, capital $25,000, by T. B. Lenoir and others.

There was a session of the Board of Trustees of Wake Forest College in this city today for the purpose of adopting plans for a $30,000 dormitory building for the college, to be ready by 1908. It is to accommodate about 200 students and will be modern in every detail of equipment.

Sonney Jeffreys, a well known negro here, has in his yard a remarkable curiosity in the shape of a grape vine that is bearing pecans this year. There is a pecan tree two years old (too young to bear) and close beside it a grape vine planted last year, the roots of the two being intermingled. On the grape vine are five well developed pecans. The remarkable plants are attracting much attention.

It develops that the options that has been given on the Raleigh Academy of Music is to the Traders' Land Company, of Charlotte. It is not known what the plans of the concern are in the event the deal is finally closed. A clincher payment of $500 has been made, the purchase price to be in the neighborhood of $36,000.

Chief Justice Walter Clark has gone to Pittsboro to take part in the unveiling of the Confederate monument there tomorrow.

The people of Raleigh were deeply grieved and shocked this morning by the news of the death of Mr. Joseph K. Marshall, one of the most popular and widely known young business men at the State Capital. The end came at Red Sulphur Springs, Va., where he has been with Mrs. Marshall and little daughter for the past four weeks in hope of regaining his health, which had been failing rapidly for some time. He was a son of Rev. M. M. Marshall, D. D., and was 33 years of age.

The remains will be brought to Raleigh tomorrow and the funeral announcement will be made later. The interment will be in the family plot in Oakwood cemetery.

Speaking of his trip to New York the Governor expresses himself as well pleased with the progress made and the showing for the State in the "finding of the facts." He says, too, that no matter what the result may be as to the application of the act to railroads generally, under the terms of the North Carolina road to the Southern it must be observed on the North Carolina road. He threatens, too, to advocate the violation of the lease the State has given the Southern on the North Carolina road if the company continues to harass the State with all matter of litigation. The Governor says he explained his attitude in this matter clearly to General Counsel Thom, of the Southern, in the conference he had with that official in New York.

Speaking of this conference the Governor says: "I submitted two propositions to Mr. Thom: 1. Avoid unnecessary costs by first taking up the legal propositions involved, and let the Supreme Court of the United States pass on these, so there can be light under which to act in further litigation. 2. Stop the Southern's suit and test the rate fairly, and if found too low, appeal to the fairness of the people of the State to grant relief.

Concerning the possibility of vitiation of the case of the North Carolina road, the Governor said: "If the suit continues, no matter what the result, under the lease of the North Carolina road to the Southern, the 2 1/4 cent rate must apply on that road. And if the Southern continues to harass the State with litigation or causes others to do so, it may vitiate the lease entirely."

The Governor says reports of interviews with him in New York misrepresented him in saying he favored an even lower rate than 2 1/4 cents. He says the fact is that he favored a 2 1/2 cent rate during the Legislature but was now convinced that the companies can stand a 2 1/4 cent rate.

LIVING IN MORTAL DREAD

Queer Hallucination of Unfortunate Colored Woman Placed in Jail Yesterday by County Officers. Mentally Unbalanced.

Laboring under the strange hallucination that she was being pursued by imaginary persons who sought to take her life or do her great bodily harm, Mamie Potter, a middle-aged negroess living at No. 6 North Twelfth street, was taken from her home where she had barricaded herself yesterday morning by Special Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cox and William Sheehan and lodged in jail until her mental condition can be inquired into and arrangements made for her admission into the hospital for the colored insane at Goldsboro. From the indications about the house, the officers are constrained to believe that in her terror the woman has been closely shut up in the house for several days without food or water.

The Potter woman had been missing from the neighborhood for several days, and those in the vicinity knowing her condition mentally were satisfied from the closed and barricaded house that the woman had either wandered off or had shut herself in as the result of the queer hallucination with which she was suffering. The case was reported to Chief of Police Williams, but as all matters of the kind are in charge of the county Chief Williams passed the report on to Sheriff Cowan, who sent the officers named to investigate the report and see what could be done for the unfortunate creature. They proceeded to the house and finding it closely shut up, they knocked several times for admittance. This was not gained, but a noise heard on the inside convinced the men that there was some one within. They forced an entrance finally and found the poor woman crouched in one corner with fear written upon every feature. They gave her what assurance her diseased mind could comprehend and asked her to go with them, which she did, offering no resistance, but being apparently in mortal dread of something she knew not what. She was made as comfortable as possible in jail and was given food and drink, after which she seemed somewhat refreshed. A commission of lunacy will today inquire into the case and probably recommend that she be taken at the hospital for colored insane at Goldsboro.

IN A BAD RUNAWAY

Mr. Alex S. Heide Had Frightful Experience Yesterday Afternoon on Princess Street

PONIES FRIGHTENED BY CAR

Dashed Off and Dragged Owner For Some Considerable Distance, Vehicle Being Overturned—Two Little Girls Escaped Injury.

Mr. Alexander S. Heide, the well known ship broker and vice consul at this port for the governments of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, was painfully injured and had a narrow escape from death in a frightful runaway of the pair of very fine ponies which he drives to a trap, yesterday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock near Sixth and Princess streets. The ponies became frightened at the too close approach of a street car which was not observed by Mr. Heide and the trap was run into the side of the curbing of the street with the result that the vehicle was demolished and Mr. Heide was dragged some distance in an effort to hold the ponies. Two little girls in the trap with Mr. Heide managed to get out of the vehicle without being injured.

Mr. Heide left his office at the usual hour yesterday afternoon and went to his home, 602 Orange street, to take his accustomed drive behind the two fine little ponies which are the admiration of all who have seen them on the streets. A niece's little daughter and another little girl about the same age were taken into the trap. Mr. Heide never being happier than when he is giving pleasure to some one else, and they had proceeded down Sixth street, nearly as far as Princess when Mr. Heide heard the approach of a train of suburban cars. The ponies were reined in and stopped until the cars had passed. Thinking the way clear, Mr. Heide then started to cross the track and before he knew what had happened another car was upon him almost. This was city car No. 12, in charge of Motorman J. E. Merritt and Conductor J. T. Edger-ton. The car ran very close to the trap and witnesses differ as to whether or not the wheel of the vehicle was struck. At any rate the escape was so narrow that the ponies became frightened and dashed off to one side, running the trap into the curbing and turning it over, the children escaping unhurt. Mr. Heide endeavored to hold on to the reins of his slightly little ponies and was dragged for some distance on the hard macadam, finally getting the animals under control. It was not, however, until he had received a very bad scar on the forehead, a bad contusion of the left eye, a cut on the left arm about the elbow and bruises all over the body. His clothing was almost torn from his body in the terrible experience through which he passed in a short length of time. The motorman and conductor on the car and several passengers, including Mr. J. Frank Jarman, the druggist, went to Mr. Heide's assistance and he was helped into the residence of Mrs. Price, on the corner from where the hospital ambulance was called. Mr. Heide, however, preferred his own physician and Dr. J. T. Schonwald was summoned. Dr. Schonwald gave the patient all necessary relief that was possible temporarily and Mr. Heide was sent to his home where he was reported as resting very well last night. He is badly bruised and broken, however, and will be laid up for several days. Dr. Schonwald continues to attend him.

While he was being dragged on the street, Mr. Heide lost his watch and eyeglasses but the watch was subsequently recovered. The glasses have not been found. Friends of Mr. Heide hope that his injuries will not develop as seriously as they may seem and that he may be out again in a few days. No bones were broken but he suffered very considerably from the shock and the contusions over his body, the cut on the arm being especially severe.

MRS. A. C. WORTH DEAD.

Passed Away at Her Home in Creskill, N. J.—News Received Here.
Mr. B. G. Worth has received a telegram conveying to him the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. A. C. Worth, at the family home in Creskill, N. J. While the news was not unexpected, it came as a great shock to members of the family and friends in this city. Mrs. Worth passed away Wednesday afternoon after a period of ill health for some time. She was a Miss Anderson, of Fayetteville, and a sister of Mrs. W. D. MacMillan, of this city. Mrs. MacMillan recently spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. Worth at their home in New Jersey, and had been home only a short while when the distressing news reached her. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of many friends in Wilmington and in this State.

Yachting at Jamestown.

Colonel J. VanB. Metts, of this city, a member of the Jamestown Exposition Yacht Racing Commission, has received a schedule of the races to be given at the big show next month, and also a very handsomely engraved commission as a member of the committee.
