

The Carolina Farmer.

OLD DUPLIN ALIVE. [Special Star Correspondence.]

The Tilden and Vance Club, of Island Creek, which was among the first in the State to organize, met at Teachy's Depot, on the 28th. A large and enthusiastic gathering of the good people of the county was present, notwithstanding the efforts on the part of one or two white-skinned Radicals to keep the people from turning out. Every body seemed anxious and ready for the fight, which is to take place on the 7th of November.

A role of nearly one hundred feet in length lay on the store of that white-skinned and obnoxious Democrat, Mr. D. W. Alderman. Son a score or more of resolute men had the pole erect, and flying from its top a beautiful flag presented to the Club by Mr. Thos. G. Carr, an energetic working Democrat. If half the Democracy in North Carolina were composed of such men as Mr. Carr, we could carry the election without a speech or a flag raising.

The President of the Club next introduced Rev. J. N. Stallings, who in a speech of over two hours in length, defended the Democratic cause, and especially the Constitutional Amendments, with such zeal and eloquence as were seldom listened to. The speaker showed to every unprejudiced mind that no man could consistently oppose the Amendments and call himself a Democrat—as it is a Democratic movement, and was endorsed by every convention and every meeting in the State that endorsed Governor Vance.

The New York Sun says cheeringly: "We wish to say to the friends of Tilden and Reform throughout the country that they need feel no apprehensions about New York, Connecticut and New Jersey. They have been subjected to a thorough and careful canvass, minute and particular in every respect, and in which all the doubtful elements have been conceded to the Republicans. The result is that New York is absolutely sure to go for Tilden by an overwhelming majority, Connecticut by a large majority, and New Jersey by a sufficient majority."

Grant's organ, the Washington Republican, is grinding out very doleful music. Here is one of its lonesome strains: "Pluck, gentlemen, pluck! The 'hurrah' of the hour is with the Opposition. There are a few Republicans who seem to have been overcome by it, and become dispirited."

For the Star, by the statements of the clergy and members of South Carolina in reference to the affairs of that State. On Sunday night pool selling began at Baranum's Hotel, Baltimore. The attendance was large. The selling lasted for three hours. Here is the report in the Gazette:

On the general result in the Presidential contest: Tilden 1,000, Hayes 800, Tilden 1,000, Hayes 350, Tilden 1,000, Hayes 450, Tilden 1,000, Hayes 400, Tilden 1,000, Hayes 450, Tilden 1,000, Hayes 400, Tilden 1,000, Hayes 450.

Yesterday was a successful day for the Democracy of Pender. It witnessed at South Washington the proud triumph in discussion of Pender's favorite and eloquent son, Maj. C. W. McClammy, over Judge Russell, of your city. Dockery was to have been here, by his own appointment, but our gifted McClammy gave him such a severe thrashing in joint discussion at Clinton, a few days ago, that Dockery very wisely and discreetly dodged this appointment with the castigated Major. "Big Dan," however, came to Dockery's relief, and such a complete skinning as McClammy gave him, and the corrupt and tottering Republican party was never before witnessed in Pender.

Russell replied in a speech of two hours, not in even seeking to answer the powerful arguments of McClammy, but by a tirade of abuse of Democrats and Catholics, including Jefferson Davis and secession. He bitterly charged that the leaders of the Democratic party are the greatest scoundrels in America except the Roman Catholics of New York. Tammany Hall rings, including Tilden, were a set of Democratic Roman thieves, the Judge said. His words, as to the Catholics and leading Democrats, were as above, and as they were taken down by a gentleman when uttered. His appeals to poor white men and negroes, as he denounced the proposed amendments, and his allusions to aristocratic slave owners before the war, were, in the highest degree, unworthy of Judge Russell, as they were uncalculated, groundless and exceedingly ill-tempered and out of place. It is painful and astounding to see to what depth the feelings of the Judge are leading him. Courtesy and good feeling existed throughout between the two combatants, but the speeches of both justify the statement that our gallant little "Mac" completely demolished "Big Dan." No sensible man of either party who heard the discussion can, in truth, deny this assertion.

October 31st, 1876. BLADEN COUNTY. Enthusiastic Meeting at Bladenboro. Capital speech of Maj. Stedman, of Wilmington—Also Wins Speech from Col. Francis. [Special Star Correspondence.] Yesterday (Monday 30th) was a day that the Democrats of Bladenboro will often refer to with pleasure, for it was our good fortune to hear the finest speeches of the campaign. A large crowd was present. Its complexion was principally Democratic, dotted here and there with white Republicans and interspersed slightly with colored "doubtfuls."

Another despatch to the Gazette gives this view of the campaign at the National Capital. Referring to the doleful utterance of the Republican which we have given in part already, it says: "This paragraph has been the subject of a great deal of comment to-day, and has created some amusement among the politicians. It is only one of the many symptoms of demoralization which are apparent among the followers of Hayes. The clerks in the Departments and their official superiors are in a state of perfect consternation. Among those the subject of the Presidential election is continually being canvassed, and the more it is canvassed the more gloomy does the outlook appear for them."

It is William W. Holden who, day after day, fills the columns of the Constitution with standars against Gov. Vance. The Tex. Dem. Courier says Holden "has been denounced in this county by such men as General Dockery and Col. D. H. Dockery, and the General in his day repeated said that Holden was the biggest liar in the State."—Raleigh News.
