DIAZ AND CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITATIONS.

The news from Mexico is very favorable to the re-election of Diaz as President, so-called, of Mexico.

Diaz has made an exceptionally good ruler of Mexico, we believe. He is reported to be capable and firm.

UNPROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS.

Of late there has been a good deal in the papers about professional politicians, making of slates, &c.

"The right of suffrage is very precious to the freeman, but it is really of so value unattended by any power to take part in the proceedings of nominating conventions.

The following paragraph tells a story worth listening to. What a contrast it presents?

It is six years this month since Jay Cooke failed. Money then commanded as high as 13 percent, per day.

There were twenty-eight business failures in New York in September, aggregating $315,160.

THE WEEKLY STAR.

An account of the shooting at Blackville, S. C., appeared some days ago in the Charleston News and Courier.

Here is the way the Washington Post states the case in regard to the emigration movement among the negroes:

"White labor has produced half the great cotton crop of Mississippi, and a large percentage of that of other States;

This hits the nail on the head squarely. No man is a necessity in this world.

ANOTHER NEW ENTERPRISE PROPOSED.

We publish a letter from Mr. J. A. Blanchard, of Connecticut, concerning a new enterprise for the South.

Here is a chance for a new industry. A factory of the kind suggested by Mr. Blanchard, and another factory for manufacturing knitting cotton,

The last from Judge Jere Black is that he is for Hancock for President.

Mr. Hayes has a party now. It is an excursion party, conducted on dead-head principles.

THE BARE ATTACK ON JEFFERSON DAVIS.

It is to be regretted that ex-President Davis, in his old age, has fallen heir to property that promises to give him so much trouble.

It must be confessed that this is vile enough, but when the "Colonel" warms up to his work he is even capable of saying harder things.

We have no doubt that tens of thousands in the North will be glad to believe and speak evil of Mr. Davis.

For Mr. Davis's sake we could wish that in his declining years he could have been spared such an affliction.

The reorganizing of the Southern States on a Republican basis pans out very poorly thus far.

North Carolina State bonds. The Richmond Dispatch of some days ago quoted the prices of North Carolina State bonds.

Gov. Blackburn is as little to us as we are to him. But when it is sought to make him out a fend, we resent the falsehood.

The population of leading countries in Europe is as follows: Great Britain and Ireland (1871), 31,628,338; France (1876), 36,905,788; Austria-Hungary (1876), 36,350,000; Germany (1875), 42,727,659.

There is one Boston paper, the Herald, that is just enough not to make a political martyr of the negro Nix.

Gen. Hancock is gaining prominence as a possible Democratic Presidential candidate in 1880.

A gentleman, a personal friend of Mr. Tilden's, has just arrived in Washington from a visit to the politician of Gramercy Park.

The fact was that Mr. Tilden did not value a Democratic nomination for President so highly now as formerly.

If all this is true, then it is about time to stop talking of Mr. Tilden as a probable candidate.

The Louisville Courier-Journal denounces squarely and emphatically that Gov. Blackburn attempted to introduce yellow fever into the Northern States.

We are glad to see in the leading paper of Louisville such a precise and emphatic denial.

speech some years ago that it did not have credit enough on Wall street to buy one mint julep.

The quotations of the Dispatch do not give what the exchanged bonds of North Carolina are worth.

There is manifestly a concerted effort to drain the South of much of its labor.

We are not certain that the exodus will not yet assume a magnitude that may necessitate prompt action on the part of the South.

The New Orleans Picayune thinks that under no circumstances will over 400,000 negroes leave.

Several colored men who were standing near the rear platform of the hindmost coach, said that the deceased pushed by them, saying, "I must get off here, and, rushing out, jumped from the rear platform while the train was going at full speed.

TOM JOHNSON.

The Latest Information Concerning the Notorious Outlaw—His Wife Reports Him Killed.

Among the colored excursionists who arrived here from South Carolina on Thursday last was the wife of the notorious Tom Johnson alias Alonzo Elfr, whose reputation as an outlaw and desperado was second only to that of the infamous Henry Berry Lowery.

It will be remembered that shortly before leaving his old haunts in the vicinity of Wilmington, some time last year, he made a daring raid upon a certain house in "Brooklyn," occupied by colored people.
