October - have been taken, and it will be a fine success no doubt. North Carolinians must do their part, for majority of the men who achieved that splendid victory were from this State.

A meeting to effect the necessary organization was held at King's Moun tain, North Carolina, in July last. We copy the following from the Charleston News and Courier concerning the action of two committees appointed

"The committee on Monuments reported that they had examined a great number of designs, and recommended one which they thought most suitable, consisting of five blocks of slate gradually diminishing in size from eight feet square and four feet high to two feet square and four feet high, the names of those who fell to be placed on panels in the block next to the top, and the whole to be surmounted by the -figure of a Continental soldier, the total height to be twenty-five or twenty-six feet. The cost of this monument is estimated at about $3,000. The report was recommitted. The commit te on Grounds recommended that seven teen acres be cleared for military evolutions, the Adjutant General of North Caro.ina having said that he believed that he could secure the attendance of forty companies, and it being probable that this turn out would be very largely increased from other Stat a

It has been announced that Rev. Robert Latham, of Yorkville, S. C., is preparing a work on the men who fought and the incidents that marked the battle, one of the most decisive that ever occurred on this continent. We hope that some North Carolinian will give the State of his birth the benefit of his time and talents so far as to prepare as complete an account of the battle as the material extant will permit. We all know from experience that if any people would perpetuate the memorials of their own greatness, and hand down to generations yet unborn a true account of what occurred they must gather the historical memorabilia and fell the story themselves. In saying this, we do not wish to be understood as intimating that Mr. Latham will not write the truth as he understands it and from his own standing point. He is peccable like others, and he has no doubt a share of the prejudices and partialities of a fallen race. Ile will no doubt strive to be fair, but this does not preclude others from delving in the same historic mines, or remove all necessity of other peus being employed on the same theme. Men are so constituted that a half dozen pens may treat are already 241,755. We copy the red by Augusta as a cotton ket will be increased correspondingly. The addition to the population and the neces sity of dwelling places for so many more people must necessarily enhance the value of real estate. Augusta, by a recent census, showed nearly 29,000 inhabitants. With two such factories in Wilmington and in five years we could count on 25,000 inhabitants. If the Augusta mills can pay 8 and 12 per cent., and one three days ago declared a dividend of 12 per cent; and if others in Georgia and South Carolina can and do pay from 10 to 16 per cent. and sometimes even more, why cannot similar enterprises be made to pay in Wilmingtou? Surely as competent managers and as skilled laborers can be procured. The cost of living ought not to be greater here than in Augusta or Macon or Columbus. Then we have the advantages of a fish market and other facilities.

There is no doubt about the heavy raids being made upon the U.S.Treasury by the tens of thousands of pensioners. We mentioned recently some facts connected with this constant drain upon the pockets of the people. So enormous has this grown that even Republican papers have been constrained to call attention to the matter and to insist upon its cessation, or at least upon its diminution. It is said that the pensioners or applications to pension are increasing immensely. After disposing of thousands of cases there are now fifteen hundred cases before the House Committee on Pensions. A special committee, to investigate the operations of the pension system, has been oreated in the House. It is really a great outrage upon the pockets of the tax-payers, this pension business. Either there must be more discretion used in the bestowment of pensions or the burdens of the longsuffering tax-payers will be steadily increased. As we mentioned before, it the rate of increase continues before five years the annual tax will not be less than $60,000,000 for pensioners alone. The increase for 1881 is over three millions. It is estimated that there are 250,000 pension applicants whilst upon the rolls there nally benefited if the road is ever completed to Mt. Airy, in Surry county. The following extract from the letter, concerning the progress in the construction of the road, is of interest. The writer says:

"We are working 275 hands on the grading, 150 on the lower end in Chatham, and 125 on the (, censboro end. We have six and a half miles done on the Greensboro end, and there are uncompleted, between the two forces, but twenty-six miles, which we will complete by the first day of September, which will leave the entire track from Greensboro to the Gulf, ready for the iron. 1 suppose we will then move our forces and begin the work from Greensboro to Mt. Airy. When that is done it will be the best North Carolina Road in the State, and Wilmington will receive almost all the benefit.

"I am working 125 convicts and they are the best hands I ever saw. They do more work, are easier managed, and are more obedient and of less trouble. We have no ickness. I feed them well, clothe them well, and work them well.'

In Connecticut 94 2-10 per cent of the children are in attendance upon the public schools. This is a good showing. But when we learn that in that small State the school fund amounts to $1,390,972 54, we see how this large per centage of pupils is maintained. The amount actually expended for school purposes was $1,475,881 01. When North Carolina with its twelve hundred thousand people awakens fully to the absolute necessity of educating the children upon whom are to devolve the re sponsibilities of citizenship a much larger fund will be appropriated, a much larger attendance, a much hgher grade of teachers, and a much larger per centage of children of pupil age will be found in our public

Dr. Alonzo Garcelon, late Governor of that small portion of the "Nation" now in revolt and known on the maps as Maine, once was as furious for war against the South as

hoole.

Blaine has been ever since the war between the States ended. Here is the fierce way this truly sanguinary hero of the icebergs talked in 1861: "Let us send forth our troops wel clothed, with a black flag, and armed and equipped not only with guns, swords, and pistols, but with butcher-knives in their belts, with instructions to take no prioners, leaving no wounded enemies on the field, butchering the last one until we conquer peace.' The old cut-throat meant doubtless all.he said.

Both parties in Washington are excited over the selection of census preme Court Bench with partisans that the most reprehensible party measures might be carried out under the sanction and authority of servile and corrupt men who wore the ermine. It is the conviction of a large majority of the American people that the highest judiciary of our country is corrupt. Probably a majority of the Judges are more corrupt than the famous Francis Bacon, Lord Verulam, whom Pope unjustly stigmatized in his immortal line as

'The wisest, brightest, meanest of man-

Knowing that Grant reorganized the Federal Supreme Court for the special purpose of legalizing the Government robberies, who can by the most strenuous effort at charity and the most determined purpose to be blind to their faults have that respect for such a Court as he would like to have. The truth is the American people have been educated to reverence the Judiciary, and save when they have had good cause for suspicion they have extended to the men who were placed to hold evenly the scales of justice and equity that respect and confidence to which good, fair and just men occupying the most responsible and delicate positions are entitled. But there has been a change. A great shock has been given to popular respect and reverence. They see men elevated to the Bench who are unjust and corrupt. Such men do not deserve the confidence and esteem of their fellow men. You may reverence the noble lion's skin but not the venal ass that wears it.

We have indulged this strain because the Maine business suggests it. As we have said, we do not know whether the Maine Supreme Court has decided fairly and properly or not. We have not given the matter that consideration which is necessary in order to form and express an intelligent opinion. We rather suspect that they have decided according to right and equity, but of that we affirm nothing. But they are all Republicans, and ever since that 8 to 7 decision of the Electoral Commission when the Supreme Court Judges voted to a man according to their political bias, we have been compelled and instructive statistics. We have drawn upon his labors because it benefited the State. We will gladly give statistics of other counties from time to time as we get hold of them.

The Torchlight of two weeks ago, among others, gave the operations for 1879 for two small farmers. Mr. Frank J. Tilley worked four hands. He made 9,900 pounds of fine tobacco. If he gets the price of the last crop he sold ($52 per hundred) he will receive $5,148 for his tobacco alone. This is an average of $1,287 to each hand. Besides this he made corn, wheat, bacon, &c. Mr. M. C. Washington worked three hands. He made 7,500 pounds of tobacco. He made wheat, oats, corn, &c. He will not make less than $600 to the hand, and may make $900. These are facts. In almost every section of the county there are instances of thrift and high

We have published recently in our State news department some interesting statistics from the cotton sections, in which the best results of judicious farming were seen. In several instances more than a bale to the acre was realized on small farms, and in one instance over twenty bales were made with only one horse. We will be glad to see more of these statistics. The STAR will take pleasure in laying them before its readers.

The New York Tribune reports a case of oppression in Massachusetts that is worth considering. The law of that State forbids any person working more than ten hours. Mind you this is the law and they call it liberty. This law is evaded by some of the cotton factories. A woman was guilty of the great crime of working nine minutes longer than the time prescribed by law. The factory in which she had to work paid $30 and costs for this great offense. The Montgomery Advertiser thus comments fittingly on this liberty-loving law-abiding State that is constantly pointing the finger of scorn at the

He has also collected about 70 per cent. of the poll tax, and reports 508 more polls than for the previous year.

We regret to be called upon to announce the death of Col. John McRae, of Fayetteville, after a somewhat protracted illness, at the advanced age of about 87 years. He was a genial, whole-souled gentleman, and up to within a year or two past was a man of extraordinary vigor and endurance for one of his years, frequently walking twenty miles in a day without unusual fatigue. He was for many years postmaster of Fayetteville, and also resided for a number of years in Richmond county. Col. McRae was the father of our fellow citizens, Col. Duncan K. McRae and Mr. John McRae, and of Mrs. Isaac B. Grainger. He died full of years and possessed of the esteem and affection of a large number of relatives and friends.

Entertainment at Burgaw.

A correspondent at Burgaw informs us that the dime party at that place on the 8th inst., for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church being constructed there, was largely attended by the youth and beauty of the surrounding country. The entertainment which was gotten up under the auspices and supervision of Mrs. Katie F. Herring, took place in the upper hall of the Academy building, and the proceeds amounted to fifty-five dollars. At a late hour the crowd repaired to a private residence, where dancing was kept up until the peep of dawn. The communication referred to was delayed in reaching us.
