DR. CURRY EXPLAINS THE PEA-

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 10, 1882.

Editor of Wilmington Start-I have been furnished with a copy of your paper of the 15th inst., contain ing a friendly criticism upon the policy of the Taustees of the Peabody Education Fund. I ask the liberty of making a few statements explanations. There is no secreey nor mystery in the plans of the Board, and any suggestions tending to help in the more useful distribution of the income of the Fund will be thankfully received. The Trustees, unselfishly, give much time and thought to the subject, and desire so to administer the Fund as best to accomplish the munificent trust of which they are the honored custodians. Although the process of administration has been in operation since 1867, and twenty full reports have been published, much misapprehension exists as to the intention of Mr. Peabody, the amount of the Fund, and the oft declared policy of the Trustees. Numerous applications for a wide variety of objects come to me nearly every day. Letters constantly come asking help for Sunday schools, for building and furnishing school houses, for agency work, for lecturers, for indigent pupils, for denominational schools, for libraries,

Mr. Peabody's gift, unparalleled in aim or scope by any previous or subsequent individual gift for education, was intrusted to distinguished gentlemen selected by himself, who were empowered to use and apply the income for the promotion and encouragement of "Education among the young of the more destitute portions of the Southern and Southwestern States." Mr. Peabody left "an absolute discretion" to the Trustees as to the localities in which the funds should be expended, and was carefu to negative the idea that the benefits of the Fund were to be distributed tion at the station house that they former upon any measure of proportion ly received, pending the continuance of among the States, or that any State had a claim to a distributive share.

for authors, for colleges, &c., &c.

Education Fund was not intended as a charity to the poor, nor is it to be distributed in proportion to the population, nor on the basis of indigence or illiteracy. To distribute on the basis of destitution or illiteracy would fail of giving any effectual relief or producing any permanent results. To distribute per capita according to aggregate population, or school population, would hardly buy a McGuffey's Reader for each

At an early period, two related plans, which have been perservingly adhered to, were decided on by the Trustees: First, to aid special schools, complying with certain prescribed conditions; and, secondly, to aid in training teachers for public schools. The object kept steadily in view was the encouragement of a permanent system of free schools, and the only feasible or possible mode of accom-plishing this object was to act in conjunction with State systems of instruction, as soon as organized, and through State officers, responsible to their constituents. This cooperation has not been departed from and the various Superintendents of Public Inlabors of the General Agents, and have shown a zeal, ability and patriotism which the people whom they serve should not be slow to recognize and A Hailroad Official

No pledge has ever been given that all schools complying with the conditions, should receive, or could justly claim, Peabody Aid. As the ncome of the Fund does not exceed $100,000 annually, only a few schools can be aided, and a special arrangement must be made with them through the State Superintendents. In making a selection, schools located at influential points have the preference, and all schools aided must be free, be properly graded, must have at least one hundred pupils, with one teacher for every fifty, and must continue in session nine or ten months. In no instance has the entire or chief cost of maintaining schools been met by the Trustees. Funds are given to stimulate and encourage those who provide for the principal part of the 'a permanent and self sustaining systy in the administration of the Fund, but because the applications for aid were not made, or, if made, the conditions precedent were not met.

In February, 1881, the Board directed the General Agent to apply only two lifths of the annual expenditure in unitaring public schools, and to work rather in the line of educating public schools. ting teachers for the public schools.

Teachers' institutes, therefore, have been supported in most of the States.

These are valuable auxiliaries in the work of teacher-training, and help to them will be continued. More liberal help will be given to Normal Schools established and controlled by States as a part of the system of public schools. If North Carolina will establish and make an appropri-ation for Normal Schools for white and colored teachers, aid will be afforded. Texas was encouraged to establish a Normal College. Aid was promised and supplied. The Trustees have seen their efforts amply rewarded, for the last Legislature acreased the State appropriation from $14,000 to $20,000.

Yours, respectfully, J. L. M. CURRY, General Agent.

A Long Journey Crowned with Disappointment.

About a year ago one John Newton and wife arrived here from the neighborhood of Raleigh, on their way to Florida. Being in destitute circumstances they applied at the station house and received temporary accommodations. They stated that they had only been married about three months when Newton became paralyzed and unable to work, having to use crutches; that he was formerly a resident of Granville and his wife of Halifax; and that he had a brother in Florida, who had written to him urging him to come to him in the "land of flowers" and he would assist him, at the same time telling him that when he got as far as Atlanta he would find some money subject to his order to help him on his way. They were finally furnished transportation from here to Florence, and eventually succeeded in reaching Atlanta, where, Mrs. Newton says, they stopped and waited for some time for the promised funds, she in the meantime working to support herself and husband, but they never came to hand. Finally they made their way to Florida, and to the place where Mr. Newton's brother was supposed to be living, but could neither find him or hear anything as to his whereabouts. Here Mrs. N. again went to work, and, after a season of untiring exertion, succeeded in raising enough money to help them this far on their way back to their old home; the long trip, with all its difficulties, trials and disappoint ments, being made for nothing. The longsuffering but patient couple again reached here Tuesday evening, and upon application, were accorded the same accommoda their tedious journey homewards.

Our representative waited upon Mr. Loweree, and in reply to certain questions the latter gentleman observed. "I was suffering from a very severe attack of rheumatism in my right foot; it was in a terrible condition; the pain was almost intolerable; our family physician waited on me without success: I sent for another well known M. D., but even the twain could do nothing for me; I could not get down here to the office to attend to my duties; in fact I could not put my foot under me at all, and after nine my foot under me at all, and after nine weeks suffering I began to grow desperate. My friend (whom of course you know, for he is known by everybody), Mr. Stacey Hill, of the Mount Auburn Inclined Plane Railroad Co., called to see me; he spoke very highly of St. Jacobs Oil, and recommended the remedy to me in alcohol to the remedy to the re ed the remedy to me in glowing terms. As Dr. Sears said in 1867, "it appears to be best and most congenial to our forms of government to have the schools supported in part from a State fund, but for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. I applied that wonderful remedy, and it penetrated me so that I thought my foot was about to fall off, but it did not; in fact it did just the opposite. The next morning the pain had entirely left my foot, the swelling was reduced, and really the appearance was so different altogether from the day before, that it actually surprised me. I applied more of was about to sustain free schools, Peabody aid is withdrawn, and hence, in 1881, no public school in Virginia was aided.
