THE DALLIANCE OF THE EAGLES.

WALT WHITMAN. Skirting in the river road, (my forenoon walk, my rest,) Skyward in air a sudden muffled sound, the dalliance of the eagles, The rushing amorous contact high in space together, The clinching, interlocking claws, a living, fierce, gyrating wheel,

Four beating wings, two beaks, a swirling mass tight grappling,
In tumbling turning clustering loops, straight downward falling. Till o'er the river pois'd, the twain yet one.

Till o'er the river pois a, the twain yet one, a moment's lull,

A motionless still balance in the air, then parting, talons loosing.

Upward again on slow-firm pinions slanting, their separate diverse flight, She hers, he his pursuing.

EX - TREASURER JENKINS ON THE MONGREL COMBI-NATION.

Gastonia Gazette.

J. S. Heilig, Esq.: MY DEAR SIR:-Your favor of the 24th ult. received. Please accept my thanks for it. Your views in refusing to vote for the hybrid ticket attempted to be forced upon the Republican party by the Revenue and worn-out, broken-down Democrats, are the views of a large majority of the Republican party in this State. I am in receipt of a number of letters sustaining your position. The idea that the great Republican partythe party that saved the nation, the party of progress and civilization, the party of living principles, the history of which party makes the brightest pages in American history, should be hawked about and prostituted by any Democrat mean enough to sell himself for office, is so revolting to the feelings of a true Republican, that I am struck with amazement that the Republican party does not rise up in its power and rebuke those impudent revenue officers and purchased Democrats.
This movement of the revenue officers to barter away the name and fame of the Republican party, should meet the firm resistance of every Republican. Surely the time has not come when the Republican party must hawk its influence and power in the market as "spoilt fish." My views are that the Republican party owes it to itself and the country to call a convention and assert its manhood and break the chains with which the "revenue ring" has endeavored to bind it, and overthrow the tables of these money changers and drive them from its temple. If it is too late to do this, then I say whenever a straight-out Republican is a candidate support him, and when there is no such candidate support the regular Democratic ticket. In no event support this disgraceful coalition of whiskey ring, revenue, broken down, bought Democrats. For God's sake let us take the best of them, and not those that the Democratic party will not have.

Yours truly, D. A. JENKINS, Gastonia, Sept. 13, 1882. COTTON.

New York Commercial Chronicle. NEW YORK, Sept. 15 .- The move ment of the crop, as indicated by our telegrams from the South tonight, is given below. For the week ending this evening (September 15th), the total receipts have reached 49,512 bales, against 28,688 bales last week, 23,032 bales the previous week, and 12,352 bales three weeks since; making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1882, 83,255 bales, against 182,728 bales for the same period of 1881, showing a decrease since September 1, 1882, of 99,473 bales.

The exports for the week ending this evening reach a total of 31,329 bales, of which 27,855 were to Great Britain, 1,789 to France, and 1,685 to the rest of the Continent, while the stocks as made up this evening are now 114,225 bales.

On Thursday, with the news of the collapse of the rebellion in Egypt, there was a fresh decline of 9@12 points. To-day there was some recovery, especially for the early months. which were evidently oversold vesterday. one ballot. 2. The district Representative in Congress will be voted for on one

3. The Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the six Judges of the Superior Court and the Solicitor of the district will be voted for on one

4. The Senator and members of the House of Representatives will be voted for on one ballot.

5. The clerk of the Superior Court, treasurer (in counties having this officer), register of deeds, surveyor, coroner and sheriff will be voted for on one ballot.

6. The constable in each township will be voted for on one ballot.

These boxes for each precinct hould be prepared by the proper officers, the commissioners, and furnished to the poll-holders of each precinct. We trust that this will be done early, so that there may be no default through inadvertence. All of the preliminaries should be looked after with care and in ample time, and no officer, especially no Democratic officer, ought to neglect any duty, particularly any duty touching the election. No Democratic official ought even to have any excuse to make, or be in a position to justify criticism. Every detail should be done exactly according to law.

For the Star. MARION C. H., S. C., September 19, 1882.—Dear Sir: I enclose you a "local" from the News and Courier. They charge from here to Wilmington 34 cents per 100 pounds on cotton, posted 87 miles, and 34 cents per 100 pounds to Charleston, posted 120 miles, over two railroads, and still Charleston thinks they discriminate. Well when everybody in North and South Carolina ships to Charleston, whether it pays them or not, it will be all right from their standpoint. Wilmington pays better to ship to than Charleston. Yours, truly, MARION, S. C.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST CHARLES-TON.—A factorage house in this city received yesterday from one of its customers in Wadesboro, N. C., the following letter: "All our cotton is going to Wilmington, N. C., at $1.50 per bale; that is the rate. The freight to Charleston, S. C., has been put up to 45 cents per 100 pounds, and the agent is required to weigh each bale and bill in accordance. Not a bale has gone to your city and will not as long as such rates prevail. It will cost over $2 to ship 450 pound bales to your city, while the same bale and even more in weight can be shipped to Wilmington, N. C., at $1.50 per bale. I desire to do business with Charleston, S. C., but cannot."

LOUISIANA. Destructive Fire at New Orleans-Loss

$100,000. (By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) NEW ORLEANS, September 20.-A fire broke out to-night in the Boston warehouse, on Lafayette street, between Camp and Magazine. The building and contents were entirely destroyed, including fine furniture and other articles stored there. The fire communicated to warehouses in the rear of the stores on Magazine street, between Lafayette and Poydras, many of which were more or less damaged, including R. B. Post & Sons and the Vose Brothers' building, occupied by James McGrath, grocer and commission merchant, which was entirely destroyed with the contents. The upper portion of the building was occupied by Grath & Lemon, as a bag manufactory. The rear of Odd Fellows' Hall and the residence of Edmond Heath adjoining, were damaged by fire and water. The total loss is estimated at $100,000; fully insured.

WESTBROOK,—At Rocky Point, Pender co., N. C., on the morning of the 11th of September, 1882, of typho-malarial fever, ANNIE E., eldest daughter of Mary E. and James M. Westbrook. She was twelve years and six months old. Thus has another choice and preclous flower been transplanted from earth to bloom in unfading sweetness and endless fragrance among the angelic hosts of the celestial home. Of rare promise and the brightest parts, this sad event again verifies that death loves a shining mark. The idol of sdoring parents, the light, life and joy of a happy home, now desolate, with sadness and grief, her brilliant intellect and charming manners made attractive and radiant the fine social circle in which she moved. Bright and gentle Annie was not alone the pet and favorite of a large number of relatives and loving friends, but the admired and delight of the whole community. "None knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise." One so sweet, lovely, and intellectual, was too pure for earth, and just as she was budding for the graces and attractions of a noble womanhood; God has seen proper to take her away to dwell with the redeemed of His people and with the angels in eternal Paradise. In this their hour of bitter trial and sore affliction, her heart-stricken parents have the sorrows and sympathies of the entire community, far and near. No better evidence of this, and of their high social position and great popularity, could be given than was shown in the very large and sorrowing numbers, from various sections, who attended the solemn funeral services, conducted by Rev. F. H. Wood, at the home of the devoted and grief-stricken father.

NONSENSE. — Now is the time to pull the British lion's tail. Gorged with slaughter, he can only smile.—Cincinnati Commercial. — Seventy or a hundred people must have been killed in the late Egyptian war.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

- It is now believed that Hamlet was a stock-broker, for he said it was better to bear the ills we have than fly to others that we know not of. - A domestic paradox: "You know, Johnny, you cannot have your cake and eat it, too." Johnny—"But, mother, how can I eat it unless I have it?"—Boston Transcript. — Originality: Brown is nothing if not hypercritical. He went to hear a noted lecturer the other evening, and he — Challenging the Judge: A young Austin lawyer was appointed to defend a negro who was too poor to employ counsel of his own. After the jury was in the box the young lawyer challenged several jury-men whom his client said had a prejudice against him. "Are there any more jury men who have a prejudice against you?" whispered the young lawyer. "No, boss, de jury am all right; but now I wants you to challenge de Jedge. I has been convicted under him seberal times already, and maybe he is beginnin' to hab prejudice agin me." The young lawyer, this being his first case, took the advice of his client, and, addressing the court, told the Judge he could step aside.—Texas Siftings.

THE GREAT COMET.

Result of Observations at the National Observatory. WASHINGTON, September 20. - A series of bservations of the new comet were taken observations of the new comet were taken to-day at the Naval Observatory by Prof. Frisby and his assistants, and Prof. Lewis Boss, of the Dudley Observatory, Albany, who is now here preparing for departure for Santiago de Chili, where he is to observe the transit of Venus. The results were so perfect that Professor Boss announces as a practically lemonstrated fact that the present comet i identical with that recently discovered by Cruls in Rio de Janéiro, Gould's comet dis-covered in South America in 1880, and the reat comet of 1843, and he predicts that the same comet will return at shorter intervals, and within the next ten years it will crash into the sun and become lost as an in-
