THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Mr. Randall's Declaration, and How it is Regarded in Political Circles.

Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun. WASHINGTON, July 13 .- In political circles here the declaration of Mr. Randall that he expects to receive the Democratic nomination for

Speaker of the House is regarded as no less than "bluff." It is positively known that outside of his own delegation Mr. Randall has not at this time the assurance of twenty-five votes, no matter what may be said to the contrary. The only earthly chance that Mr. Randall has for the speakership rests in the fact of his undoubted cool and resolute judgment, his long experience, and his valuable parliamentary knowledge; but in none of these qualities does he surpass his principal competitor, Mr. Carlisle. Personally he is the most unpopular of all the candidates for Speaker, and no man who ever occupied the Speaker's chair did more to disappoint the just expectations of those to whom he was indebted for his elevation. In or out of the Speaker's chair his aim has always been to please the Republican high tariff protectionists of Pennsylvania, with whom he has always been such a great favorite and whose | to ignore the Tariff question and it | cotton ties, a measure by which it candidate he now is, rather than to | will be bound by the rules of con- twas proposed to rob the planters of advance the interests of the Democratic party. If he should be elected Speaker there is not a politician here of the least sagacity that does not know that all the important committees of the House would be arranged to suit the Pennsylvania protection ideas, and the Democrats from Maryland and the South who might be deluded into voting for him with the expectation of prominent committee places and chairmanships would find themselves in the background. Mr. Randall's only pretensions and only hopes are those of an "expedience" candidate. It is time

ing the issue of the next Presidential election, and the Democrats have got to face the music or abandon all idea of success. Should Mr. Randall be

New York Commercial Chronicle, NEW YORK, July 13 .- The movement of the crop, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (July 13) the total receipts have reached 11,024 bales, against 11,914 bales last week, 11, 497 bales the previous week and 12,395 bales three weeks since; making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1882, 5,915,986 bales, against 4,639,715 bales for the same period of 1881-82, showing an

by the opinion that the influences operating to depress prices had been pretty fully "dismounted." But today there was a fresh decline under weak Manchester advices and the possibility of diplomatic troubles between France and Great Britain. The close, as compared with last Friday, shows but slight changes, except in the decline of a few points for July and August. Cotton on the spot has been more active for home consumption, with a small business for export. Quotations were reduced to on Saturday, advanced 1-16c. on Monday, reduced to on Wednesday and advanced 1-16c. on Thursday. To-day there was a de-cline of 1-16c, and a dull market, middling uplands closing at 10 1-16c. The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 521,600 bales.

Randall no Better than a Republican. Williamsburg Herald.

To support Randall is to support the Republicans, as he stands squarely upon their platform on the Tariff uestion, and that is the main issue that will be made in the next campaign. Let us remember the words of Jefferson, the founder of Democracy: "Free commerce with all nations, entangling alliances with none." "No Middle Ground or Temporizing

The action of the Democrats in the next Congress must be firm and united, no middle ground or temporizing policy will do. We of South Carolina have had enough of that, and we have too blindly followed the leadership of such men as Randall, and we have reaped nothing but disaster. Tee Election of Randall would Strangle Tariff Reform.

Georgetown Enquirer. After all that can be said in behalf of Mr. Randall has been said. the stubborn facts remain that he is the friend of the Protectionist element in his own State, that the Republican Protectionist organs make no secret of their preference for him as compared with Carlisle, and that support of the monopoly interests when he filled the Speaker's chair he packed all the committees in such a way that every measure of tariff reform was effectually strangled in its birth during his term of office. a member of the Ways and Means By the election of Mr. Randall the Democracy will declare its purpose mittee for the increase of the tax on sistency to make that question a subordinate one in the ensuing can-

The Democrats have Bodged the Issue Long Enough.

The Pennsylvanian is nominally a Democrat, but it is conceded upon all sides that he is not Democratic on the Tariff question, and no candid and fair-minded man believes for a moment that Randall at heart favors a "Tariff for Revenue only." Then, should a Democracic Congressman, elected by a constituency whose known convictions are in favor of the Tariff plank in the Democratic platform, vote for and support him for the important position of Speaker of the next House? The question answers itself. The Democratic party has avoided, dodged and straddled the only great living issue before the country long enough, and God knows we have been defeated often enough, and is it not high time for a change of front?

Lexington Dispatch. It is a well-known fact that when Mr. Randall was Speaker of the House he packed the committee on Ways and Means with high tariff Democrats and Republicans in such a way that every effort made by the Democratic majority of the House looking to a reform of the tariff was smothered by the committee, so that no legislation could be brought before Congress. Throughout the term of his office he remained firm in his support of the monopoly interests, and paid no attention to the popular clamor raised thereby.

The theff is certain to be a leading ue in the next national contes and the Democrats cannot afford to elect a man Speaker who will make up the great committees of the House and generally shape legisla-tion as if the tariff question were settled for years to come. Admitting that Mr. Randall will receive the caucus nomination, and supposing that enough of his party friends will desert him to defeat his election, will the Republicans come to Mr. Ran-dall's rescue? This question is being quite extensively discussed, particu-larly by Republican papers. It is certain that the Republicans feel very kindly towards Mr. Randall. They would rather see him elected

Railroad Accident Near Knoxville-A Building Almost Demolished by Locomotive.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] KNOXVILLE, July 18.—At about 1 o'clock this morning an east-bound express train was thrown from the main track by a misplaced switch, at the zinc works, one mile east of this city. The train was running at full speed and struck four coal cars on a side track, demolishing them. The engine jumped the track and ran into the main building of the works, just erected by the East Tennessee Valley Zinc Co., tearing away the whole side of the building and playing havor with the machinery. The locomotive struck the stationary engine of the zinc company, demolishing the latter completely. The locomotive and tender were overturned; the mail car was torn to pieces and the express car was damaged. The damage to the railroad company is about $10,000, and to the zinc company about $6,500. He is 33 years of age, and has been in business since he was 22 years old. He has been industrious, and has been at the head of three different firms, succeeding in earning a comfortable income. He, his father and grandfather were all born in New Orleans, and is one of the oldest Creole families, descendants of Du Vernay, one of the pioneers of the colony founded by Blenville.—New Orleans Picayune, June 17.

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW!—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that the is a lady who for apwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female. Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Scothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DALLY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No Morner has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup Try it, mothers—Tex it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City.
