THE "MAGNETIC" KNAVE.

Blaine did not prove the "aggressive" and "magnetic" champion that his worshippers thought. He was found not only to shift his plans in the midst of the fight, but he played "fast and loose" and did the tallest lying of any man who ever canvassed for office. His actual known false statements number thirty-two. It is no wonder that Beecher described him as a "Continental liar." His "magnetism" only served to defeat him. Just as he attracted to himself such fellows as Parson Ball and Parson Burchard and Steve Elkins and the "Star Routers" generally, and Evarts and other Republicans of like "kidney," he repelled such honest men as Conkling and Edmunds and Bristow and thousands of the most cultivated, purest and best men in the party. The cutting down of the vote in the big Republican States, with the exception of Pennsylvania, shows that Blaine's "magnetism" is of a very extraordinary kind-it diminshes the popular majority in almost every State for himself. A great deal less of that sort of "magnetism" would have helped his party and himself. Roughly, it may be said, his "magnetism" reduced the Republican majority as follows: Illinois 25,000: Idwa 70,000; Kansas 14,000; Michigan 51,000; Massachusetts 43,000; Minnesota, 5,000; Nebraska 5,000; Ohio 23,000: Wisconsin 20,000: Indiana 11,000; Connecticut 5,000; New York 22,000 and so on. AN EXCELLENT REPORT. We have received a copy of the able and thorough report of Dr. Thomas F. Wood made at the last meeting of the North Carolina State Medical Society. It is an attempt to set forth the work heretofore accomplished by the State Board of Medical Examiners during the last six years. The term of the Board expired by limitation and as a new Board was to begin its work, it was highly proper and, in fact, necessary that the retiring Board should report upon the operations. It is excellently done by Dr. Wood editor of the North Carolina Medical Journal. The report conclude as follows: "We say, in conclusion, that having demonstrated the earnestness and zeal of the medical profession by the exhibition of scomplished work, done in the interests of the entire population, we ask for a studious consideration of our needs. We have already done far more for the State than the State has done for herself in shaping the character of the medical profession, and we trust that she will strengthen us by revising the law under which we work."

We trust that the members-elect the National Board of Health has sent the following communication to all the Governors of States: Washington, D. C., Web. 10, 1884.—Siz.—The second section of the act of Congress approved March 3rd, 1879, 26 Statutes at Large, Pp. 484, Chap. 209, requires that the National Board of Health shall "advise the several departments of the Government, executives of the several States and commissioners of the District of Columbia, of all matters submitted by them, of whitever in the opinion of the board, such advice may tend to the preservation and improvement of the public health." In the execution of this provision of the law, I am directed to advise your Excellency that the presence of Asiatic Cholera in an epidemic form in Europe is a constant menace to the people of this country. The disease has passed stead if westward during the past two years, carrying widespread desolation in its path; and now it has found a longment in European ports whence more than one of the pidemies from which we have hitherto iffered have been brought to our shores.

While our vastly increased intercourse with foreign powers and facilities for the communication of disease may at any moment make its appearance in this country, it is profoundly to be hoped that we may escape another visitation of this scourge; but fol-

The Star route managers of the Republican Committee and the Blaine revolutionists are still circulating stories that something mysterious is going to turn up in this city to help their candidate out.

as to the work done by the State Board of Medical Examiners, and that they will consider well any suggestions or requests that may be made by the new Medical Board, as well as by the retiring Board, that may be deemed necessary to give additional efficiency and strength to the Board and thereby advance the profession in the State. It is certain, that a noble work has been accomplished already and under sharp difficulties. The medical profession, that is so necessary for the human family, was never so high in our State as now. The progress has been most marked. Judiciou legislation may do much to still farther elevate the medical profession in North Carolina.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

The health statistics of cities the United States we last copied were for four weeks in June. We have before us the health statistics for five weeks ending August 30th, and the increase of the death rate in many cities is marked. We copy some of the statistics selecting here and there so as to distribute the cities throughout the country: Burlington, Vt., 42,2 in the 1,000 inhabi tante; Boston, 25.9; Providence, 22.5; not prevent him from losing some New York, 27.1; Paterson, N. J. 24.8; Philadelphia, 21.7; Wilmington, Del., 34.2; Detroit, Mich., 28.3; land has defeated Blaine by not less Evansville, Ind., 23.7; Chicago, 21.7; St. Louis, 21.5; Milwaukee, 33.3; Salt Lake City, Utah, 38.0; Minneapolis, Minn., 25.2; Baltimore, Md. 19.4; Richmond, Va., 26.8; Lynchburg, Va., 17.5; New Orleans, 25.1; Nashville, Tenn., 27.3; Mobile, Ala., 30.6. The death rate of our own city has been much greater since June 1st than it has been in probably fifteen or twenty years. The rate for the year will be greatly in excess of 1883. What the causes are we may not undertake to state. It is for the health officers and physicians to consider. There is nothing really of more importance to a community than sanitation. The schools ought to have plain lectures upon the laws of health and the people, all house holders, ought to be instructed as to the positive necessity of having pure drinking water, clean lots and well ventilated houses. Pure air, pure water, sunshine and proper exercise are absolutely essential to health.

How much of the water drunk in Wilmington is not tainted with death? If the colored people-if all people in fact-were to drink no impure water the death rate would be lowered considerably. The ignorance of mankind about themselves and what makes for their good is profound and wonderful. The truth is, that whilst a great advance has been made in medical science and the proper knowledge of the effects of dampness - wet soil, etc., upon health, etc., and other questions of true sanitation there is but little more intelligence upon the subject among people generally than there was in England in the Middle Ages when the floors of the castles of the richest noblemen were covered with rushes and they had neither chimneys nor

The value of health is not understood. Men are spendthrifts here more than they are in money matters. They literally throw away their health and invite death. Dozens of people, we might say doubtless a hundred people, die annually in Wilmington, who need not to have died. They simply destroyed themselves by indulgence-by neglecting to observe the simplest laws of health; and hoost a muched of south

That our readers may see how supreme is the ignorance on the subject of health, we copy a paragraph from an excellent lecture by Prof. Kedzie, delivered before the Drainage Association of Michigan last March. If every one in Wi mington were flannel all the rese ound the health of the peop would be greatly improved. As is not one-fourth of the people probably wear flannel in the winter.

Sanitary drainage ought to be well inderstood as a theory by our city officials, and the system adopted and applied ought to embrace the city and its surroundings. It is believed by many that in the neglect of this we may find some of the causes that have increased the death rate during the last five or six months more than fifty per centary at pat-ou trace of

What effect the cultivation of rice beyond the river has had upon the health of Wilmington is certainly a matter for the authorities and physicians to consider. What effect the depositing of night-soil so near the city has had is another important question. What effect the water used for drinking purposes has is another paramount question that ought not to be neglected. The public health is of great importance. An able-bodied man is worth $1,000 to the State, viewed economically. A sick manan invalid, is a tax instead of a source

If five hundred or one thousand people die in Wilmington within a decade who ought not to have died then there is fearful responsibility somewhere. Upon whom can it rest? Not all upon the victims themselves.

Those who have examined into the subject of the laws of health know that sanitation, &c., have lengthened in England human life by several years, and have thereby greatly enriched the State whilst bringing happiness and comforts and enjoyments and even wealth to hundreds of thon-

A TWO EDGED SWORD.

If our Government continues to shut out by a barbed-wire fence called Protection the productions of England, France, Germany and Italy can we complain if they erect barbed-wire arrangement of their wn to prevent the introduction of our products from farm and shop and loom? But let us look at the bread

The wheat crop of the United States is immense, and in the year 880 the export of this article reached the vast sum of 186 millions England is not now dependent so nuch upon America for her bread supplies. Other countries in 1883 and in 1884 were much better off than they were in 1880 as far as deending on other countries is conperned for food for their populations. The New York Daily Commercia Bulletin takes this survey, and it is well enough to understand the true situation, as it has a direct bearing upon the present High Tariff, as wel as upon the important question of production. The New York paper

"In Germany the emigration of the poorer class of farmers has produced an amelioration of the condition of those who emain; and the Government is sacrificing remain; and the Government is sacrificing the interests of the population at large by excluding foreign food products to encourage home agriculture. In France, the Government shows a like disposition to enit out American provisions; and England will if possible cripple the trade it Western beef through a cattle diseases act. In Russis a gradual expansion of the wheat and rye area is going forward. In India, the policy of carrying railroads into the wheat growing country is showing its effects in a four fold increase of the exports of that grain; and yet that policy is only in its beginnings and may quite possionly in its beginnings and may quite possibly result, within the next few years, in a xport equal to the average shipmen rom the United States for the last to Protracted Brought, ", aresy

In the face of such facts our ow country is steadily producing more wheat and corn. The area in 1877, as 76 million acress in 1888, it 106 millions an increase in six years of 40 per cent. The danger lies here Europe has recuperated and is making most of its own food. The United States are steadily increasing their production of food. Prices are low down and they may remain down? The law of supply and de mand will always assert itself. Here is food for thought. It is very possible for this country to produce far too much. Nay, it is already producing too many goods and too much of breadstuffs. We have no foreign markets for the former and the demand abroad for the latter is lessened very much alf Europe should put up a Chinese wall called a Tariff, simed mainly at the United

New York by nearly 1,300 votes. This is close in a State of five millions inhabitants. But there have been closer votes in the past. Henry Clay carried Tennessee against Polk in 1844 by but 113 votes. Morton, setts by one vote, we think. Wash ugton Hunt was elected Gover of New York by less than 400. Myron H. Clark defeated Seymour for Governor of New York by less than 50. Haves stole Florida and blaimed it by 926. Hayes carried Nevada by 1,075, Oregon by 547 and South Carolina by 964. Grant carried Delaware by 422 and Virginia by 1,772. Greeley carried Maryland by 604. Seymour carried Oregon by 164. McClelland carried Delaware by 612. Lincoln carried California in 1860 by 667. Douglas carried Missouri by 429, Breckenridge carned Maryland by 722, and North Carolina by 648. John Bell carried Virginia by 358. Pierce in 1852, carried Delaware by 25, Iowa by 303, Maine by 1,036, Michigan by 746, North Carolina by 627, Rhode Island by 465. Scott carried Vermont by 508. Polk in 1844 carried Indian by 208, Louisiana by 699. Clay carried Delaware by 282, New Jersey by 692. Harrison, in 1840, carried Maine by 217, Pennsylvania by 2. Van Buren carried Arkansas by 889. In 1886 he carried Louisiana by 270, Mississippi by 201, and Rhode Island by 254. Harrison carried New Jersey by 545.

So close majorities in the past have been frequent. The large State of Pennsylvania went for Harrison by 2 majority and there was no squabble, no attempt at fraud, no "visiting statesmen" interfering. It is time that this sort of rascally procedure into the Eighth Regiment, which afterwards was stopped. It is simply a great | became the Eighteenth. Gen. Beauregard has a very interesting illustrated paper in November number of the Century Manassas. He gives the clearest and best account of that very important victory for the South that we have seen. It is instructive reading. He shows in the closing part of his paper much bitterness towards President Davis. It must be admitted that he shows that he has grounds for complaint and sharp criticism. One pasage may be reflected upon with interest. He says:

"We needed for President either a military man of high order or a politician of the first class (such as Howell Cobb), withthe first class (such as Howell Cobb), without military pretensions. The South did not fall crushed by the mere weight of the North; but it was nibbled away at all sides and ends because its executive head never gathered and wielded its strength under the ready advantages that greatly reduced or neutralized its adversary's naked physical superiority. It is but another of the many proofs that timid direction may readily go with physical courage, and that the passive defensive policy makes a long agony, but can never win a war."

The papers are discussing the treatment of the negroes by their white allies. The Augusta, Ga., Chronicle Bays:

how their black and white bosses have deceived them. They will learn under a Democratic administration that not one of their civic rights will be impaired or threatened. They ought to learn also that friendship for the Southern whites is their wisest policy as well as their best interest."

The Boston Herald beat the New York papers badly. On the 5th inst, it sold 302,000 copies. It is a very superior paper. Foreign Exports.

Few, perhaps, are aware of the fact that is a provision in the common law that where two pedestrians, or persons walking on the streets, meet each other, each shall turn to the right and keep to it. The law comes in when, in case of a collision from neglect to observe this rule, injury ensue to one of the persons, the latter being thereupon privileged to look to the law for redress. The same sule applies to drivers of vehicles. If two of these are approaching each other from different directions each should turn to the right, and in case of a collision from neglect on the part of either to comply with the rule redress can be had by the aggrieved party. We do not refer to this subject, however, merely for the purpose of calling attention to the law governing in the matter, but to show ow easily it is to obviste difficulties, inconveniences or misunderstandings which so often arise among pedestrians and drivers by this means. On Broadway and other crowded thoroughfares of New York and other large cities this rule is observed and although a constant stream of humanity crowd the sidewalks, some going in one direction and some in the other, it is very rare indeed that there is ever a collision Perhaps it would better express our idea say that persons travelling in any direction should always keep to the right; those going one way taking the inside and those going the other way the outside of Charlotte f Observer; As the Charlotte-bound train passed from Station yesterday an old gray haired sovereign was standing on the platform firing an old musket. He would pour the powder in by the handful and drive a newspaper home on top of it, and every time the gun fired the "kick" would make him spin around. It was not until the gun bursted and kicked the old man over a box car that he ceased pected to be elected by Democrats alone; and a canvass, with it eager discussion and argument, implies a hope and intention to effect a change of epinions.

Mr. Cleveland takes the Executive chair Mr. Cleveland takes the Executive chair with his hands free. Beyond any President of recent times, he has been elected not by a party, but by the people.

In the present political situation, in fact, the new President will have to create a party. Unless he binds together the elements which combined to elect him they will undoubtedly diverge and become scattered, now that the great and pressing occasion for combined action has ecceed.
