ing a business a year. The business that comes to retired. this place by small sailing craft or on flat boats and lighters from the rivers and sounds in this part of the State is very large, but no sufficient data is attainable for even an approximate estimate of it. It forms no inconsiderable part of the traffic along the water front of the city, and furnishes many picturesque scenes for the instantaneous photographer. But the commerce of Wilmington, foreign and coastwise, large and increasing as it is, is but a small thing now. as compared with what it may be; indeed, what in all probability it will be within twenty years. The im-provement of the harbor, the removing of obstructions and deepening the channels of rivers are preparing the way for a traffic that is certain to come, and to come to stay. The business of making and exporting naval stores falls off annually. The bulk of it now is not onequarter what it was twenty years ago. Rice plantations are not the properties they were, and while it may be that with increased attention to agriculture they may some time be restored to their former productiveness, it is scarcely probable. Lumber alone commands its old 'position in the trade of Wilmington. The citizens of middle age have had to change all the business methods of their youth and to learn new things under most trying circumstances. The young fellows who were children during the war grew up to manhood during a long period of political chaos and of feverish unsettled business conditions. The severe lessons of the twenty years last past have been thoroughly learned by these people, cos-mopolitans by birth or by lineage, and the result is seen in nearly all that makes the business life of this city to-day, and that gives promise for its prosperons growth in the future. SOME LITERARY CURIOSI-TIES.

Augusta Chronicle.

The New Orleans Picayune be holds in a Northern horoscope the realization of its prediction that Gorge W. Cable, when he turned political doctrinaire and negrophilist, would cease to be an artist, and that his inspiration would desert him. The New York Evening Post, famous for literary criticism, says:

"After our idyllic Cable came up from Creole associations and scenes to his cozy work room in the building of the Century Company in Union Square, where he had no traditions, and only the neighboring roofs to inspire him, we missed his old charm sadly, and in his writing we felt as if he himself were longing once more for the lost grace of 'Creole Days,' 'The Grandissimes,' and the rest of that delightful and unique group of stories."

NEW YORK, March 8.—Henry Ward Beecher died this morning. He began to sink rapidly after midnight, and the watchers at his bedside soon saw that the end was near. Mr. Beecher passed quietly while asleep. He never recovered consciousness after the paralysis stupified his mind. It is of course too early yet to obtain anything definite as to the funeral, but the interment will probably be in Greenwood Mr. Beecher never bought a lot there, but his children and some of his grandchildren lie on Evergreen Hill, in the plot of Mrs. John T. Howard. Mr. Beecher's twin babies died on the same day, when the afterwards famous preacher was young and poor and comparatively unknown. was living at the time in Mr. Howard's house, and was given a place on Evergre r Hill. It was the wish of the family that the funeral should be as quiet as possible. This bulletin was issued: "Services at the house will be confined absolutely to relatives, without any exception, being it manifest that a selection outside the family circle, would be impos-sible, the house being too small to hold even a small part of the deceased's nearest friends. The interment will be Greenwood Cemetery. In accordance with agreement between Mr. Beecher and Dr. Hall, that whoever died first the other should officiate at the funeral, Dr. C. H. Hall will perform the ceremony. The committee to take charge of the funeral arrangements has been appointed as follows: John T. How-ard, S. V. White, Thomas J. Tilney, Pro-V. White, Thomas J. Tilney, Pro-Rossiter Raymond and Augustus fessor Storrs.

WASHINGTON, March 9 — Agricultural colleges the land over are flying their flags, and the people who are interested in them are rejoicing in consequence of the passage of the Experiment Station bill; but a ques tion has arisen which would appear to indicate that the demonstrations are prema-ture. The fifth section of the bill says: "The sum of $15,000 is hereby appropria-ted to each State, to be specially provided for by Congress in appropriations from year to year, from sales of public lands, the first payment to be made on the first day of Oc-tober, 1887." This singular phraseology has been held to be an appropriation clause, but close inspection of it has given rise to doubts, the weight of unofficial opinion being that no money is appropriated. If this is sustained by the authorities, the beginning of the new work will be delayed until
