James and John Hunter are proprietors of the Conestogs Print Works and have large mills in West Philadelphia and Nor-ristown. The works were established in 1829 by their father, Thomas Hunter, who came to this country from Belfast, Ireland, with his family in 1827. The mills turned out about 12,000 pieces of standard madder prints a year. The firm were pioneers in the manufacture of alizirine, or extract of madder, which has revolutionized the mak ing of fast colors. The house was also for many years the only one in the country which made alizirine for sale. The elder Hunter died in 1848, when control of the business devolved upon the present proprietors.

- Freezing out Mr. Randall was pleasant process expected of the Republians in the Pennsylvania Legislature in their redistricting of the State for Congressional purposes. They had a chance, here perhaps to rid the country of as pestiferous a politician as ever lowered the tone of its public affairs.—Indianapolis News, Ind.

- The average voter is very apt o gauge his representative's efficiency by the amount of money that the latter is enabled to have appropriated for the benefit of the "deestrick," and hence the member who can get away with the most plunder in this Congressional grab game is surest of a re-election -Petersburg Index Appeal, Dem

New York Rice Market. N. Y. Journal of Commerce, March 22.

RICE.-A fair demand prevails in all domestic sorts. There is said to be a large stock at this point, but much of it has been withdrawn and a considerable proportion held under limits so high as practically to put it out of the market. Because of this the available supply is light, and the more active sellers are compelled to contemplate a resupply from primary markets, which are now relatively higher than here. As the result of these conditions the tone of the market is not only strong but many are
