Col. Duckery is down on County Government. He is so much in sympathy with his party, mainly composed of the "largely savages," to whom Judge Russell referred in his letter, that he is willing to hand over the twenty-six negro counties to the control of the blacks. This pretentious and yet ignorant politician is ready to give the negroes control of the purse-strings. This is the real import and end of his letter He proposes a sort of round-about way but the end in view is to give the negroes control. There never was a more foolish suggestion made by mortal than he makes, nor one more immical to the true interests of the white people. If there had been any doubt of the assertion that Duckery is a demagogue, his letter must remove all doubt forever. He is wholly upset and dissatisfied at the present system of County Government. He says the "valuation of property, laying of taxes and control of public schools are far removed from the people"-that is, from his negro allies and chief supportersand that "this is subversion of right and tends to sap fundamental principles." It is a "fundamental principle" of a Republican form of Government, as administered by Radical schemers, political adventurers and chronic office-seekers that the ignorant and unlettered should control the purse-strings of the property owners and levy and spend the taxes collected from the people. The Radical candidate for Governor has a remedy and such a remedy it is. He wants the Legislature to change the system. He proposes that an act shall be passed "authorizing the Governor, on the petition of not less than one hundred free holders of any county, to appoint a board of audit aud finance for each county, to consist of as many members as the Board of County Commissioners, to be of both political parties, and the majority thereof too be of opposite politics to the majority of the Board of Commissioners without whose consent not a dollar of the people's money shall be expended."

Thie is the mouse produced by the laboring of the Radical mountain. He proposes a system that would give ignorance and vice full control or that would stop the wheels altogether. How could there be any progress, any proper expenditure under such 'a wild-goose scheme? The Board of Audit and Finance to be controlled by Radicals and the Board of County Commissioners to be controlled by the Democrats or vice versa. How would this work? The Dem ocrats in the counties could not make any needed expenditure without Rudical consent or approval. It is true the Democrats could keep the negroes and their allies from wasting or pillaging the funds, but ignorance would dominate all the same, for the negroes could lock the wheels

The whites in the East want none of this Dackery nonsense. It is a trick, a dodge, a scheme to propitiate ignorance and catch votes. It is conceived in mischief and will be worked in iniquity. It begins in demagoguery and if successful will end in calamity to the State. Duckery's balm is not the balm sought by the whites. The balm of Oliver will not begin to do. A . URIOUS INFERENCE FROM

A gentleman at Maxton writes on the 13th July thus:

'What is the origin of 'The noblest Roman of them all'? I remember that it was applied to Thurman in a nominating speech few years ago and supposed that it referred to the third citizen's remark that There's not a nobler man in Rome than Antony.' But the great joke of the season is the fact that the idea is out that it means that he is a Catholic

We copy this for a double purpose although it was intended for our private eye. We were recently stopped on the street and asked if Judge Thurman was a Roman Catholic? It seems that this belief is spreading. Perhaps it grows out of the oft quoted line, "The noblest Roman of them all," which is nearly at the close of the great play of "Julius Cæsar," and is in the last remarks made by Mark Antony. We have no information concerning Judge Thurman'acturch relations. We have never seen it mentioned in any Northern exchange to what church he belonged, if any. His father was a Methodist preacher. We are unable to give the origin of its application to Judge Thurman. It is just one of those well used lines in Shakespeare -who furnishes half of the notable savings of the world - that have been applied by ten thousand writers to ten thousand men. We suppose we have used it many scores of times in the course of our editorial life, applying it to them. Casar was a favorite with Shakespeare. He regarded him the greatest of men and in more than one play signalizes his admiration by probouncing him greater than all men. We have not a copy of his works at hand, but we remember that he refers to him in the same play quoted from above as "the foremost man of all the world," or words to that import. In another play he speaks of him as the "greatest man in the tide of times,"or something quite like this It is funny that a Shakespearean phrase when applied to an eminent American should be thought to indi-

So the Republicans are as soon as this ashamed of their "foolish cry" for Free Whiskey. There is nothing like a healthy public sentiment for curing such stupidity and demagogery. There is hope for the country.

The Street Cars. The Street Car Company began operations yesterday morning at 7 o'clock, and up to 10 p. m., the close of the day's run, with only four cars, had carried 1,816 pay passengers. This is a capital showing—a hearty manifestation of appreciation of an enterprise which adds greatly to the convenience and pleasure of the public. The whole equipment of the company is undoubtedly of the best; the cars are handsome and comfortable and the trains the finest to be found on any street railroad in the country. The company had to encounter many difficulties yesterday; everything was new, horses and drivers untrained and unused to the work, and the track untried; but with all these drawbacks the company met fully the expectations of its

General Cameron-List of the Field and Staff,

Preparations that have been going on at Camp Pender for the past week were completed yesterday forenoon. Under the efficient supervision of Col. F. A. Olds, every thing that is necessary to the comfort and health of the soldier boys while in camp has been arranged and is pronounced as perfect as it is possible to make it. All of the field officers, and in fact all connected with the encampment, praise the location of Camp Pender, and express the hope that the State may be induced to purchase the site for all future encampments of the State Guard.

The camp was inspected by Col. F. H. Cameron, Inspector General, who reports as follows:

H'DQ'RS STATE GUARD, CAMP PENDER, WRIGHTSVILLE, N. C., July 18, '88. General Johnstone Jones, Adjutant SIR: In compliance with instruc-

The camp has been reasonably well policed, and is well supplied with good water, fuel, lights, straw, etc. The sinks are located on the best ground available, and are well arranged and protected. The hospital is large, clean, and

All the officers' quarters, as well a those of the men, are well arranged, and are supplied with everything conducive to the comfort and wellbeing of the occupants.

Gen. Johnstone Jones, in conversation with a representative of the STAR, spoke in glowing terms of the camp and its management-being es pecially pleased with its apparent healthfulness and convenience. He further said that everything had been conducted with great precision and that all the troops arrived on time and without delay or accident of any kind. "In fact," he said, "I have visited encampments of the regular army that were not conducted near so well as our present one."

Everybody anticipates a glorious time for the boys and every one will do their utmost to make this encamp ment one that will long be remembered by all who are so fortunate as to be participants.

For the convenience of the soldiers, a refreshment stand has been erected in the pavilion grounds, where everything from a sheet of writing paper to a milk-shake can be had at a very small outlay of capital.

Those wishing to visit Camp Pender should refer to the special schedule of the Seacoast Railroad Company printed in the STAR. Eleven trains will be run each way every day, affording all needed facilities for going to and returning from Camp Pender. Every precaution has been taken to guard against confusion or accidents, and the telegraph line just completed, and now in operation, will add greatly to the facilities for running the trains.

The Young Men's Christian Association were busy yesterday making arrangements for holding services during the encampment. It is to be hoped that they may be successful in their efforts to afford the troops a means of passing many pleasant and profitable hours during the evenings

Camp Pender was astir at the "peep day" yesterday, but there was noticeable absence of the confusion which might reasonably be expected on the eve of an encampment of such large proportions.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the various companies which were to participate were formed, and, led by the Durham Light Infantry, moved into position around the flag-poles on which were to be hoisted the State and National colors. Adjutant General Johnstone Jones and staff, attended by Col. Carl A. Woodruffe, of the U.S. army, appeared on the scene. After a very earnest and touching prayer by the Rev. Dr. Carmichael, the Mecklenburg Band played "Dixie," the familiar strains of which caused many hearts to swell with memories of the past. As the Mecklenburg band concluded, the Durham Band played the National air, and the State and National colors were raised to the

About 9 o'clock last night a negro named John Humphreys was arrested. The girl had stated that the negro wore a striped shirt and was barefooted. When arrested Humphreys had on a white shirt and shoes but it was ascertained that he had taken of the striped shirt, put on a white one, and also put on shoes. He was made to put on a striped shirt and take off the shoes, when he was taken into the presence of the girl, who identified him immediately. The negro was locked up in the city calaboos Coonsiderable excitement prevailed, and whispers of lynching were heard. In order to avoid this, at one o'clock this morning the negro was put in the steel a band of twenty-five to forty masked men came to the jail, and before Deputy Sheriff James Worley was aware of it they were in the jail. The mob, being prepared with crow bars and sledge hammers, tore the cage to pieces, occupying fully an hour in doing it. The mob took the negro out and hung him to a tree, about a quarter of a mile from the jail. As soon as released Sheriff Worley rang the fire bell, headed a posse, and tried to recover the prisoner, but was eluded by the mob.

The girl was waylaid on her way from town in a hollow in the woods. The negro crept up behind her and choked her down finger nails. The ground where the assault was made shows the signs of a hard struggle. It is rumored that the negro made a full confession of his guilt before he was hanged.

MR. RANDALL. He Rests Better and his Condition

WASHINGTON, July 18 .- Mr. Randal passed a comfortable and restful night, and s stated to be much better this morning. I s hoped that he will be well enough to b removed to Chestnut Hill about the end

Mr. Randall received a number of callers during the day, and to-night he continues to hold the improvement noted in his condition this morning. As the weather here is cool and pleasant, and as he is still very weak, it is not probable that he will be removed from the city for several days.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. WM. H. GREEN & Co., Drug-
