COUNTY DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

- FOR HOUSE REPRESENTATIVES: GEO. L. MORTON, M. J. CORBETT, FRANK H. STEDMAN, JOHN D. TAYLOR, FOR CLERK SUPERIOR COURT: JOHN D. TAYLOR, FOR REGISTER DEEDS: JOHN HAAR, JR., FOR TREASURER: JOHN L. DUDLEY, FOR SHERIFF: M. P. TAYLOR, FOR CONSTABLES: WILMINGTON—C. M. HARRIS, Cape Fear—J. T. WALKER, Mecklenburg—JOHN MILTON, Harnett—W. H. STAYLE, Federal Point—J. DAVID SOUTHERLAND, FOR CORONER: JOHN WALKER.

WILL IT PASS?

Having passed the House the question now is, will the election bill pass the Senate? If the Senate was under the one-man power as the House is, and the gag rule could be applied there as it is in the House there is no doubt that it would pass, but the Senate is not under the one-man power yet, and the gag rule does not prevail there, which gives ground for the hope and opinion entertained by many, that this infamous measure cannot pass the Senate. It is under partisan control, it is true, and among the Senators are some extreme partisans like Ingalls, Chandler, Hoar, Spooner and Edmunds, but there is more individuality in the Senate, more personal independence and less of the caucus whip, less willingness to surrender their individuality to boss dictatorship, and hence there is a freer expression of opinion and more divergence of views even upon party questions in the Senate than in the House. There is also a great deal of human nature in the average Senator, which impels him very often to govern his action by his personal interests and to vote for or against measures upon that ground. The Republican Senators have neither the same personal nor partisan interest in the passage of this bill that the Republicans of the House have, and consequently they have not the same selfish motive for supporting it.

If the men who conceived and drafted the various election bills which were offered in the House had not seen defeat staring them in the face such a lawless and revolutionary measure would never have been proposed and rushed through in opposition to the more conservative judgment of some and the vigorous protest of others. The sole inspiration and purpose of that measure was to gain through the machinery of this law Congressmen enough in the South to counterbalance those they expect to lose in the West, and thus for another term retain control of the House, which they felt sure passing away from them.

But the Senate has no such fear as that. It has managed by the pocket States it has taken in, the two Dakotas, Washington, Montana, Wyoming and Idaho, to gain twelve Republican Senators, and to make the Senate securely Republican for an indefinite number of years, hence the Senate is in no way imperilled by the result of the Congressional elections, and consequently the Senators have nothing at stake in this bill. But if any of them were uneasy about the tenure of their seats this bill would be of no service to them, because it has no control over the election of members of the legislature.

There are other reasons why the Senate should take no special interest in this measure, and reasons why some of them will not be whipped in to support or vote for it. It is strictly a House measure, inspired and rushed through by men who have Presidential aspirations, and who, if it should prove successful in accomplishing the purposes for which it is intended, would claim all the credit and honor attached to it.

Chief among these is Autocrat Reed, who took a special interest in it and plied the whip vigorously to secure its passage. Without that whip it would never have gone through. Autocrat Reed is an ambitious as well as a thoroughly unscrupulous young man. The desire to succeed Mr. Harrison in the White House has grown on him so that it fills him from scalp to sole leather, and inspires all his political action. He entertains a contempt for the Senate which he looks upon as a slow, plodding body, whose chief distinction is its "dignity" and lack of everything else. The Senators know this and consequently many of them have no very great admiration for the young man at the other end of the Capitol.

Throughout this whole session there has been friction between the House and the Senate, caused in no small degree by the suggestions and encouragement of the Speaker. There was friction all through, on the pension bills, on the silver bill, on the appropriation bills and the differences on each had to be settled by conference committees, the House generally insisting and yielding but little, if any, to the Senate. This bill will give some of the Senators who may be disposed to resent this, a splendid opportunity to do it and nip Mr. Reed's pin-feathers at the same time, by defeating his pet measure. It will give the silver Senators of the West a fine opportunity to return their compliments and get even with him for the cavalier manner in which he handled the silver bill when it went to the House. If they don't avail themselves of this opportunity they deserve to be cuffed.

But aside from all this, there is a Senatorial courtesy which prevails and is by usage almost as strong as law, and stronger than law sometimes, which concedes every Senator who desires an opportunity to be heard on every question as often as he chooses, so that the Democratic Senators can talk on this bill till next fall if they find it necessary, and talk it to death. We think that between the Democratic Senators, who will do their level best to kill it, and those Republican Senators who will not object to seeing it killed the chances of its being killed are pretty good.

DO THEY SPEAK FOR THE ALLIANCE?

We published in the STAR yesterday the result of the conference between the Democratic County Executive Committee and Captain S. W. Noble, President of the New Hanover County Farmers Alliance, and J. W. Mills, representing the Alliance, in which they demanded representative farmers on the legislative ticket and representation in the Congressional and State Conventions. In the face of this demand they not only refused to promise to support the "representative farmer" if put upon the ticket unless he should subscribe to the "Alliance demands," but on the contrary hesitatingly asserted that they would "support the Republican candidate in preference should he subscribe to the Alliance demands—even though the Democratic party divides nominees with the Alliance." If these Alliance representatives truly represent the Alliance of this country and speak by authority it simply means that the Democratic party must abandon its distinct organization, abandon its platform, make itself an annex of the County Farmers Alliance, and stand on its platform. To say that this is a very broad and a very unreasonable demand is to put it very mildly and to say that it comes with a very bad grace from an Alliance which was organized since the county convention was held, and the nominations made, which does not number more than a few dozen bona fide farmers, and at least one of whose representatives on this occasion has not acted with the Democratic party in years, is putting it very mildly, too. They had the candor, however, to show their hands, leaving no doubt as to where they stood, by openly declaring that they would support a Republican in preference to a Democrat if the Republican subscribed to their pledges.

This substantially, if it is to be the policy of the Alliance, will simply make the Farmers Alliance an annex of the Republican party. In an editorial on this subject a few days ago we asserted the belief that every Republican candidate to whom these "demands" were presented would sign them, while Democrats who had more regard for honesty and sincerity would refuse, and this would drive the Alliance to the alternative of nominating candidates of their own or of supporting Republican candidates, a position which is supported by the declaration of the two representatives of the New Hanover Alliance, the first declaration of the kind which has been so far publicly made.

Are the Alliance Democrats of North Carolina prepared for this? Are they prepared to give their support to Republican candidates and turn the State over to the Republican party because Democratic candidates refused to play the sneaking demagogue and sign any paper which may be presented to them, simply to catch the votes of the men who present them? The man who would truckle that way and abandon principle to win the favor of the many or few, is unworthy of confidence and even of respect, and the party that would do it isn't fit to live.

We do not believe that these representatives of the New Hanover Alliance voice the sentiments of the Democratic members of the Alliance in North Carolina; we do not believe they voice the sentiments of the Democratic members of the New Hanover Alliance; we have too much confidence in the good sense, the conservatism and the patriotism of the Democrats in the North Carolina Alliance to believe that they will thus consent to let their order be made an appendage to the Republican party and themselves be made instrumental in turning this State over to Republican rule. That is the logical result of the position taken by these representatives of the New Hanover Alliance, if it means anything. If this is the policy to be pursued the people should know it, and if it is not, the Democrats in the Alliance who do not propose to be bound and delivered in that way should speak out and repudiate it.

But aside from all this, there is a Senatorial courtesy which prevails and is by usage almost as strong as law, and stronger than law sometimes, which concedes every Senator who desires an opportunity to be heard on every question as often as he chooses, so that the Democratic Senators can talk on this bill till next fall if they find it necessary, and talk it to death. We think that between the Democratic Senators, who will do their level best to kill it, and those Republican Senators who will not object to seeing it killed the chances of its being killed are pretty good.

Charlotte now boasts of a public bath, out in the suburbs, a pool where those frequenting it may not only bathe, but which is large enough to afford room for young people to learn to swim. Every town which has water enough at command should have a public bath, if not as a matter of comfort for those who are not able to have baths of their own, as a sanitary measure, for "cleanliness is next to Godliness," and these should not only be capacious enough for bathing purposes, but also sufficiently so for swimming schools. To learn to swim ought to be a part of the education of every boy and girl.

The government of Turkey is carrying on a little epistolary correspondence with the government of Great Britain, the import of which is to invite England to get up and dust out of Egypt. The gentleman who presides over the affairs of Turkey does not seem to be aware of the fact that England is just fixing things to take in Africa and eventually gobble up that whole territory, or as much of it as she wants.

The Senate Monday paid its tribute of respect to the memory of Hon. S. S. Cox. Among those who paid high eulogy was Senator Sherman, who had to stop in the course of his remarks to "master his emotion." No better proof of the winning ways of the distinguished deceased Congressman could be furnished than the fact that the memory of them could visibly affect John Sherman.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat is one of the strongest Republican papers in the Mississippi Valley. Speaking of the Tillman movement in South Carolina it says: "A capacious, robust spirit such as would bring about a big Democratic defeat is what the Palmetto State needs just now." Respectfully commended to the attention of Democrats in the North Carolina Alliance.

Since the Czar of Russia has learned from recent discoveries that poison may be introduced into an egg by means of a fine wire, without breaking the shell, he has become really unhappy. He banked on eggs, and now the henery in which he delighted so much charms him no more.

The Democratic Alliance man who remembers that he is a North Carolinian as well as an Alliance man, will not be enticed nor driven into the Republican caravan.

Democratic Convention at Rockingham. A STAR special says that the Democratic Convention of the Sixth Judicial District met in Rockingham yesterday and instructed its delegates to the Seventh Judicial Convention to support Frank McNeill, Esq., for Solicitor.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the course of Hon. Zebulon B. Vance, and promising him the earnest support of the county for renomination. The convention was harmonious.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION. Judge Boykin and Solicitor Allen Renominated. A special dispatch to the STAR from Kinston says that the Democratic Convention for the Sixth Judicial District met in that place at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and renominated Hon. E. T. Boykin for Judge and O. A. Allen, Esq., for Solicitor, by acclamation. There was a full attendance at the Convention and the meeting was harmonious.

Body Recovered. The body of James Baker, the colored man drowned in the river near Princess street dock, was recovered yesterday morning about 8 o'clock by Larry Lowe, who fished it up with a dragnet within a few feet of the place where Baker fell in. Some twenty dollars was found in the pockets of deceased's clothing—money given Baker a short time before his death by Mr. Lindsay Russell to pay freight on a bundle.

Jim Baker's twin brother—Isaac—is said to be living in Georgia.

The Atlantic Coast Line. A prominent official of the Atlantic Coast Line is represented by the Charleston News and Courier as saying that active work will soon begin on the extension of a direct road to Augusta, Ga., from Remile's, in Sumter county, S. C. The road has already been surveyed and all the estimates have been submitted. It is proposed to run the line as near as possible, and through Orangeburg, Barnwell, and Aiken counties.

Fatal Accident at Goldsboro. A special dispatch to the STAR says that John Satterwhite, a white employee of the New Lumber Co., was killed by his body horribly mangled at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while trying to shift a belt off a pulley while the mill was running.

A CALLED MEETING. The Democrats of Pender met in convention at Burgaw, July 4, for the purpose of sending delegates to the State, Judicial and Congressional Conventions. The convention was called to order by J. T. Bland, Esq., Chairman of the County Executive Committee, and duly organized by electing Mr. W. M. Hand of Burgaw permanent Chairman, and R. J. Durham, Secretary.

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That we, the people of his county, his lifetime associates and friends, have watched the career of Chas. W. McClammy with delight and pride; that his able opposition to the taxing of agricultural products at the behest of millionaire manufacturers, as set forth in the minority report upon the pure lead bill, his stern resistance to the newly attempted demonetization of silver by despot Reed and his followers, both by vote and speech; his satirical speech upon the McKinley tariff bill, with which a continent rang his tributes to the gifted Cox, in which he showed himself to be the peer of the most eloquent orators who laid upon that immortal grave their wreaths of immortality; his bill to loan money to our toiling people at the lowest rate of interest, and thus admit them to the exclusive privileges long enjoyed by the banks and moneyed classes, at the same time providing a fund for the education of the rising generation and furnishing a volume of legal tender currency sufficient for the needs of the people, giving higher values for products so long below the cost of production, enabling us to pay our indebtedness in money of a value the people are entitled to demand, and in our judgment, unapproachably and unapproached by any yet proposed for our relief; and, in fine, whose every bulwark in the past devotion to the people's welfare and power, have forever enshrined him in our hearts, and we hereby pledge him our most grateful support, and instruct our delegates to the Congressional Conventions to carry on a unit always for Charles W. McClammy as our only choice for Congressman from the Third North Carolina District.

The delegates to the Judicial Convention were instructed to cast their votes as a unit for Hon. E. T. Boykin, of Salisbury county. The number of delegates to which the county is entitled were appointed to the State, Congressional and Judicial Conventions. The following are the delegates to the State Convention: J. Armstrong, G. H. Bryant, J. F. Moore, L. C. Powers, T. J. Lee, J. C. Broadhurst, J. D. Lewis, G. W. Corbett, S. S. Satchell. A resolution was adopted instructing the delegates to insist upon the full representation to which the county is entitled in the several Conventions. Also, a resolution approving and commending the zeal, energy and ability displayed by J. T. Bland, Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, for the past two years.

The convention then adjourned. It was one of the most pleasant, quiet, harmonious and enthusiastic sessions ever witnessed in the county.

COUNTY MATTERS. Meeting of Board of Commissioners—Liquor Licenses—Reward for Capture of Highwaymen, etc. The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday in regular session, and transacted the usual routine of business. The Treasurer submitted his monthly report showing balances on hand as follows: To credit of school fund, $9,799.32; to credit of general fund, $18,668.86.

The Register of Deeds reported the sum of $10.45 received for marriage licenses during the month of June. It was ordered that a reward of $50 be offered for the apprehension and conviction of any party or parties concerned in highway robberies in the county.

Several persons upon application, were granted permission to list their taxes. The Board assessed the New Hanover Transit Company for taxes as follows: Number of miles of railroad and three-valuation $9,000; locomotive, one $2,500; cars, four $900; one platform car, &c., $250. Total, $13,650.

Sixty-two licenses were granted to retail liquor dealers in the city, and seven to dealers outside the city. The Board adjourned to meet on Monday next to assess the property of the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad Company and the Ocean View Railroad Company.

Wilmington and Onslow Railroad. The Newbern Journal of Sunday says: On Saturday Messrs. H. A. Whiting, General Manager, Judge Henry E. Knox, General Counsel, Capt. P. M. King, chief engineer, and Dr. R. W. Ward, resident doctor, of the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad were in the city yesterday for the purpose of the early morning train for the North.

There is no longer any doubt about the building of this line between Newbern and Wilmington. The purchase of the Norfolk & Edenton Railroad by the Pennsylvania system, the determination to bridge the Chowan river and come on to Wilmington and Newbern, sets all difficulties and solves all doubt as regards the New York, Norfolk & Charleston, of which the Wilmington, Newbern & Onslow is the most important link.

A Vessel Wrecked. The Signal Service observer at Southport reports the total loss of the Dutch barque Pauline, last Saturday on the coast about 35 miles below Southport. The master of the vessel came up to Southport Sunday. He reports that the Pauline was on a voyage from Apalachicola, Fla., to a port in Holland, with a cargo of square timber. She sprung a leak last Saturday, became unmanageable and went ashore in Long Bay, S. C. Two miles south of Cherry Grove. She went ashore at high water, under part sail, and is hard and fast. She had five feet of water when she struck and is now full. The vessel will be little for lack of water. The cargo is in rushing swirling sheets, and is unmanageable and is causing an exceedingly heavy loss to crops. The rainfall measured but 3.10 of an inch, however, and the precipitation was therefore insufficient to cause heavy floods.

The storm probably destroyed more trees than any that has occurred here in years. In every part of the city large trees were uprooted as though they had been pulled from the ground, by the force of the wind, and the streets everywhere were littered with broken branches and there was no lack of evidence that the storm was of most unusual violence. The course of the wind was uncertain and it shifted in eddies and whirling currents, which rendered it difficult to calculate a heavy loss of property.

Crops in South Carolina. A correspondent of the STAR writing from Timmonsville, S. C., says that at present the prospect for crops in that part of South Carolina was never better, except possibly in 1888. "Cotton is 50 per cent. better than it was the first of July last year, and corn is over the average and maturing fast—in some sections cotton and corn have suffered a little for lack of rain. Timmonsville will, as first here, be a market for the best, heavy lot of new cotton, which will go forward some ten or fifteen days earlier than last year."

THE STOCKS AT THE PORTS AT THE CLOSE OF THE WEEK. The following is a statement of the stocks of naval stores at the ports at the close of the past week, viz: Spirits turpentine—Wilmington, 4,298 casks; New York, 1,280; Savannah, 14,886; Charleston, 3,965. Total, 24,429 casks. Rosin—Wilmington, 21,285 barrels; New York, 15,639; Savannah, 49,067; Charleston, 19,045. Total, 105,826 barrels. Tar—Wilmington, 7,384 barrels; New York, 1,919. Total, 9,303 barrels.

The Wrecked Dutch Barque. No further intelligence has been received here from the stranded Dutch barque Pauline. Mayor Fowler received a letter yesterday from Mr. Conig, the Dutch consul at Charleston, S. C., reiterating the request made by telegraph the day before, to send the crew to Charleston. The consul seems to be under the impression that the vessel was wrecked near Wilmington, whereas, the vessel went ashore on the coast of South Carolina some sixty miles distant from this city.

Mayor Fowler replied to Consul Conig, informing him that he had referred the matter to Messrs. Geo. Harris, Son & Co.

GREENSBORO CONVENTION. A. H. A. Williams the Democratic Candidate for Congress in the Fifth District. A special dispatch to the STAR from Greensboro says that the Democratic Convention for the Fifth Congressional District met in that place yesterday, Mr. R. B. Glenn of Forsyth, was made permanent Chairman, and J. W. Howard, prominent Chairman, of the same county, withdrew and A. H. A. Williams, of Granville, was nominated for Representative in the first ballot.

The vote was—Williams, 318; David Settles, 98.

THE SILVER BILL. The Means by Which an Agreement Was Reached on the Measure by Senate and House Conference. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, July 7.—The conference on the part of the two Houses this afternoon reached an agreement on points of difference on the Silver Bill. This result, which was hardly expected to be reached so soon, was brought about in this way: After the first ineffectual conference last Thursday, the Republican members decided that an agreement could be more speedily and satisfactorily reached by a party consultation rather than in a conference open to both political parties. Accordingly Senators Sherman and Johnson and Representatives Conger and Walker entered upon the task of drafting the compromise measure. They progressed so rapidly in this that the conference committee was completed in all essential points save one and sent to the printer yesterday. The one point left open related to the amount of silver bullion to be purchased. Messrs. Sherman, Conger and Walker thought that four million ounces monthly would be a fair compromise, but Senator Jones declared for four and a half million ounces. Such was the state of affairs when the overtures were again made to Mr. Jones to accept four and a quarter million ounces. Western Senators are in receipt of telegrams urging them to hold out for the full amount, four and a half million ounces, and to insist upon a speedy disposition of the bill. So the overtures were rejected, and when the proposition was made to take about the tariff bill in the Senate this afternoon the silver men manifested their power to check the flow of party legislation unless their demands were granted. So after the Republican members of the conference were again called together, the words "five hundred thousand" were added to the four million ounces, and the agreement was completed and formally ratified, although the Democratic members refused to sign the report.

TERRIFIC STORMS. GREAT DESTRUCTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY REPORTED. A Large Section in the Northwest and New York Swept by Violent Winds, Rain and Hail. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 9.—A wild storm, one of the most severe of the season, swept over central and western Indiana yesterday afternoon. The wind was very strong and considerable damage was done to property and crops. Reports are coming in of extensive damage between this city and Terre Haute, and north of the latter place. The Western Union Telegraph Company suffered severely. Some of its wires between Terre Haute and here were blown down, and connection could only be obtained by way of Chicago. So far no reports of loss of life have come in.

MACKINAW, MICH., July 9.—About 3:30 p. m. yesterday this place was visited by the worst wind and hail storm ever known, demolishing houses, trees, and upsetting things in general. A few minutes before 3 o'clock a heavy rain fell, and in ten minutes the wind had risen to a gale, and hail fell for over an hour, being rescued in an exhausted condition. His hands and face were badly cut. For some reason the man refused to give his name. Parties are searching for the missing bodies, but as yet without success. It is feared there were other casualties, as several fishing parties on the lake have not yet put in an appearance.

WHITE HALL, N. Y., July 9.—A cyclone at Plattsburgh last evening did considerable damage to property. The Hotel Champlain, at Bluff Point, escaped; no guests were lost or injured.

CLEVELAND, July 9.—The wind storm which swept this city last evening was perhaps the most severe, as regards destruction to property, ever experienced. The advance of the storm seemed to be a number of sharp, quick gusts of wind that wrecked chimneys, blew down trees and sent everything movable through the air. Its coming was shown by a cloud of dust, fully one hundred feet high, which obscured the sun, and the streets as dark as at midnight. Not a single object could be discerned at a distance of fifty feet. The fine dust that was in the air, and the blowing and breathing to those on the streets, was impossible without a handkerchief pressed to the nostrils. Then came the rain, in rushing swirling sheets, and the wind was so strong that it caused an exceedingly heavy loss to crops. The rainfall measured but 3.10 of an inch, however, and the precipitation was therefore insufficient to cause heavy floods.

The storm probably destroyed more trees than any that has occurred here in years. In every part of the city large trees were uprooted as though they had been pulled from the ground, by the force of the wind, and the streets everywhere were littered with broken branches and there was no lack of evidence that the storm was of most unusual violence. The course of the wind was uncertain and it shifted in eddies and whirling currents, which rendered it difficult to calculate a heavy loss of property.

Crops in South Carolina. A correspondent of the STAR writing from Timmonsville, S. C., says that at present the prospect for crops in that part of South Carolina was never better, except possibly in 1888. "Cotton is 50 per cent. better than it was the first of July last year, and corn is over the average and maturing fast—in some sections cotton and corn have suffered a little for lack of rain. Timmonsville will, as first here, be a market for the best, heavy lot of new cotton, which will go forward some ten or fifteen days earlier than last year."

The Wrecked Dutch Barque. No further intelligence has been received here from the stranded Dutch barque Pauline. Mayor Fowler received a letter yesterday from Mr. Conig, the Dutch consul at Charleston, S. C., reiterating the request made by telegraph the day before, to send the crew to Charleston. The consul seems to be under the impression that the vessel was wrecked near Wilmington, whereas, the vessel went ashore on the coast of South Carolina some sixty miles distant from this city.

Mayor Fowler replied to Consul Conig, informing him that he had referred the matter to Messrs. Geo. Harris, Son & Co.

GREENSBORO CONVENTION. A. H. A. Williams the Democratic Candidate for Congress in the Fifth District. A special dispatch to the STAR from Greensboro says that the Democratic Convention for the Fifth Congressional District met in that place yesterday, Mr. R. B. Glenn of Forsyth, was made permanent Chairman, and J. W. Howard, prominent Chairman, of the same county, withdrew and A. H. A. Williams, of Granville, was nominated for Representative in the first ballot.

The vote was—Williams, 318; David Settles, 98.

WASHINGTON NEWS. A House Bill to Establish Industrial Training Schools and Provide Land For Negroes. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, July 7.—Representative Cogswell to-day, by request, introduced a bill appropriating $1,000,000 to establish industrial training schools and to provide land for negroes, to be held under the same conditions and privilege of subsequent purchasers. The bill authorizes the President to appoint a commission of five persons, who shall purchase ten square miles of good arable land from any of the Southern States, to be divided into one hundred and sixty-acre lots, for settlement by negroes, who shall be required to pay the government an annual rental of five bales of cotton for the use of the land.
