ing the Senate rules hangs fire and . Reed is both a disappointed and a disgusted statesman.

The indications now are that Mr. Reed may carry his disgust with him even unto the day of adjournment if not longer.

The Senate stands 47 Republicans to 37 Democrats. It will take 435 votes to effect a change of the rules, four less than their full strength. But there are at least six or seven' of the Republican Senators who have expressed their disapproval of turning the Senate into a gag rule annex of the House, for the sole purpose of the ten which were stolen, majorities carrying a measure in which they have no personal and very little if ny political interest.

Among these are Senator Evarts. who when the force bill was attempted in 1875 denounced it scathingly in a speech at Cooper's Institute in rule upon which these cases were de-New York; Senator Edmunds, who cided. These ten stolen seats have

They found evidences of the tragedy at Edin's bridge on the turnpike about half a mile thi side of the second toll-house, a distance of about two and a half miles from town. Several spots of blood were discovered on the planks of the bridge, and near the roadway the searchers found a small pocket-flask full of whiskey, which was murdered man and search for the ball that caused his death. The Doctor and the Coroner returned in the evening, having accomplished their task. It is believed that the murder was perpetrated by some of the colored highwaymen who have been lurking on the outskirts of the city for some time past; whose depredations have caused no little alarm to country people, and whose continued presence has been a reproach to the county authorities.

Mr. Fails was about seventy years of age, a good-natured, harmless old man, small of stature and of slight build. He was well known to most of the residents of the city, having for many years past frequented the market places, selling fish, oysters, robins, etc. Several suspicious characters-all negroes-have been seen recently lurking in the neighborhood of the Mineral Spring, and it is surmised that some of them may have committed the murder and robbery. It is known that two or three escaped penitentiary convicts have been in the vicinity of the city for the past two months. The man Crews, whose capture was attempted by Deputy Sheriff Elder and a posse two days ago, is of the number.
